The Life-Saving Service.

The attention of Congress, at the coming session, will be earnestly called to the condition of the life-saving service, and the chief of the bureau will report the peril of disintegration to which the organization is subject unless the men are better paid. The number of wrecks during the past year was very large, being larger than any previous year since the service was organized, except the last. The number of vessels totally lost was sixty-six for the fiscal year ending June 30th, 1881, and sixty-seven for the previous year. The record of lives saved was better than any previous year except the last, and the number lost was but twenty-six, being less than the average. The expenses of the service during the past year have been about $300,000; and $800,000 will be asked for, for the next year. It does not appear how the service can be efficiently maintained unless the money is provided to fairly compensate the men for the severe toil and great perils they undergo. The chief of the service, Mr. Kimball, is in a quandary, and for months has had to exert the most extra ordinary efforts to keep the stations open, owing to the resignations of keepers and surfmen. The keepers are paid but $400 a year, and the surfmen but $40 a month for eight months in the year. During the hard times it was easy to procure them, but with the revival of business men fit for keepers can easily make more than $400 a year at any other calling, and cannot be induced to remain. The efficient head of the service is in daily receipt of letters from district superintendents, forwarding the resignations of keepers. The pay of station keepers should be at least $700 a year.—$800 a year would be better still —and surfmen should receive much more than $40 a month, at least for the months of December, January, February and March.

News and Notes.

Two unknown men were killed in Philadelphia on Sunday evening, by the horses of a steam fire engine running away, and smashing a street car on which the men were riding.

David R. Polton, a burglar, was killed last week by a keeper while attempting to escape from the penitentiary at Onondaga, N. Y.

The London News says that Lefroy has fully confessed the murder of Mr. Gold, and also of Lieut. Roper, who was murdered in the Chatham, Eng., barracks some time ago.

At Cedar Falls, Col., Saturday, a Mrs. Miller, crazed at the loss of her husband, killed two of her children, and attempted to kill the third, but was prevented by neighbors. She has been placed under restraint by the authorities.

Dr. Elliot Coues, the well-known naturalist, has resigned from the medical corps of the army. His friends say that he resigned in order to devote himself to the preparation of his exhaustive work, "The Mammalia of North America," the nucleus for which he has been gathering for some time. They say he will resume labors in his study at the Smithsonian Institute at once. His enemies say that he resigned under pressure, on account of charges affecting his character.

One can get some idea of the wealth of the mines on the Pacific coast from the fact that in 1877 there was $76,000,000 on deposit in the savings banks of California. This is the largest amount of money ever held by the banks of the state at one time, and its accumulation was the result of the mining prosperity that had prevailed for some time previous.

Aeronauts have a unique method of taking "soundings" to learn their distance from the earth when they are being swept rapidly along in the night. According to the signal service officer who recently accompanied Professor King on his perilous journey from Chicago to a Wisconsin swamp, a loud shout is given, and then the seconds are counted until the echo from the ground is heard. The height is estimated by the time required for the return of the sound.

Wallace Ross, the oarsman, has married a sister of Hanlan, and is now on his wedding tour in the New England states.

Senator John S. Williams of Kentucky recently sold a crop of tobacco raised by himself in that state, which was the most extraordinary one for a crop lot ever sold in the Cincinnati market. It netted upwards of $23,000 for the product of less than ninety acres.

Victoria C. Woodhull has returned to New York from Europe, with her daughter, Zulu Maud Woodhull. This is the young lady who was erroneously reported some months ago as being about to marry Lord Colin Campbell, brother of the marquis of Lorne. Woodhull begins her lecture tour in Boston.

Mr. Charles Preble of York owns a fine farm down by the sea. The farm has never, so far as is known, been out of the name of Preble,—an honorable York family. For fifteen years, besides attending to his farm he went mackereling during the season; the present year, besides garden and other produce, he raised eight hundred bushels of potatoes. Mr. Preble and wife have been married twenty years, and have had a family of ten children of whom eight are living, the eldest being a daughter of eighteen years of age,—and the mother still looks young and fair. York is as famous for large families as ever, and stock has not deteriorated at the end of two hundred and fifty years.

The schooner Daniel C. Baker is on the ways at Kittery, receiving a new coat of paint, preparatory to fitting out for winter fishing.

The yacht Hawley, belonging to the government, was towed over to the navy yard on Monday afternoon by the steamer James Sampson, to be placed in winter quarters.

E. C. Moody contemplates building a hotel in the near future, on a lot at York beach recently purchased by him for $425; the land is directly east of the Hotel Bartlett, and comprises about two acres, measuring twenty-five rods facing the beach, and running back two hundred and twenty-five feet; it is one of the most eligible locations on the beach. It is reported that ten cottages will be erected at York harbor next spring, in season for occupancy during the summer.

Albert Lewis of Kittery a few days since shot three foxes, one of them it is said being a genuine "silver gray," a very rare animal in this region.

The following is a list of the members of the new band just formed at York village, under the leadership of Charles F. Stover: George F. Preble, tenor drum; Alvin D. Tuttle, horn baritone; Wm. Booker, trombone; Andrew Leach, cornet; Charles Blake, bass drum; Fred. Constantinople, cornet. Others will join when the band gets in working order. The meetings are held on Saturday and Tuesday evenings at the Moody house, and Charles D. Preble's. It is called the "Lobster Cove band."

Biddeford is to have a reading room for its factory operatives. The three large corporations of the city will pay the rent of the room, $360 a year.

Mr. Charles Nason, an exemplary young man and one of the best farm hands in York, having been reading of the exploits of Texan stock drivers, undertook recently to drive in some wild stock belonging to Hon. E. C. Moody. Mr. Nason was mounted on a mare about twenty-five years old, and while going at headlong speed the venerable animal stumbled and fell to her knees, pitching Mr. Nason over her head on to a pile of rocks sixty-five feet distant, according to the report current in York. He was considerably bruised and one wrist badly lamed, but again mounted his steed and drove in the stock, remarking that Texan stock-drivers made light of being thrown two or three hundred feet over a horse's head.

There are four married couples residing in the vicinity of York beach, who have lived together peaceably for more than fifty years, viz.: Jeremiah Dunnell and wife, Eastman Hutchings and wife, Capt. John Mathes and wife, and Capt. Roswell R. Webber and wife.

Advices of last week from Gloucester, Mass., reported that the pollock season had closed, none having been taken for a week. The net codfishing fleet was doing well. Schooner Northern Eagle landed 15,000 pounds at Rockport, Mass., on Tuesday; schooners Rising Star 12,000 pounds, and Lady Lincoln 13,000 pounds, on Thursday; and schooner Rising Star 10,000 pounds at Gloucester, on Friday. The stock of mackerel held in first hands in the Gloucester market has been reduced to very small dimensions. Schooner Grace L. Fears, Captain Nathaniel Greenleaf, is "high line" of the fresh halibut fleet for this year, having already stocked about $18,500, with another trip to be added to the season's stock.

Fred Danielson had the top of one of his toes ripped off on Monday on Commercial wharf, by one of the wheels of a wheelbarrow loaded with potatoes going over it. He was unconscious of the mishap until he arrived home with his basket of potatoes, when the warmth of the room discovered to him his injury; but Fred wrapped his toe up in a rag and proceeded gathering his winter store of potatoes, his cold feet now and then feeling a twinge of pain, when he would look at his toe and then at the wheelbarrow to see if he could fathom the seeming mystery attached to his misfortune.

Mr. William Kennedy, of Fall River, Mass., a seaman on the United States ship Richmond, is a lucky marin-r. He has just returned to his home in the possession of an authentic and well preserved mermaid, whom he captured in the Yangtse-Kiang river, China, in May, 1879. The individual evidently died young, for her length is only fourteen inches, but in respect to her attractions, he would be a bold man who should venture to say "pooh pooh to you." The head, neck, elbows and palms are covered with fine hair, the lower part of the body with silvery scales. The breasts are well defined, and the feature, though somewhat wizened, are not without force and character. It is painful to add that the eyes have "shrunk away." Mr. Kennedy has been offered $100 for this fascinating creature, not including the alcohol in which she is preserved, but he has rejected with proper scorn this contemptible proposition.—American Ship.

—A bridegroom slapped his bride's face two hours after marriage, as they were about to take a train at Whiteside, Ill., for a honeymoon tour. Recovering from her surprise she belabored him over the head with a cane, and they had the satisfaction of being mistaken for old married folk.

POLICE COURT.

MONDAY, Nov. 28; Batchelder, J.

Maurice Arnold and Joseph Dennett, two drunks, were assessed $9.90 each, fine and costs. County farm in default of payment.

HIGH SCHOOL ASSOCIATION.

The annual meeting of the High School Association was held at the common council room on Saturday evening. Mr. C. A. Hazlett was chosen chairman, and the following officers were elected for the ensuing term:

President, James P. Bartlett;

Vice Presidents, Rev. E. A. Rand, South Boston; Henry C. Barnabee, Boston; E. J. Goodwin, Miss Sarah L. Garrett, Miss Edith Gerrish, Portsmouth;

Recording Secretary, Wm. Russell Foster;

Corresponding Secretaries, E. C. Stimson and Miss Flora I. Whitcomb;

Treasurer, Geo. E. Hodgdon;

Directors, C. A. Hazlett, A. H. Sides, E. H. Hall, Frank J. Philbrick, Samuel R. Gardner, Mrs. A. B. Wilson, Miss Celia Blaisdell, Miss Mary E. Prescott.

The treasurer reported that the expenses of the first two reunions were met by subscriptions; that the income from the membership fees of $1.00 from each new member had been sufficient to pay the expenses of the last four reunions; and that after the payment of the bills of the recent reunion there would be only a small sum remaining in the treasury. It was voted to assess the members fifty cents each, payable before the seventh reunion in November, 1882. This assessment and the income from admission fees of new members will probably be sufficient to pay the expenses of several future reunions.

CIRCUIT COURT OF THE UNITED STATES.

MONDAY, Nov. 28th.

Case Huntress vs. town of Epsom was resumed. This is an action to recover damages for injury received by the plaintiff and his horses and team, by reason of an alleged defective highway in the town of Epsom, in November, 1877. Plaintiff was employed in hauling a marble monument from Great Falls to Henniker, and was driving a team of four horses attached to a large covered wagon. He reached the scene of the accident about six o'clock in the evening, and began to descend a hill which was long and comparatively steep. A short distance from the top of the hill the town had built a steep ridge diagonally across the road, for the purpose of diverting the water from the travelled part of the highway; this ridge was in such repair that a gully had formed in front of it, and when the right wheel of plaintiff's wagon fell into the gully the pole of the wagon was thrown violently to the left; the left wheel immediately followed, and threw the pole back again with so great violence that it was broken. The brakes were immediately applied, but the hill was steep, the night dark, and the wagon constantly crowding the horses forward. They proceeded down hill in this manner with the broken stub of the pole hanging; near the bottom of the hill they encountered another water course like the one above described; the broken pole caught in it and stopped the team suddenly, breaking the transom bolt and tipping the wagon upside down on plff., who received the injury complained of. Quite a number of witnesses are in attendance, and the case bids fair to occupy the week. Copeland & Edgerly, and Wallace Hackett, for Huntress; Thomas J. Smith, Wm. L. Foster, and John I. Mugridge, for the town.

The "Rooms For Rent" company had a fair audience at Music hall on Monday evening, and gave far the best entertainment of the kind yet seen here. The farce—if that is the correct name for it—is crammed full of the most ridiculous fun, and after laughing heartily for two hours and a half, one cannot remember exactly what he has been laughing at. The piece was written to amuse, and effectually attains that ends; and it is perfectly clean too, there being in it no impropriety of speech or suggestion, and not a single profane word, so far as we noticed.

Of Whitmore & Clark's Minstrels, who appear at Music hall to-morrow evening, the Burlington Free Press says: "Hank White's rich and rollicking humor is sufficent, of itself, to float any minstrel company, and George M. Clark was seen at his best,—than which nothing more need be said. The remaining members of the company ably assist in the mirth and music."

Strawberry Bank Lodge, No. 54, I. O. G. T., are to give an oyster supper and entertainment on Wednesday evening, Nov. 30th.

Eight or ten Gloucester fishing vessels were reported in the lower harbor on Monday, mostly with haddock on board; the weather being very rough outside, they were compelled to run in without completing their fares. Among the vessels mentioned were the Victory, Capt. Sargent Lane, with 3000 lbs. of haddock, and the Northern Star, Capt. Jamieson.

At a meeting of the directors of the Portsmouth Shoe Factory, held in this city last week, Mr. W. W. Whitcomb of Boston was elected president of the corporation, and Mr. Charles H. Mendum of this city treasurer.

The schooner Northern Star arrived at this port on Monday from Rockport, Mass., where she disposed of 11,000 lbs. of fish.

Some miscreant broke into the basement of Sea-Side Lodge, Pocahontas point, Gerrish's island, last week, and stole three hundred feet of new mooring line belonging to that establishment.

The schooners Northern Star, James Barrett, Albert Woodbury and Storm King, all having Portsmouth skippers, are added to the list of fishing vessels which will sail from this port during the winter.

The schooner Hattie Lewis, Garland master, arrived from Boston on Saturday, and went up the river to Dover point, where she finished loading for Boston on Monday evening. Capt. Garland has kept his vessel on the move all summer, but will soon have to give up the brick-carrying business for this season, the river above Dover point now being liable to be closed by ice any day.

The schooner Mary S. Hontvet was in the lower harbor on Saturday evening, having on board 10,000 pounds of fish. She was to make another trip and then proceed to Boston, where she probably arrived on Monday.

The gas lanterns furnished by the government for the four posts recently erected on the corners of the custom-house lot, were placed in position on Monday.

The schooner Albert Woodbury, Downs master, was having her sails bent on Monday, and will be thoroughly completed for a fishing cruise in a few days. She carries a crew of twelve men, thirty nets, and five dories.

The sloop Screamer arrived at this port from Rockport, Mass., on Sunday, with about one hundred tons of granite for S. Philbrick.

Capt. J. C Hoyt, former master of the schooner Margie of this port,—and a very successful skipper he was,—has taken command of the schooner John Lenthall, owned by the Exeter Coal Co., now lying at this port. The John Lenthall has on board three hundred barrels of seed potatoes for Florida, shipped by Mr. Samuel Dixon of Eliot, Me., and a large lot of apples and cabbages shipped by Cyrus L. Brown of this city.

The schooner T. B. Garland came down the river from Dover last week, after discharging her first cargo at that place; this vessel is the latest addition to the Dover Navigation Co.'s fleet. On Saturday the three-masted schooner Sallie M. Evans arrived at this port from Perth Amboy, bound for Dover with coal, and was towed to Portsmouth bridge by the tug Ann, which took her up the river on Sunday. The schooner John Bracewell, from Philadelphia for Dover, arrived on Monday.

The tug Naumkeag is in Portland having a new propeller attached. Frank Marr, her captain, has now full command of her up and down the river.

A young man from Eliot, Me., who was perambulating Water street on Saturday night in an intoxicated condition, got badly damaged by a marine who took some offence at his remarks.

Fifteen hundred bushels of potatoes have been taken out of the schooner Maud B. Wetherell, picked over, and reshipped for Baltimore.

Capt. Barr's gondola came down from Newmarket on Monday with sixteen cords of wood—the last load for the season, as the ice is rapidly forming on the small branches of the Piscataqua, and the main river will soon be unnavigable more than eight miles above this city. Capt. Barr has brought down three loads of wood this year, and reports total sales from the Lamprey river region this season as being about 500 cords, against 1500 cords some years.

Mr. Samuel Spinney, now in his 74th year, and who was long a noted leader of the democratic party of Portsmouth in the days when New Hampshire democracy was of the Andrew Jackson pattern, is not yet a used-up man by any means. During the past season he raised on the "brick-yard lot" of three-quarters of an acre on Christian Shore, owned by Hon. Moses H. Goodrich, one hundred bushels of potatoes, 500 pounds of squashes, ten bushels of beans and a large lot of cucumbers; besides this, about one-third of the lot was devoted to the cultivation of sweet corn, which Mr. Spinney sold green, finding ready customers for all he had to spare, it being of extra quality. The entire labor of planting, caring for and harvesting the crop was done by Mr. Spinney.

THE SURGEON'S KNIFE.
Wonderful Surgical Operation--Removal of Urinary Stones from the Bladder--Successful.
Mr. Simeon Tietsell, of Saugerties, N. Y., had been crippled for several years by various physicians for what they called Stricture of the Urethra, without benefit. He finally consulted Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., who found his trouble to be Urinary Calculi or Stones in the Bladder. The doctor at once removed the foreign bodies with the knife and then gave his great Blood Specific, "Favorite Remedy," to prevent their reformation. The entire treatment was eminently successful, and Mr. Tietsell's recovery was rapid and perfect.
While "Favorite Remedy" is a specific in all kidney and bladder diseases, it is equally valuable in cases of billious disorders, constipation of the bowels, and all the class of ills apparently inscrutable from the constitutions of women. Try it. Your druggist has it, and its cost is only dollar a bottle. The lucky man is he who puts this advice in practice. Don't forget the name and address, Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y. The Doctor would have it understood that, while he is engaged in the introduction of his medicine, "Favorite Remedy," he still continues the practice of his profession, but confines himself exclusively to office practice. He treats all diseases of a chronic character, and performs all the minor and capital operations of surgery.

A Mammoth Fishing Trap.

The Boston Herald says that "A novel invention, which promises to revolutionize fish catching, has lately been shown, and it is said to have been worked with most successful results. The invention is simply an iron fishing pier. That is to say, the frame of an ordinary ocean pier, extending in this case about 1000 feet into the sea—in reality rests upon iron spiles so contrived, and with meshes and traps so arranged, that the foundation of the pier is really a fishing trap, fixed to catch and hold seventy tons of fish. The nets may be unloaded at the end of the pier, and the 'haul' taken by handcars over the platform to the beach, rendering the use of boats unnecessary. The intention of the inventor is to construct four of these fishing piers, extending one mile from shore."

A Baby Saved!
Since birth my baby had running sores all over his head, and the doctors said that he must die, for they could not heal them. I used everything I ever heard of, but it did no good. He got so bad that he would not nurse. My husband's sister told me to try Sulphur Bitters as she had great faith in them. I used a bottle and the sores commenced to heal. After using two bottles more, the sores all healed, and I consider my baby saved.—Mother, Concord, N. H.

The Results of Necessity.
What the ancients suffered for the want of knowledge in medical science, can only be appreciated by contrasting the vast amount of suffering cured and pain alleviated in modern times, by the use of Swayne's Ointment for skin diseases. Its introduction was characterized by the necessary withdrawal of a score or more of illusive, quack nostrums, whose evil effects have left living monuments to denounce them. Thus is exemplified the proverb, necessity is the mother of invention.

Rheumatism
Neuralgia, Sprains,
Pain in the Back and Side.
There is nothing more painful than these diseases; but the pain can be removed and the disease cured by use of Perry Davis' Pain Killer.
This remedy is not a cheap Benzine or Petroleum product that must be kept away from fire or heat to avoid danger of explosion, nor is it an untried experiment that may do more harm than good.
Pain Killer has been in constant use for forty years, and the universal testimony from all parts of the world is, It never fails. It not only effects a permanent cure, but it relieves pain almost instantaneously. Being a purely vegetable remedy, it is safe in the hands of the most inexperienced.
The record of cures by the use of PAIN KILLER would fill volumes. The following extracts from letters received show what those who have tried it think:
Edgar Cady, Owatonna, Minn., says:
About a year since my wife became subject to severe suffering from rheumatism. Our recourse to the PAIN KILLER, which speedily relieved her.
Charles Powell writes from the Sailors' Home, London:
I had been afflicted three years with neuralgia and violent spasms of the stomach. The doctors at Westminster Hospital gave up my case in despair. I tried your PAIN KILLER, and it gave me immediate relief. I have regained my strength, and am now able to follow my usual occupation.
G. H. Walworth, Saco, Me., writes:
I experienced immediate relief from pain in the side by the use of your PAIN KILLER.
E. York says:
I have used your PAIN KILLER for rheumatism, and have received great benefit.
Barton Seaman says:
Have used PAIN KILLER for thirty years, and have found it a never failing remedy for rheumatism and lameness.
Mr. Burditt writes:
It never fails to give relief in cases of rheumatism.
Phil. Gilbert, Somerset, Pa., writes:
From actual use, I know your PAIN KILLER is the best medicine I can get.
All druggists keep PAIN KILLER. Its price is so low that it is within the reach of all, and it will save many times its cost in doctors' bills. 25c., 50c. and $1.00 a bottle.

"Amicably Adjusted."

A Washington despatch says: "It is understood that the points of difference between the members of the naval advisory board have been amicably adjusted, and that a unanimous report relative to the construction of vessels for the navy has been submitted for the consideration of the secretary."

It is not stated which faction of the board yielded — whether the proposed new ships are to be merely yachts for the line officers, of slow speed and small fighting-room, as recommended by the majority, or swift and powerful men-of-war, as recommended by the three naval constructors on the board, and Chief Engineer Lenthall; but we presume the new ships are to be yachts, the minority having been virtually ordered by Secretary Hunt to subscribe to the majority report.

A Word to Mothers.

Mothers should remember it is a most important duty at this season to look after the health of their families and cleanse the malaria and impurities from their systems, and that nothing will tone up the stomach and liver, regulate the bowels and purify the blood so perfectly as Parker's Ginger Tonic, advertised in our columns.—Post: see other columns.

Lester K. Bailey, a young married man of Plymouth, Mich., of a rich and respectable family, has "skipped out," after forging notes, etc., amounting to $6,000.

A boiler in J. Henry's shingle mill at Grand Rapids, Mich., exploded Sunday, killing two men. The mill was entirely destroyed, and a residence adjoining badly injured.

F. W. KINSMAN, Esq., — Dear Sir: With pleasure we order ten gross Adamson's Botanic Cough Balsam, showing conclusively that merit has won the day, and that your Balsam is taking the lead over the many bottles of trash that now flood the market.—From Smith, Doolittle & Smith, Druggists, Boston.

Ash-Tonic;

A perfected purifyer of the system In 1-2lb. bottles; 75 cents. For dyspepsia, the many forms of liver complaint, impure and impoverished blood, and functional derangements attendant upon debility. For symptons indicated by indigestion, loss of appetite, nausea, sick headache, sour stomach, furred tongue, drowsiness, blanched lips, sallow complexion, pain in the side or back, eruptions, depression of spirits, nervous irritability and hysteria, and for building up the system, ash-tonic is unquestionably the most prompt and energetic remedy yet devised.

New Bedford, Mass., is to have an opera house, a company of capitalists having been formed to build it.

Rescued from Death.

William J. Coughlin, of Somerville, Mass., says: "In the fall of 1876 I was taken with a violent bleeding of the lungs followed by a severe cough. I soon began to lose my appetite and flesh. I was so weak at one time that I could not leave my bed. In the summer of 1877 I was admitted to the city hospital. While there the doctors said I had a hole in my left lung as big as a half a dollar. I was so far gone at one time a report went around that I was dead. I gave up hope, but a friend told me of Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs. I laughed at my friends, thinking that my case was incurable, but I got a bottle to satisfy them, when to my surprise and gratification, I commenced to feel better. My hope, once dead, began to revive, and to-day I feel in better spirits than I have the past three years.

I write this hoping you will publish it, so that every one afflicted with diseased lungs, will be induced to take Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs, and be convinced that consumption can be cured. I have taken two bottles and can positively say that it has done more good than all the other medicines I have taken since my sickness." Sold by all druggists.

Advices from St. John, N. B., says the Prince Edward Island bank is in trouble, the cashier, Brecken, having stolen from $700,000 to $1,000,000, and cleared out.

The Dangers of the Stock Market.

A man may be incredulous enough to risk his money in the fickle mysteries of a mercurial stock market, but when he gets the itching piles, he goes straight for Dr. Swayne's Ointment. Unlike the bulls and bears of the stock exchange, who clean you out of hard earned cash, it returns your money with interest, in the way of allaying the intense itching, and insuring sweet repose.

Guiteau's Trial.

The trial of the wretched cur Guiteau is drawing to an end, and the country will be glad when the end arrives. The assassin was put on the stand by Mr. Scoville, Monday afternoon, and his testimony was continued on Tuesday.

News and Notes.

Havelock McLean, a clerk in the post-office at Portland, Me., has confessed to the stealing of more than $1000 from letters. He has been committed to jail.

Patti gave a concert in Brooklyn, N. Y., Monday night, and was enthusiastically received. After the concert a lot of simpletons took the horses from her carriage, and dragged her to her hotel.

Orrin C. Thomas of Buffalo, N. Y., is under arrest on a charge of murdering an old man whose body was removed from Forest Lawn cemetery a few nights ago. An examination of the corpse is said to have revealed the presence of strychnine.

In the superior criminal court at Boston on Monday, the jury in the case of Gardner A. Fuller, Capt. E. Frank Mosher and Dr. A. W. K. Newton, charged with conspiracy to defraud Daniel Goodnow out of the bark Western Sea and a valuable cargo, returned a verdict convicting Fuller and Mosher, and acquitting Newton. The latter was discharged, and the others were remanded to jail. Exceptions will be filed in their cases. Mosher's father and wife were in court, and were much affected by the verdict.

The American Rubber Co.'s works in East Cambridge, Mass., were burned Monday night, throwing over 600 hands out of employment, and causing a loss of over $500,000. Insurance $150,000.

The assessors of Concord having on Thursday of last week voted to abate all the taxes assessed against church property in that place, the assessors of Dover hastened to follow suit, and at a meeting held on Saturday decided to abate the whole amount of taxes assessed against each and all of the churches in that city. Whether or not the assessing boards of the two cities named have decided that the state law requiring that all church property in excess of ten thousand dollars shall be taxed is illegal, we do not know, but they have decided that such property shall not be taxed in their respective cities this year, law or no law. Probably every church in the state that has been assessed will now make a move for abatement.

Since the close of the beach season improvements have been made in the parlor and dining room of the Marshall house at York harbor, and an elevated walk, eighty feet long and seven feet wide, has been laid from the hotel to the new bowling alley; six thousand feet of lumber was required for this purpose, and was furnished by E. C. Moody, who cut it on his own land, whence he has recently taken a great quantity of timber. The lumber was sawed at Cape Neddick.

A gentleman of this city who made a call at a farm house at Kittery Point on Sunday last, found the man of the house engaged in the almost interminable job of cutting the hair of seven stalwart neighbors.

At the last annual town meeting of York, in March, a proposition to lay out a new road commencing at the Hotel Bartlett, thence running in a westerly direction by Lobster cove, and ending at the foot of Leach's hill at York harbor, was voted down, the proposition encountering the opposition of a family through whose land the road would pass, as well as that of many prominent citizens; but it is understood that the opposition has now been mostly withdrawn. Dr. Hammond, proprietor of the Hotel Bartlett, this fall purchased at Lobster cove three acres of land, with the intention of erecting thereon another hotel whenever the property might be made accessible; this cove is one of the most beautiful locations on the York coast, and is about half a mile from the present hotel.

Stephen L. Butterfield of Kittery has a Chester White pig seven months old, which weighs 350 lbs. John Q. Adams of Kittery two years ago last June bought a sucking calf of the Durham breed, from the Peirce farm in Greenland; the animal now girths six feet and six inches, giving evidence of the attention of his owner, and the superiority of the stock from which he descended.

The pinque Lucy, owned by Mr. Lemuel B. Caswell of Smuttynose island, Isles of Shoals, parted her chain Sunday morning, and drifted ashore on Flake point, where she remained until afternoon, when after being lightened she came off with little damage.

On Tuesday two wherries belonging to the Ingebredsens, of the Isles of Shoals, brought in nearly 3000 lbs. of fish, the fares being purchased by George Herbert & Co. Living so close to the fishing grounds, they have opportunities for prosecuting this industry which dwellers on the main land do not possess. Mr. William Randall, owner of the whale-boat White Horse, also came in from the Shoals on Tuesday, with 1000 lbs. of fish.

The schooner Christie Campbell arrived on Tuesday with 3500 pounds of fish. Most of the fleet of fishing vessels belonging to this port, and several haddockers, were in the lower harbor on Tuesday evening.

The schooner Grace Choate sailed Tuesday morning on her first trip at winter trawl-fishing. The nets, which she used last season, have been abandoned. She returned in the afternoon, the weather outside being too bristerous to permit her setting trawls.

It is said there is likely to be trouble before the winter is over, between the trawlers and the net-fishermen. In any game of reprisals the netters will be likely to lose the most, as their gear costs much more than a trawling outfit.

The schooner Northern Star, now at this port for winter fishing, claims to be "high line," as on one baiting she took nearly 40,000 lbs. of fish, which exceeds any one catch reported.

Fresh lobsters, caught by Newcastle fishermen, were sold on the streets Tuesday.

"A life on the ocean wave" does not seem very profitable to the "toilers of the sea" hereabouts, at the present time. The romance is only to the inexperienced.

Government officials were on Tuesday making the annual inspection of the hull and boilers of the steamer Mystic.

Messrs. Richard D. Smart and M. Ryan took a tramp on Tuesday "with a gun upon their shoulder," and brought home a cluster of game consisting of three rabbits, four partridges and two squirrels,—not bad considering the number of sportsmen to the quantity of game in this vicinity.

John M. Beckford, twenty-one years old, employed by the Eastern railroad as a night-shifter in the yard at Salem, was instantly killed in the tunnel shortly before one o'clock Tuesday morning, by a collision. He was riding on the front of the shifting engine, when it ran into the rear of an extra train, and crushed him.

Five sticks of hard-pine timber, each forty-three and one-half feet long, fifteen inches wide and six inches thick, have within a few days been stolen from C. E. Walker & Co.'s wharf, where they were piled in readiness to be used in the construction of the new coal-pockets. The timber laid near the edge of the wharf, and was probably pushed overboard and then towed alongside of some vessel, as sticks like those described could not easily be concealed anywhere in this vicinity.

About the last of the private pleasure boats to be kept afloat were hauled up on Thanksgiving day, Messrs. Fraser and Trefethen docking their fine whaleboat in Marvin's building on Puddle dock, while the Humbug was hauled to the sailing-master's residence at Lincoln hill. The last down-river trip made by these boats was on Nov. 13th, when the two crews managed to capture three little cod-fish—just enough to make chowder for the two parties. Several members of the crews also caught cold.

The docks of the Concord railroad wharves, including those leased by J. Albert Walker, are to be dredged.

Six teams loaded with bark, some from York and the rest from Hampton Falls, arrived at Goodrich's tan-yard on Christian Shore, Tuesday.

A collection having been had in one of the churches of this city last Sunday, at its close thirteen half-dollars were found in the contribution box. The church officials were somewhat surprised at finding such a number of half-dollars, and still more surprised to find that every half-dollar had been "punched!" As a punched half-dollar will only pass for thirty-five cents, this may be called piety with thirty per cent off.

The derrick gear used in hoisting stone from the gondolas on to the wharf for the building of the new Episcopal church, was borrowed from Fort Constitution, and returned on Tuesday. "Better wear out than rust out."

—An honest Hibernian, when asked if he had a pleasant time at the picnic, replied: "I'll not desave ye, sorr; it was a dull time; sorra a black eye on the ground till afther three o'clock."

—Enterprise is a marked characteristic of at least one business firm in London. This house has chartered a big steamer, which will be fitted up with rooms for samples and with berths for the representatives of commercial houses. It will then be sent around the world. Fancy the consternation that will prevail when these commercial travellers descend, literally by the score, upon some quiet, law-abiding seaport, where the harbor is good and business is dull! Evidently here's a capital opportunity for some bloodthirsty Irishman, with a private stock of dynamite on hand, to strike a blow at England and to serve the civilized world a good turn at the same time.

—Guiteau wishes a suspension of public opinion for one year, and public opinion wishes a suspension of Guiteau for about twenty minutes.

—Why is it that when a pedestrian is drenched by a basin of water from a fourth-story window he always wants to whip somebody who lives on the first floor?—Detroit Free Press.

—George Remington, of Suffield, had his leg badly broken by a barrel of cider falling upon it on Saturday. This shows that cider should only be used for internal application.—Boston Post.

—"Never milk while the cow is eating," is the advice of a bucolic contemporary. Judging from the character of the milk that comes to market, it would be more to the point never to milk while the cow is drinking.

—Young husband to young wife: "You ought not to tease the baby by letting him suck on an empty bottle." Young wife: "He can get as much enjoyment out of that as he can out of his thumb—can't he?"

—"Tommy," said a mother to her seven-years-old boy, "you must not interrupt me when I am talking with ladies. You must wait till we stop, and then you can talk." "But you never stop," retorted the boy.

—He was wealthy but penurious, and this is what he said to the suiter for his daughter's hand: "Yes, you can have her, but you must elope with her. I can't afford the expense of a swell wedding, and the romance of the elopement will make up for the lack of show, and we will save $600 on expenses. Go it."

SAMUEL LANGDON.

His father was a cousin of Gov. John Langdon, was a major in the revolutionary war, and transported supplies to Valley Forge for the New Hampshire Committee of Safety. The maiden name of Major Langdon's mother was Banfield, and it was through her that the large farm on Banfield road descended. Major Langdon married a widow lady named Chase, by whom he had four children; two sons, named Samuel and William, and two daughters, named Comfort and Thankful.

Samuel, the subject of this brief sketch, was born in 1811. In 1839 and '40 he was sent to the legislature from this town, in company with Richard Jenness, James H. Kelsey, Sampson B. Lord, Nehmiah Moses and Thomas P. Treadwell. In later years, after the adoption of the city charter, he for six years represented ward three (now ward four) in the legislature, serving two years at a time on three different occasions; and he also served as a member of the city councils. He was at one time a captain in the militia; was a pleasant and agreeable man, and an industrious farmer and good citizen all his life. He was one of the few surviving residents of this city who voted for Andrew Jackson at his first election, and was a staunch democrat to the end of his days.

He was twice married, his first wife being a daughter of Rev. Mr. Langdon, who lived on Lafayette road, by which lady he had three children, viz.: John, Samuel and Harriet, of whom Samuel only survives. Harriet married Mr. Mart. Jenkins, and left three children. Capt. Langdon's second wife, who survives him, was a daughter of the late James Coleman of Newington.

There will be a meeting at Bow Mission hall this (Wednesday) evening at 7:30 o'clock. Subject, "I am the way, and the truth, and the life." St. John 14:6. All are invited.

The annual entertainment of the Universalist Ladies' Social Circle will be given on Thursday evening, Dec. 1st, in the church vestry. In addition to the usual sale of aprons and fancy articles, an amusing and well-arranged dramatic and musical entertainment is on the programme. The "Broom Drill" is also in rehearsal by a dozen young ladies, who have procured uniforms, and become proficients in the revised tactics; the skill they display in the manual of arms is truly wonderful, considering the short time they have practiced, and if they do as well upon "dress parade" as at their rehearsals, the best-drilled companies of soldiers that took part in the Yorktown celebration will have to look to their laurels. We predict an enjoyable evening for all who attend. Those who purchase from the sale tables will be sure to get good bargains, as the articles offered are of the best quality, and are "marked down" far below fair prices.

The store on Market square which has been occupied for twenty-one years by Mr. Henry Leveen, and which has not been repaired during that time, is to be enlarged and entirely renovated as soon as Mr. Leveen gets rid of his stock of clothing, which he is now doing as rapidly as low prices will enable him to do. The store, which is now forty-two feet from front to rear, is to be extended back about forty feet, and the floor of the whole lowered a foot; the rear portion will be lighted from above, and the entire store heated by steam. An iron front is to be put in, patterned after a front on 8th avenue, New York, and the window will be a single sheet of plate glass. Messrs. Trefethen and Littlefield have inspected the premises, and it is expected that the masons and carpenters will soon get to work. Before moving to this store Mr. Leveen was in business on Daniel street for two years, but has never cared to change his location since.

—It is said of a contested congressional seat from Missouri that the depositions in the case make a pile of legal cap three feet in height, that the notaries' fees alone amount to $3,000, and that the papers would make a book of 3,000 closely printed pages. And there are thousands of men of unquestioned sanity who would go through all that bother for the privilege of sitting in Congress for two years! Are we a nation of cranks?

As Thousands do Testify,

So does Thomas Roberts, Wholesale Grocer, Philadelphia, who says: "Bu nett's Cocoaine allays all irritation of the scalp, and will most effectually remove dandruff and prevent the hair from falling out."

Burnett's Flavoring Extracts.—The superiority of these extracts consists in their perfect purity and great strength. They are warranted free from the poisonous oils and acids which enter into the composition of many factitious fruit flavors.

ELYS' CREAM BALM
Having gained an enviable local reputation, displacing all other preparations in the vicinity of discovery, is on its merits alone, recognized as a wonderful remedy. A little trial will convince the most skeptical of its curative powers. It especially cleanses the nasal passages of Catarrhal virus, causing healthy secretions, allays inflammation and irritation, protects the membranal linings of the head from additional colds, completely heals the sores and restores the sense of taste and smell. Beneficial results are realized by a few applications. A thorough treatment as directed will cure Catarrh. As a household remedy for cold in the head and snuffles it is unequalled. The Balm is easy to use and agreeable. Sold by all druggists at 50 cts. On receipt of 50 cts. will mail a package. Send for circular with full information.

Ex-Gov. E. A. Straw has been ajudged insane by a commission appointed by the probate court, in response to a petition of his family; and on petition of his daughters, Mrs. Ellen S. Thompson of Lowell and Charlotte Howard of Boston, his brother and son, James B. Straw and Herman F. Straw, have been appointed his guardians.

George H. Bixby, postmaster at Merrimac, and express agent of the Concord railroad at that station, died very suddenly on the 27th ult., under circumstances indicating poison.

Eugene Ford, a freight brakeman who was injured on Sunday, Nov. 6th, by striking his head against the overhead bridge near the fair grounds at Plymouth, died Nov. 29th.

It is rumored that the Manchester & Keene railroad is to be extended from Hancock Junction over the iron of the Peterborough & Wilton railroad, to Milford, and thence across through Amherst and Bedford to Manchester.

The rotunda of the State House at Concord has been discovered to have been floored with poor stock, and the tiles have been relaid after a new lower flooring had been put in.

The republicans of Peterborough have voted to change their popular postmaster, Mr. Miller, because he has held the office for a long time, and they think that some other man should have a chance. The people believe in rotation, and seldom fail to say so when they have a chance.—Manchester Mirror.

Let us see. Is there not some one in the Mirror office who wants to be rotated from Deputy, to Collector of Internal Revenue?

"The Firm's Busted."

A novel bankruptcy case is reported by the National Sunday-School Teacher. The junior partner of the firm, being more generous than just, went into a benevolent operation without asking the senior member.

A little boy applied to General Clinton B. Fisk for capital to go into business. Amount wanted — Seventy-five cents. Business—Boot-blacking. Station—Near Fulton ferry, New York. Profits to be divided at the end of six months.

The arrangement was made, and the firm began business. On Monday morning, however, the "workin" partner came into the general's office wearing a very lugubrious countenance.

"What's the matter?" asked the general.

"Oh," said the boy, "its all up."

"All up!" said the general, "what do you mean?"

"Oh," replied the urchin, "the firm's busted!"

"How is that?" was the inquiry.

"Well," said the boy, "I had $4.92 on hand, but yesterday a man came into our Sunday-school and said we must give all our money to the missionary society, and I put it all in—couldn't help it—an' it's all up with us."

We have no doubt that the firm immediately "resumed" business again—but it is the first partnership we have heard of that has been bursted in that way! Hence our extreme sympathy.

The Catholic fair at Portland, Me., closed Nov. 29th, having netted not far from $10,000.

Diphtheria is raging to an alarming degree at Kezer Falls, Porter Village, Me., and vicinity. All dying are buried without the ordinary services, and the sick have to depend on their own friends who may be with them at the time they are taken sick.

A Baby Saved!

Since birth my baby had running sores all over his head, and the doctors said that he must die, for they could not heal them. I used everything I ever heard of, but it did no good. He got so bad that he would not nurse. My husband's sister told me to try Sulphur Bitters as she had great faith in them. I used a bottle and the sores commenced to heal. After using two bottles more, the sores all healed, and I consider my baby saved.—Mother, Concord, N. H.

P. S. Gilmore has signed a contract as bandmaster with the twenty-second regiment, N. Y. N. G. It is for five years, at $2,200 a year and a benefit.

Fast and Loose.

Decay loosens the teeth. Sozodont removes the cause of their destruction, and they retain their place in the dental process. After a few applications, it will be noticed that the natural indentations in them, formerly filled with corroding tartar, present a spotless appearance and their enamelled surfaces glisten with becoming lustre. Thus beauty is heightened and health promoted.

The steam yacht Lucerne recently collided with the Australian clipper Dundee near Gravesend, below London, and the former sank. Seven persons were drowned.

During the past five years I have suffered from catarrh and have used without relief remedies prescribed by various physicians. I was advised to try Ely's Cream Balm; am using it with beneficial results, and feel confident I shall be completely cured of a disease that has seriously affected not only my nostrils but also my eyes and hearing. W. A. Brintzinghoffer, Jr., Wholesale Tobacconist, Newark, N. J., May 29, 1879.

Ely's Cream Balm for the cure of catarrh is having large sales with me. I think it the best article I have sold for the treatment of these diseases, and take great pleasure in recommending it to my patrons, as I am hearing the most favorable reports of its beneficial effects. A. R. Ferguson, druggist, Lockport, N. Y.

About thirty years ago Adelina Patti was a sad-eyed, poorly-clad little girl in New York, a protege of the Strakosch family.

"Pro Bono Publico."

It is a very remarkable fact, that while thousands of people refuse to read paid puffs of worthless nostrums, none skip over Dr. Swayne's little squib about his Ointment for itching piles that itch so much at night. The people well know that it is published for their benefit, in other words, is pro bono publico. May its far reaching effects be perpetuated to the end of time.

Internal Revenue Commissioner's Report.

Green B. Raum, commissioner of internal revenue, has submitted his annual report.

The receipts of internal revenue for the fiscal year 1879 were $113,449,621.33; for 1880, $123,981,916.10; and for the year ended June 30, 1881, $135,229,912.30; and the receipts for the first four months of the present fiscal year have been $50,816,670.11, being $7,061,728.85 in excess of the receipts for the corresponding months of the previous fiscal year.

Relative to the reduction of internal revenue taxes, Gen. Raum says "the large increase in the receipts of the government, and the great reduction in the interest and principal of the public debt, are causing discussion as to the propriety of reducing the income of the government by lowering some of the taxes, and dropping others altogether. My opinion is that it will be wise to confine these taxes to distilled spirits, malt liquors, tobacco and its products, and to special taxes on manufacturers and dealers in these articles."

The report states that "during the past five fiscal years $602,510,797.30 have been collected, and the entire amount has been paid into the treasury without any loss to the government by defalcation."

The commissioner reports that there is a commendable disposition on the part of the great body of taxpayers to yield a ready obedience to the laws, and the taxes are collected with the least possible friction. In the collection districts where frauds in the manufacture and sale of spirits and tobacco have been rife, and where resistance to authority has prevailed, there has been a manifest improvement in public sentiment. He says that while there have been 859 illicit distilleries seized and 7,510 illicit distillers arrested during the past sixteen months, illicit distilling has, by the active operations of the past five years, been reduced to a minimum; and the illicit manufacture of tobacco has, for the most part, been abandoned.

He recommends pensioning the widows and orphans of revenue officers who have been killed in the exercise of their duty, and shows that the struggle maintained for the past five years for the suppression of illicit distilling has resulted in the killing of twenty-eight and the wounding of sixty-four officers and employes.

Gen. Raum refers at length to the civil service question, and makes a number of suggestions as to the rules for appointments and dismissals in the internal revenue service.

News and Notes.

The report of the naval advisory board was made public by the secretary of the navy on the 30th ult. It recommends the construction of thirty-eight unarmored cruising vessels, and a number of rams, torpedo gunboats, and torpedo boats. The number and types of vessels that will be available for service in the navy at the expiration of eight years, if the programme devised by the advisory board is adopted, will be as follows: twenty-one iron clads, seventy unarmored cruisers, five rams, five torpedo gunboats, and twenty torpedo boats.

Marshal Henry estimates that Guiteau's trial will cost the government not far from from $150,000.

Samuel P. Libbey, thirty-three years old, shot himself in his father's office on Washington street, Boston, Nov. 30th. Ill health caused the act.

A gang of roughs burned Patrick McElroy's house at Wallingford, Conn., a few days ago, while the old man was at a wake. He is said to be honest and harmless, and the crime was committed out of pure meanness.

A man named Norris, of Gloucester, Mass., on Nov. 28th fell from the ledges at Beverly to the railroad track, near the depot, a distance of thirty feet. His hip was broken and he was injured internally, possibly fatally. He was sent to the Massachusetts General hospital.

While James Mulcahey and John Shea were sitting on Mystic wharf in Charlestown, Mass., Nov. 29th, a bullet from a Springfield rifle hit Shea in the arm, making a slight wound, and then broke Mulcahey's thigh. The bullet is supposed to have come from the Charlestown navy yard.

A New Orleans despatch says: "The schooner Mary Eveline, owned here, was boarded by Honduran soldiers at the island of Utila, and Capt. Hansen made a prisoner. The American flag was not allowed to float. After the schooner was run into port Capt. Hansen was placed in jail, where he still remains. The cause of the outrage is alleged informality in the schooner's manifest. The authorities at Washington will be appealed to."

The San Domingo annexation scheme is looming up again. It has been given out in the Washington despatches that the government will send a vessel to survey Samana bay; that if we are going to take part in South America affairs and assert our rights on the isthmus, it will be necessary to have military and naval stations in that part of the world; consequently, San Domingo may be necessary after all.

It is said that the water of Lake Champlain is gradually growing shallower, and Capt. Rockwell of the steamer Reindeer knows that it has decreased a foot within his memory. This is due, probably, to the clearing away of forests which formerly covered the watershed.

Probably the finest assortment of sleighs in the country is that offered by the well-known house of Wm. P. Sargent & Co., Boston. They also have an unusually nice stock of Robes and Blankets. Purchasers will find their prices very enticing.

Joseph Stone, a painter, fifty-five years old, was instantly killed in Springfield, Mass., Nov. 29th, by falling sixty feet from a staging on the new convent school building. He had just begun work on the building, lost his balance while reaching after a brush, and fell backward and broke his neck.

The commerce of the great lakes boasts of its five-masted schooners, but the latest big thing in the fresh water ports is the iron steamship Campana. This vessel is of 1300 tons, 252 feet long, thirty-six feet beam, and draws nine feet three inches of water. She was built in Glasgow, Scotland, in 1878, and has been used in the South America and Cape of Good Hope trade. She was cut in two to get through the Lachine canal,—a weakening operation one would think,—and was delayed three weeks by the breaking of a pontoon bearing a cut end. The Campana is expected to carry 60,000 bushels of wheat and 600 passengers.

The official canvass of the vote of Virginia for attorney general has been published. The vote for governor has not yet been canvassed, but the result will probably not be essentially different. The readjuster state committee on the morning after the election estimated their majority at 12,000, and the canvass shows that their guess was surprisingly good, the official figures being as follows: Frank S. Blair, readjuster, 112,960; Philip W. McKenney, democrat, 100,627; Blair's majority, 12,273.

King Kalakaua's first visit on his return to Honolulu was paid to his sister, who had reigned in his absence. He found her sitting in a straw hut, surrounded by natives. Thus informally she listened to his tale of a journey round the world, and told him in return what his ministers had been doing in his absence.

On Monday night of this week, Joseph Peters and Van White escaped from the Alfred jail by throwing pepper into the eyes of the jailor, R. M. Stevens. There was another prisoner by the name of Perkins in the plot, but the jailor succeeded in holding him until assistance came. Peters is the half-breed Indian who committed so many burglaries in Biddeford and Saco some weeks ago, and who was more than suspected of the commission of similar crimes in Kennebunk and Dover, N. H., a trunk full of his plunder being found at the Eastern railroad station in this city. He was in the jail awaiting trial before the supreme judicial court of York county, for his performances in Biddeford and Saco.

Notice to Mariners.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 25th. Notice is given by the Lighthouse Board that on and after Dec. 15th, 1881, the light at Cape Henry, mouth of Chesapeake bay, Virginia, will be shown from the new tower recently erected. It will also be changed to a fixed order light, fixed white, illuminating 270 degrees of the horizon. The focal plane is 152 feet above the ground and 169 feet above low water. The light should therefore be seen in clear weather from the deck of a vessel fifteen feet above the sea, a distance of 18.54 nautical miles. The structure is an octagonal tower; the base, service room and lantern painted black; the shaft colored on each face, half white and half black, alternating, so that the upper and lower halves of the faces show alternately black and white. The old tower, which will remain as a day mark, is 240 feet from the new one, bearing southwest by west from it.

The novel scene of a mortal combat between a sparrow and a butcher bird, was witnessed by several persons on Buffum street, Salem, Mass., Thanksgiving day. Both fought hard for victory, yet owing to the superior power and ferocity of the butcher bird, it came off victorious after a somewhat lengthy struggle, and left its adversary dead on the ground.

Workmen sinking a shaft for the Glendale Mining company in Milford, Mass., a few days ago, found a very lively frog seventeen feet under ground, buried in three feet of quartz.

Lucius Libby of Saco has just reached home from Kansas. He walked the entire distance of 2,500 miles, and complains of corns on his feet.

The Pepperell corporation at Biddeford produced in a week, recently, over 191,000 pounds of cloth, or, in other words, about 3,350 miles of cloth, a large part of it being over 100 inches wide.

Capt. Edgar H. Willis of Bath, Me., caught the past season 4,054,600 porgies, equal to 14,000 barrels. He commanded the steamer "Josephine B."

CIRCUIT COURT OF THE UNITED STATES.

[October Term—Lowell, J.]

MONDAY, Nov. 28th.

On motion of Wallace Hackett, Esq., Alvin Burleigh, Esq., of Plymouth, was admitted to practice as an attorney in this court.

TUESDAY, Nov. 29th.

In case Huntress vs. Epping, the plaintiff's testimony occupied the forenoon, some of the witnesses being examined by Wallace Hackett, Esq., and others by Mr. Edgerly, and cross-examined by Mr. Mugridge. Several carriage experts were upon the stand. Among the noted "horse men" examined as witnesses was Henry R. Stoddard of Portsmouth, who purchased one of the horses after the alleged injury. Councillor Jameson of Great Falls was one of the plaintiff's witnesses. The evidence for the town was offered in the afternoon.

Dandelion blossoms were gathered in the outskirts of the city on Wednesday.

The mild weather has destroyed the skating on the north millpond.

A gang of twenty telegraph line builders, under John Moody of Boston as foreman, arrived at the Gibson house on Tuesday of this week; they are in the employ of the Mutual Union Telegraph Co., and have for some time been engaged on the line which is to connect Boston and Portland. On Wednesday they were at work near the Hayes farm at the Plains.

Mr. True Osgood of Concord, Past Grand Master of Odd Fellows in New Hampshire, in whose honor Osgood Lodge, No. 48, of this city, was named, will be in attendance at the sociable of that lodge this evening.

Commodore Clark H. Wells relieves Rear Admiral John C. Beaumont from command of this navy yard to-day.

Schooner Maud B. Wetherell, Hontvet master, sailed from this port for Baltimore on the 30th ult., with part of her original cargo of potatoes from Prince Edward island.

Mr. Wm. Robertson, of Lewiston, Me., proprietor of the Marston house in that city, was in Portsmouth this week on a brief visit to his son.

An overcoat made by Mr. Levi Rand of Rye forty-two years ago, was seen on the streets on the 30th ult., on the back of a Sagamore farmer. The coat is still in capital condition.

The schooner Northern Star took in ten barrels of fish-bait on Wednesday morning, the 30th ult., and was towed out by the steamer Fearless. The schooner Albert Woodbury sailed on Wednesday for the Shoals, to complete her outfit for fishing. The schooners E. A. Creed and Lucy arrived in from the Shoals on Wednesday, the former bringing in Mr. Cedric Laighton and wife, and the latter a hundred barrels of salt herring to be shipped to Boston per steamer Acushnet. The schooner Addie & Hattie came in on Wednesday afternoon from a fishing trip, with a fare of 2100 pounds of codfish.

The managers of the Eastern and the Concord railroads had a conference in this city on Wednesday of this week, in regard to the disposal of the mud taken from the docks around the Concord railroad wharves; the arrangement, it is said, being to discharge it on Noble's island.

Capt. Fred Lewis, master of the schooner Helen F. Tredick during the past summer, has hired the schooner John W. Smart, of Portland, and will be engaged during the winter in the transportation of frozen herring to this and other ports.

The schooner D. K. Ham, Freeman master, was at Portsmouth bridge on Wednesday of this week, bound for Boston with a load of bricks from the steam brick-yard of Henry P. Abbott at Eliot. The D. K. Ham is owned by Mr. Joseph Ham, and has made twenty-seven trips between this port and Boston this season; twice she has left Boston at 2:45 o'clock in the afternoon, and arrived here at nine o'clock the same evening. Capt. Freeman, her commander, is not only an energetic skipper but a man of sound good sense, as is shown by the fact that he—like Capt. Garland of the schooner Hattie Lewis, another "bricker"—is a subscriber to the NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE, which he has taken for over ten years past.

The Eastern railroad has been gathering the old sleepers and piling them on the flats of the southern side of the north millpond, to serve in part as a foundation for the freight house, which is to be moved about three hundred feet to the westward of its present position. Some of the sleepers will probably be disposed of before spring by the boys, to make bonfires on the ice during the skating season.

The gondola Sturgeon, Capt. Nason, of Sturgeon creek, Eliot, on Tuesday of this week landed on the wharf at the foot of Deer street 6000 bricks for Mr. A. Brackett Trefethen, from the Rose brick-yard at Sturgeon creek, and on Wednesday landed 6000 more at the same place. The Sturgeon on Wednesday took back to Eliot a load of lumber from Mason's steam sawmill—the first of three loads which Capt. Mason has contracted to take up for Mr. Samuel Clark. In working out of and into the creek, Tuesday, the gondola was obliged to break a thin skimming of ice, but she found none to break on Wednesday evening.

Capt. Brown, of the schooner Adaline Hamlin, of and from Bangor for Boston, lumber laden, reports that he left Bangor on the 21st ult., and when off Cape Ann light, on the evening of Thursday, the 24th, experienced a heavy blow, which carried away fore gaff and jib; the vessel was then hove to, and got under way again on Friday afternoon about four o'clock. On Saturday morning about four o'clock experienced another blow, which split foresail and remaining jibs. Hoisted colors for assistance and was boarded by a fisherman belonging to a Gloucester vessel, which for $200 towed the Adaline Hamlin into Portsmouth lower harbor. While at anchor in the lower harbor she was run into on the 28th ult. by the schooner Maud Briggs, Barbour master, from Portsmouth for Bangor, carrying away everything on the port side, and knocking a portion of the deck-load overboard.

The gondola Constitution, Capt. Cheney, of South Berwick, Me., was at C. E. Walker & Co.'s wharf on Wednesday, the 30th ult., taking on forty tons of coal for Isaac Falls of South Berwick. Capt. Cheney reports another gondola in course of construction at South Berwick by foreman James Goodwin and a gang of four men; she will cost about $1600 when completed, and will be ready for business in the spring.

Mr. D. Fox. Stoddard, now a middle-aged man, has never been out of hard cash since he was a boy eight years old, at which time his mother gave him a silver dollar of 1796, which he has carried ever since. This is equivalent to saying that Mr. Stoddard was never a newspaper man.

November 28th of last year, at Dover, the services of a steam fire engine were required to prevent the tug Ann from sinking at the wharf, she having been cut through by ice during the previous night. There is now not ice enough in the Cocheco to cut through a dory.

Albert B. Junkins, of the Scotland district, York, recently purchased twelve yoke of cattle from Trafton's drove at South Berwick; the largest yoke girthed seven feet, and the smallest yoke five feet eight inches. These cattle are from the eastern part of Maine, from which point Trafton started with 253 head of cattle of all grades; he had previously driven six droves in partnership with a Mr. Cross, they ending their drives at Manchester, N. H., and their herds sometimes numbering over 350; Mr. Cross having given up the business, Mr. Trafton now "goes it alone." Another drover recently started from Ellsworth, Me., with 123 cattle and ten horses, and arrived in Portsmouth with seven cattle and two horses, having sold all the rest on the route.

Gov. Plaisted of Maine has appointed John S. Derby of Saco to be county Attorney for York county from the first of January next. Mr. Derby is a young lawyer, son of Silas Derby of Alfred, and is an extreme democrat.

It softens the hair when harsh and dry. It soothes the irritated scalp. It affords the richest lustre. It prevents the hair from falling off. It promotes its healthy, vigorous growth. A COUGH, COLD OR SORE THROAT should be stopped. Neglect frequently results in an incurable Lung Disease or Consumption. "Brown's Bronchial Troches" are not dieted into the stomach like cough syrups and balsams, but act directly on the inflamed parts, allaying irritation, give relief in Asthma, Bronchitis, Coughs, Catarrh, and the throat troubles which Singers and Public Speakers are subject to. For thirty years "Brown's Bronchial Troches" have been recommended by physicians, and always give perfect satisfaction. Having been tested by wide and constant use for nearly an entire generation, they have attained well-merited rank among the few staple remedies of the age. Early of Va., to New Orleans, where they resort semi-annually to conduct under their sole control the Grand Distribution of The Louisiana State Lottery, which will next occur at New Orleans on December 13th, when over half of a million of dollars will be cast among the ticket holders, and the full particulars of which can be had by sending to M. Terrible Accident.

Domestic accidents are common to women, and some of them are very serious. Mrs. Warner, of South Rondout, Ulster Co., N. Y., some weeks ago attempted to take from her child a pair of shears with which it was playing. A slight struggle ensued, in which the point of the shears entered Mrs. Warner's left eye, entirely destroying the sight. Her family physician did what he could, but intensely painful inflammation arose, which, by sympathy, threatened the loss of the other eye. Total blindness to a woman having the care of a household is an irreparable calamity. In this sorely stress, Mrs. Warner applied to that the well-known and skillful surgeon Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., who removed the injured eye by a very successful operation, setting aside all danger of further harm to the sight of the other eye. But, owing to pain and mental distress, her system needed a tonic and restorative medicine. To do this work the doctor prescribed "Kennedy's Favorite Remedy," which sustained its reputation and laid a sure foundation of health.

Odd Things Fished Up from Wrecks.

The Coast Wrecking company has in its office, New York city, a curious collection of relics from old wrecks, and other odd bits taken from the sea. The collection embraces quaint pieces of furniture, explosive shells, and shells of the ocean, heads of ladies' dresses, rude weapons of savage races, huge starfish, and many curious things, the use and purpose of which are still unknown. The collection contains the broken bell brought up from the ill-fated steamer Atlantic, of the White Star line, which was wrecked on Golden Rule rock, on the Nova Scotia coast, on April 1st, 1873, with a loss of 537 out of 1,007 souls on board. There is many a rusty, hilless sword, dug out of the sand eight years ago, near the hulk of the British bark Thistle, which was lost on Squam Beach, N. J., in 1811. There are also several bottles of sweet oil, holding a pint and a-half each, with the original corks intact, and the oil as clear as crystal, taken in November, 1877, from the wreck of the British bark Robert, which went down in 1844, with a cargo of lead and oil, and five of her crew, off the place where Atlantic City now stands. There is a South Sea island canteen, ingeniously constructed of cocoanut shells, which was fished up from a wreck in seventy feet of water on the coast of Maine; also a mussel shell firmly embedded four inches in depth in a rock which was found one hundred and forty feet above the sea level on the Jersey coast; also a pelican's skull and bill, measuring two feet from back to tip (making an excellent though wide dipper) which was found near the wreck of the bark Robert Fletcher, on the south beach of Long Island, and which is said to have been used to bail out the boat by the crew when endeavoring to escape. The jaws of a shark, killed on the South Carolina coast, which have been preserved, can easily be placed over the shoulders and down the body of a full grown man. One of the most curious relics is a lump chimney taken from the remains of the ironclad Merrimac. Oysters three inches long were found attached to the glass, and four large oysters which had grown about the brass base of the chimney, form an irregular square. The hilts of several swords and some old firearms are also incrusted with oyster shells.

A few days ago a lawyer of Ithaca, N. Y., Edward A. Wagener, was convicted of wrongfully disposing of pension money belonging to one Robinson. Wagener's defence was that he held a power of attorney from Robinson, but had lost it. He begged, in behalf his family, that his punishment be a fine, but the judge sentenced him to the penitentiary. The next day the missing power of attorney was found between the leaves of a blank ledger in Wagener's office in Ithaca, and steps are now in progress to secure a new trial, which will undoubtedly be granted and will result in an acquittal.

The late John Anderson, of Boston, amassed a great fortune through having a monopoly of the tinfoil brand of chewing tobacco called "Solace." Enormous quantities of this "fine-cut" were shipped to all parts of the country and sold and used almost as fast as it could be put upon the market.

"Tis true, 'tis pity, and pity 'tis, 'tis true," that too many sensible people regard coughs and colds so indifferently. Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup cures coughs and colds and is only 25 cents a bottle.

It is said that a young man of Chicopee, Mass., who went west a few years ago and married the daughter of a wealthy man, has come into possession of $1,000,000 through the death of his father-in-law.

At the close of a long interview with Aristides Welch, Esq., of Erdenheim Stock Farm, near Chestnut Hill, Penn., that gentleman, who breed Iroquois and Parole, said: "I want my groom to continue the use of St. Jacobs Oil, for it is an excellent thing for horses." Prominent horsemen all use it.

Frank Petit's two horses were killed and his wagon smashed into kindling wood by a Boston, Hoosac Tunnel & Western passenger train at Blackington village, Mass., Nov. 26th.

Terrible Loss of Life.

Catarrh of the Bladder.

Australian papers report a heavy storm about October 20th. The steamer Brisbane was totally wrecked on a reef off Port Darwin. The steamer Balclutha, from Melbourne to Sydney, is supposed to have foundered. The coasting schooner Schoolboy was wrecked near Jervis Bay, and all hands lost.

A Cure for Pimples!

My face for the last few years was covered with pimples so bad, that I used to be ashamed to go anywhere. I took two bottles of Sulphur Bitters and the pimples disappeared. I use them every spring.—C. K. D., Fall River.

Arthur Lefroy, who murdered Mr. Gold in a carriage of the London & Brighton railway, was hanged in the jail at London on Nov. 29th. A few persons were outside the jail, only the official witnesses of the execution being allowed inside. The drop was nine feet, and the murderer died instantly.

Judge Men By Their Works.

A man is judged in this life by his works, and in this connection it may not be inopportune to add, that Dr. Swayne has accomplished more good through the medium of his Ointment for skin diseases, than has the school of physicians combined. "It's an ill wind that blows nobody good." What the physicians have lost Dr. Swayne has gained.

Rheumatism
Neuralgia, Sprains,
Pain in the Back and Side.

There is nothing more painful than these diseases; but the pain can be removed and the disease cured by use of Perry Davis' Pain Killer.

This remedy is not a cheap Benzine or Petroleum product that must be kept away from fire or heat to avoid danger of explosion, nor is it an untried experiment that may do more harm than good.

Pain Killer has been in constant use for forty years, and the universal testimony from all parts of the world is, It never fails. It not only effects a permanent cure, but it relieves pain almost instantaneously. Being a purely vegetable remedy, it is safe in the hands of the most inexperienced.

The record of cures by the use of PAIN KILLER would fill volumes. The following extracts from letters received show what those who have tried it think:

Edgar Cady, Owatonna, Minn., says:
About a year ago my wife became subject to severe suffering from rheumatism. Our friend was to the PAIN KILLER, which speedily relieved her.

I had been afflicted three years with neuralgia and violent spasms of the stomach. The doctors at Westminster Hospital gave up my case in despair. Hearing your PAIN KILLER, and it gave me immediate relief. I have regained my strength, and am now able to follow my usual occupation.

G. H. Walworth, Saco, Me., writes:
I experienced immediate relief from pain in my side by the use of your PAIN KILLER.

E. York says:
I have used your PAIN KILLER for rheumatism, and have received great benefit.

Barton Seaman says:
Have used PAIN KILLER for thirty years, and have found it a never-failing remedy for rheumatism and lameness.

Mr. Burditt writes:
It never fails to give relief in cases of rheumatism.

Phil. Gilbert, Somerset, Pa., writes:
From actual use, I know your PAIN KILLER is the best medicine I ever got.

All druggists keep PAIN KILLER. Its price is so low that it is within the reach of all, and it will save many times its cost in doctors' bills. 25c., 50c. and $1.00 a bottle.

"The Art Amateur." Subscribers to art periodicals are naturally desirous of selecting the best. Each has its merits, but the Art Amateur is of the highest practical value to students and amateurs. Its large size enables the publisher to give not only pictures, but an abundance of working drawings, which, with the simple directions which accompany them, are easily applied. In the current (December) number, for instance, there are no less than fourteen pages of practical designs for china painting, wood carving, art needlework, painting on silk, "etching" on linen, etc., etc. The price of the Art Amateur is thirty-five cents monthly, or $4 a year. Club rates: Two subscriptions, $7; three subscriptions, $10; four subscriptions, $12. Each additional subscription, $3. Montague Marks, publisher, No. 23 Union square, New York city.

"Songs of Seven," by Jean Ingelow. Boston; Roberts Brothers.

A new and exceedingly beautiful edition of this favorite poem. It has thirty-four illustrations drawn and engraved expressely for this work, which is printed upon superfine toned paper. The artists have been fortunate in their conception of the author's ideas; indeed, the whole design of the work is in keeping with the character of the poem. As a gift book for the approaching holidays, it will be appreciated alike by donor and recipient. Price $2.00. Mr. Myers has it.

Unavailing were the efforts of Mr. W. M. F. Quinlan, superintendent of Glass Works, Crystal City, Mo., to cure himself of a most troublesome sore on his knee. One weeks' faithful use of St. Jacobs Oil cured him completely, much to his great comfort.

A Word to Mothers.

Mothers should remember it is a most important duty at this season to look after the health of their families and cleanse the malaria and impurities from their systems, and that nothing will tone up the stomach and liver, regulate the bowels and purify the blood so perfectly as Parker's Ginger Tonic, advertised in our columns.—Post: see other columns.

The mail carrier from Bow Lake, Strafford, to Barrington, struck on the 22d of November, and no mails passed between the places named during the rest of the month. This is one of the "star routes," and it is said that Col. A. A. Brown of Washington is the contractor for this and many other routes, which he sub-lets, one Hiram Littlefield of Newburyport being the sub-contractor on the Bow Lake route.

Indulgent parents who allow their children to eat heartily of high-seasoned food, rich pies, cake, &c., will have to use Hop Bitters to prevent indigestion, sleepless nights, sickness, pain, and perhaps, death. No family is safe without them in the house.

Amasa Ward of Erroll discovered a bear track in Dixville a few days ago, and after following it for a time, sold out to Llewllyn Pierre for twenty-five cents. Pierre followed it further, and finally came up with a bear of about 400 pounds weight, and killed it, thereby making a profitable trade, as with the bounty the bear was worth about $50.

Ash-Tonic;

A perfected purifyer of the system. In 1-2lb. bottles; 75 cents. For dyspepsia, the many forms of liver complaint, impure and impoverished blood, and functional derangements attendant upon debility. For symptoms indicated by indigestion, loss of appetite, nausea, sick headache, sour stomach, furred tongue, drowsiness, blanched lips, sallow complexion, pain in the side or back, eruptions, depression of spirits, nervous irritability and hysteria, and for building up the system, ash-tonic is unquestionably the most prompt and energetic remedy yet devised.

A few days ago Peter Merrill, employed at Clement & Co.'s mill at Gorham, was struck by a slab thrown from a circular saw, sustaining fractures of the skull above the right eye, and the right nasal bone. His physicians are of the opinion that his injuries will result fatally.

Rescued from Death.

William J. Coughlin, of Somerville, Mass., says: "In the fall of 1876 I was taken with a violent bleeding of the lungs followed by a severe cough. I soon began to lose my appetite and flesh. I was so weak at one time that I could not leave my bed. In the summer of 1877 I was admitted to the city hospital. While there the doctors said I had a hole in my left lung as big as a half a dollar. I was so far gone at one time a report went around that I was dead. I gave up hope, but a friend told me of Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs. I laughed at my friends, thinking that my case was incurable, but I got a bottle to satisfy them, when to my surprise and gratification, I commenced to feel better. My hope, once dead, began to revive, and to-day I feel in better spirits than I have the past three years.

I write this hoping you will publish it, so that every one afflicted with diseased lungs, will be induced to take Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs, and be convinced that consumption can be cured. I have taken two bottles and can positively say that it has done more good than all the other medicines I have taken since my sickness." Sold by all druggists.

John Pease, of Gilmanton, has killed 110 crows with a rifle since the legislature passed the recent crow bill.

During the past five years I have suffered from catarrh and have used without relief remedies prescribed by various physicians. I was advised to try Ely's Cream Balm; am using it with beneficial results, and feel confident I shall be completely cured of a disease that has seriously affected not only my nostrils but also my eyes and hearing. W. A. Brintzinghoffer, Jr., Wholesale Tobacconist, Newark, N. J., May 29, 1879.

Ely's Cream Balm for the cure of catarrh is having large sales with me. I think it the best article I have sold for the treatment of these diseases, and take great pleasure in recommending it to my patrons, as I am hearing the most favorable reports of its beneficial effects. "Pro Bono Publico."

It is a very remarkable fact, that while thousands of people refuse to read paid puffs of worthless nostrums, none skip over Dr. Swayne's little squib about his Ointment for itching piles that itch so much at night. The people well know that it is published for their benefit, in other words, is pro bono publico. May its far reaching effects be perpetuated to the end of time.

The New England Hospital Fair.

We take pleasure in giving to our liberal-minded readers this item from the Boston Journal regarding one of the most deserving charities in New England:

One of the many excellent institutions of Boston, calculated to alleviate pain and distress and provide a comfortable temporary home for people of moderate means in the hour of sickness, is the New England Hospital for Women and Children. It is pleasantly situated on Codman avenue, in the Highland District, and although its quarters are too circumscribed, its work is an excellent one, and not by any means insignificant. While the institution is not purely and simply "charitable," it depends largely, almost wholly, upon the generosity of the public for its support, inasmuch as the charge for nearly all patients is merely nominal. By the sale of useful and fancy articles, which will begin in Horticultural Hall on Monday evening, December 5th, and continue one week, it is hoped to add necessary funds to the treasury for the prosecution of the good work. The institution is under the patronage of many of Boston's most benevolent and philanthropic ladies and gentlemen, who are using their best endeavors to make the approaching sale a pecuniary success. A neat and newsy little paper will be issued on the 5th, 7th and 9th of December in the interests of the hospital, edited by Mrs. Ednah D. Cheney and Dr. M. E. Zakrzewska.

News and Notes.

At Leominister, Mass., Nov. 30th, Arthur H. Walker and his son Irving, eleven years old, were drowned in Stratton's mill pond. The boy and his brother broke through the ice, and in trying to rescue them the father was drowned.

Charles A. Cole has been missing since Nov. 25th from West Gardiner, Me., and it is feared he has committed suicide. He was recently released from the insane asylum where he had been confined for some time, and returned to his home.

If the Pacific bank of Boston is enabled to continue business it must be at the sacrifice of the present capital of $1,000,000, and by the raising of $1,500,000 more.

Langdon W. Moore, the noted bank robber, who is serving out a six years' sentence in the Massachusetts state prison, has received seven years additional, all growing out of the attempted robbery of the Warren Institution for Savings.

The lighthouse on Calf rock, on the coast of Ireland, has been swept away.

The Boston Post says: "The Mutual Union Telegraph company has been given formal permission, through its president, Mr. John O. Evans, to lay its cables in Chicago, the conditions being definitely stated. This company will institute the reform of putting its wires under ground in cities, and this is something which should be legally required of all telegraph and telephone companies. The great cities present altogether too much of the spider web appearance, and for greater convenience and safety the change cannot be insisted upon any too soon."

Harry Tarbox, a Portland, Me., newspaper carrier, was terribly bitten by a dog on Sunday, Nov. 27th.

Two negroes, named Jordan and Craig, were hung near Sheppardstown, Miss., by a mob, Nov. 30th, for the murder of Robert Catlin, and the attempted murder of his wife, Nov. 17th. They confessed the crime.

Mrs. Belle Spaulding of Galesburg, Ill., having been acquitted of the murder of her husband, celebrated her escape by giving a banquet to the jury. Eight of them accepted the invitation. The other four did not, as they had received tickets to a minstrel show that night.

Additional cases of green-tea poisoning are reported from Brunswick and Lewiston, Me. The tea was sold by a traveling peddler.

Peter Gagin of Lewiston, Me., stole $1.25 in pennies that his little boy had saved, and tied up in a stocking. Gagin got drunk, was arrested, and has escaped from the police station.

Ruth F. Murray, of Marshfield, Mass., a married woman with one child, hung herself to the door-knob of her bedroom on the night of Nov. 29th.

The public debt was reduced between $7,000,000 and $8,000,000 in November.

Mrs. Bayard Taylor is having a monument erected at Longwood, Penn., to the memory of her husband. It is in shape of a circular Greek altar, and bears on the top a lamp with a flame; on the round is a bronze bas-relief portrait.

One of the most famous of Washington characters is Mrs. Belva Lockwood, the female lawyer. She is said to have a very remunerative practice. One of her eccentricities is her utter contempt for the usual methods of locomotion, and she may be seen almost any day riding through the streets on a tricycle.

A man named Danford, proprietor of a bank at Caldwell, Kansas, and of another at Hunnewell, having recently suspended payment at both banks under circumstances indicating fraud, was seized by a crowd of his creditors, and threatened with lynching unless he disgorged. It was reported from Caldwell on the evening of Nov. 30th that the men who had Danford in custody announced their intention to dispose of him before morning, unless their claims were satisfied with hard cash.

A real prince is seldom seen in the felon's dock, or heard of as compulsorily residing in a house of correction. To this complexion, however, has come a prince of undoubted genuineness, tried in Berlin a few days ago for obtaining goods under false pretenses, and sentenced to two years' penal servitude in a Prussian jail. Prince George Edstaff, a chamberlain of the imperial Russian court, and the son of an officer holding high command in the Caucasus, is the one in question. Under false pretences he obtained $1,600 worth of diamonds from a Berlin jeweller, and disposed of them for $700.

Commodore Easby, chief of the bureau of construction and repair, in his report shows the year's expenditures for labor, etc., to have been $1,300,730; for material, $313,689; balance on hand, $110,580. Seventy-four vessels have been repaired during the year. On register, exclusive of tugs, are 115 vessels, thirty-nine in commission, twenty-seven repairing, and twenty-seven unfit for repairs or completion. These last, while unfit for service, must yet be taken care of by watchmen, etc., at a cost of $2500 annually.

Gov. Plaisted Not Sustained.

The opinion of the justices of the supreme judicial court of Maine, upon the question submitted to them by the executive council in March last, whether the governor has the power of removal without the concurrence of the council, as claimed by him in regard to the case of the reporter of decisions, was read at the meeting of the governor and council on Wednesday, Nov. 30th. There were three papers drawn up. The first paper was signed by Chief Justice Appleton and Justices Peters and Barrows, who after an exhaustive argument stated their conclusions as follows: First, that the reporter does not hold his office at the will and pleasure of the governor alone, and is not removable by him; second, that he is removable only by the governor, by and with consent of the council. The remaining justices concurred in the opinion above given, but differed somewhat in regard to minor points. On the main question the justices were unanimous in their opinion, which sustains the position maintained by the executive council, and leaves Gov. Plaisted without authority for his attempted removal of the reporter.

The schooner Lizzie D., of Gloucester, arrived at Commercial wharf on Wednesday evening, Nov. 30th, with 4000 lbs. of haddock, but remained only a short time. She was offered $1.75 per hundred pounds for her fish, but refused to sell at that price, and sailed for Boston.

The schooner Northern Star came in on Thursday with 6500 lbs. of cod and haddock.

The schooner Grace Choate arrived on Thursday evening with 5500 lbs. of fish. Three of the crew, Fred Burke, Willie Hennessey and John Johnson, were hauling their trawls when the lines parted, and the weather being thick, with a strong wind blowing, they lost sight of their vessel and were not picked up until late in the afternoon. It was a narrow escape from being lost, as the wind blew very heavily a few hours after the men were found.

Some of the vessels that are fishing with trawls, take grappling irons with them to rake up the nets that are set over their lines.

Wm. Furbish of York has a weir in Long cove on York river, for catching smelts, but up to the present time only small lots have been taken.

Schooner Daniel C. Baker came off the railway at Kittery on Thursday, and the water Lily went on to have her bottom recaulked. The floating stage belonging to the Mystic then goes on, to be followed by the tug Naumkeag, which is also to be recaulked. The Naumkeag has been at Portland to have a new propeller fitted.

Mr. Daniel Parker Spinney, of Eliot, has this season ground up about 2500 bushels of apples, and made 300 barrels of cider.

The steamer James Sampson has removed her landing-stage from the Kittery Point bridge, and placed it in Gerrish's dock for the winter.

The Belgian steamship Rhynland, from New York for Antwerp, went ashore on the Schooneveld, near the mouth of the Scheldt, Nov. 30th. Charles Grant of Kittery is the first officer of this steamer.

Mr. Horace McIntire, the noted hunter of York, has not had much time to pursue his favorite sport this fall, having been engaged on the Bass Cove road, for the building of a portion of which he had a contract, the soil, a hard clay, proving much more difficult to work than had been anticipated. However, he has managed to get out several times, and has killed seven minks and a number of foxes, three of the latter in one day. Mr. McIntire's father, who is over eighty years old, was out with him four days on his gunning excursions, and stoutly maintained that he could shoot just as well as his son if he only had as good a gun. To prove his assertion, the old gentleman went out alone one day this week, and killed two foxes. These animals are more numerous in this vicinity this fall than at any time for many years previous.

MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

In Board of Mayor and Aldermen, regular meeting, Thursday evening, Dec. 1st, Mayor Sise in the chair:

The records of last meeting were read and approved.

A communication was received from Commander Smith, of Storer Post, G. A. R., inviting the members of the board to a campfire at Grand Army hall on the evening of Dec. 7th.

Resignation of Willard Sears as assistant engineer of the fire department was received and accepted. Chief engineer recommended the appointment of George P. Philbrick, and he was unamimously elected.

Concerning the communication of B. F. & C. E. Russell regarding what should be considered a "barrel" of kerosene, report was made that while the statute provides for the inspection of petroleum and its products, the size of a "barrel" is not specified. Report accepted. It was stated that what are called barrels of kerosene vary in capacity, holding all the way from forty gallons to fifty.

The mayor said it was necessary that something should be done this winter in regard to the north millpond, but no definite conclusion had yet been arrived at.

Proceeded to ballot for a police officer to fill the vacancy made by the resignation of Mr. Nowell. On the fourth ballot Albert W. Parsons received six votes; but he being a member of the city councils, the mayor read the statute bearing on the matter, and expressed the opinion that Mr. Parsons is not eligible.

Ald. Martin moved to refer the question to the solicitor, for his opinion; not seconded.

Ald. Green moved to adjourn; lost by a tie vote.

Balloted again—no choice.

Adjourned for one week.

CIRCUIT COURT OF THE UNITED STATES.

In case of Huntress vs. Town of Epsom, the evidence was concluded on Wednesday afternoon, sixty-one witnesses having been examined. The case was argued on Thursday by Hon. Wm. L. On motion of Hon. Wm. L. Foster, John M. Mitchell, Esq., of Concord, was admitted to practice in this court.

MRS. ELEANOR GROVER.

Mrs. Eleanor Grover died at her home in York, Nov. 29th, after a few days illness, at the advanced age of nearly ninety-eight years.

She was the oldest person in York, and was the widow of Andrew Grover, who died about forty years ago. Her father was Jonathan Sargent, who served three years as a soldier in the revolutionary war. She was a devoted Christian, and for very many years a member of the First Christian church of York, to which she belonged at the time of her death. Always ready to render aid in case of sickness or trouble, she was loved and respected by a wide circle of friends, and her birthday anniversaries have for a long time been observed by large gatherings of people at her humble home at Beech Ridge. She leaves two daughters—Mrs. Rhoda Main, widow of John Main of York, and Mrs. Plumer Spinney of this city.

Her funeral will take place from the Christian Baptist church at Beech Ridge this afternoon at two o'clock.

POLICE COURT.

GOOD TEMPLARS' SOCIABLE.

The entertainment and oyster supper given by Strawberry Bank Lodge, No. 54, I. O. G. T., on Wednesday evening of this week, was attended by a large and select company. The entertainment consisted of singing by Miss Locke of this city, and Mrs. Lizzie Tilton of Kittery, Me., Miss Fannie Tilton of this city presiding at the organ; then followed a recitation by Master Percy O. Smart, entitled, "The top of my little head;" a recitation by Miss Sadie Paul, entitled, "Huldah, the fisher's wife;" a recitation by Mrs. L. C. Folsom, entitled, "Found dead;" singing by Miss Locke and Mrs. Tilton; a reading by Miss Cobb, entitled, "The wine cup;" and a recitation by Miss Fannie Deverson, entitled, "The slave mother's sale," rendered in excellent style. A few remarks were then made by Rev. Mr. Eaton, P. G. W. C. T. of Rhode Island, Rev. John A. Goss, P. W. C. T. of this lodge, and Mr. Frank E. H. Marden, W. C. T. of the lodge. The oyster supper was gotten up in excellent style, and was eaten with a relish by all who participated. Another entertainment is to be given by this lodge in about three weeks, at which time several dialogues, recitations, readings and musical selections will be given. Full particulars will be previously announced through the columns of this paper.

Robins were heard singing near Market square on Thursday morning, December 1st.

The "broom drill" and musical and dramatic entertainment in the Universalist vestry will be repeated this evening.

You can have your boots and shoes well and cheaply repaired by carrying them to J. W. Young's, No. 12 Hanover street.

Lots of old railroad sleepers were floating around in the north millpond on Thursday, having been carried off from the south side of the pond, where they had been placed to help fill in.

Mr. Benjamin Woodsum, a former well-known caulker of this city, died in Haverhill, Mass., Dec. 1st. He was a member of the masonic and odd fellows orders.

The Donaldi-Carreno company will give a grand operatic concert at Music hall on Monday evening, Dec. 12th; and on Wednesday evening, the 14th, the play of Deacon Crankett will be given, under the management of J. M. Hill, manager of Joshua Whitcomb.

The funeral of Capt. Samuel Langdon took place last Thursday afternoon at his late residence on Lafayette road, and he was laid to rest in the family cemetery on the old place. Many of the old farmers attended the funeral, in spite of the unfavorable weather, among them being Charles Hayes, Daniel H. Spinney, Andrew Sherburne, Charles A. Hodgdon, Mr. Frink of Newington, and others.

William H. Whitenect, well known in this city as a theatrical advance agent for many years, dropped dead in a hotel in Auburn, N. Y., on the afternoon of Nov. 29th.

A democrat of Newmarket, who it is said is willing to become a stalwart republican if he can thereby obtain the postmastership of that town, has been trying to get assistance from the custom house officials in this city, but has not succeeded well thus far.

Mr. George H. Randall, an Eastern railroad firemen, was slightly injured Thursday morning by being struck by the draw frame on Portsmouth bridge, while at work on his engine, which was drawing the Conway train into this city. A fire was discovered on some of the woodwork about the forward part of the engine and Randall was going forward with a bucket of water to extinguish the flames. He got upon the top of the cab just in time to be struck square in the face by the timbers of the draw. The blow was sufficient to knock him down and partially stun him, and when he came to himself he was lying on his back on the top of the cab. If the train had been moving very rapidly at the time of the accident, the man would certainly have been killed.—Times.

"Little Corinne," the child actress, who has appeared on the Music hall stage in this city a number of times, was in court in New York a day or two ago, on a petition of the New York Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children that a suitable guardian might be appointed for the child. Pending further hearing the child was placed in custody of the society, but disappeared before the society's office was reached. Mrs. Flaherty, the child's mother, was arrested and put in the Tombs, and a warrant was issued for Mr. Flaherty, but he skipped to Boston before it could be served.

The Eastern railroad management evidently desire to secure the public good will by giving the public good service. In order to make sure that the mail from the eastward shall connect with the evening mail west out of Boston, an order has been issued that if from any cause the train which leaves Bangor at seven o'clock in the morning, and which is due in Boston at about four o'clock in the afternoon, gets delayed, the nearest spare engine shall be called into requisition, and the mail car detached from the train and run express to Boston at full speed, so as to save the mail connections.

Mr. Harrison Remick of Kittery, an old ship carpenter who in years past worked in every shipyard on the Piscataqua, has a farm of forty acres, about equally divided between tillage and pasturage. During the recent season Mr. Remick harvested twenty tons of hay, two hundred bushels of apples and twenty bushels of pears; fifty bushels corn in the ear—crop light; eight bushels of quinces—some years has raised fourteen bushels; and forty bushels of barley, from three bushels of seed sowed on two acres of ground.

The night watchman of the Eastern railroad in Salem, the engineer of the shifting engine, and one of the gang of night shifters, have been suspended, pending an examination into the recent accident in the tunnel, by which young Beckford was killed.

Chief Engineers Edward D. Robie and Charles H. Baker, ordered from duty at the Boston navy yard to hold a survey on the machinery of the steamer Omaha, now hauled out at this navy yard for repairs, arrived here on Thursday. On the completion of this special duty they return to the Boston yard.

THE

NEW YORK TIMES.

Established 1851.

The Times invites support as a newspaper whose fidelity to Republican principles does not preclude unsparing criticism of party management, and which regards all political action simply as a means to the end of stable, honest, and capable government. Its easy preeminence in the field of comprehensive and trustworthy political reports has been conclusively shown during the recent election contests in this and other States. Its well-earned fame as a censor of public abuses and the dreaded foe of all plunderers of the people, has been fully sustained during the year now coming to a close. The constituency of The Times expands as rapidly as does the influence of the principles with which it is identified, and both are founded only by the limits in the spread of intelligence and the acceptance of a high standard of public conscience.

The Times will, as in the past, be distinguished as an enterprising, accurate, and carefully edited newspaper. The acknowledged excellence and fulness of its correspondence, by mail and telegraph, from all parts of the world will be adequately maintained, and its facilities for collecting domestic and foreign news will be expanded to meet the increasing demand of our time.

In the sphere of literary and artistic criticism, of scientific, social, and general discussion, The Times will address itself, as heretofore, to the appreciation of the educated and intelligent classes of the American people.

It will be Lively without being Sensational,

Aggressive without being coarse;

at all times it will strive to be

FEARLESS AND INDEPENDENT IN THE CHAMPIONSHIP OF THE RIGHT.

No theories subversive of the principles on which the sacredness of family ties and the existence of society alike repose will be promulgated in its columns.

The Times rejects all advertisements of lotteries of quacks and medical pretenders, and of all other agencies by which the insidious poison of vice is disseminated throughout society. It will be in the future, as in the past,

A NEWSPAPER ESPECIALLY ADAPTED FOR FAMILY READING.

The Semi-Weekly Times is specially fitted to meet the requirements of those who seek more ample details of current news and fuller treatments of current discussion than are furnished in the weekly issue. The Semi-Weekly has a large circulation abroad and among the professional and mercantile classes, outside of the large cities, at home.

The Weekly Times, containing selected editorials on topics of national and general interest from the columns of the daily issue, as well as a concise summary of political, social, and foreign news, besides other features which recommend it to all classes of reader, is a paper admirably fitted to circulate in every portion of the United States. Its conductors will spare no effort, not only to maintain its well-earned supremacy, but to make its popularity still more decided.

ELYS' CREAM BALM
Having gained an enviable local reputation, displacing our old proprietary medicines, the rapidity of discovery, is on its merits alone, recognized as a wonderful remedy. A fair trial will convince the most skeptical of its curative powers. It effectually cleanses the nasal passages of Catarrhal virus, causing healthy secretions, allays inflammation and irritation, protects the membrane from additional colds, completely heals the sores and restores the sense of taste and smell. Beneficial results are realized by a few applications. A thorough treatment as directed will cure Catarrh. As a household remedy for cold in the head and snuffles it is unequalled. The Balm is easy to use and agreeable. Sold by all druggists at 50 cts. On receipt of 50 cts. will mail a package. Send for circular with full information.

J. S. JAMES.

"James T. Fields." Biographical notes and personal sketches, with unpublished fragments and tributes from men and women of letters. Boston: Houghton, Mifflin & Co.

These notes and sketches, which Mrs. Fields has prepared and presented to the friends of her departed husband, seem to have been judiciously arranged, with a view to give a clear and impartial account of the career of the poet publisher, from the time he saw light at the south end of our old seaport in 1816, to his lamented death in Boston in April last. The book contains many letters, of which a man of Mr. Fields' peculiarly happy disposition was the constant recipient. There are a few cheery notes from Starr King, after he had left Boston for the Golden Gate, as well as from many celebrated personages in this country and England with whom Mr. Fields enjoyed a social intimacy of which we get a glimpse in his "Yesterdays with Authors." Every one who knew Mr. Fields will be able not only to appreciate but to keenly enjoy these "notes," and we of "New Hampshire's only seaport" especially are gratified at the publication of so much interesting material concering our quondam townsman of which the world could not afford to be deprived. The work can be had at Myers' bookstore.

A poetical epistle to "Geo. Washington, Esq., Commander-in-Chief, &c.," by Rev. Chas. H. Wharton, D. D., has recently been printed from the original manuscript owned by David Pulsifer, A. M., of Boston, with an appendix containing many interesting papers, for Mr. Pulsifer, and is sent us by A. Williams & Co., of the Corner Bookstore in Boston. The poet was in 1778 a chaplain to the Catholics of Worcester, Eng., where he wrote the poetical epistle to Gen. Washington, which was printed for the benefit of American prisoners of war. In 1782 the author left the Romish church and was ordained rector of St. Mary's Episcopal church in Burlington, N. J., and died in 1833, in his 86th year. The author deprecates and promises to avoid the servile style of the Poet Laureate of England, and his flattery, and at once proceeds to pile the praise upon G. W. as if he was the perfection of human kind. The accompanying papers are of historic interest, the whole making a pamphlet of a hundred pages.

Senator Anthony of Rhode Island sent every member of the United States senate, as well as every living ex-member of that body, a Thanksgiving turkey.

Mr. A. Waldo Ring, principal of the Newmarket high school, on Thanksgiving eve took to wife Miss Beatrice C. Peaslee of Alna, Me.

The proof of the value of any article is its popular use and the testimony in its favor. The sale of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup is immense and the testimony voluminous.

A Woman's Experience.

Elegance and Purity.
Ladies who appreciate elegance and purity are using Parker's Hair Balsam. It is the best article sold for restoring gray hair to its original color, beauty and lustre.

Wendell Phillips was seventy years old on Nov. 29th, and the Worcester Spy says he still scolds like sixty.

WINTON, Forsyth Co., N. C.
Gents—I desire to express to you my thanks for your wonderful Hop Bitters. I was troubled with dyspepsia for five years previous to commencing the use of your Hop Bitters some six months ago; my cure has been wonderful. I am the pastor of the First Methodist church of this place, and my whole congregation join me in testifying to the great virtues of your bitters. Very respectfully,

Judge Not By Their Works.
A man is judged in this life by his works, and in this connection it may not be inopportune to add, that Dr. Swayne has accomplished more good through the medium of his Ointment for skin diseases, than has the school of physicians combined. "It's an ill wind that blows nobody good." What the physicians have lost Dr. Swayne has gained.

Rheumatism
Neuralgia, Sprains,
Pain in the Back and Side.
There is nothing more painful than these diseases, but it can be now removed and the disease cured by use of Perry Davis' Pain Killer.
This remedy is not a cheap Benzine or Petroleum product that must be kept away from fire or heat to avoid danger of explosion, nor is it an untried experiment that may do more harm than good.
Pain Killer has been in constant use for forty years, and the universal testimony from all parts of the world is, it never fails. It not only effects a permanent cure, but it relieves pain almost instantaneously. Being a purely vegetable remedy, it is safe in the hands of the most inexperienced.
The record of cures by the use of PAIN KILLER, would fill volumes. The following extracts from letters received show what those who have tried it think:
Edgar Cady, Owatonna, Minn., says:
About a year since my wife became subject to severe suffering from rheumatism. Our resort was to the PAIN KILLER, which speedily relieved her.
Charles Powell writes from the Sailors' Home, London:
I had been afflicted three years with neuralgia and violent spasms of the stomach. The doctors at Westminster Hospital gave me up as in despair. I tried your PAIN KILLER, and it gave me immediate relief. I have regained my strength, and am now able to follow my usual occupation.
G. H. Walworth, Saco, Me., writes:
I experienced immediate relief from pain in the side by the use of your PAIN KILLER.
E. York writes:
I have used your PAIN KILLER for rheumatism, and have received great benefit.
Barton Seaman says:
Have used PAIN KILLER, for thirty years, and have found it a very valuable remedy for rheumatism and lameness.
Mr. Burdiit writes:
It never fails to give relief in cases of rheumatism.
Phil. Gilbert, Somerset, Pa., writes:
Pretty actual use, I know your PAIN KILLER is the best medicine I can get.
All druggists keep PAIN KILLER. Its price is so low that it is within the reach of all, and it will save many times its cost in doctors' bills. 25c., 50c. and $1.00 a bottle.

The condition of George L. Wentworth, who was shot in the railroad station at Salmon Falls on Thanksgiving day by Edward E. Nowell, is reported as being quite favorable, and he may ultimately recover.

L. O. McCausland's farm buildings in Woodstock were burned Dec. 1st, with a horse and pig. The household goods were mostly saved. Loss $1800; insurance $1100.

Mrs. Drew, late of Dover, who has just removed to Massachusetts, is the only surviving lady who worked in No. 2 Cocheco mill at Dover the day it started up, over sixty years ago.

The store of Hon. John W. Morse of Bradford was robbed Wednesday night, Nov. 30th. The safe was opened, and $375 in cash, and perhaps more, was taken. Mr. Morse had a large and valuable collection of coins, a portion of which was stolen. It appears that by accident Mr. Morse left his keys on the top of the safe, which leads to the supposition that the robbery was committed by some person who was acquainted with the store, and who knew that the proprietor had left his keys in the building.

"Station" vs. "Depot."

The Pennsylvania railroad is making an effort to abolish the improper use of the word "depot." The word station is to be used on its lines henceforth, and even the great "Union depot" at Pittsburg is hereafter to be known as the "Union station." Richard Grant White is thus endorsed. The word depot means a place of storage of goods. Station is the correct word. Railroads may have their depots for freight, but not for passengers.

A Religious Discussion.

At Oil Trough, Ark., Henry Ladd, a leading citizen, had some difficulty with his wife, originating in a disagreement about a passage in the Bible. After a bitter altercation Ladd drew a pistol and shot his wife through the body. He then tried to kill himself, but was prevented by his neighbors, and jailed. Mrs. Ladd will die.

"Hector, a story," by Flora L. Shaw, author of "Castle Blair," is one of the books which will be eagerly sought by girls and boys, as in the short days of the winter we early "welcome peaceful evening in." It is a 16-mo. volume of three hundred and forty pages, with illustrations by W. J. Hennessey, and is to be found at W. G. Myers'; price $1.00.

—"This butter, Mr. Spicer," said the dealer, "carried off the prize at the farmers' fair," and Seth spat out a taste of the compound and remarked: "Unless the prize was a ship's anchor and chain cable. I should think the butter could have carried it off easily."

Fast and Loose.

Decay loosens the teeth. Sozodont removes the cause of their destruction, and they retain their place in the dental process. After a few applications, it will be noticed that the natural indentations in them, formerly filled with corroding tartar, present a spotless appearance and their enamelled surfaces glisten with becoming lustre. Thus beauty is heightened and health promoted.

Sarah Bernhardt's carriage was stoned in an Austrian city, a few nights ago, by an anti-Jewish mob.

"I sprained my ankle sometime ago, and suffered seriously from the pain and swelling;" writes Mr. George Stevens, Peabody, Mass., "as a last resort I used St. Jacobs Oil. Three applications cured me entirely."

Joseph Abbott, in state prison at Auburn, N. Y., to be hanged for murder next month, has written a touching letter to his aged father, who is confined for life in the penitentiary in Connecticut. The younger Abbott is not twenty years old, but is a hardened sinner and murderer.

A Baby Saved!

Since birth my baby had running sores all over his head, and the doctors said that he must die, for they could not heal them. I used everything I ever heard of, but it did no good. He got so bad that he would not nurse. My husband's sister told me to try Sulphur Bitters as she had great faith in them. I used a bottle and the sores commenced to heal. After using two bottles more, the sores all healed, and I consider my baby saved.—Mother, Concord, N. H.

The telegraph lines between Paris and Nancy, a distance of 200 miles, are being placed underground. The wires are inclosed in iron tubes, provided with manholes.

F. W. KINSMAN, Esq., — Dear Sir: With pleasure we order ten gross Adamson's Botanic Cough Balsam, showing conclusively that merit has won the day, and that your Balsam is taking the lead over the many bottles of trash that now flood the market.—From Smith, Doolittle & Smith, Druggists, Boston.

In Barnard, Vt., Thanksgiving day, Alexander Crowell shot a female catamount weighing 182 pounds, and measuring seven feet from her nose to the end of the tail.

In the Whole History of Medicine

No preparation has ever performed such marvellous cures, or maintained so wide a reputation, as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, which is recognized as the world's remedy for all diseases of the throat and lungs. Its long continued series of wonderful cures in all climates has made it universally known as a safe and reliable agent to employ. Against ordinary colds, which are the forerunners of more serious disorders, it acts speedily and surely, always relieving suffering, and often saving life. The protection it affords, by its timely use in throat and chest disorders, makes it an invaluable remedy to be kept always on hand in every home. No person can afford to be without it, and those who have once used it never will. From their knowledge of its composition and operation, physicians use the CHERRY PECTORAL extensively in their practice, and clergymen recommend it. It is absolutely certain in its healing effects, and will always cure where cures are possible.
For sale by all druggists.

Rev. Dr. Gage of Hartford, Conn., who recently captured an armed burglar, has been presented with a splendid revolver by the Colt Arms Co. of that city.

"Pro Bono Publico."

It is a very remarkable fact, that while thousands of people refuse to read paid puffs of worthless nostrums, none skip over Dr. Swayne's little squib about his Ointment for itching piles that itch so much at night. The people well know that it is published for their benefit, in other words, is pro bono publico. May its far reaching effects be perpetuated to the end of time.

News and Notes.

In the suit of P. Lorillard & Co., the great tobacconists, against Dohan, Carroll & Co., to have the latter restrained from using the "tin tag" mark on plug tobacco, claimed by Lorillard & Co. as their exclusive property under letters patent, the United States court has sustained the claim, and issued a permanent injunction against the defendants.

At New Orleans, Dec. 1st, Henry Meune, aged twenty-one years, shot Margaret Vassey, aged nineteen years, in the head, and then shot himself, fatally wounding both. Meune left a letter saying they had made up their minds to suicide, as the mother of the girl would not allow him to visit her.

No wonder the smallpox is epedemic at Holyoke, Mass. The other night the city physician went to the house of one of the victims, and found a wake in full progress. There were lots of people in the room, the body of a young woman who had died of the disease in its worst form lay upon the bed, and the deadly odors penetrated to every part of the house.

Rev. Thomas Baskerville, a prominent clergyman of Bloomington, Iowa, recently eloped with a servant girl who had been in his employment a few months. He had mortgaged his house and lot, and even took with him the largest part of the family bedding, leaving his wife and family entirely destitute.

Dr. Joseph A. Boggs was killed at Ironton, Ohio, on the night of Nov. 30th, by Jack Wagner and Bill Leck, who fired a gun loaded with buckshot and slugs at him. The motive was robbery. The murderers are under arrest.

Summoned before the supreme court in New York city on complaint of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, "Little Corinne" testified that when five years of age (she is nine years old now) she played Little Buttercup in Boston, and afterwards played in "Cinderella," "Olivette" and "The Mascot," singing three or four times in each play. She said she liked to act, was often encored, and once received a big ship and $15,000 as a present. She gave the money to her mother. She has her carriage and pupies, she said, and has received many presents of jewelry.

A marble tablet has been placed in the ladies' waiting room of the Baltimore & Potomac railroad station at Washington, to mark the spot where President Garfield was shot. The tablet is of American statuary marble, and consists of a sill resting upon two corbels, outside of which are two pilasters, representing the axe and fascee. Two draped flags form a canopy over the inscription, in gold letters: "James Abram Garfield, president of the United States, July 2, 1881." And the whole is surmounted by an eagle, with outstretched wings, holding in his talons a bundle of arrows and laurel leaves.

Edward Duffy, seventeen years old, got drunk at East Dorset, Vt., Thanksgiving day, and laid down in the bottom of a wagon, where he was found smothered to death.

Ella E. Hall, of Lynn, Mass., on the 28th ult. obtained a divorce from her husband, William H. Hall, on the ground of extreme cruelty. Mr. Hall has been connected with the Young Men's Christian Association of Lynn for many years, and was formerly its president.

Mrs. Maria Jones of East Boothbay, Me., accidentally knocked down a loaded gun while cleaning house recently. The gun went off, and Mrs. Jones was seriously wounded.

Rev. Charles E. Stowe, son of Harriet Beecher Stowe, has been installed as pastor of the First Congregational church in Saco.

The barque Moneta, from Trapani for Gloucester, Mass., with a cago of salt, was on the 1st inst. reported to be off Thacher's island in a sinking condition.

A young lady school teacher, in Little Compton, Mass., a few nights ago was partially aroused from her sleep, and thought she felt something soft and warm at the back of her neck; but thinking nothing particular of it, was just going to sleep again when she felt a scratching which aroused her womanly curiosity, and upon investigation it proved to be a mouse which had selected her hair for its nest. The last heard of the mouse it was going over the the headboard and the teacher over the footboard.

Marriage insurance associations, having spread from Pennsylvania westward through Ohio and Indiana, have now gained a foothold in Iowa, and the Iowa state officers are making preparations to take legal action looking to their suppression. In Indiana the "marriage dower" swindle appears likely to have a short run, as two of the "associations" have already failed, although the swindle has been acclimated in Indiana but a few months.

The schooner Edward E. Webster, of Gloucester, Soloman Jacobs master, is high line of the mackerel fleet, having landed 4500 barrels this season, and stocked $24,270 net, her gross stock being $26,570—the largest stock ever made in the mackerel fishery. Last year the same vessel led the New England fleet of mackerel catchers, her stock being $19,745, and her catch 3800 barrels.

Naval Affairs.

The orders of Boatswain James Haven to the Alaska, Pacific station, have been revoked, and Acting Boatswain W. L. Hill is ordered to that vessel.

Asst. Engr. Frick is detached from the Kearsarge, and placed on sick leave.

Comdr. C. L. Huntington is detached from the New York navy yard, and ordered to duty as inspector of ordnance at the Norfolk yard.

Comdr W. C. Wise is detached from duty as inspector of ordnance at the Norfolk navy yard, and placed on waiting orders.

The report of the chief of the bureau of yards and docks states that the yards at Portsmouth, Boston and New York have been managed as well as the inadequate appropriation would allow. At Boston much repairing is still necessary, the wharves and docks being in bad order. The report recommends the appointment of a board of officers to examine and report plans for the proper and permanent development of the navy yards.

CHANCE FOR YACHTSMEN.

The Boston Trade Journal, in an article on yacht and boat building, has the following to say in reference to a South Boston firm whose members formerly belonged here:

Following up the intention of giving publicity to this industry at City Point, the business conducted by Messrs. Hutchings & Pryor is deserving of the attention of those merchants who delight in aquatic pastimes. The above firm is well and favorably known to all yachtsmen, and our aim in this brief notice is to make known certain particulars in proof of its ability to construct every description of sailing craft for pleasure. Hutchings & Pryor have built many vessels possessing an enviable record for speed and safety, among which we may name the Viking, Neva, Ionia, Delphine, Myrtle, Comes and Wave-Crest. It may be remembered the yawl Golden Gate, built for Mr. Herbert Burrill to proceed to Australia in, was the work of this firm, and most nobly did the miniature vessel behave during the voyage, although, owing to the spoiling of the provisions, its crew ultimately returned without fully accomplishing the daring feat of reaching the antipodes. This boat was once capsized, owing to the exhaustion of the steersman while his companion was in the cabin, but righted immediately without harm. The much-boasted-of Scotch cutter Madge having secured a certain number of friends during her sojourn in these waters, Messrs. Hutchings & Pryor, who believe that Boston harbor now contains the much vaunted foreigner's match, have recently announced their willingness to construct a vessel to compete with her at a cost not exceeding $3500, upon plans of their own, for any gentleman public spirited enough to effectually settle all controversy by engaging in the project, upon the understanding that in the event of the craft not beating the Madge twice out of three races, or thrice out of five races, they will take the vessel back and refund the purchase money. This laudable spirit of enterprise is deserving of recognition, and we hope to find that some yachtsman will embrace the opportunity held out by the firm.

PER ORDER.

LETTER TO THE DOG-POISONER.

Within a few days two valuable setters have been poisoned by you in this city. It is hardly possible that such inoffensive and valuable dogs have incurred your displeasure in any way, nor that they were especially picked out as the objects of your vengeance. Being charitably disposed, I would rather believe that some miserable cur was intended; perhaps some snappish pug, or vicious bull-dog. Such dogs at times become the terror of a neighborhood, the bete noir of women and children; and you without doubt think it is a meritorious act to put them out of the way. Being afraid, however, of incurring the enmity of the owners of these dogs, who are perhaps ladies who never could be made to believe that their pets were offensive, you resort to poison, thinking thereby to get rid of the pest, and at the same time go undetected.

Here is where you make a mistake. Like a pistol in the hands of an inexperienced marksman, which always wounds or kills those not aimed at, poison, when directed at such ill-conditioned curs, seldom reaches them, but is almost invariably picked up by the best dogs. This may appear strange to you; were you a judge of the dog, no explanation would be necessary; but as you evidently are not a judge, I will explain.

The pug, bulldog, and in fact most of the dogs that become pampered pets, are not natural hunters; they will walk at the heels of their mistress or master for miles, and only leave that position to take an occasional snap at the calf of some person's leg. Being usually overfed, they would have no incentive to hunt, even if natural hunters; and if they occasionally found a piece of meat or bread, it would not tempt their appetite. Then again, being usually deficient in "nose," they would have much difficulty in finding a piece of meat, even if hungry and hunting for it; while the keen-scented setter or pointer, ever on the hunt for something, would while running down the street at full gallop instantly detect a piece of meat, and as instantly devour it. The best setter is the one with the best nose, or smelling power; and this explains why, among the setters, it is always the best that die from poison. As in the field the best dog finds the game first, so in the street the best dog finds poisoned meat first.

Now Mr. Dog-poisoner, will you continue your cruel work? I think not, after this explanation, for I do not take you to be a naturally vicious person. You simply dislike dogs; they are a nuisance to you, and these snappish ones are intolerable nuisances; you therefore spread the poison, under the mistaken notion that you will thereby consign them to the place where all bad dogs go. You already see how widely you have missed the mark, and I trust that in the future, when annoyed, you will resort to the authorities,—and they failing you, to the shot gun,—rather than to the unmanly method you have hitherto pursued.

CANIS.

The schooner Clytie, Capt. Laughton, was on Friday of this week lying at Piscataqua wharf, taking on board 1000 barrels of apples for Baltimore, shipped by C. Hiram Hayes. The schooner John Bracewell was at the same time lying at Portsmouth bridge, (having come down from Dover after discharging her last cargo of coal at that port for this season,) waiting to take the Clytie's berth, to load 2200 barrels of apples for the same shipper and for the same market.

Mr. Cyrus L. Brown has evaporated about three hundred cases of apples, and manufactured nearly four hundred barrels of cider, this season.

The schooner Fairfield, of 91.39 tons register, built at Southport, Conn., in 1837, extensively repaired in 1877, and recently owned at this port by Daniel Littlefield and others, has been sold to Samuel Bassett and others of Winterport, Me.

Capt. James E. Odell of Stratham, agent for Messrs. Sands, Furber & Co., of Boston, has purchased this season over 8,000 barrels of apples. The prices paid for the fruit were $3 a barrel for first quality, $2 for best windfalls, and $1.50 for No. 2s. J. J. Lane of Stratham leads this year in that town in raising apples, he having gathered over 600 barrels.

The schooner Celia, which recently went to Baltimore from this port, as was reported to be employed as a pilot boat, has been chartered until April next, for oystering at that place.

In the firing of the salutes at the navy yard on Thursday morning last, the concussion of the air was so heavy as to break several panes of window glass in the fish house of Randall & Caswell, on Philbrick's wharf.

The city treasurer having advertised for bids for city bonds to the amount of $8000, to bear interest at four per cent, and run not less than five nor more than ten years, has received an offer from Blake Brothers, bankers, of Boston, to take the whole, and pay a premium of $2.70 per $1000. This bid has been accepted.

Captain Zack Randall and Mr. Charles White, of Newcastle, bought pigs at the same time last spring, the animals then being of about the same weight, and both men were determined to have the fattest hog in the fall. The animals were killed on Thursday last, being then seven months old, Capt. Zack's weighing three hundred and sixty-one pounds, while Mr. White's weighed three hundred and twenty-nine pounds, the former winning by thirty-two pounds. Capt. Randall is much pleased at the result.

The schooner Ambrose arrived here on Friday evening from Boston, on her way to Eastport, Me., for a load of herring, having been chartered by George Herbert & Co. for that purpose.

It was reported on Friday that a small quantity of herring had recently been caught in the vicinity of the Shoals. The trawl fishermen only hoped the news was true. The fishing schooners Addie & Hattie, Grace Choate and Christie Campbell were lying at the wharves, waiting for the arrival of bait.

George Herbert & Co. on Friday bought 6000 lbs. of fish from the schooner Grace Choate; 1400 lbs. from L. Nelson, and 900 lbs. from George Ingerbredson.

The "sea robin" is a fish.

Mr. R. P. Delancey, of Hampton, was in Portsmouth on Friday buying outfits for the trawl-fishermen of that town. The fishing from Hampton is carried on in small boats, and Mr. Delancey not only goes fishing himself, but speculates in buying and selling the fares taken by the other fishermen. Some of the Hampton men have commenced using cod-nets; the largest catch by any one person in one night so far this season was made by J. C. Palmer, 500 lbs., the fish averaging twenty pounds each.

Mr. Charles C. Barrell raised this year on his farm at the foot of Beech ridge, York, sixty-one bushels of wheat, from five bushels of seed sowed on two and a half acres of land; from fifteen bushels of oats, sowed for fodder, he raised 300 bushels of grain; and he cut seventy tons of hay. Mr. Jere. McIntire of York harvested this fall 350 bushels of oats and barley.

Mr. E. C. Spinney of Kittery has commenced stripping the large lot of wood-land purchased by him from the Rice estate some time ago. The wood is nearly all hard, and he expects to take off 2000 cords of firewood, besides which there will be considerable lumber, the logs which are suitable being hauled to Mason's mill in this city to be sawed up. He will also cut between 500 and 600 cords of spruce wood, from a lot bought by him from Albert S. Wilson. Mr. Spinney has in his barns about one hundred tons of hay, stored this season.

Mr. Leonard C. Cook of Kittery raised on his old place on York river, in the town of York, this year, about fifty tons of meadow hay and forty tons of salt hay. On his farm at Castle hill, Kittery, where he resides, his crop of hay was small, but he raised 150 bushels of potatoes, 250 bushels of corn, and seventy bushels of barley, the latter being the product of about three acres of land. Mr. Cook has for some time been seriously ill, but is now much improved in health.

Services are held every Sunday afternoon in what is known as the Fernald school house in the north part of Kittery, at two o'clock. Sometimes meetings are holden on Wednesday. The principal speakers are Elder White, Elder Chamberlain and Mrs. Wood, of Portsmouth, and Elders John Lambert and Charles B. Weeks of Kittery.

The Old Man of the Mountain.

The attention of the Appalachian Club was recently called to the precarious condition of the famous profile in Franconia Notch, and A. E. Scott, of Boston, the club's "councilor of improvements," has made two visits to the mountain to inspect its condition. He says that the large fragment of rock which forms the upper part of the forehead has become separated from the cliff, and is now poised on the outer edge of the mass of rock upon which the forehead rests. This gap has been slowly widening for years. Some fifteen or twenty feet back is a huge crevice. This is filled with loose gravel and water, and the action of the frost the coming winter, it is feared, will so jar the upper forehead fragment, fifteen feet long and four or five feet in width and depth, that it will fall and perhaps injure, if not destroy the features below. In May, Mr. Scott thinks all the rock in front of the large crevice will also slice off. To prevent this, means must be provided to carry off the water and gravel from the rear crevice, and it is thought that the small fissure may be prevented from widening by means of iron clamps. The scheme seems the only practical one, and this will be but a temporary salvation of the face, in Mr. Scott's opinion.—Monitor.

—Chicago boasts of a woman who is the mother of twenty-two children. A pair of slippers must last her a mighty short time.

BRIGHTON CATTLE MARKET.

Country Hides 7 1-2c per lb.
Country Tallow 5c per lb.
Calf Skins 12 1-2c per lb.
Sheep and Lamb Skins 75c to $1 25 each.

The trade for western beef cattle has been very dull the week. Receipts cost 5c per cwt at west, and as the Boston markets have been fully supplied for the past few weeks with western dressed beef, drovers find it hard work to get an advance for live cattle. The quality of the offerings was not much different from those in market one week ago. A few of the extra beef cattle were held at 7 1-4 to 7 1-2c per lb live weight. Sales of the larger portion of cattle ranged from 5 to 6 3-4c per lb live weight.

Working Oxen in moderate demand; we note sales of 2 prs, girth 6 ft 5 to 6 in per pr live weight 2600 lbs at $200 the two pair; 1 pr, girth 7 ft 6 in, live weight 3400 lbs, $162; 1 pr, girth 6 ft 2 in, live weight 2100 lbs, $175; 1 pr, girth 7 ft, live weight 3100 lbs, $155; 1 pr, 7 ft 2 in, live weight 3300 lbs, $152; 1 pr, girth 6 ft 6 in, live weight 2600 lbs, $146; 1 pr, girth 6 ft 2 in live weight 2100 lbs, $92; 1 pr steers, girth 6 ft, live weight 2100 lbs, $70.

Store Cattle—Yearlings $10 to $14; two year olds $15 to $23; three year olds $24 to $45. Prices of small cattle depend much upon their value for beef. We quote sales of at $14 to $22 each; 6 three year olds at $36 60 per head; 4 two year old steers $102.

Milch Cows—Extra $55 to $75; ordinary $20 to $50; springers $18 to $60 per head. We quote sales of 1 springer $35; 13 springers at $13 to $35 each; 15 springers at $35 each; 2 new milch cows for $110; 1 springer $49; 1 do $32; 3 new milch cows at $60 each; 12 do at $50 to $55 each.

Sheep and Lambs—There were but a few western sheep and lambs brought into market this week, all owned by butchers and costing 5 1-2 to 6 3-4c per lb live weight. Those from Maine were consigned to butchers at a commission.

Swine—Store pigs 6 to 8c per lb live weight, or $1 to $5 50 per head. Fat Hogs—Prices at 6 1-2 to 7c per lb live weight.

Terrible Accident.

Domestic accidents are common to women and some of them are very serious. Mrs. Warner, of South Rondout, Ulster Co., N. Y., some weeks ago attempted to take from her child a pair of shears with which it was playing. A slight struggle ensued, in which the point of the shears entered Mrs. Warner's left eye, completely destroying the sight. Her family physician did what he could, but intensely painful inflammation arose, which, by sympathy, threatened the loss of the other eye. Total blindness to a woman having the care of a household is an irreparable calamity. In this great Mrs. Warner applied to that the well-known and skillful surgeon' Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N.Y., who removed the injured eye by a very successful operation, setting aside all danger of further harm to the sight of the other eye. But, owing to pain and mental distress, her system needed a tonic and restorative medicine. To do this work the doctor prescribed "Kennedy's Favorite Remedy," which sustained its reputation and laid a sure foundation of health.

Dr. Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" removes all impurities from the blood, regulates the Liver and Kidneys, Cures Constipation, and all diseases and weaknesses peculiar to females. It is for sale by all our druggists at One Dollar a bottle.

BITTERS

is the most elegant Revolver in the world, as well as the most perfect and beautiful in design and finish. It is made of the very best steel. The barrel and frame is Nickel Silver-plated, with Gold-plated Cylinder, Ivory Shell, and all the parts beautifully engraved and enameled, making a beautiful contrast of four different colors. The cut represents only two-thirds the actual size, and as it is impossible to show the beautiful contrast of Gold, Silver, Blue and Ivory, it conveys but a slight idea of this handsome weapon. It is short by lengthy in proportion. It has a fine IVORY HANDLE, ENAMELED AND ENGRAVED REVOLVER ever sold for less than $6.00, and is the most remarkable bargain we have ever offered in firearms. The Revolver cannot be made to do for you what we are offering it for, and it will be a long time before we shall be able to offer another such bargain. Without 1,000 only, when these are sold, we know we can not be had except at extra prices.

THE BLUE JACKET is as well known as any Revolver in the world, and the new Russian Model is the best and most popular form of the famous, enabling you to hold it firmly and steadily. It has a finely rifled barrel, insures slug-action holding the cylinder firmly in place, and uses the extra long cartridge. With the BLUE JACKET you can shoot a squirrel or partridge anywhere you want them. It's accurate to the smallest shot, and if you are not perfectly satisfied with it WE WILL REFUND THE MONEY EVERY TIME. We guarantee these Revolvers and have them manufactured for us by the best firm, and we wish to deal with every one once, and at the same time introduce our publication

THE HOUSEHOLD GUEST MAGAZINE. If you will send us $6.00 we will send the Revolver, and 25 CENTS EXTRA to help pay postage, we will mail the Magazine one year, and the REVOLVER FREE of all other charges. THE HOUSEHOLD GUEST MAGAZINE is a large 32 quarto page, with handsome Illustrated Engraved Cover, and is filled with choice Illustrations from all parts of the world, and the best stories by the best authors; Poetry, Anecdotes, Sketches, Illustrated Departments; useful information; Statistics; Answers to Correspondents; Household Notes; The Kitchen; Gardening; The Toilet Table; The Garden; Wit, Humor, etc. It is now in its fourth year, has a large circulation, and the price of subscription has always been $1.50.

J. S. JAMES.

Recollections of Auton House:" with Illustrations; by C. Auton. Boston; Houghton, Mifflin & Co.

This is called "a book for children," but here are a hundred pages of capital recital, enjoyable not only by lively boys and girls, but as well by the "old boys with hats and whiskers, and the old girls with frizettes and eye-glasses." It is full of funny reminiscences of boyhood's happy days, all true to life. The recollections will come up in every old boy's memory who was blest with a happy childhood, and was "proud of his father." The book throughout is filled with piquant reminders of youth, and we advise Pater familias to buy it, and spend his Christmas eve in its enjoyment, and he will be sure to become "a boy again" before he has read ten pages of these cheerful and fascinating recollections. For sale at Myers', Congress block.

The December "Wide Awake" is out, with a gay little operetta for the young folks, which they will welcome for their Christmas entertainments. It is entitled "Prince Puss-in-Boots," and all the performers represent cats, and are clad in bewitching furry costumes. The music, which is given entire, is by Louis C. Elson, the words by Mrs. Nina Gray Clarke. A more dainty and laugh-provoking entertainment could not well be desired. The number opens with an excellent short story, "Rob's Father," by Eleanor Putnam, with five spirited illustrations by Merrill, one of them a very fine full-page engraving. Another beautiful full-page engraving accompanies "The Baby's Escapade" by A. C. and A. T. "How Alice Spent Twenty-Five Dollars," by Jenny Burr, has a charming picture of "Alice," and is a good story for everybody. "Hilty's Last School" will be enjoyed by all those interested in the early days of Boston. The serials, "Polly Cologne," "Sharon" and "Having His Own Way" finish satisfactorily, and leave the reader wishing for three more as good stories. The pretty rhyme of "Wee Willie Winkle" is developed into a piquant ballad by Miss Wilkins, and has six beautiful full page drawings by Miss L. B. Humphrey. Another very enjoyable poem is "Griselda In Pound," by Margaret J. Preston. The readings for the C. Y. F. E. U. are well worth the attention of young folks everywhere; and it is to be hoped that thousands of our young people will join the Reading Union before the course for 1882 is completed. Wide Awake, permanently enlarged, is but $2.50 a year. Ella Farman, editor; D. Lothrop & Co., publishers, Boston, Mass.

A Cure for Pimples!

My face for the last few years was covered with pimples so bad, that I used to be ashamed to go anywhere. I took two bottles of Sulphur Bitters and the pimples disappeared. I use them every spring.—C. K. D., Fall River.

Mrs. Jennie Flaherty, nee Kimball, has been held in $10,000 bail to await the action of the grand jury in New York, on a charge of abducting Little Corinne from the custody of the court.

Judge Men By Their Works.

A man is judged in this life by his works, and in this connection it may not be inopportune to add, that Dr. Swayne has accomplished more good through the medium of his Ointment for skin diseases, than has the school of physicians combined. "It's an ill wind that blows nobody good." What the physicians have lost Dr. Swayne has gained.

Rheumatism

Neuralgia, Sprains,
Pain in the Back and Side.

There is nothing more painful than these diseases; but the pain can be removed and the disease cured by use of Perry Davis' Pain Killer.

This remedy is not a cheap Benzine or Petroleum product that must be kept away from fire or heat to avoid danger of explosion, nor is it an untried experiment that may do more harm than good.

Pain Killer has been in constant use for forty years, and the universal testimony from all parts of the world is, It never fails. It not only effects a permanent cure, but it relieves pain almost instantaneously. Being a purely vegetable remedy, it is safe in the hands of the most inexperienced.

The record of cures by the use of PAIN KILLER would fill volumes. The following extracts from letters received show what those who have tried it think:

Edgar Cady, Owatonna, Minn., says:
About a year since my wife became subject to severe suffering from rheumatism. By our request was to the PAIN KILLER, which speedily relieved her.

Charles Powell writes from the Sailors' Home, London:
I had been afflicted three years with neuralgia and violent spasms of the stomach. The doctors at Westminster Hospital gave up my case in despair. I tried your PAIN KILLER, and it gave me immediate relief. I have regained my strength, and am now able to follow my usual occupation.

G. H. Walworth, Saco, Me., writes:
I experienced immediate relief from pain in the side by the use of your PAIN KILLER.

E. York says:
I have used your PAIN KILLER for rheumatism, and have received great benefit.

Barton Seaman says:
Have used PAIN KILLER for thirty years, and have found it a never-failing remedy for rheumatism and lameness.

Mr. Burditt writes:
It never fails to give relief in cases of rheumatism.

Phil. Gilbert, Somerset, Pa., writes:
From actual use, I know your PAIN KILLER is the best medicine I can get.

All druggists keep PAIN KILLER. Its price is so low that it is within the reach of all, and it will save many times its cost in doctors' bills. 25c., 50c. and $1.00 a bottle.

Fabulous Wealth.

The International Submarine Diving company, whose vessel, the Mary D. Leech, has been quietly engaged in searching for the location of her Britannic majesty's brig De Brook, which foundered June 10, 1798, off Lewes, Del., has been rewarded with unmistakable evidences of the lost vessel. During the past eighty-three years no effort with the exception of that made by the British government in 1880, has been made to recover the fabulous treasure which is known to have been sunk. It has been abandoned as being irrevocably lost, because the depth of water is so great that all appliances heretofore invented for raising heavy bodies were useless.

The International company, which was organized in Philadelphia for no other purpose than to raise the abandoned treasure, is fitted up with all that ingenuity can devise. The most wonderful piece of mechanism on board is an immense diving-bell, in which a diver might live comfortably for a week. He has communication with the upper world by telephone wires. He is supplied with the means of making his own air, and for light in his exploration he is provided with a powerful electric flame, which, when in operation, reveals to him every outside object with vivid distinctness. At the side of the bell is a mechanical arm with machinery so perfect that in every movement it resembles the action of the human arm, even unto the picking up of a pin.

According to papers in the possession of Samuel S. McCracken, a pilot, whose grandfather was the only survivor, and who was engaged in plotting the vessel into the harbor, about $52,000,000 of specie and jewels went down with her. The money was taken by the De Brook from an intercepted Spanish fleet while on her way to Halifax, England, from a successful cruise on the Spanish Main. With the specie were two hundred prisoners. When the vessel foundered the prisoners were in irons on the lower decks, and were all lost. Captain James Drew, who commanded the vessel, and whose body was recovered two days afterward, lies buried in St. Peter's churchyard in Lewes. Two years after the wreck the British government sent two frigates to raise the De Brook, but without success.

Forty years ago, while McCracken was on a cruise, circulars were posted around Sussex county offering $60,000 for information that would lead to the discovery of the sunken vessel. It has been supposed up to the present that the hull had been swept away by the action of the tides. The International company, to keep its real object from view, had been since September working at another sunken vessel, near where the De Brook was supposed to have foundered.

McCracken, who is to receive a majority of whatever treasure is discovered, in an interview says that the De Brook lies in fifteen fathoms of water. The divers, in going down, found a long, irregular ridge, about fifteen feet high, eighteen feet wide and sixty feet long. On each side are piles of loose stone, supposed to be the ballast thrown from the frigates in the effort to raise the wreck in the year 1800. Rough water interfering with further operations, the company was compelled to postpone further investigation, and the divers returned to Philadelphia. The work, however, will be vigorously pushed forward as soon as favorable weather sets in.—Reading (Pa.) Times.

Rescued from Death.

William J. Coughlin, of Somerville, Mass., says: "In the fall of 1876 I was taken with a violent bleeding of the lungs followed by a severe cough. I soon began to lose my appetite and flesh. I was so weak at one time that I could not leave my bed. In the summer of 1877 I was admitted to the city hospital. While there the doctors said I had a hole in my left lung as big as a half a dollar. I was so far gone at one time a report went around that I was dead. I gave up hope, but a friend told me of Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs. I laughed at my friends, thinking that my case was incurable, but I got a bottle to satisfy them, when to my surprise and gratification, I commenced to feel better. My hope, once dead, began to revive, and to-day I feel in better spirits than I have the past three years.

I write this hoping you will publish it, so that every one afflicted with diseased lungs, will be induced to take Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs, and be convinced that consumption can be cured. I have taken two bottles and can positively say that it has done more good than all the other medicines I have taken since my sickness." Sold by all druggists.

—A bride is reported to have lately said: "I told all my friends to have my name put on my presents, so that if divorced, George would not be able to claim them."

Indulgent parents who allow their children to eat heartily of high-seasoned food, rich pies, cake, &c., will have to use Hop Bitters to prevent indigestion, sleepless nights, sickness, pain, and perhaps, death. No family is safe without them in the house.

—He knows enough who knows how to be silent.

Centaur Liniment.

Invaluable to families, and owners of horses. Sold everywhere.

—"However great my fall, my spirit is unbroken," remarked the overturned bicyclist, feeling in his coat-tail pocket.

Castoria.

For sour stomach, constipation, and fretfulness of children. Pleasant, safe and cheap. 900 drops; 35 doses, 35 cents.

—A husband telegraphed to his wife: "What have you for breakfast, and how is the baby?" The answer came: "Buckwheat cakes and the measles."

Ash-Tonic;

A perfected purifyer of the system In 1-2lb. bottles; 75 cents. For dyspepsia, the many forms of liver complaint, impure and impoverished blood, and functional derangements attendant upon debility. For symptons indicated by indigestion, loss of appetite, nausea, sick headache, sour stomach, furred tongue, drowsiness, blanched lips, sallow complexion, pain in the side or back, eruptions, depression of spirits, nervous irritability and hysteria, and for building up the system, ash-tonic is unquestionably the most prompt and energetic remedy yet devised.

—A finely-dressed lady slipped and fell, and the gentleman who assisted her to her feet inquired, "Did you break any bones, madam?" "No, I guess not," she replied, "but I am just as mad as if I had broken a dozen of 'em!"

A Word to Mothers.

Mothers should remember it is a most important duty at this season to look after the health of their families and cleanse the malaria and impurities from their systems, and that nothing will tone up the stomach and liver, regulate the bowels and purify the blood so perfectly as Parker's Ginger Tonic, advertised in our columns.—Post: see other columns.

—"You are now one," said the minister to the happy pair he had just joined together in a knot that they could never undo. 'Which one?" asked the bride. "You will have to settle that yourselves," said the clergyman.

Always Refreshing.

A delicious odor is imparted by Floreston Cologne, which is always refreshing, no matter how freely used.

—At a recent photographers' convention it was brought out that a woman's nose generally turns to the left and a man's to the right.

During the past five years I have suffered from catarrh and have used without relief remedies prescribed by various physicians. I was advised to try Ely's Cream Balm; am using it with beneficial results, and feel confident I shall be completely cured of a disease that has seriously affected not only my nostrils but also my eyes and hearing. W. A. Brintzinghoffer, Jr., Wholesale Tobacconist, Newark, N. J., May 29, 1879.

Ely's Cream Balm for the cure of catarrh is having large sales with me. I think it the best article I have sold for the treatment of these diseases, and take great pleasure in recommending it to my patrons, as I am hearing the most favorable reports of its beneficial effects. A. R. Ferguson, druggist, Lockport, N. Y.

—Give what you give from interest in men.

"Pro Bono Publico."

It is a very remarkable fact, that while thousands of people refuse to read paid puffs of worthless nostrums, none skip over Dr. Swayne's little squib about his Ointment for itching piles that itch so much at night. The people well know that it is published for their benefit, in other words, is pro bono publico. May its far reaching effects be perpetuated to the end of time.

The 47th Congress.

Congress meets to-day.

A caucus of the republican congressmen-elect was held in the hall of the house of representatives on Saturday afternoon, the full republican membership of 145 members responding to the roll-call. Robeson of New Jersey was made chairman and Mr. Miller of Pennsylvania secretary. A ballot was then taken for a candidate for speaker, with the following result:

Whole number of votes	146
Necessary for a choice	74
M. H. Dunnell of Minnesota had	4
Godlove S. Orth of Indiana	8
J. C. Burrows of Michigan	10
Thomas B. Reed of Maine	13
John A. Kasson of Iowa	15
Frank Hiscock of New York	44
James Warren Keifer of Ohio	52

And there was no choice. On the 7th ballot Reed's vote reached twenty, which was the highest number given him on any ballot. On the 16th ballot Keifer received ninety-three votes, and the nomination. Mr. McPherson was then nominated for clerk of the house, receiving ninety-two votes to forty-six for Rainey, the rest being scattering.

The democratic house caucus was held Saturday night in the capitol, ninety-five members-elect being present. Springer of Illinois was chosen chairman; and Ex-Speaker Samuel S. Randall, and all the other officers of the last Congress, were nominated for re-election.

A Bold Thief.

Railroad bonds valued at $117,000, belonging to Daniel H. Eels, were stolen from a table in the Commercial national bank of Cleveland, Ohio, at noon on Saturday, by "a quiet and mild mannered young man" who quietly came into the room and walked off with the plunder. The bonds are the personal property of Eels, who is president of the bank. Only two weeks ago the president of the Society of Savings at Cleveland had $15,000 taken from his desk in the same manner.

Secretary Hunt's Report.

The annual report of the secretary of the navy was given to the press on the 1st inst. Secretary Hunt at the outset devotes considerable space to the question of reorganizing and strengthening the navy, and on this subject says:

The condition of the navy imperatively demands the prompt and earnest attention of Congress. The mercantile interests of our country have extended themselves over all quarters of the globe. Our citizens engaged in commerce with foreign nations look to the navy for the supervisory protection of their persons and property. Calls are made upon the department to send vessels into different parts of the world in order to prevent threatened aggression upon the rights of American citizens, and to shield them in time of civil commotion in foreign lands from insult or personal indignity. It is to be deplored that in many such instances it has proved impossible to respond to these calls, from the want of a sufficient number of vessels. These things ought not to be. While the navy should not be large, it should at all times afford a nucleus for its enlargement upon emergency. It becomes the duty of Congress to see to it that the navy of the United States should not be left to perish through inanition but should be restored to such a condition of usefulness that it may, upon occasion, be so expanded as to become the ready means of protection at home, or of active aggressive warfare in the ports and waters of an enemy.

The secretary devotes considerable space to the consideration of the reports of the bureau officers of the navy, and generally approves the recommendations submitted by his subordinates.

Referring to the report of the naval advisory board, Secretary Hunt recommends the views of the majority of the board as entitled to the approbation of Congress. There is, he says, so slight a difference by a few members of the board as to justify the report being considered the unanimous judgment of the board.

Referring to the work of naval surveying, the secretary recommends that Congress appropriate the means necessary to carry out systematic surveys of parts of the West Indies, the Spanish Main, and the coasts of Mexico and Central America, as well as the examination of reported shoals and rocks in the Atlantic and Pacific oceans. Owing to the want of suitable vessels and pecuniary means, much desired work of this kind has been left undone.

The report states that the appropriations available for the current expenses of the fiscal year ended June 30th, 1881, were $16,020,301; the expenditures were $14,450,789. The estimated amount needed to defray the expenses of the department for the fiscal year ending June 30th, 1883, is $20,013,716.

News and Notes.

The barque Moneta, reported as in a sinking condition off Thacher's island on the 1st inst., touched on Cape Ann, but was towed off and taken into Gloucester, Mass., her original destination, on the 2d. She had a cargo of salt from Trapani.

The much decomposed body of a man who called himself John B. Pratt was found in Boston last Friday, in a store which he had hired a month previously. He had not been seen for some weeks, but nothing was thought of it, as the store had not been opened for business, and Pratt was a stranger.

The twin daughters of Mr. Robert Waters of Mattituck, near Flatbush, L. I., were married on Wednesday of last week by one ceremony. Miss Annie M. Waters was married to Frederick Weir of Bay Ridge, and Miss Phœbe Waters to Clarence Schenck of Flatbush. Among the guests were more than a dozen families whose Long Island ancestry begins in the early portion of the eighteenth century.

David Leavitt, twenty-five years old and unmarried, a confectionery merchant of Springfield, Mass., was found dead in the Agawam woods Dec. 2d, seated in a carriage, shot through the head, the pistol having evidently been fired by somebody sitting in the carriage. Leavitt is known to have driven away from town about ten o'clock Thursday night, the 1st inst., with considerable money and a watch, but neither was found on the body. Jos. Loomis, son of a respectable Southwick farmer, and a chum of Leavitt's, who is believed to have left the livery stable in the carriage with him, has been arrested at Westfield. Blood was found on the cravat which Loomis wore. Whoever did the deed drew the team into the woods and hitched the horse there, leaving the body sitting in the carriage. The horse broke away from the carriage, and went home early in the morning on Friday.

Adelina Patti, or Caux, or Nicolini, or whatever the great artiste's name may be, reappeared in Boston on Friday evening after an absence of nearly twenty years, and was enthusiastically received by a very large audience at Music hall. Nicolini was also well received.

John S. Green, who died recently at South Belchertown, Mass., had lived with his wife fifty-eight years, having been married at the age of seventeen, his bride being then fifteen years old.

At Jersey City, N. J., Dec. 2d, John Hilliard, president of the Merchants & Laborers' bank of that place, which suspended payments Nov. 2d, 1878, was sentenced to eighteen months in prison, for conspiracy to defraud. James Donnellen, the secretary, and Dr. Thomas O'Callahan, one of the directors of the bank, were fined $500 each, sentence of the other convicted directors being suspended. Hilliard broke down when his sentence was announced, and his wife fainted, but the swindled depositors applauded.

At Hampton, Conn., last week, a sixteen-years-old girl named Coburn was burned to death, through her clothes taking fire from a stove.

Rev. H. W. Worthen, pastor of the Methodist church in Northfield, Vt., some time ago accused of unworthy conduct, has been closely investigated by a committee consisting of eight clergymen, and unanimously acquitted on all the charges.

Loren Perkins, who lived formerly at Rutland, Vt., and has just served a five years' term in the Vermont state prison at Windsor, found on his release that his wife had become Mrs. Fisher of Fort Edward, N. Y. Perkins went to see her, and was pleasantly entertained by the family. He felt "broke up," but didn't make a row, and left his wife happy with her husband.

By a collision on the Norwich & Worcester division of the New York & New England railroad, Saturday afternoon, between a freight train and a passenger train, the freight conductor was cut in two, half of his body falling into a ditch and the other half remaining on the track; the engineer of the passenger train died in a short time, a baggagemaster was fatally hurt, and several other persons were injured.

Mid-Atlantic Refuge.

A Mr. Harding writes to the London Times: "Some years ago a vessel was presented by the late Captain Moody, R. N., as a sea refuge and telegraph ship to be used in the mid-Atlantic. The form of the vessel very much resembles the ace of clubs, with a fourth leaf instead of a stalk. Capt. Moody had a model of this vessel built forty-nine feet over all, which I purchased of his executors, and now use as a residence for water bailiffs to watch certain fisheries on the Norfolk coast, and it rode out the hurricane on the 14th inst. without shipping a drop of water, although all other vessels in the neighborhood either foundered or came ashore. The peculiarities of the vessel are that it rides more upright than a sharp-bottomed ship; and, being moored with four anchors and cables, one from between each ray, it is better adapted for a telegraph ship, as it does not swing with the tide or wind, and is therefore better able to carry a short, flexible cable from the main telegraph cable on the floor of the sea. Such a vessel as this, only larger, moored in the Atlantic 500 miles to the west of Ireland, and having telegraphic communication with the shore, would warn us of the approach of the cyclones which advance from the Atlantic."

—An editor wrote a head line, "A Horrible Blunder," to go over a railroad accident, but thought it was the printer's fault that it got over the account of a wedding.

CHANGES OF TIME.

The winter arrangement of the Eastern railroad went into effect Dec. 4th.

The principal changes in the train service from this city are that the train which has hitherto left for Boston at 11 o'clock in the forenoon will hereafter start five minutes earlier, at 10:55: the train (Bangor express) leaving for Boston at 3:10 P. M. will stop only at Greenland, Newburyport, Ipswich, Salem, Lynn, Chelsea and Somerville, and will arrive in Boston at 5:10, twenty minutes earlier than formerly; and a local train, leaving here at 3:15 P. M., five minutes after the express, will do the accommodation work between this city and Boston, arriving there at 5:30.

The train for Dover which has started at 3:05 o'clock P. M., now leaves at three—a change which Dover passengers would do well to remember unless they are willing to get left; and the forenoon train for Great Falls and Wolfeboro', leaves at 10:30 o'clock instead of ten.

From Boston, the 7:30 A. M. train (accommodation) runs only to this city; the morning train for Portland, leaving Boston at 8:30 A. M., stops only at Chelsea, Lynn, Salem, Ipswich, Newburyport and Greenland, and arrives here at 10:20, leaving at 10:30 for the eastward. There are also slight changes in the starting time of some of the trains from Portland, Great Falls and Dover, for this city, which changes have been duly noted in the railroad's advertisement in another column of this paper.

AN EFFICIENT OFFICER.

The commissioner of internal revenue has received the report of Revenue Agent Plummer, who has examined the condition of the officers of the collectors in Massachusetts and New Hampshire. Concerning Collector Charles C. Dame's office in Newburyport the agent says:

This office remains in its usual first-class condition. The collector continues his close personal scrutiny of the business of his office. He not only gives direction to the affairs of his district, but is himself the complete master of all details. The important branch office at Charlestown is in good hands. All the records are kept in a complete and business-like manner; nothing requisite to a first-class office is omitted or forgotten.

Mr. Dame is a son of the late Joseph Dame of this city, and a brother of Mrs. A. C. Fonda. He is a lawyer of ability, who gave up a large practice to assume the duties of collector of the Essex district, and has proved one of the most efficient and capable officers in New England.

Kearsage S. F. E. Co., No. 3, will give their eighth annual ball on Friday evening, Dec. 30th, in Franklin hall. The balls hitherto given by this popular fire company have all been well conducted and enjoyable, and the members propose this year to do even better than ever before.

Joseph C. Caverly of this city was taken into custody on Sunday to await the result of an enquiry into the cause of the death of a woman called Maggie Hill, who died at a house in Greenland on Saturday night under suspicious circumstances.

The Mutual Life Ins. Co. of New York recently paid to the representatives of Kidder R. Breese, late of the United States navy and once a resident of Portsmouth, five thousand dollars, the amount of Capt. Breese's policy, with $2241 in dividends or accumulations. None of the dividends on this policy had been used in payment of premiums. A policy in a company of the stability and character of the Mutual Life of New York will some times prove quite a generous source of aid to the family of a deceased naval officer, as well as to those of persons in civil life.

The steamer Clara Bateman on Sunday took to the Shoals a physician from this city, to attend a member of the family of Mr. Ingerbredson on Appledore island, reported dangerously ill.

Lieutenant Commander Charles J. Barclay, attached to this navy yard, arrived home on Saturday from Washington, where he had been to pass his examination for promotion to the rank of commander.

The Newmarket Advertiser last week put on a new dress of type. The press on which the paper was printed—and well printed—is an Adams press over fifty years old.

The fine whaleboat in which Mr. James Hooper, freight conductor on the Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway railroad, is accustomed to take his friends on weekly trips down river during the summer season, was hauled up and housed on Noble's island, Saturday.

There was considerable of an exodus from the Shoals hotels on Friday last, included in the list of departures being the following, most of whom are well known to summer visitors at the islands: William Randall, Judd Randall, Walter Haley, James Haley, Thomas Donovan, Clarence Caswell, K. Caswell, Levi Locke, John Jones, George Hayes, Edward Dudley, Nathaniel Coffin and William Berry. Most of them will engage in winter fishing from this port, and resume their old positions at the hotels next summer.

The railroad commissioners of Massachusetts on Friday last rendered a decision concerning the fatal accident in the tunnel on the previous Tuesday night, when young Beckford was killed through a shifting engine running into an extra train. The commissioners censure the night watchman at the end of the tunnel nearest the station, and the engineer and conductor of the shifting train, for carelessness; they also censure the management of the road for neglecting to establish rules providing against the operation of the road by guesswork at that point, and find that the accident would have been prevented by the exercise of common care and prudence. Three fatal accidents have occurred on the Eastern road at Salem within a few weeks, the first being caused by a collision in the tunnel due to a disarrangement of the telegraph wires by the falling of a limb from a tree, and the last occurring on Thursday evening last, when a young married woman was killed at a crossing.

Samuel Blaisdell, of Beech Ridge, York, has recently imported from Canada three sheep of extra fine stock—a buck and ewe of the Cotswold breed, and one Leicester ewe, raised by James S. Lightie of Elgin. Sheep are raised all along the frontier of Canada in flocks of twenty-five to forty, many of them being of choice varieties, and they find a ready sale in "the states." Mr. Lightie this fall received from Scotland an order for two heifers, which he duly forwarded across the Atlantic; the object of the Scotch farmers in procuring them was the same as that of American farmers in importing from Europe, to make a cross.

An entertainment consisting of instrumental and vocal music will be given at Oliver Hatch's residence in Kittery on Wednesday evening, the 7th inst., admission twenty cents, for the benefit of the Christian church at Beech ridge, York. Following the music, an old-fashioned New England harvest supper will be served free.

A New Kind of Bread.

Newspaper men, in their efforts to make straight, shady and easy the paths of domestic life, are met often with barriers and rebuffs. A writer of this class gave a recipe for making a new kind of bread. Two or three days afterward a small woman with a sharp face and sharper eye, and carrying something concealed under the shawl, came to that newspaper office and called for the writer of the recipe. She appeared anxious and eager, and subject to disquieting impulses. If a man had appeared under similar circumstances, every man in that office would have taken to his heels, and hid in the attic with the door locked until the man had disappeared, but as it was a woman, the writer, in company with his best bow and smile, obeyed the summons.

You are the man who wrote the recipe about the new bread?"

"Yes'm."

"And did you say that equal parts of rye meal and cracked corn were to be added to two quarts of pale ale?"

"Yes'm."

"And a cup of mucilage to give body?"

"Yes'm."

"And sweeten with a pint of thoroughwort tea?"

"Yes'm."

"And to bake five hours by the clock, and serve a la mode?"

"Yes'm."

"Well, that is what I came for—to serve—a la Modoc—take that," and from under her shawl came a loaf of bread, built upon the aforesaid plan, which descended upon the recipe man like a hod of brick from the fourth story. He will not be out for several days, and when he is, his nose will be crooked.—Providence Journal.

Premature Loss of the Hair

May be entirely prevented by the use of Burnett's Cocoaine. No other compound possesses the peculiar properties which so totally suit the various conditions of the human hair. It softens the hair when harsh and dry. It soothes the irritated scalp. It affords the richest lustre. It prevents the hair from falling off. It promotes its healthy, vigorous growth. It is not greasy nor sticky. It leaves no disagreeable odor. It kills dandruff.

Drawn by a Boston Horse-Car Driver.

A rumor was circulated last week that one of the Metropolitan horse-car drivers drew a prize of $15,000 in the Louisiana State Lottery, and in order to get the facts a reporter from our office set out on Saturday to find the lucky man. An inquiry at the station on Bartlett street confirmed the statement, and our reporter was directed to No 3 Thornton Place, off Thornton St., where he found Mr. John T. Garvin, who acknowledged that he was the fortunate individual. During a pleasant interview of half an hour, Mr. Garvin said that he was about fifty-three years old, and has been employed six years as driver on the Metropolitan horse railroad. His wife, who is about his own age, has been an invalid for the past five years, and his pay has been barely enough to give them a decent support. He had some difficulty in scraping money enough to get the lottery ticket, but he considers it the best investment he ever made. He held one-half of ticket No. 46,355, which won the first capital prize of $30,000 in the drawing that took place on the 8th of November. The $15,000 came to him a few days afterwards in silver coin certificates by the Adams Express Company. He has invested nearly the whole amount in government bonds, and has only kept enough ready cash to procure the necessary home comforts which his wife so much needed. Of course he feels happy over his good fortune, and considers it a perfect Godsend. It will make life easy for himself and wife during the remainder of their days. He had just arrived home from spending Thanksgiving with his friends in Lowell, and intends to resume work immediately. He has always been a hard-working man, of strictly temperate habits, and no doubt will make good use of his treasure. The affair has created quite an excitement in the Highland District, particularly among the railroad employees, with whom Mr. Garvin is highly popular. There has been a lively demand for tickets since, each purchaser hoping to be similarly rewarded with a prize.—From the Boston Commercial and Shipping List of November 30th.

A FIRST-CLASS FAMILY MAGAZINE

FOR ONLY $3.00 PER ANNUM.

LIPPINCOTT'S MAGAZINE,

An Illustrated Monthly of Popular Literature.

At the beginning of the present year Lippincott's Magazine entered on a new series at a reduced price, with the distinctive purpose of presenting such a variety of reading matter—for the most part light and entertaining, yet of real literary merit—as should commend it to the general mass of cultivated persons and ensure it a welcome in many American homes. Devoting a large proportion of its space to fiction, in which short serials are made a noticeable feature, and to sketches illustrative of social life and manners, it has included in its list of subjects curiosities of science, especially natural history, popularly treated, travel and adventure at home and abroad, field sports and angling, not to occasionally, political, historical, and educational topics susceptible of fresh and live discussion. The serial stories published during the year have been marked by a piquant originality, and have met with a warm reception; while the general attractiveness of the Magazine has gained for it cordial approval and an increased circulation.

The conductors of the Magazine hope not only to maintain its reputation, but to enhance and extend it by constant improvement in the same direction. Their arrangements for the coming year embrace a larger number than ever before of contributions of popular character.

A serial story entitled "Stephen Guthrie," in which some peculiar and striking phases of American life are vividly and dramatically treated, will begin in the January number and through six months.

The editorial departments will maintain their present standard of acknowledged excellence, and the illustrations will be of a higher character than any that have hitherto appeared in the Magazine.

"American Men of Letters; edited by Charles Dudley Warner; Washington Irving." Boston; Houghton, Mifflin & company.

This series of books will doubtless do a good service in giving to the readers of to-day, who are inclined to peruse the works of new authors, a proper idea of what in times past has been enjoyed in the publications of our men of letters, which to a great degree are now doubtless passed by, from the very fact that their standard character does not invite the careless reader as naturally as does the work of some writer whose book will never be read twice by the same person. It is nearly a hundred years since Irving was born, and upon whose infant head George Washington placed his hand and gave him his blessing. Fifty years ago, Irving's books were read and enjoyed with a keen zest, both in this country and England. Irving was one of the first Americans who made literature a profession, and essayed to live from its results. His first literary production consisted of a series of letters under the name of Jonathan Oldstyle, and published in the "Morning Chronicle" of 1802. He was admitted to the bar, but did not succeed either in law or politics, and literature became his field. The book before us gives interesting recitals as to his boyhood, manhood, and his visits to Europe, his characteristic works, and the last years of his life. It is a valuable contribution to the literature of today, because it will serve, we trust, to awaken a new interest in the works of one of our most famous as well as most interesting American authors. For sale by W. G. Myers.

Spontaneous Forests.

A writer in a West Virginia paper combats the opinion, held by many arboriculturists, that an open country is never converted into a forest through the operation of natural causes, and, as establishing the fact that such change does sometimes occur, brings forward the case of the Shenandoah valley. When first settled, about 160 years ago, it was an open prairie-like region covered with tall grass, on which fed herds of deer, buffalo, elk, etc., and having no timber, except on ridgy portions of it; but in consequence of its settlement, the annual fires were prevented, and trees sprang up almost as thickly and regularly as if seed had been planted. These forests, having been preserved by the farmers, cover now a large part of the surface with hard-wood trees of superior excellence. These facts would also seem to substantiate the theory that the treeless character of the prairies of the west is due to the annual burning of the grass by the Indians.

—A country paper in Illinois says, among its local items: "No word has yet been heard from Abraham Lever, who went off two weeks ago with his wife's red-headed hired girl. Until his return his Sabbath-school class will be in charge of Rev. Mr. Perkins."

Every certificate of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup published is genuine; a reward of $1000 is offered for one proved to be meretricious.

Sylvester F. Wilson, convicted at Philadelphia of railway "ticket scalping," was on Friday fined $500, and sentenced to a year in prison.

Judge Men By Their Works.

A man is judged in this life by his works, and in this connection it may not be inopportune to add, that Dr. Swayne has accomplished more good through the medium of his Ointment, for skin diseases, than has the school of physicians combined. "It's an ill wind that blows nobody good." What the physicians have lost Dr. Swayne has gained.

During a drunken row between gangs of Irish and Swedish railroad laborers at Kane, Pa., Dec. 1st, one Swede was killed and three fatally wounded.

"My wife's mother was afflicted with rheumatism for twenty years and tried almost every remedy, without any relief until she used St. Jacobs Oil. Three bottles entirely cured her. It is the best remedy I have ever seen," writes Frank P. Dryden, Esq., Pocomoke City, Md.

Commissioner Raum's recommendations in his report, concerning the civil service reform, are regarded as slightly "cheeky" to be made by him, however good they may be in themselves.

WINTON, Forsyth Co., N. C.
Gents—I desire to express to you my thanks for your wonderful Hop Bitters. I was troubled with dyspepsia for five years previous to commencing the use of your Hop Bitters some six months ago; my cure has been wonderful. I am the pastor of the First Methodist church of this place, and my whole congregation join in the great virtues of your bitters. Very respectfully,
REV. H. FEREBEE.

A recount of votes in Mercer county, N. J., makes the New Jersey house of representatives a tie, instead of having two republican majority.

A Woman's Experience.

Mothers and daughters should feel alarmed when weariness constantly oppresses them. "If I am fretful from exhaustion of vital powers and the color is fading from my face, Parker's Ginger Tonic gives quick relief. It builds me up and drives away pain with wonderful certainty."—Buffalo Daily.

Danford, the Kansas bank swindler, was not put to death by a mob, and the authorities at Caldwell have no further apprehension of mob violence.

Elegance and Purity.

Ladies who appreciate elegance and purity are using Parker's Hair Balsam. It is the best article sold for restoring gray hair to its original color, beauty and lustre.

Rheumatism
Neuralgia, Sprains,
Pain in the Back and Side.
There is nothing more painful than these diseases; but the pain can be removed and the disease cured by use of Perry Davis' Pain Killer.
This remedy is not a cheap Benzine or Petroleum product that must be kept away from fire or heat to avoid danger of explosion, nor is it an untried experiment that may do more harm than good.
Pain Killer has been in constant use for forty years, and the universal testimony from all parts of the world is, It never fails. It not only effects a permanent cure, but it relieves pain almost instantaneously. Being a purely vegetable remedy, it is safe in the hands of the most inexperienced.
The record of cures by the use of PAIN KILLER would fill volumes. The following extracts from letters received show what those who have tried it think:
Edgar Cady, Owatonna, Minn., says:
About a year since my wife became subject to severe suffering from rheumatism. Our resort was to the PAIN KILLER, which speedily relieved her.
Charles Powell writes from the Sailors' Home, London:
I had been afflicted three years with neuralgia and violent spasms of the stomach. The doctors at Westminster Hospital gave up my case in despair. I tried your PAIN KILLER, and it gave me immediate relief. I have regained my strength, and am now able to follow my usual avocation.
G. H. Walworth, Saco, Me., writes:
I experienced immediate relief from pain in the side by the use of your PAIN KILLER.
E. York says:
I have used your PAIN KILLER for rheumatism, and have received great benefit.
Barton Seaman says:
Have used PAIN KILLER for thirty years, and have found it a never failing remedy for rheumatism and lameness.
Mr. Burditt writes:
It never fails to give relief in cases of rheumatism.
Paul. Gilbert, Somerset, Pa., writes:
From actual use, I know your PAIN KILLER is the best medicine I can get.
All druggists keep PAIN KILLER. Its price is so low that it is within the reach of all, and it will save many times its cost in doctors' bills. 25c., 50c. and $1.00 a bottle.

A Remedy for Divorces.

Marry in your own religion.
Never both be angry at once.
Never taunt with a past mistake.
Let a kiss be the prelude of a rebuke.
Let self-abnegation be the greatest earthly blessing.
Remember that "I forgot" is never an acceptable excuse.
If you must criticise, let it be done lovingly.
Make marriage a matter of moral judgment.
Marry into a family which you have long known.
Never make a remark at the expense of the other
Never talk at one another, either alone or in company.
Give your warmest sympathy for each other's trials.
If one is angry, let the other part the lips only for a kiss.
Neglect the whole world besides, sooner than one another.
The very highest felicity is the mutual cultivation of usefulness.
Never speak loud to one another, unless the house is on fire.
Let each strive to yield oftenest to the wishes of the other.
Always leave home with loving words, for they may be the last.
Marry into different blood and temperament from your own.
Never deceive, for the heart once misled can never trust again.
Never find fault unless it is perfectly certain a fault has been committed.
Do not herald the sacrifices you make for each other's tastes, habits and preference.
Let all your mutual accommodations be spontaneous, whole-souled, and free as air.
A hesitating or glum yielding to the wishes of the other always grates upon a loving heart.
They who marry for physical characteristics or external considerations will fail of happiness.
Consult one another in all that comes within the experience, observation and spheres of the other.
Never reflect on a past action which was done with a good motive and with the best judgment at the time.
The beautiful in heart is of a million times more avail, as securing domestic happiness, than the beautiful in person.

A Novel Snow Plough.

A Kansas City inventor has patented a snow plough which promises to take the place of the cumbersome scoops which are attached to locomotives running on northern railroads during the winter. It is an arrangement of steam pipes which can be heated at the will of the engineer, melting the snow as the engine slowly advances. The form of the ordinary snow plough is preserved, so that the snow in shallow cuts can be thrown aside as by the plough now in use; but when deep drifts are encountered, the steam can be turned on the pipes and the road be cleared in far less time than it could be done with shovels. Another advantage in the new invention is that it will not leave additional embankments to catch a still greater depth of snow in succeeding storms.

For symptons indicated by indigestion, loss of appetite, nausea, sick headache, sour stomach, furred tongue, drowsiness, blanched lips, sallow complexion, pain in the side or back, eruptions, depression of spirits, nervous irritability and hysteria, and for building up the system, ash-tonic is unquestionably the most prompt and energetic remedy yet devised.

Capt. R. S. Collum, U. S. M. C., is detached from the naval examining board, and ordered to report to Col. McCawley.

"Pro Bono Publico."

It is a very remarkable fact, that while thousands of people refuse to read paid puffs of worthless nostrums, none skip over Dr. Swayne's little squib about his Ointment for itching piles that itch so much at night. The people well know that it is published for their benefit, in other words, is pro bono publico. May its far reaching effects be perpetuated to the end of time.

TUESDAY, DEC. 6. 1881.

The 47th Congress.

The house was called to order on Monday by Clerk Adams, who proceeded to call the roll of the members-elect. A ballot for speaker was taken, resulting as follows:

James W. Keifer, republican,	148
Samuel J. Randall, democrat,	129
Nicholas Ford, greenbacker,	8

And as 143 votes were sufficient for a choice, Mr. Keifer was declared elected, and was escorted to the speaker's chair by Messrs. Randall of Pennsylvania and Hiscock of New York. The oath of office was administered by Mr. Kelly of Pennsylvania, the oldest member in continuous service. The swearing in of members was then proceeded with. The first display of party feeling occurred when objection was made to swearing in Mr. Wheeler, of Alabama, and he was told to step aside temporarily. Mr. Randall said the member could not be told to step aside as a right, but if he did so it must be a voluntary act. Some little sparring occurred, and Randall's own rulings were used against him. The discussion caused some delay.

Boston & Maine Railroad.

The annual meeting of this corporation is to be held on Wednesday, the 14th inst.

The net balance of earnings after payment of interest, for twelve months ending Sept. 30th, is $626,591.23; allowing, after the usual dividend and a reservation of $65,000 for new double track, to be paid from earnings, a small surplus.

The business of the road has largely increased. President White, in his report, reviews the history of the growth of the road, and discusses the necessity of greater freight accommodations at Boston, and the proposed elevation of passenger tracks from Mystic river to Boston.

Mr. White, at the close of the report, informs the stockholders of his intended retirement at the close of the year. It is understood that he is to be succeeded in the presidency by Mr. Geo. C. Lord, the present vice president.

The report is silent upon the subject of the attempt to extend the line of the road from Alton Bay to the Weirs, which project, is was stated, did not meet the approval of Mr. White, and concerning which it was remarked at Concord last summer that it was singular that no director of the corporation appeared before the committee of the house of representatives to give assurance of its construction should a charter be granted.

"WHITING, THE SCOUT."

The Boston Sunday Herald of the 4th inst. says:

Few persons who were acquainted with the late William Henry Whitenect (whose sudden death at Auburn, N. Y., last Tuesday, has been recorded) were aware that he and "Whiting the scout" were one and the same person, but such was the case. He was among the first natives of New Brunswick (he was born in Norton, King's county, in 1843) who crossed the border and enlisted in the Union army at the outbreak of the civil war. He went to the front as a private in a Massachusetts regiment; but in 1863 he was transferred to the signal corps, in Lieut. Paul Brodie's detachment. By a clerical error he was enrolled as "George W. Whiting," and served under that name until he was discharged. He was soon brought to the notice of Col. Baker, and, becoming a favorite with that officer, was intrusted with many dangerous and important missions in the secret service. He remained in this department until the autumn of 1865, passing through a checkered experience and serving in various capacities. He was captured several times by the confederates, but made his escape on every occasion, until the impossibility of keeping him a prisoner passed into a proverb among those who knew him there. He was for some time acting provost marshal of a post (the name of which is now forgotten) in Virginia. He personally delivered to Gen. Grant the latter's earliest news of the fall of Richmond, and was in the first party sent in pursuit of John Wilkes Booth after the latter assassinated President Lincoln, being the only one in the detachment who had a personal knowledge of the actor. After he was mustered out, Mr. Whitenect resumed his own name, and as he was unused to speak of this portion of his life, being sensitive regarding mention of his achievements, and fearful of being looked upon as a braggart many soldiers who served with him in the Potomac did not dream that the quiet, genial "Billy" Whitenect of later years was Whiting, the scout and secret service officer, with whose exploits they were familiar in war times. He received prominent mention, however, in Col. Baker's "Secret Service History," published a few years since.

Mr. Whitenect was one of the most unassuming and at the same time competent theatrical advance agents that we have ever met; he always knew exactly what he wanted, and whether an editor was busy or had ten minutes which he would like to spend in chat, in which latter case Mr. Whitenect was a most agreeable companion. We never heard him allude to his army experience but once, and then very slightly, and on our observing "So you saw some service?" he quietly replied, "Yes, all I wanted, and more than I hope ever to see again." He narrowly escaped death early in his career as theatrical agent, in the Seabrook disaster on the Eastern railroad, where he had an ankle broken, while a man at his side was killed. The last time he was in this city on business was we think as advance agent for Mrs. Scott-Siddons or the Widow Bedott, we forget which.

News and Notes.

The greenback congressmen-elect nominated Nicholas Ford of Missouri for speaker; Gilbert De La Matyr of Indiana for clerk; Lee Crandall of Washington, D. C., for sergeant-at-arms; H. Martin Williams of Missouri for doorkeeper; and W. H. C. Moore of Pennsylvania for postmaster.

Assistant Secretary Upton, of the treasury, tendered his resignation on the 3d inst.

Several congressmen have expressed an intention to introduce a bill providing for such improvements in the life saving service as are recommended in the report of its general superintendent. One important provision in the bill will be for an increase in the pay of keepers of stations, who now receive $400 a year, a mere pittance when compared with the work done and responsibility borne. Probably Representative S. S. Cox will be selected to introduce the bill. At any rate, he and others will work for its passage, and expect soon to accomplish their purpose.

If Old Mother Shipton doesn't hurry up and smash things, people will soon begin to lose faith in her.

Isaac C. Boyce of Alliston, Ont., deserted the girl who had been his affianced wife seven years, and was about to marry another. His first love went into the store where he was employed, talked pleasantly about his change of sweethearts, declared that she bore him no enmity, and laughingly invited him, in token of good will, to eat some of the lozenges which she held in her hand. He complied, and thereby swallowed an almost fatal dose of strychnine.

Joseph Donah, the Italian barber who figured among the five conspirators arrested for the murder of the merchant, Joseph Frye, on Joy street, Boston, about two years ago, turned up Saturday as a thief. Donati escaped conviction on the charge of murder. On Friday night, it appears, he met Octavio Cinno at the Bangor house in Boston, and robbed him of $10 in money. Saturday evening Donati was locked up.

Father McCarty, the Catholic priest of Greenfield, Mass., was shot and probably fatally wounded on Saturday evening by David McMellen of Boston. McMellen's wife left him some years ago for brutal treatment, and lately has been the priest's housekeeper. Her husband has been trying to induce her to return, but she refused; on Saturday evening he again went to the priest's house, kicked and pounded the door, and when Father McCarty appeared shot him twice. The assassin was a rested in Boston on Sunday.

Albert E. Gore, a "fascinating" scoundrel now under arrest in Boston for forgery, is in more trouble, two young women of the highest respectability claiming to have been married to him. Neither of the women claim him as a husband, however, and the first wife has entered a charge of bigamy against him. He was married to her under the name of Lieut. Horton, U. S. A.

One Bagley, having been discharged by Harry Weston, foreman of a mine at Gold Park, Col., shot Weston and attempted to shoot the superintendent of the mine. He then barricaded himself in his cabin, which was beseiged by a mob for eight hours; finally the hut was blown to atoms by a large quantity of giant powder, and Bagley's dead body was found with a bullet through the head, he having committed suicide. Bagley has many sympathizers, and serious trouble is feared.

Five men started from Ophir, Col., for Silverton, several days ago, and are supposed to have perished in the mountains, which are deeply covered with snow.

Mrs. L. Tilton, twenty-eight years old, of Nut Swamp, N. J., claims $5000 from Charles Luffeburrow, seventy-two years of age, for breach of promise of marriage.

A crash of glass on Temple place, Boston, Friday afternoon, was followed by a man sprawling on the sidewalk in the ruins of an elegant plate-glass door. He had delivered a package in a shoe store, when he saw his horses starting outside. Running, as he thought, through the open door, he found himself an instant later among the fragments of a plate about nine feet by five.

Four large flour mills, amounting to one-tenth of the milling capacity of Minneapolis, Minn., were burned on Sunday, add also a cotton mill. Loss $416,000. Four men were killed, and a number of others wounded. One of the mills, which had been shut down for some time, blew up with great violence.

The body of the late earl of Crawford and Balcarres has been stolen from the family mausoleum near Aberdeen, Scotland. The object of the thieves was evidently ransom.

Daniel Quigley, employed for seven years past as a porter in Morrell's storage warehouse in New York, burned some weeks ago with a loss of over a million dollars, has been arrested for stealing a large lot of jewelry and precious stones at the time of the fire; and $5000 worth of silks and laces, stolen at the same time, were found in his house. Another employe, Thomas Goodman, has also been arrested.

Little Corinne, the child actress, was returned to New York on Sunday in obedience to instructions from Mrs. Flaherty's counsel, and was taken in charge by the anti-cruelty society. Mrs. Flaherty was released from the tombs on Saturday.

New Hampshire Items.

Sarah Middleton was arrested in Lowell, Mass., Dec. 5th, for setting fire to her husband's barn in Salem, N. H., Tuesday night, the 29th ult. She confessed. They had quarrelled.

The state board of health have issued a circular, addressed to those interested in sanitary science, and asking their earnest and hearty co-operation. It describes its work as follows: "Most prominent in our work will be the instruction of the people relative to the causes and prevention of disease; to study local conditions affecting health—soil, water supply, ventilation, drainage, climate, productions, race, population and social conditions; to obtain correct and reliable vital statistics; to watch the invasion of contagious and infectious diseases, to study the conditions that produce and maintain them, and to devise and recommend methods for their control; to systematize the work throughout the state by co-operation with the local boards of health, and all interested in sanitary science."

RAILROAD ACCOMMODATIONS.

A correspondent of the Exeter News-Letter thus refers to the short-comings of the Concord railroad in regard to its trains between Portsmouth and Manchester:

For ourselves, with Gov. Harriman, we wage no war upon corporations; and certainly, living alongside of one of the best managed roads in New England, with elegant accommodations, luxurious cars and creditable stations, we are not disposed to lend our sympathy in this railway war to the people of Concord, who have compelled the people of eastern New Hampshire, wishing to visit the mountains, to run the gauntlet of their miserable cars, wait in filthy stations, or be shunted upon the side tracks of Manchester and Concord. Judging from the experience of the past we have nothing to fear. We are glad that the control of the Concord road has passed out of the hands of those who for years have been so unmindful of the wants of the public. We are glad these rogues have fallen out, and now, when a large proportion of the citizens of this state ask for a road along the lakes or rivers we shall not be met by this long array of legal talent, who hypocritically sang of the state interests when, as one of the ablest of them all now admits in his letter to the attorney general: "The legislature was controlled by this same foreign corporation" while he sat silently by, and in his own language saw the state humiliated.

The entire White Mountain travel to and from the beaches goes over the Eastern railroad, whose elegant car accommodations and frequent trains are in striking contrast with the conservative efforts for this business, exerted by the Concord management. Whether the Sherburne element will ever be induced to appreciate the value of mid-day trains between Concord and Portsmouth during the summer season, and to ascertain by experiment how much the travel to York and Rye beaches from the north would be accommodated by a 10:30 A. M. train from Concord, and a train to connect with the afternoon up train at Manchester, is of course to be seen. It cannot be any less accommodating than as at present run.

At a meeting of the directors of the Portsmouth Gas Co., held on Monday afternoon, Mr. Thomas R. Martin was choson superintendent, succeeding the late Aaron Akerman in the office.

The steamer James Sampson has discontinued her trips to Kittery Point bridge for this season; there are also a number of changes in her time table of trips between this city and Kittery, due note of which is made in her advertisement in another column.

The last of the stock in the new schooner which it has been proposed to build to be commanded by Capt. Seawards, late master of the schooner Cocheco, was taken up on Monday, and the proposition has now become a certainty. The new vessel will probably be built here.

Thirteen carpenters were at work on Monday, framing the new coal-pockets for C. E. Walker & Co., and their labors were watched by an interested crowd of boys, who pounced upon the chips as fast as made, and carried most of them off.

The schooner Unison has been hauled up for the winter at Broughton's lumber wharf, and the Mary Willey will haul up at the same place, probably, when the cargo she is now discharging is out. The schooner Active is hauled up at C. E. Walker & Co.'s wharf. The schooner E. A. Creed, belonging to Laighton Bros. & Co. of the Shoals, is hauled up at Russell & Odion's wharf; the steamer Pinafore, owned by the same parties, was lying at the same wharf on Monday, making repairs to her machinery.

The award ($75) made to Samuel Wilson for damages to his property occasioned by the extension of Vaughan street, has been paid to Albert R. Hatch, Esq., as mortgagee of the property; but the house still sticks out many feet into the street, though Mrs. Seavey's much larger and better building has been moved back to the boundary, and no hesitation was shewn at clearing away any other private property which was on the line of the new highway.

The steamer Mystic is to have her Kittery landing place at Charles Bartlett's wharf, Capt. Trefethen having purchased of the Excavating Co. a large floating stage, thirty feet by twenty, which will be moored alongside the wharf for that purpose.

An inquest was held at the town hall in Greenland on Monday afternoon, before John Hatch, Esq., coroner, and a jury consisting of Messrs. Edward Holmes, Nathaniel Chapman and William H. Packer of Greenland, to enquire into the cause of the death of Margaret Jane Braham, otherwise known as Maggie Hill, which occurred very suddenly in that town on Saturday evening last. Several witnesses were examined, including Drs. Hall of this city and Odell of Greenland, who made a post mortem examination of the remains. The evidence tended to establish, and the jury subsequently found, that the deceased came to her death from inflammation of the stomach and intestines, induced by a long career of dissipation and excesses. Mr. Joseph C. Caverly of this city, who had been arrested and held on suspicion of some implication in the death of deceased, was released. Wallace Hackett, Esq., of this city, appeared in behalf of Mr. Caverly.

Mr. Benjamin Woodsum, whose funeral took place on Sunday, was one of the last survivors of the large number of Portsmouth men who thirty or forty years ago made New Orleans or Mobile their place of business, while retaining a home in their native city. The larger proportion of these men were "cotton jammers," who went south every season to stow the wooden sailing ships of that period with the great staple of the south; but Mr. Woodsum we think naver did any of that work, being always able to secure a lucrative and responsible position as steamboat mate. He went to Mobile previous to 1844, in which year he became chief officer of a steamer; and there he remained, engaged in the same business, until after the war commenced, when he with much difficulty escaped to the north, returning to Mobile after the collapse of the confederacy. His father was Job Woodsum of this city, a calker, which trade the son learned; he also learned the trade of ship carpenter. He leaves a brother, Oliver, who has resided in Mobile for many years; also a son and two daughters, who live in Haverhill, Mass. His funeral was attended by delegations from St. John's lodge of Masons and New Hampshire lodge of Odd Fellows, of this city, of which bodies he was a member.

Among the late transfers of real estate in Rockingham county, as presented for record in the office of the register of deeds, are the following: Portsmouth—Andrew Lynn to Arabella E. Leighton, land and buildings, $1; Josiah H. Morrison to Frank Jones, land, $1; Charles H. Mendum and Frank Jones to George Boss, land, $350; George H. Garrett to Freeman Grrrett, land and buildings, $1; Abbie R. Trefethen to Sarah A. Rand, land, $1. Rye—Daniel Philbrick to Gardner T. Locke, salt marsh, $5; Gardner B. Locke to J. Calvin Garland, salt marsh, $5; William S. Odiorne to Truman S. Odiorne, real estate, $1. Stratham—Joseph C. A. Wingate, of Swatow, China, to Mary E. Scammon, of South Newmarket, land, $24. Epping—Martha H. Demeritt, of Haverhill, Mass., to William R. Bunker, land, $250. South Newmarket—Nancy Sherburne and Betsey L. Bussell, both of Loudon, to Huldah B. Jones, land, $492; Olivia M. Sanborn, of Loudon, to Huldah B. Jones, land, $246; Albert H. Varney, executor of the will of Mary Hilton, to Edward Hilton, of Newmarket, homestead farm, $1100. South Hampton—Moses Gordon, of Amesbury, Mass., to Herbert J. Brown, land and buildings, $350.

The Dover Democrat says that on Friday last an officer of the New Hampshire National Guard arrived in that city from Manchester, took charge of all the state property turned over by the recently-disbanded Second Light Battery of Dover, including two guns, caissons, harnesses, uniforms, etc., and loaded the whole on cars at the Portsmouth & Dover railroad station, to be brought to this city and stored in the state arsenal on South street.

A large flock of wild geese were seen flying over this city on Saturday, and several flocks on Sunday, heading in the direction of Great bay; and two or three flocks were heard passing over on Sunday night, apparently bound the same way. The presence of wild geese in this latitude at this season is something remarkable, and still more so is the fact that they are evidently not hurrying southward.

The best thing in the shape of a coal sifter for family use that we have yet seen is the invention of Mr. C. Everett, and made by him at his carriage repairing shop on Fleet street. It is simple, effective, easily worked, cannot get out of order, is not expensive, and can be used in the kitchen or parlor without raising a dust.

Mr. Henry Dean, of Newington, while on Monday putting apples from his team on board the schooner John Bracewell, at Piscataqua wharf, laid aside his overcoat, and while he was at work some sneak thief made off with it.

A man named Thomas Grimes, while crazy drunk on Monday night about 11 o'clock, chased his wife about the house with a huge knife, and forced her to jump from a second story window to save her life, she being seriously injured by the fall. The ruffian was taken to the lock-up by the police, who had to carry him all the way. Grimes is an English man who lately came to this city from Dover, and runs a liquor shop on MacDonough street.

Terrible Accident.
Domestic accidents are common to women, and some of them are very serious. Mrs. Warner, of South Rondout, Ulster Co., N. Y., some weeks ago attempted to take from her child a pair of shears with which it was playing. A slight struggle ensued, in which the point of the shears entered Mrs. Warner's left eye, entirely destroying the sight. Her family physician did what he could, but intensely painful inflammation ensued, which, by sympathy, threatened the loss of the other eye. Total blindness to a woman having the care of a household is an irreparable calamity. In this strait Mrs. Warner applied to that the well-known and skillful surgeon Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., who removed the injured eye by a very successful operation, setting aside all danger of further harm to the sight of the other eye. But, owing to pain and mental distress, her system needed a tonic and reparative medicine. To do this work the doctor prescribed "Kennedy's Favorite Remedy," which sustained its reputation and laid a sure foundation of health.
Dr. Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" removes all impurities from the blood, regulates the Liver and Kidneys, Cures Constipation, and all diseases and weaknesses peculiar to females. It is for sale by all our druggists at One Dollar a bottle.

A FIRST-CLASS FAMILY MAGAZINE
FOR ONLY $3.00 PER ANNUM.
LIPPINCOTT'S MAGAZINE,
An Illustrated Monthly of Popular Literature.
At the beginning of the present year Lippincott's Magazine entered on a new series at a reduced price, with the distinctive purpose of presenting such a variety of reading matter—for the most part light and entertaining, yet of real literary merit—as should commend it to the general mass of cultivated persons and ensure it a welcome in many American homes. Devoting a large proportion of its space to fiction, in which short serials are made a noticeable feature, and to sketches illustrative of social life and manners, it has included in its list of subjects curiosities of science, especially natural history, popularly treated, travel and adventure at home and abroad, field sports and angling, and, occasionally, political (historical and educational topics unexcepting of fresh and live discussion. The serial stories published during the year have been marked by a piquant originality, and have met with a warm reception; while the general attractiveness of the Magazine has gained for it cordial approval and an increased circulation.
The conductors of the Magazine hope not only to maintain its reputation, but to enhance and extend it by constant solicitude in the same direction. Their arrangements for the coming year embrace a larger number than ever before of contributions of popular character.
A serial story entitled "Stephen Guthrie," in which some prominent and striking phases of American life are vividly and dramatically treated, will begin in the January number and through six months.
The editorial departments will maintain their present standard of acknowledged excellence, and the illustrations will be of a higher character than any that have hitherto appeared in the Magazine.
For Sale by all Book and Newsdealers.
Terms:—Yearly Subscription, $3.00; single number, 25 cents. Liberal club rates.
☞ Specimen number mailed, postpaid, on receipt of 20 cents. (Postage stamps allowed.) Contributions of popular character.

"The United Service," as a monthly publication, well keeps up the promise of the earlier numbers, when it was issued as a quarterly, and is regularly filled with articles of interest to civilians and both arms of the national service, many of the papers being of marked value to the latter. L. R. Hamersley & Co., Philadelphia, publishers; $5 per year; single number fifty cents.

"Poems; by Harriet Prescott Spofford." Boston; Houghton, Mifflin & Co.

While a new book by Mrs. Harriet Prescott Spofford is welcomed by the literary world in general, it has especial interest for readers in Portsmouth. Newburyport can claim to have been for several years the home of Mrs. Spofford, before as well as since her marriage to one of its citizens; but the Prescotts, Frosts, and Pepperells who are among her ancestors have been too intimately associated with Strawberry Bank, not to make the fame of this brilliant daughter a matter of pride to us.

When very young, the pen of this lady gave unusual promise, and her schoolgirl essays, poems, and dramatic compositions were regarded as remarkable. A story sent to the Atlantic Monthly, called "In a cellar," first caused her to wake up one morning and find herself famous. The editor wrote to inquire if it were not a translation, supposing that only a French production could be so completely in the spirit of the French. Then followed Sir Rohan's Ghost, a wierd, odd story with a marvellous discription of wines, which seemed possible only to some veteran connoisseur in the products of the world's vintage, Azarian, with an exquisite glimpse of the wild flowers of New England; Amber Gods, in which jewels and precious stones sparkled in wonderful words; South Breaker, where the storms of the ocean and of human passion are of intense interest; Knitting Sale Socks, where the Yankee charater and dialect seem directly transferred from rural life; all these and many other stories have the touch of genius. In them all, Mrs. Spofford has shown the same sorcery of language, the same oriental profusion of fancy, the same fascination which carries the reader almost breathlessly through her stories, whether the stories themselves are liked or not. No writer in America has more varied and felicitous command of language; and a chance phrase often paints a picture, as when she calls a piano in a deserted house "a sarcophagus of unrisen music." Her poetry has been less frequently given to the world than her romances, but her readers cherish some very choice poems. Plum Island River is one of equal faithfulness and beauty, a rare gem of its kind.

Of late, Mrs. Spofford has turned her talent to practical subjects, such as home decoration, the servant girl question, etc., and to all these she has added grace and freshness to admirable common sense. Now comes this volume, full of good lines and beautiful thoughts, and adding new lustre to the fame of the gifted writer at Goat Island. For sale at Myers' book store.

The mountain of Riskoph in Switzerland having been threatening to overwhelm the city of Elm by an avalanche of loose rocks, a bombardment of the peak was begun on Friday in the hope of precipitating the rocks in the opposite direction. The city has been evacuated.

A Baby Saved!
Since birth my baby had running sores all over his head, and the doctors said that he must die, for they could not heal them. I used everything I ever heard of, but it did no good. He got so bad that he would not nurse. My husband's sister told me to try Sulphur Bitters as she had great faith in them. I used a bottle and the sores commenced to heal. After using two bottles more, the sores all healed, and I consider my baby saved.—Mother, Concord, N. H.

There is a serious squabble in the Catholic church at Natick, Mass., the land leaguers charging the pastor, Father Walsh, with discourtesy toward T. M. Healey, M. P., on the evening the latter spoke in Natick, and declaring they will give no more support to the church until Father Walsh is removed.

A torpid liver is an active cause of much of human suffering. All that internal application can accomplish is to stimulate violently. But the proper course is to apply Dr. Holman's Pad and have the cure made permanent by its absorptive properties. The Pad is death to liver ailments.

An attempt was made to blow up the city court house at Montreal on Saturday night, by means of an infernal machine containing ten pounds of dynamite. The machine is a fine piece of clock-work mechanism, but was discovered in time to prevent an explosion.

Judge Men By Their Works.
A man is judged in this life by his works, and in this connection it may not be inopportune to add, that Dr. Swayne has accomplished more good through the medium of his Ointment for skin diseases, than has the school of physicians combined. "It's an ill wind that blows nobody good." What the physicians have lost Dr. Swayne has gained.

Rheumatism
Neuralgia, Sprains,
Pain in the Back and Side.
There is nothing more painful than these diseases; but the pain can be removed and the disease cured by use of Perry Davis' Pain Killer.
This remedy is not a cheap Benzine or Petroleum product that must be kept away from fire or heat to avoid danger of explosion, nor is it an untried experiment that may do more harm than good.
Pain Killer has been in constant use for forty years, and the universal testimony from all parts of the world is, it never fails. It not only effects a permanent cure, but it relieves pain almost instantaneously. Being a purely vegetable remedy, it is safe in the hands of the most inexperienced.
The record of cures by the use of PAIN KILLER would fill volumes. The following extracts from letters received show what those who have tried it think:
Edgar Cady, Owatonna, Minn., says:
About a year since my wife became subject to severe suffering from rheumatism. Our report was to the PAIN KILLER, which speedily relieved her.
Charles Powell writes from the Sailors' Home, London:
I had been afflicted three years with neuralgia and violent spasms of the stomach. The doctors at Westminster Hospital gave up my case in despair. I tried your PAIN KILLER, and it gave me immediate relief. I have regained my strength, and am now able to follow my usual occupation.
G. H. Walworth, Saco, Me., writes:
I experienced immediate relief from pain in the side by the use of your PAIN KILLER.
E. York says:
I have used your PAIN KILLER for rheumatism, and have received great benefit.
Barton Seaman says:
Have used PAIN KILLER for thirty years, and have found it a never-failing remedy for rheumatism and lameness.
Mr. Burditt writes:
It never fails to give relief in cases of rheumatism.
Phil. Gilbert, Somerset, Pa., writes:
From actual use, I know your PAIN KILLER is the best medicine I can get.
All druggists keep PAIN KILLER. Its price is so low that it is within the reach of all, and it will save many times its cost in doctors' bills. 25c., 50c. and $1.00 a bottle.

Guiteau's Trial.

The trial of the wretch Guiteau is not yet finished, but is apparently nearing its end. Mr. Scoville on the 6th announced that he had but one more witness to call, who was in New York. The rest of the session was taken up in the reading of Guiteau's book. "Truth."

THANKSGIVING AFLOAT.

Postmaster-General James and wife, Second Asst. Postmaster-General Elmer and wife, Col. Van Wormer, chief clerk of the postoffice department, Col. Thompson and Col. Jameson, superintendent and assistant superintendent of the railway mail service, and other prominent officials and ladies, spent Thanksgiving day upon the St. John's river in Florida on board the steamer George M. Bird, commanded by Capt. John L. Amazeen of this city. A sumptuous dinner, including all the delicacies of the season, was served, and at its close the health of the officers of the steamer, the postmaster-general and others was proposed, and appropriate responses were made. The postmaster-general them moved the following resolutions, which were unanimously adopted:

Dusing a continuous trip of over two days on the steamer Geo. M. Bird through the land of oranges and flowers along the St. John's river, the postmaster-general and party having enjoyed an experience of unalloyed pleasure, they now at parting from the steamer and its officers desire to express their sense of appreciation of the kindness, courtesy and delicate attentions which they have received at the hands of Capt. J. L. Amazeen, the purser, J. S. Matthason, and the chief engineer, William H. Douglass. Nothing has been left undone which could contribute to the comfort or pleasure of our party, and as we leave, we offer up the earnest prayer that in their life's journey they may never meet with more formidable obstacles than the flowers of Florida, or with darker clouds than we have seen in the land of the orange and the palm.

The city council of Portland, Me., has voted to sell the Maine Central railroad company a large lot of land, and the company's repair shops will be removed there, thus adding 1000 to the population of the city.

Lately adverted to by the Indianapolis (Ind.) News, is the fact that Mr. Frank Patten, one of the editors of the Indiana Farmer, (of Indianapolis,) strongly indorses St. Jacobs Oil. It cured his wife of a severe attack of rheumatism, and so quickly.

Haight's tannery at Milton Centre was burned Dec. 2th; loss $50,000. One hundred and forty men are thrown out of employment.

A Word to Mothers.

Mothers should remember it is a most important duty at this season to look after the health of their families and cleanse the malaria and impurities from their systems, and that nothing will tone up the stomach and liver, regulate the bowels and purify the blood so perfectly as Parker's Ginger Tonic, advertised in our columns.—Post: see other columns.

It is said that there is living in the town of Laconia a farmer by the name of Noah Brown, who, while at work in the railroad shops at Laconia, nearly thirty years ago, perfected an invention for iron shoes for car brakes, which is at present used by all railroads. No patent was taken out upon the invention, and Mr. Brown has never received any benefit from it.

Always Refreshing.

A delicious odor is imparted by Florestón Cologne, which is always refreshing, no matter how freely used.

A young deer was found among the cattle belonging to Charles I. Ayers of North Wolfeboro' when they came from the field a few days since. It stopped in the garden and was shot, the carcass weighing 110 pounds.

Mothers Don't Know

How many children are punished for being uncouth, wilful, and indifferent to instructions or rewards, simply because they are out of health! An intelligent lady said of a child of this kind: "Mothers should know that if they would give the little ones moderate doses of Hop Bitters for two or three weeks, their children would be all a parent could desire."

Parker's glove shop at Littleton now employs 250 hands, while 2,000 women in the adjoining towns work at finishing the gloves.

Don't Die in the House.

Ask druggists for "Rough on Rats." It clears out rats, mice, bed-bugs, roaches, vermin, flies, ants, insects; 15c. per box.

Decline of Men.

Impotence of mind, limb, or vital function, nervous weakness, sexual debility, etc., cured by Wells' Health Renewer. $1. At druggists. Depot at Thacher's.

Hon. Edmund Burke is very ill at his home in Newport, and is not expected to recover.

Health and Happiness.

It seems strange that anyone will suffer from the many derangements brought on by an impure condition of the blood, when Scovill's Blood and Liver Syrup will restore perfect health to the physical organization. It has proven itself to be the best blood purifier ever discovered, effectually curing scrofula, syphilitic disorders, weakness of the kidneys, all nervous disorders and debility. It corrects indigestion. It makes the old feel young, and the young feel gay; and will invariably drive out of the system the many ills that the human flesh is heir to. It acts like a charm, especially when the complaint is of an exhaustive nature, having a tendency to lessen the natural vigor of the brain and nervous system.

Prof. McIntire, late principal of the Littleton high school, has been appointed superintendent of schools in New Mexico.

During the past five years I have suffered from catarrh and have used without relief remedies prescribed by various physicians. I was advised to try Ely's Cream Balm; am using it with beneficial results, and feel confident I shall be completely cured of a disease that has seriously affected not only my nostrils but also my eyes and hearing. W. A. Brintzinghoffer, Jr., Wholesale Tobacconist, Newark, N. J., May 29, 1879.

Ely's Cream Balm for the cure of catarrh is having large sales with me. I think it the best article I have sold for the treatment of these diseases, and take great pleasure in recommending it to my patrons, as I am hearing the most favorable reports of its beneficial effects. A. R. Ferguson, druggist, Lockport, N. Y.

Col. Cyrus Frost, of Marlboro, recently celebrated the sixtieth anniversary of his marriage. Among other presents which he received was a check for $15,000.

"Pro Bono Publico."

It is a very remarkable fact, that while thousands of people refuse to read paid puffs of worthless nostrums, none skip over Dr. Swayne's little squib about his Ointment for itching piles that itch so much at night. The people well know that it is published for their benefit, in other words, is pro bono publico. May its far reaching effects be perpetuated to the end of time.

WEDNESDAY, DEC. 7, 1881.

The 47th Congress.

The organization of the house was completed by the election of the remaining republican candidates, viz: McPherson, clerk; George W. Hooker, sergeant-at-arms; Walter P. Brownlow of Tennessee, doorkeeper; H. Sherwood of Michigan, postmaster; and Rev. F. D. Power of the District of Columbia, chaplain.

President Arthur on Tuesday afternoon sent to Congress his first message, after the reading of which both houses adjourned to Wednesday.

Secretary Lincoln's Report.

The annual report of the secretary of war was made public on the 2d inst. General Sherman's recommendation that the army be increased to 30,000 men receives earnest endorsement. The attention of Congress is called to the necessity for legislation to prevent intrusions upon Indian lands, especially from Kansas into the Indian Territory.

The necessity for increased sea-coast defences is strongly urged. The secretary shows that a defense by fortifications and torpedoes is the only one which is at all practicable for coasts as extended as ours, comprising so many rich maritime cities, extensive navy yards, and depots of supply; that any attempt at other modes of defense would be enormously expensive, both for first cost and for maintenance; and that it is the only mode adopted by maritime nations. Experience shows that modern wars come on suddenly; that serious international disputes occur between nations, the relations of which are apparently the most unlikely to be other than friendly, and that a condition of readiness for defense and an attitude of belligerency are sometimes the best preventives of actual war. We know that the necessary new works and the proper modifications of old works will require many years for their completion, and it seems simply a matter of common prudence that we commence without delay, and under liberal appropriations to put our coasts in an efficient condition of defense. This subject is treated more fully and emphatically in this report than ever heretofore; and that it should demand substantial attention from Congress to enable our engineers to place exposed points in fitting condition to meet any contingency, however remote, is a necessity which is becoming more thoroughly realized both by those having heavy interests upon the seaboard and those in the interior, to whom the coast cities are a market. We will see what disposition Congress evinces to correct this evil.

Touching the Military Academy, the report strongly deprecates the proposition to raise the standard of excellence for admission. Says the secretary: "The result of the last examination, in which forty-nine out of one hundred and eighteen candidates were rejected, shows that the standard is already so high as to prevent the admission of many who would undoubtedly, if they had been so situated as to receive proper preliminary training, prove valuable officers." Undoubtedly the secretary has caught the correct idea in what he says upon the question. The Military Academy, instead of affording a training suitable for officers who are to command our armies, has degenerated into a forcing-house for the culture of a few precocious brains, the owners of which are no more fit to lead, command, and inspire respect and obedience than an infant in the cradle. The army wants brave, practical men to command it. This country has other openings for scientific gentlemen than in the army.

The actual expenditures under the war department for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1881, were $42,122,201; the appropriations for 1882 were $44,889,725; and the estimates for 1883 call for $44,541,276. The estimates presented to the secretary for revision included: For armament of fortifications, $720,000; fortifications and other works of defense, $4,186,500; improving rivers and harbors, $29,101,300; improving Mississippi river, by commission, $4,523,000; public buildings and grounds in and near Washington, $749,000; surveys of lakes, $20,000; total, $39,099,800. This amount, he says, "has been reduced on my own revision to aggregate $10,689,000, which sum, if judiciously allotted by Congress, will be, in my judgment, a reasonable allowance for this class of expenses during the next fiscal year."

News and Notes.

The body of James E. Dore was taken from the water near Cragie's bridge, Boston, on Friday last. A coroner's jury found that he was robbed and murdered, and then thrown into the river.

Walker Blaine, assistant secretary of state, and William H. Trescott, have been sent to Chili and Peru on a secret mission.

The amount asked for this year for the payment of pensions amounts to the enormous sum of $100,000,000, or almost five times as much as for any other single object for which appropriations are made, with the exception of the permanent appropriations, which include the interest on the public debt and the payments on the principal. This is largely a legacy from the "democratic reform Congress."

Gen. Judson Kilpatrick, minister to Chili, is dead.

Frank Ellsworth of Salem, Me., was killed by the accidental discharge of his gun while out shooting on Sunday. He was found dead in the woods, shot through the head.

During the week ending Dec. 3d, 531,500 standard silver dollars were put into circulation, against $352,992 for the corresponding week in 1880.

The stockholders in the Keeley Motor Co. have summoned the alleged inventor into court.

The small-pox is prevalent in St. Louis and Chicago. From the latter city the disease has been carried to California by way of the Pacific railroad, and that state has quarantined against Chicago.

Black & Wingate's spinning mills in Glasgow, Scotland, have been burned, causing a loss of $250,000, and throwing out of employment one thousand persons.

More freight is shipped at the Eliot depot than at any other small station on the line of the Portland, Saco & Portsmouth railroad, the shipments consisting mainly of hay, apples, potatoes and bricks, the bullion from the Eliot gold mine not having yet become a staple article of transportation. Mr. Fred Rowe has been supplying the Eastern railroad with several car-loads of bricks each week, during the summer.

Mr. Dennis Shapleigh, of the Spruce creek district, Kittery, who though seventy-five years old is hale and hearty, was ploughing on the 5th inst. He informed our reporter that about forty-five years ago his father ploughed all day in his shirt sleeves, on the 16th of December.

Wild geese were flying in large numbers over South Eliot on Sunday, and Monday morning, all going in the direction of Great Bay. One flock contained seventy birds, and another one forty.

Mr. John Grover, of Beech ridge, York, was in this city on Tuesday, which day was the 80th anniversary of his birth. He did not make the trip to this city especially to celebrate the occasion, however, as he calls at the Eastern railroad station on the morning of every week day, to receive a lot of machine made hosiery, which he conveys to Beech ridge and distributes there to women who do the seaming.

Large quantities of smelts are being taken at night from Spruce creek, Kittery, by lantern light. The fish are attracted by the light, and bite briskly at the hooks.

Sturgeon creek, Eliot, was clear of ice on the 5th inst., not a particle being visible throughout its entire length. A gondola was on that day loading with bricks at one of the brickyards.

Mr. T. J. Pettigrew of Kittery on the 24th ult. had a valuable horse fall through the barn floor into the cellar, the animal dying two days later.

Brooks Brothers, of South Eliot, have erected a building two stories high, and measuring twenty-six feet by forty on the ground, of which the lower story will be used as a store. Over the store they are fitting up a hall, twenty-six feet by thirty, exclusive of the stage and dressing room; the hall will be dedicated about the 20th, with a sociable evening entertainment, followed by dancing. A cupola surmounts the building.

Capt. James Tobey of Eliot, who transported the mails between that town and this city for many years, has been confined to his house for several weeks by illness, but is out again, and looking finely.

Mr. William Furbish of Beech ridge, York, besides doing considerable at road building, makes himself generally useful in the community. During the past season, on the Fernald farm in Kittery, he cut twenty tons of hay; and on what is known as the Barrell place in York, owned by two ladies, he cut fifteen tons. In company with C. C. Barrell, Mr. Furbish took a contract to build a part of the new Bass Cove road; they were obliged to excavate to a great depth through what they expected would be easy digging, but which proved to be a blue clay almost as hard as stone; but by dint of hard work they were enabled to get out of the job without actual pecuniary loss. At one place on this road, about ten feet below the surface, they came upon what Mr. Furbish thinks is a vein of copper ore, thirty or forty feet wide.

A young cat belonging to Capt. Joseph Donnell, living near Chase's mills, York, recently took in to her kittens in three weeks forty-one squirrels, all of the red or striped varieties.

Mr. S. C. Shapleigh of Eliot was ploughing a piece of corn ground on the 5th inst., and found no frost to interfere with the work.

Messrs. Hanscom & Leibmann, of Eliot, are putting up a building which it is said they contemplate using as a cigar manufactory.

The court comes in on the 27th inst., when cases upon the Grafton and Coos dockets will be called. The dockets of the other counties in the state were called. The ninth annual meeting of the New Hampshire Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals was held on the 5th inst., at 7:30 o'clock P. M. An address was made by the president, and reports presented by the secretary and treasurer.

The whole number of cases investigated and remedied during the year was 1053, of which 965 were abuse of horses, and eighty-eight of other animals. The cases are thus tabulated:

Overdriving	91
Cruelly kicking and beating	86
Overloading	64
Overloading and beating	28
Cruelly killing or torturing	17
Exposing unblanketed	51
Neglecting and starving	171
Ill-treatment of old, lame or disabled horses	535

Four prosecutions have been conducted, four dog or cock fights prevented, and twenty-three animals humanely killed; nine agents have been employed, and the society has operated in twenty-two cities, towns or villages of the state.

From the treasurer's report it appeared that the balance at the beginning of the year was $34.94; receipts during the year, $434.94; expenditures, $275.27; and amount on hand, $194.61. Of the whole sum expended, $224.45 has been paid for out-of-town work.

Votes of thanks were passed to the president for distinguished services, and to other officers.

The work of the society having so largely increased, it was voted that the office of state agent be created.

President, Thomas E. O. Marvin;

Vice Presidents, Mrs. Ichabod Goodwin, Mrs. A. L. Jones, Mrs. E. H. Winchester, Alexander H. Ladd, John S. H. Frink, Frank Jones, Alfred O. Larkin;

Directors, Mrs. A. W. Haven, Mrs. J. J. Pickering, Mrs. H. C. Knight, Mrs. F. W. Miller, Miss Eliza Rice, Miss M. A. Foster, Miss E. H. Pearson, Miss S. E. Christie, Miss M. R. Lyman, Mrs. C. M. Laighton, Miss C. A. Morison, Miss A. F. Jenness, Miss Hope Goodwin, T. F. O. Marvin, J. B. Upham, Jr., A. W. Odiorne, C. W. Gardner, C. E. Batchelder, J. R. May;

State Agent, Thomas E. O. Marvin;

Secretary and Treasurer, James R. May;

Counsel, John S. H. Frink:

Trustees of Permanent Fund, Mrs. J J. Pickering, Josiah B. Sanborn, Frederick Smyth.

The report of the physicians in attendance upon Haven L. Scott, superintendent of the county farm, on Tuesday evening, was unfavorable, and he was not expected to live through the night.

Any person desiring to purchase a small farm of choice land, should read the advertisement of Mr. F. A. Pickering of Newington, in another column.

On Monday attachments were served by Portsmouth and Boston creditors upon A. P. Holman & Co.'s shoe factory at the Creek, and the establishment has been closed up. Several other failures of business men or firms have taken place within a few days.

The schooner Octavia A. Dow, of Vinalhaven, Me., loaded with cured fish, and bound from a Maine port to Boston, struck on Branscome's rock at the mouth of this harbor on Saturday, and came into this port leaking. She hauled in on the ground at one of the south end wharves, was calked by her crew on the low tides, and sailed for her destination on Tuesday morning.

The schooner Gov. Goodwin, of this port, arrived at Gloucester, Mass., on the 4th inst., from a seven months' trip to the banks, with 220,000 lbs. of cod-fish. She lost both masts, with all sails attached, on the trip, and was detained six or seven weeks in a Nova Scotia port, waiting the arrival of spars and sails which were sent down to her in the schooner Velocipede. The schooner Garibaldi arrived at Gloucester on the 3d inst., from Grand Menan, N. B., with 75,000 frozen herring—the first receipt of the season. The first cargo last year arrived on the same date, in the schooner Agnes Bell.

A heavy coal dealer of this city says he will sell coal next spring at $4 a ton.

The Excavating Co.'s dredge on Tuesday afternoon commenced the removal of the mud-bar extending from Ham's ledge, off Noble's island, to the Concord railroad wharf.

The pole-setters of the Mutual Union Telegraph Co. arrived at the Eastern railroad station in this city on Tuesday morning, and erected some of the largest and worst-looking telegraph poles yet seen in these parts. It is said that a usually good-tempered alderman was decidedly indignant because one of the big sticks was stuck up directly in front of a house which he owns, and that he made the men remove it; he should have remembered that the rights or prejudices of private individuals should not be allowed to stand in the way of any corporation scheme.

In the list of estimates for public works and rivers and harbors, for the fiscal year 1883, are items of $86,000 for continuing work on the batteries at the mouth of Portsmouth harbor, and $55,000 for improving the harbor.

On Monday evening Mr. Charles Farwell of Kittery arrived at the Daniel street landing just as the steamer James Sampson was starting on her eight o'clock trip across the river, and by making a long reach managed to catch hold of her rail, but instead of his being able to haul her back to the stage, she hauled him off, and he went overboard with a mighty splash. Mr. Wm. Spinney, a passenger who reached the boat before she started, immediately clambered over the rail and hung down by his hands at full length, and Mr. Farwell, using him for a rope, climbed on board.

The roads in the surrounding country have for some days been in a shocking condition, making the country travel into the city very light.

The gondola Sturgeon, Capt. Nason, on Monday brought down 18,000 bricks from the Rose brickyard in Eliot, and landed them on the wharf at the foot of Deer street. On Tuesday Capt. Nason was at Mason's sawmill, taking on board a load of lumber for Sturgeon creek, Eliot.

Mr. George L. Moulton, of Beech ridge, York, last season raised thirty young geese from a "flock" of three old ones.

Terrible Accident.
Domestic accidents are common to women, and some of them are very serious.—Mrs. Warner, of South Rondout, Ulster Co., N. Y., some weeks ago attempted to take from her child a pair of shears with which it was playing. A slight struggle ensued, in which the point of the shears entered Mrs. Warner's left eye, entirely destroying the sight. Her family physician did what he could, but intensely painful inflammation arose, which, by sympathy, threatened the loss of the other eye. Total blindness to a woman having the care of a household is an irretrievable calamity. In this crisis Mrs. Warner applied to that the well-known and skillful surgeon' Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., who removed the injured eye by a very successful operation, setting aside all danger of further harm to the sight of the other eye. But, owing to pain and mental distress, her system needed a tonic and restorative medicine. To do this work the doctor prescribed "Kennedy's Favorite Remedy," which sustained its reputation and laid a sure foundation of health.

Questions for the Full Bench.

If Obadiah Jackson may not remove, reduce, shorten or dock the caudal appendage of his horse without being guilty of a crime against the statutes and the S. F. T. P. O. C. T. A., may any other man? * * If it be granted that Mr. Jackson or any other man may untail his animal, provided he does it properly, what is the proper method? Shall he chop, saw or chisel it? Shall he chloroform or ether? Shall he cauterize or sew up the wound? Shall he operate in the presence of an agent of the S. F. T. P. O. C. T. A. or an expert? Shall he do it slowly or quickly? Is there a proper season in which to do it, and is his state of mind while operating to be considered? Must he remove what he wishes to get rid of at once or in sections? Must he take it from the lower end or middle or near the rump? Can he take hide and hair or only bone?

Mr. Editor: The questions copied above are samples of a list as long as a cow's tail, which the local of the Manchester Mirror propounds to the "Full Bench." He had once perhaps propounded it, full, to the bar, if one can judge from the spirit which inspired the queries.

Nothwithstanding the puerile character of the questons, it may be well to notice them, as they appeared in the columns of a paper enjoying a tolerably fair extent of circulation.

If he is anxious to know how "any other man" would fare if caught committing such an act of barbarity as Obadiah Jackson was accused of, he can ascertain without the possibility of a doubt, if he will allow himself to be caught in a similar act of cruelty. Obadiah was not prosecuted by the S. P. C. A., and put under bonds by the magistrate, on account of his name, but because of cruel treatment of his horse. The transcendent genius of the brilliant querist would not be likely to dazzle the eyes of any sensible agent of the S. P. C. A., or any justice before whom he might be brought for trial.

It is not granted that Mr. Jackson "or any other man" may untail his animal on any such flimsy pretext as was urged in Jackson's defence. If for any cause it becomes necessary to amputate a living member from a horse, the horse is entitled to the services of the most skillful operator to be had. If a man ignorant of surgery and destitute of common sense chops off a horse's tail with a cleaver, or any other clumsy instrument of torture, he should be made to feel the stinging condemnation of an outraged public sentiment. And so should any other fool who witnesses, permits, counsels, aids, abets or is accessory to the act, either before or after its commission.

If newspaper reporters and scribblers have anything to offer in extenuation of such a brutal act let them do it with becoming modesty, or they will merit a share of the scorn with which all decent people look upon the cowardly ruffians who abuse every weak and defenceless creature subjected to their control.

HUMANITY.

Complaints were made on Saturday before Judge Ross of Biddeford, against Woodbury C. Ramsdell of York, for a single sale of liquor, for being a "common seller," and for maintaining a liquor nuisance.

Cases are constantly occurring in every family where, if Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup were used in time, the cough and cold would give no further trouble.

Lieut. Walton Goodwin is ordered to the naval academy.

It gives me pleasure to say that Adamson's Botanic Balsam cured me of a severe cold to which I have been subject, especially during the winter months, and I have in many instances recommended it to my friends, and all have been benefited by its use. We think it has no equal as a cough mixture.

BATTLE CREEK, Mich., Jan. 31, 1879.
Gentlemen—Having been afflicted for a number of years with indigestion and general debility, by the advice of my doctor I used Hop Bitters, and must say they afforded me almost instant relief. I am glad to be able to testify in their behalf. THOS. G. KNOX.

Lieut. James M. Miller is detached from the constitution and ordered to the Minnesota.

A Woman's Experience.

Mothers and daughters should feel alarmed when weariness constantly oppresses them. "If I am fretful from exhaustion of vital powers and the color is fading from my face, Parker's Ginger Tonic, gives quick relief. It builds me up and drives away pain with wonderful certainty."—Buffalo Inlay.

Pay Inspector Charles H. Eldredge has been commissioned to be a pay director in the navy.

Elegance and Purity.

Ladies who appreciate elegance and purity are using Parker's Hair Balsam. It is the best article sold for restoring gray hair to its original color, beauty and lustre.

Capt. J. H. Higbee, U. S. M. C., has reported for duty at the marine barracks, Boston.

Judge Men By Their Works.

A man is judged in this life by his works, and in his connection it may not be inopportune to add, that Dr. Swayne has accomplished more good through the medium of his Ointment for skin diseases, than has the school of physicians combined. "It's an ill wind that blows nobody good." What the physicians have lost Dr. Swayne has gained.

Rheumatism
Neuralgia, Sprains,
Pain in the Back and Side.
There is nothing more painful than these diseases; but the pain can be removed and the disease cured by use of Perry Davis' Pain Killer.
This remedy is not a cheap Benzine or Petroleum product that must be kept away from fire or heat to avoid danger of explosion, nor is it an untried experiment that may do more harm than good.
Pain Killer has been in constant use for forty years, and the universal testimony from all parts of the world is, It never fails. It not only effects a permanent cure, but it relieves pain almost instantaneously. Being a purely vegetable remedy, it is safe in the hands of the most inexperienced.
The record of cures by the use of PAIN KILLER would fill volumes. The following extracts from letters received show what those who have tried it think:
Edgar Cady, Owatonna, Minn., says:
About a year since my wife became subject to severe suffering from rheumatism. Our resort was to the PAIN KILLER, which speedily relieved her.
Charles Powell writes from the Sailors' Home, London:
I had been afflicted three years with neuralgia and violent vomiting of the stomach. The doctors at Westminster Hospital gave up my case in despair. I tried your PAIN KILLER, and it gave me immediate relief. I have regained my strength, and am now able to follow my usual occupation.
G. H. Walworth, Saco, Me., writes:
I experienced immediate relief from pain in the side by the use of your PAIN KILLER.
E. York says:
I have used your PAIN KILLER for rheumatism, and have received great benefit.
Barton Seaman says:
Have used PAIN KILLER for thirty years, and have found it a never failing remedy for rheumatism and lameness.
Mr. Burdett writes:
It never fails to give relief in cases of rheumatism.
Phil. Gilbert, Somerset, Pa., writes:
From actual use, I know your PAIN KILLER is the best medicine I can get.
All druggists keep PAIN KILLER. Its price is so low that it is within the reach of all, and it will save many times its cost in doctors' bills. 25c., 50c. and $1.00 a bottle.

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE.

To the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States:

An appalling calamity has befallen the American people since their chosen Representatives last met in the halls where you are now assembled. we might else recall with unalloyed content the rare prosperity with which, throughout the year, the nation has been blessed. Its harvests have been plenteous. Its varied industries have thriven. It has maintained with foreign governments the undisturbed relations of amity and peace. For these manifestations of His favor we owe to him who holds our destiny in his hands the tribute of our grateful devotions.

To that mysterious exercise of His will which has taken from us the loved and illustrious citizen who was lately the head of the nation, we bow in sorrow and submission. The memory of his exalted character, of his noble achievements, and of his patriotic life, will be treasured forever as a sacred possession of the whole people. The announcement of his death drew from foreign governments and people tributes of sympathy and sorrow which history will record as signal tokens of the kinship of nations and the federation of mankind.

RELATIONS WITH GREAT BRITAIN.

The feeling of goodwill between our own government and that of Great Britain was never more marked than at present. In recognition of this pleasing fact I directed, on the occasion of the late Centennial celebration at Yorktown, that a salute be given to the British flag.

Save for the correspondence to which I shall refer hereafter in relation to the proposed canal across the Isthmus of Panama, little has occurred worthy of mention in the diplomatic relations of the two countries.

Early in the year the Fortune Bay claims were satisfactorily settled by the British government paying in full the sum of £15,000, most of which has been already distributed. As the terms of the settlement included the compensation for injuries suffered by our fishermen at Gaspe Bay there has been retained from the gross award a sum which is deemed adequate for those claims.

The participation of Americans in the exhibitions at Melbourne and Sydney will be approvingly mentioned in the reports of the two exhibitions soon to be presented to Congress. They will disclose the readiness of our countrymen to make successful competition in distant fields of enterprise.

Negotiations for an International Copyright Convention are in hopeful progress.

The surrender of Sitting Bull and his forces upon the Canadian frontier has allayed apprehension, although bodies of British Indians still cross the border in quest of sustenance. Upon this subject a correspondence has been opened which promises an adequate understanding. Our troops have orders to avoid meanwhile all collisions with alien Indians.

THE EUROPEAN POWERS.

The presence at the Yorktown celebration of representative republicans, descendants of Lafayette and his gallant compatriots, who were our allies in the Revolution, has served to strengthen the spirit of goodwill which has always existed between the two nations.

You will be furnished with the proceedings of the bi-metallic conference held during the summer at the city of Paris. No accord was reached, but a valuable interchange of views was had, and the conference will next year be renewed.

At the electrical exhibition and congress, also held at Paris, this country was creditably represented by eminent specialists, who in the absence of an appropriation generously lent their efficient aid at the instance of the State Department, while our exhibitors in this almost distinctively American field of achievement have won several valuable awards. I recommend that Congress provide for the repayment of the personal expenses incurred in the public interest by the honorary commissioners and delegates.

No new questions respecting the status of our naturalized citizens in Germany have arisen during the year and causes of complaint especially in Alsace and Lorraine have practically ceased, through the action of the imperial government in accepting our often-pressed views on the subject. The application of the treaty of 1868 to the lately acquired Rhenish provinces has received very earnest attention. A definite and lasting agreement on this point is confidently expected. The participation of the descendants of Baron Von Steuben at the Yorktown festivities and their subsequent reception by their American kinsmen, strikingly evinced the ties of good will which unite the German people and our own.

Our intercourse with Spain has been friendly. An agreement concluded in February last fixes a term for the labors of the Spanish and American Claims Commission. The Spanish government has been requested to pay the late awards of that commission, and will, it is believed, accede to the request as promptly and courteously as on former occasions. By recent legislation onerous fees have been imposed upon American shipping in Spanish and colonial ports for slight irregularities in manifests, one case of hardship is especially worthy of attention. The barque Masonic, bound for Japan, entered Manila in distress, and is there sought to be confiscated under Spanish revenue laws for an alleged shortage in her transshipped cargo. Though efforts for her relief have thus far proved unavailing it is expected that the whole will be adjusted in a friendly spirit.

The Senate resolutions of condolence on the assassination of Czar Alexander II. were appropriately communicated to the Russian government, which in turn has expressed its sympathy in our late national bereavement. It is desirable that our cordial relations with Russia should be strengthened by proper engagements assuring to peaceable Americans who visit the Empire the consideration which is due to them as citizens of a friendly State. This is especially needful with respect to American Israelites whose classification with the native Hebrews has evoked energetic remonstrances from this government.

A supplementary agreement with Italy has been sanctioned and proclaimed which puts at rest conflicts of jurisdiction in the case of crimes on shipboard. Several important international conferences have been held in Italy during the year.

At the Geographical Congress at Venice, the Beneficent Congress of Milan, and the Hygienic Congress of Turin, this country was represented by delegates from branches of the public service or by private citizens duly accredited in an honorary capacity. It is hoped that Congress will give such prominence to the results of their participation as they may seem to deserve.

The abolition of all discriminating duties against such colonial production of the Dutch East Indies as are imported hither from Holland has been already considered by Congress. I trust that at the present session the matter may be favorably concluded.

The insecurity of life and property in many parts of Turkey has given rise to correspondence with the Porte looking particularly to the better protection of American missionaries in the empire. The condemned murderer of the American missionary, Mr Justin W. Parsons, has not yet been executed, although this government has repeatedly demanded that exemplary justice be done.

The Swiss government has solicited the good offices of our diplomatic and consular agents for the protection of its citizens in countries where it is not itself represented. This request has within proper limits been granted. Our agent in Switzerland has been instructed to protest against the conduct of the authorities of certain communities in permitting the emigration to this country of criminals and other objectionable persons. Several such persons through the co-operation of the Commissioners of Emigration at New York have been sent back by the steamers which brought them.

A continuance of this course may prove a more effective remedy than diplomatic remonstrance.

Treaties of commerce and navigation, and for the regulation of consular privileges, have been concluded with Roumania and Servia since their admission into the family of European States.

MEXICO AND OTHER AMERICAN STATES.

As is natural with contiguous States having like institutions and like aims of advancement and development, the friendship of the United States and Mexico has been constantly maintained. This government has lost no occasion of encouraging the Mexican government to a beneficial realization of the mutual advantage which will result from a more intimate commercial intercourse and from the opening of the rich interior of Mexico to railway enterprise. I deem it important that means be provided to restrain the lawlessness unfortunately so common on the frontier and to suppress the forays of the reservation Indians to either side of the Rio Grande.

The neighboring states of Central America have preserved internal peace, and their outward relations toward us have been those of intimate friendship. There are encouraging signs of their growing disposition to subordinate their local interests to those which are common to them by reason of their geographical relations.

The boundary dispute between Guatemala and Mexico has afforded this government an opportunity to exercise its good offices for preventing a rupture between those states and for procuring a peaceful solution of the question. I cherish strong hope that in view of our relations of amity with both countries, our friendly counsels may prevail. A special envoy of Guatemala has brought to me the condolences of his Government and people on the death of President Garfield.

The Costa Rican government lately framed an engagement with Columbia, settling by arbitration the boundary question between those countries, providing that the post of arbitrator should be offered successively to the King of the Belgians, the King of Spain, and the President of the Argentine Confederation. The King of the Belgians has declined to act, but I am not as yet advised of the action of the King of Spain. As we have certain interests in the disputed territory which are protected by our treaty engagements with one of the parties, it is important that the arbitration should not, without our consent, affect our rights, and this government has accordingly thought proper to make its views known to the parties to the agreement as well as to intimate Spanish and the Belgian and Spanish governments.

THE PANAMA CANAL.

The questions growing out of the proposed inter-oceanic water way across the Isthmus of Panama are of grave national importance. This government has not been unmindful of the solemn obligations imposed upon it by its compact of 1846 with Columbia, as the independent and sovereign mistress of the territory crossed by the canal, and has sought to render them effective by fresh engagements with the Colombian Republic, looking to their practical execution. The negotiations to this end, after they had reached what appeared to be a mutually satisfactory solution, were met in Columbia by a disavowal of the powers which its envoy had assumed, and by a proposal for renewed negotiations on a modified basis. Meanwhile this government learned that Colombia had proposed to the European powers to join in a guarantee of the neutrality of the proposed Panama canal, a guarantee which would be in direct contravention of our obligation as the sole guarantor of the integrity of Colombian territory and of the neutrality of the canal itself. My lamented predecessor felt it his duty to place before the European powers the reasons which make the prior guarantee of the United States indispensable, and for which the interjection of any foreign guarantee might be regarded as a superfluous and unfriendly act.

Foreseeing the probable reliance of the British government on the provisions of the Clayton Bulwer treaty of 1850 as affording room for a share in the guarantees which the United States covenanted with Colombia four years before, I have not hesitated to supplement the action of my predecessor by proposing to Her Majesty's government the modification of that instrument and the abrogation of such clauses thereof as do not comport with the obligations of the United States toward Colombia, or with the vital needs of the two friendly parties to the compact.

THE SOUTH AMERICAN STATES.

This Government sees with great concern the continuance of hostile relations between Chili, Bolivia and Peru. An early peace between these republics is much to be desired, not only that they may themselves be spared further misery and bloodshed, but because their continued antagonism threatens consequences which are in my judgment dangerous to the interests of Republican Government on this continent and calculated to destroy the best elements of our free, and peaceful civilization. As in the present excited condition of popular feeling in these countries there has been serious misapprehension of the position of the United States, and as separate diplomatic intercourse with each through independent ministers is sometimes subject, owing to the want of prompt reciprocal communication, to temporary misunderstanding, I have deemed it judicious at the present time to send a special envoy accredited to all and each of them and furnished with general instructions, which will, I trust, enable him to bring these powers into friendly relations.

The Government of Venezuela maintains its attitude of warm friendship, and continues with great regularity its payment of the monthly quota of the diplomatic debt. Without suggesting the direction in which Congress should act, I ask its attention to the pending question affecting the distribution of the sums thus far received. The relations between Venezuela and France, growing out of the same debt, have been for some time past in an unsatisfactory state and this Government, as the neighbor and one of the largest creditors of Venezuela, has interested itself since with the French Government with the view of procuring a friendly and honorable adjustment.

I regret that the commercial interests between the United States and Brazil, from which great advantages were hoped a year ago, have suffered from the withdrawal of the American lines of communication between the Brazilian ports and our own.

Through the efforts of our Minister resident at Buenos Ayres and the United States Minister at Santiago, a treaty has been concluded between the Argentine Republic and Chili, disposing of the long pending Patagonian boundary question. It is a matter of congratulation that our Government has been afforded the opportunity of successfully exerting its good influence for the prevention of disagreements between these Republics of the American continent.

CHINA AND JAPAN.

I am glad to inform you that the treaties lately negotiated with China have been duly ratified on both sides, and the exchange made at Pekin. Legislation is necessary to carry their provisions into effect. The prompt and friendly spirit with which the Chinese Government, at the request of the United States, conceded the modifications of existing treaties should secure careful regard for the interests and susceptibilities of that Government in the enactment of any laws relating to Chinese immigration. Those clauses of the treaties which forbid the participation of citizens or vessels of the United States in the opium trade will doubtless receive approval and will attest the sincere interest which our people and Government feel in the commendable efforts of the Chinese Government to put a stop to this demoralizing and destructive traffic. In relation both to China and Japan, some changes are desirable in our present system of consular jurisdiction. I hope at some future time to lay before you a scheme for its improvement in the entire east.

The intimacy between our country and Japan, the most advanced of the Eastern nations, continues to be cordial. I am advised that the Emperor contemplates the establishment of full constitutional government, and that he has already summoned a Parliamentary Congress for the purpose of effecting the change. Such a remarkable step toward complete assimilation with the Western system cannot fail to bring Japan into closer and more beneficial relationship with ourselves as the chief Pacific power. A question has arisen in relation to the exercise in that country of the judicial functions conferred upon our Ministers and Consuls. The indictment, trial and conviction in the Consular Court at Yokohama of John Ross, a merchant seamen on board an American vessel, have made it necessary for the Government to institute a careful examination into the nature and methods of this jurisdiction. It appeared that Ross was regularly shipped under the flag of the United States, but was by birth a British subject. My predecessor felt it his duty to maintain the position that during his service as a regularly-shipped seamen on board an American merchant vessel Ross was subject to the laws of that service and to the jurisdiction of the United States consular authorities. I renew the recommendation which has been heretofore urged by the Executive upon the attention of Congress that after the return of such amount as may be found due to American citizens the balance of the indemnity funds heretofore obtained from China and Japan, and which are now in the hands of the State Department, be returned to the Governments of those countries.

GENERAL FOREIGN RELATIONS.

The King of Hawaii, in the course of his homeward return, after a journey around the world, has lately visited this country. While our relations with that kingdom are friendly, this Government has viewed with concern the efforts to seek a replenishment of the diminishing population of the islands from outward sources to a degree which may impair the native sovereignty and independence, in which the United States was among the first to testify a lively interest.

Relations of unimpaired amity have been maintained throughout the year with the respective Governments of Austro-Hungary, Belgium, Hayti, Paraguay and Uruguay, Portugal, and Sweden and Norway. This may also be said of Greece and Ecuador, although our relation with those States have for some years been severed by the withdrawal of appropriations for diplomatic representatives at Athens and Quito. It seems expedient to restore those missions, even on a reduced scale, and I decidedly recommend such a course with respect to Ecuador, which is likely within the near future to play an important part among the nations of the Southern Pacific.

At its last extra session the Senate called for the text of the Geneva Convention for the relief of the wounded in war. I trust this action foreshadows such interest in the subject as will result in the adhesion of the United States to that humane and commendable engagement.

I invite your attention to the propriety of adopting the new code of international rules for the prevention of collision on the high seas, and of conforming the domestic legislation of the United States thereto, so that no confusion may arise from the application of conflicting rules in the case of vessels of different nationalities meeting in tidal waters. These international rules differ but slightly from our own. They have been adopted by the Navy Department for the governance of the war ships of the United States on the high seas and in foreign waters, and through the action of the State Department in disseminating the rules and in acquainting shipmasters of the option of conforming to them without the jurisdictional waters of the United States they are now very generally known and observed.

The State Department still continues to publish to the country the trade and manufacturing reports received from its officers abroad. The success of this course warrants its continuance, and such appropriations as may be required to meet the rapidly increasing demand for these publications. With special reference to the Atlanta Cotton Exposition, the October number of the reports was devoted to a valuable collection of papers on the cotton goods trade of the world.

THE SANITARY CONFERENCE.

The International Sanitary Conference for which in 1879 Congress made provision, assembled in this city early in January last, and its sessions were prolonged until March. Although it reached no specific conclusions affecting the future action of the participant powers, the interchange of views proved to be most valuable. The full protocol of the sessions have been already presented to the Senate. As pertinent to this great subject, I call your attention to the operations of the National Board of Health, established by act of Congress, approved March 3, 1879. Its sphere of duty was enlarged by the act of June 2 in the same year. By the last named act the board was required to institute such measures as might be deemed necessary for preventing the introduction of contagious or infectious diseases from foreign countries into the United States, or from one State into another. The execution of the rules and regulations prepared by the board and approved by my predecessor has done much to arrest the progress of epidemic diseases, and has thus been of much service to the nation. The International Sanitary Conference, to which I referred, adopted a form of a bill of health to be used by all vessels seeking to enter the ports of countries whose representatives participated in its deliberations. This form has since been prescribed by the National Board of Health and incorporated with its rules and regulations, which have been approved by me in pursuance of law. The health of the people is of supreme importance, and all measures looking to their protection against the spread of contagious diseases and to the increase of our sanitary knowledge for such purposes deserve the attention of Congress.

They Have Never Failed!

I have been sick more or less for the last ten years, which has cost me many dollars in doctors' and druggists' bills. The last two years it only cost me three dollars. Why? Because I used Sulphur Bitters instead of employing doctors. They cured me of jaundice.—J. J. Boyd, Hoboken.

Judge Men By Their Works.

A man is judged in this life by his works, and in this connection it may not be inopportune to add, that Dr. Swayne has accomplished more good through the medium of his Ointment for skin diseases, than has the school of physicians combined. "It's an ill wind that blows nobody good." What the physicians have lost Dr. Swayne has gained.

Railroad Matters in Boston.

New York quietly descended upon Boston on Tuesday of this week, and took possession of the management of the New York & New England railroad. The Boston men will put millions in some far-off railroad, and lose the control of a line with their city limits. The next move will be to make a connection of this New York road with the Eastern railroad, so that there may be saved the uncomfortable delays now experienced in Boston, which will soon become a way station where through passenger trains will wait five minutes for refreshments.

News and Notes.

Capt. Isaac Bassett, assistant sergeant-at-arms of the senate, on the 5th inst. completed his fifty years of continuous service in the senate chamber. The event was recognized on the part of the senators by the presentation to this veteran officer of an elegant and costly snuff box, bearing the following inscription: "Isaac Bassett, page U. S. S., Dec. 5, 1831. Assistant sergeant-at-arms U. S. S., Dec. 5, 1881." The father of Capt. Bassett had charge of the senate chamber when the latter was a mere boy.

At Lawrence, Mass., Dec. 6th, James Hallesey of Salem was arraigned, charged with being accessory to procuring an abortion upon Kate Portland, and pleaded not guilty. The case was continued for ten days. In default of $2,000 bail he was committed. The woman was found dead in her bed at Lawrence a few days ago, from the effects of a criminal operation.

Henry Ferrin has been held without bail at Woburn, Mass., to await the action of the grand jury on a charge of murdering Mrs. Matilda Raymond.

Mrs. John P. Russell of Malden, Mass., was killed in that town by a Boston & Maine railroad train, on the afternoon of the 6th inst.

A French Canadian factory girl at Brunswick, Me., spent $150, all the money she possessed, to win a $7 ring that was to be voted to the most popular girl at a fair.

Charles A. Briggs pleaded guilty at Northampton, Mass., Dec. 6th, to the murder of Charles Stetson, in Pelham, last spring, and Justices Devens and Allen of the supreme court sentenced him to imprisonment for life.

The engagement of Paymaster I. Goodwin Hobbs, U. S. N., who is stationed at the torpedo station at Newport, R. I., to Miss Hazard of Newport, is announced by the Boston Post.

Annie Lord, aged twenty-seven years, unmarried, committed suicide by drowning in Shawsheen river at Andover, Mass., Monday night, 5th. Disappointment in love was the cause. Her parents reside in Salem.

Mrs. Thomas Kennedy of Chicopee, Mass., fifty-five years old, was struck by a Connecticut River railroad train while walking on the track, Tuesday noon, the 6th inst., to carry dinner to her two sons, and was fatally injured.

There are now in the Alfred jail five United States prisoners and ten county prisoners. Sixteen county prisoners is the largest number that has been in jail at any one time the past year.

Guiteau's "Insanity."

Speaking of the assassin Guiteau, and his answers to the questions of Judge Porter, the Boston Journal says:

No part of the trial of the monster who murdered the president has attracted so much attention as the cross-examination of the assassin by Judge Porter. He made the prisoner confess himself to be a fraud and a hypocrite, and caused him to badly shatter his own theory of insanity. But what is more important, the witness, during this long and searching examination, has shown no indication of wandering, but, on the other hand, he has shown a clearness of comprehension that must be considered remarkable in a man of more than ordinary acuteness and self-control. The man who for hours can hold his own in a mental combat with a lawyer like Judge Porter, with all the odds against him, is not insane to that degree that he is not always cognizant of his acts.

POLICE COURT.

WEDNESDAY, Dec. 7; Bufford J.

John Foley and James Harris, tramps, (case continued from Tuesday,) were bound over in the sum of $100 to appear at the April term of the supreme court at Exeter. Jail in default of sureties. These fellows belong to a gang of five tramps who have for some time been prowling about the outskirts of the city, living probably by begging and petty thieving One of the gang was sent to jail on the 6th, for drunkenness. The two committed for trial on the 7th have for several nights slept in a barn near the powder-house. The city marshal proposes to put all such gentry before the police court as tramps, and as the "tramp law" will send them to state prison if convicted in the supreme court, our city will probably be to a great extent avoided by bummers this winter.

BOARD OF ISTRUCTION.

The regular meeting of the Board of Instruction was held on Wednesday evening, December 7th; present Mayor Sise, Mrs. Knight, Mrs. Wilson, Messrs. May, Knight, George, Goodrich, Vaughan, Gardner, Newton and Pender.

The resignation of Miss Lizzie S. Wood as a teacher in the Jones school was received and accepted, to take effect at the end of the present term.

Voted that Miss Ida L. Marston be transferred to the vacancy caused by the resignation of Miss Wood, and Miss Lizzie M. Flagg transferred to the vacancy caused by the promotion of Miss Marston.

Voted that no applicant be considered eligible for a permanent election as teacher until after serving as a substitute three months.

Voted that the present term close Tuesday, December twentieth.

A special meeting of the Woman's Temperance League will be held this (Thursday) afternoon at three o'clock, by order of the proper authority.

Pansies were reported on the 7th inst. as being still blooming in many gardens about the city.

On the 7th inst. a telephone was placed in the office of the building occupied by Randall & Caswell on Philbrick's wharf, connecting with their fish market at Spring hill. Mr. John H. Hutchinson's store on Congress street, and his residence on Lincoln avenue, will be connected by telephone to-day.

The schooner Jane, lumber loaded, came into the lower harbor for shelter on Tuesday evening of this week, and got ashore on the Kittery side next morning; she was towed off by the tug Clara Batemen, without having sustained any material damage.

The Eastern railroad this year makes "no provision whatever" for the transportation to and from Boston, "railroad day," Wednesday, Dec. 14th, of holders of bonds and stocks, by any of the regular passenger trains. Au extra train leaves for Boston at 6:45 o'clock A. M., and Boston for this city at 4:45 o'clock P. M., especially to accommodate the holders of stock in and bonds of the "Eastern railroad in Massachusetts;" no other persons will be allowed to ride free.

The tug Ann had a break-down in the lower harbor on Wednesday, 7th inst., and was towed up to the wharf by the Clara Batemen.

There were several arrivals of fish on Wednesday of this week, owing to the storm, which prevented most of the vessels from getting fares large enough to induce them to go to Boston. The following were the vessels which came up to the wharf, with their fares: Addie & Hattie 2200 lbs.; Grace Choate, 2100 lbs.; Christie Campbell, 5600 lbs.; Northern Star 7000 lbs.; Josie Johnson, 1200 lbs.; Flying Cloud 3000 lbs.; Albert Woodbury,; 3000 lbs. Cora Lee, 5000 lbs.

A gentleman and lady were driving through Warren street on Wednesday evening of this week, when their buggy came in contact with a barrel that was placed on the side of the street, upsetting the team and throwing the occupants out. The horse fortunately was immediately stopped, the carriage righted, and the parties proceeded on their ride apparently uninjured.

Mr. C. B. Edmunds, station agent at Greenland for the Concord & Portsmouth railroad, started for Florida on Monday, the 5th inst., intending to be gone about three weeks.

Information has been received that Pierce M. Barker, a native of Stratham, but a resident of California for many years, has been murdered. He was returning to his house from market, when he was waylaid and killed.

An entertainment was given in the academy at Greenland on the evening of the 6th inst., for the benefit of Miss Merrill, the principal of the academy. Refreshments were served, and the net proceeds of the affair were twenty-six dollars.

A dory came ashore at Foss' beach, Rye, on the 7th inst.; also oars and other boat gear. Whether the articles were swept from the deck of some fishing vessel the night before (there were a number of fishing schooners in the bay that night, and the weather was what the fishermen call "dirty,") or are the wreck of some more serious disaster, nothing was found to indicate. The dory is painted a dark green.

Mr. Charles O. A company has been formed to explore the veins of tin ore in Winslow, Me., on the Kennebec. Prof. C. H. Hitchcock says that the ore seems sufficiently abundant to remunerate quite extensive outlay for mining. Prof. Forest Shepherd says the deposits at the surface are quite equal in quality to the best in Cornwall. This discovery, if it should lead to the development of a really valuable mine, will be of the greatest importance, as tin has not heretofore been found in considerable quantities in the United States. Most of the tin used in this country is imported from England.

Terrible Accident.
Domestic accidents are common to women, and some of them are very serious. Mrs. Warner, of South Rondout, Ulster Co., N. Y., some weeks ago attempted to take from her child a pair of shears with which it was playing. A slight struggle ensued, in which the point of the shears entered Mrs. Warner's left eye, entirely destroying the sight. Her family physician did what he could, but intensely painful inflammation arose, which, by sympathy, threatened the loss of the other eye. Total blindness to a woman having the care of a household is an irretrievable calamity. In this strait Mrs. Warner applied to that the well-known and skilful surgeon Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., who removed the injured eye by a very successful operation, setting aside all danger of further harm to the sight of the other eye. But, owing to pain and mental distress, her system needed a tonic and restorative medicine. To do this work the Doctor prescribed "Kennedy's Favorite Remedy," which vindicated its reputation and laid a sure foundation of health.

The New Speaker of the House.

A writer in the New York Tribune, referring to the new speaker of the national house of representatives, says General Keifer is an excellent specimen of the sturdy men whom western farms and schoolhouses graduate in public life. He was born, and has lived all his life, in the fertile farming country of Clarke county, Ohio, in the southern half of the state. His parentage is American on both sides, his father being a native of Maryland and his mother of Ohio. He worked on a farm and read law there, after leaving school and college, and grew up among a population much like that of the Western Reserve—independent, hard-working, intelligent, and given to much reading of the best newspapers. They are mostly all small farmers, well-to-do and active, the best class of American rural population. With these people General Keifer is said to be a favorite, having won his way in his profession and in politics by hard, patient work and application, and having earned the respect of all of them by the sterling qualities of his character.

He has a brisk, western manner, entirely without assumption. In figure he is rather thick set, something less than tall, with broad shoulders and a square, firm build throughout. He has a high, well-shaped head, a full, dark beard streaked with gray, and grayish hair, carelessly thrown back from a high forehead. His eyes are gray, and his general expression is that of a direct, straightforward and energetic man.

In legislative work he is regarded as careful and thorough, perhaps a little slow, but always getting to the bottom. Many members of the House recall the debate on the posse commitatus clause in the army bill, in which he surpassed the republican leaders in his comprehensive understanding of the whole subject. He is a plain speaker, making no attempt at oratory, but having, on occasion, a certain rugged, natural eloquence. It is noticed that the democratic members generally speak of him with respect and liking.

Frank Sharon, of Fall River, Mass., a barber, had a quarrel with his wife on the 20th ult., and was arrested for assaulting her. She subsequently acknowledged satisfaction, and on the night of the 6th they retired together. Early in the morning on the 7th the man arose, took a short walk, and returning to the chamber where his wife was sleeping, shot her dead as she lay in bed; he says "something crossed his mind and told him to do it," which is about like Guiteau's insanity. Mrs. Sharon leaves three children, the oldest being five years old, and was near her fourth confinement. The murderer gave himself up, and appeared wholly unconcerned.

Father McCarty of Greenfield, Mass., shot by David McMillen, died on the night of the 6th inst.

Jeremiah Locke of Seabrook, fifty-five years old, while shingling the house of John D. Greeley of that town on the 5th inst., fell to the ground, a distance of twenty feet, and striking his face on a pile of bricks was seriously hurt, his nose being broken and his jaws crushed. His injuries were expected to prove fatal.

That slight tickling in the throat and disposition to slight cough may be the precursor of years of suffering unless you take Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup which never disappoints. Price 25 cents.

Asst. Engr. H. E. Frick has been granted sick leave.

"I fell from my wagon a few days since," writes Mr. G. C. Atkins, Beaver, Pa., "and sprained my wrist so very badly that I could not attend to my business. After using seven different remedies, and the pain increasing, I tried St. Jacobs Oil. In ten minutes the pain had gone, and I could enjoy a night's sleep." It is the remedy.

Chief. Engr. F. G. McKean has been ordered to duty in the bureau of steam engineering at Washington.

When I was Sick!
My room looked like a drug store, I had so many bottles in it. The more I dosed the worse off I was. Finally I paid my doctor and told him he needn't come any more. I was troubled with chronic rheumatism, and couldn't get out of bed alone. Six bottles of Sulphur Bitters cured me.—Fireman, Boston.

Comdr. Wm. C. Wise is detached from duty as inspector of ordnance at the Norfolk navy yard, and placed on waiting orders.

"Pro Bono Publico."
It is a very remarkable fact, that while thousands of people refuse to read paid puffs of worthless nostrums, none skip over Dr. Swayne's little squib about his Ointment for Itching piles that itch so much at night. The people well know that it is published for their benefit, in other words, is pro bono publico. May its far reaching effects be perpetuated to the end of time.

Rheumatism
Neuralgia, Sprains,
Pain in the Back and Side.
There is nothing more painful than these diseases; but the pain can be removed and the disease cured by use of Perry Davis' Pain Killer.
This remedy is not a cheap Benzine or Petroleum product that must be kept away from fire or heat to avoid danger of explosion, nor is it an untried experiment that may do more harm than good.
Pain Killer has been in constant use for forty years, and the universal testimony from all parts of the world is, it never fails. It not only effects a permanent cure, but it relieves pain almost instantaneously. Being a purely vegetable remedy, it is safe in the hands of the most inexperienced.
The record of cures by the use of PAIN KILLER would fill volumes. The following extracts from letters received show what those who have tried it think:
Edgar Cady, Owatonna, Minn., says: About a year since my wife became subject to severe suffering from rheumatism. Our resort was to the PAIN KILLER, which speedily relieved her.
Charles Powell writes from the Sailors' Home, London: I had been afflicted three years with neuralgia and violent spasms of the stomach. The doctors at Westminster Hospital gave up my case in despair. I tried your PAIN KILLER, and it gave me immediate relief. I have regained my strength, and am now able to follow my usual occupation.
G. H. Walworth, Saco, Me., writes: I experienced immediate relief from pain in the side by the use of your PAIN KILLER.
E. York says: I have used your PAIN KILLER for rheumatism, and have received great benefit.
Barton Seaman says: Have used PAIN KILLER for thirty years, and have found it a never failing remedy for rheumatism and lameness.
Mr. Burditt writes: It never fails to give relief in cases of rheumatism.
Phil. Gilbert, Somerset, Pa., writes: From actual use, I know your PAIN KILLER is the best medicine I can get.
All druggists keep PAIN KILLER. Its price is so low that it is within the reach of all, and it will save many times its cost in doctors' bills. 25c., 50c. and $1.00 a bottle.

Compared with the previous year there was an increase of $66,738,688 in the value of exports of merchandise, and a decrease of $25,290,118 in the value of imports. The annual average of the excess of imports of merchandise over exports thereof for ten years previous to June 30, 1873, was $204,-806 922, but for the last six years there has been an excess of exports over imports of merchandise amounting to $118 066,681.05 The specie value of the exports of domestic merchandise was $376 616 473 in 1870, and $883,925,947 in 1880 an increase of $507 809,474, or 135 per cent. The value of imports was $435 958,408 in 1870 and $642,664,628 in 1881, an increase of $206.-706,220, or 47 per cent. During each year, from 1862 to 1874 inclusive, the exports of specie exceeded the imports. The largest excess of such exports over imports was reached during the year 1864, when it amounted to $92,280,929, but during the year ending June 30, 1880, the imports of coin and bullion exceeded the exports by $75 891,391, and during the last fiscal year the excess of imports over exports was $91,168,050

The reduction of the annual interest on the public debt through the funding transaction is as follows: By reduction of interest to 3 1 2 per cent, $10,473,952 25; by redemption of bonds, $6 352 340; total, $19,826 292 25. Unless the 3 1-2 per cent. bonds can be funded at a much lower rate of interest than they now bear, no legislation respecting them is desirable. The business of the country has been so prosperous during the past year as to yield by taxation a large surplus of income to the government. If the revenue laws remain unchanged, this surplus must year by year increase, on account of the reduction of the public debts and its burden of interest, and because of the rapid increase of our population. In 1860, just prior to the institution of our internal revenue system our population but slightly exceeded 30 000,000. By the census of 1880 it is now found to exceed 50 000 000. It is estimated that even if the annual receipts and expenditures should continue as at present, the entire debt could be paid in ten years. In view, however, of the heavy load of taxation which our people have already borne, we may well consider whether it is not the part of wisdom to reduce the revenues even if we delay a little the payment of the debt.

I therefore concur with the secretary in recommending the abolition of all internal revenue taxes, except those upon tobacco in its various forms and upon distilled spirits and fermented liquors, and except also the special tax upon the manufacturers of and dealers in such articles. I agree with the secretary of the treasury that the law imposing a stamp tax upon matches, proprietary articles, playing cards, checks and drafts may with propriety be repealed, and the law also by which banks and bankers are assessed upon their capital and deposits. In the present condition of our revenues the tax upon deposits is especially unjust

The retention of this tax has been suggested as a means of reimbursing the government for the expense of printing and furnishing the circulating notes If the tax should be repealed, it would certainly seem proper to require the National banks to pay the amount of such expense to the comptroller of the currency.

The increase of the revenue for 1881 over those of the previous year was $29 352,-901.10. It is estimated that the receipts during the present fiscal year will reach $400 000 000, and the expenditures $270-000 000 leaving a surplus of $130 000,000, applicable to the sinking fund and the redemption of the public debt.

The early retirement of silver certificates is recommended, on the ground that they are an unnecessary addition to the currency; also that the law be changed so as not to oblige the monthly coinage of more silver than is necessary to supply the demand; also that the issue of gold certificates should not be resumed for the present, and that national banks be not allowed to retire their currency without reasonable notice.

The revenue from customs for the past fiscal year was $198 159 676 02, an increase of $11,637,611 42 over that of the year preceding; $138,098,562 39 of this amount was collected at the port of New York, leaving $59,251,113.63 as the amount collected at all the other ports of the country. Of this sum, $47,977,137.63 was collected on sugar, melado and molasses; $27 285,624,78 on wool and its manufactures $21,462,534 34 on iron and steel and the manufactures thereof, $19,-038 665 81 on the manufactures of silk, $10 825 115 21 on manufactures of cotton, and $86 469 643 04 on wines and spirits, making a total revenue from these sources of $133,058,720.81. The expenses of collection for the past year were $6,419 345 20, an increase over the preceding year of $387,4 0.04 Notwithstanding the increase in the revenue from customs over the preceding year, the gross value of the imports, including free goods, decreased over $25 000 000 The market decrease was in the value of unmanufactured wool, $14,-023 682, and in that of scrap and pig iron, $12,810,671 The value of imports of sugar, on the other hand, showed an increase of $7,457,474; of steel rails, $4-345,521; of barley, $2 154,204 and of steel in bars, ingots, etc., $1,679 046. Contrasted with the imports during the last fiscal year, the exports were as follows: Domestic merchandise, $883 925 947; foreign merchandise, $18,451,399; total, $902,377 346. Imports of merchandise, $642,664 628; excess of exports over imports of merchandise, $259,712 718; aggregate of exports and imports, $1,545,-041,974.

A comparison of the amount of taxes collected under the varying rates of taxation which have at different times prevailed, suggests the intimation that some reduction may soon be made without material diminution of the revenue The tariff laws need revision, but that a due regard may be paid to the conflicting interests of our citizens, important changes should be made with caution. To this end a commission such as was lately approved by the Senate and recommended by the secretary of the treasury is favorably considered.

THE ARMY AND NAVY.

Regarding the army, legislation is recommended increasing the number of enlisted men to 30,000, the maximum allowed by law, that quietness may be maintained on our shifting frontier, and settlers protected from Indians, the present army being necessarily scattered over such a vast territory as to be of little avail.

After considering the capture of Sitting Bull and his band, and Indian affairs in general, legislation is recommended to punish by imprisonment trespass upon the Indian reservations, as the only punishment at present for such an offence is the forcible removal of such intruders and the imposition of a pecuniary fine, which is a sum at impossible to collect. A further recommendation is made for additional appropriation for the subsistence of Indian tribes whose appropriation has run out, that the War Department may be relieved of such charge. The report of the chief of engineers on the improvements of rivers and harbors is commended, and an increase of the strength of the engineers' battalion is recommended, that public works already begun may be finished with dispatch. The actual expenses of the War Department for the year ending June 30 1881, were $4-212,229,139. The appropriations for the year 1882 were $4 488 972,512 The estimates for 1883 are $4 454 127,891.

The placing of the navy upon a war footing meets with favor, in the following words: "I cannot too strongly urge upon you my conviction that every consideration of national safety, economy and honor imperatively demands a thorough rehabilitation of our navy. With a full appreciation of the fact that compliance with the suggestions of the head of that department of the advisory board must involve a large expenditure of the public moneys, I earnestly recommend such appropriations as will accomplish the end which seems to me so desirable.

THE POST OFFICE DEPARTMENT.

The report of the postmaster-general is highly commended. The receipts from postage and other ordinary services during the past fiscal year were $36,489,816.-58; the receipts from the money-order business were $295,581.39, making a total of $36,785,397.97. The expenditure for the fiscal year was $69,251,736 46, and the deficit supplied out of the general treasury was $2,401,129.35, or 67 per cent. of the amount. The receipts were $3,469,918.63 in the excess of those of the previous year, and $4,878,397.97 in excess of those two years ago. The whole number of letters mailed in this country in the last fiscal year exceeded 1,000,000,000. The registry system is reported to be in excellent condition. The number of letters and packages registered during the year was 8,338,199, of which only 2061 were lost or destroyed in transit. The operations of the money order system are multiplying yearly. 5429 offices being in operation at the date of the report. The money orders of the year aggregated $105,075,769.35. A modification of the system is suggested, reducing the fees for money orders not exceeding $5 from ten cents to five cents, and making the maximum limit $100 in place of $50. Legislation for the disposition of unclaimed money orders in the Post Office Department is recommended, as their total value now exceeds $1,000,-000, the attention of Congress is again invited to the subject of establishing a system of savings depositories in connection with the Post Office Department. The statistics of mail transportation show that during the past year railroad routes have been increased in length 6249 miles and in cost $1,114,382, while steamboat routes have been decreased in length 21,82 miles and in cost $134,654. The so-called Star routes have been decreased in length 3949 miles and in cost $364,144. Nearly all the more expensive routes have been suspended by railroad service, and the cost of the Star service must therefore rapidly decrease in the Western States and Territories.

Regarding the Star route prosecutions the President says: The investigations of the Department of Justice and the Post Office Department have resulted in the presentation of indictments against persons form rly connected with the Star route service accusing them of offences against the United States. I have enjoined upon the officials who are charged with the conduct of the cases on the part of the government, and upon the eminent counsel who before my accession to the presidency were called to their assistance, the duty of prosecuting with the utmost rigor of the law all persons who may be found chargeable with frauds upon the postal service.

THE STATE DEPARTMENT

calls attention to the necessity of modifying the present system of the courts of the United States, a necessity due to the large increase of business, especially in the Supreme Court. The necessity for relief is emphasized, but no suggestions are made. Another subject to which the acting attorney-general calls attention, the depredations of the band of marauders known in the Southwest as the Cow Boys, is thus treated: "With every disposition to meet the exigencies of the case, I am embarrassed by lack of authority to deal with them effectually. The punishment of crimes committed within Arizona should ordinarily, of course, be left to territorial authorities, but it is worthy of consideration whether acts which necessarily tend to embroil the United States with neighboring governments should not be declared crimes against the United States." Legislation on the subject is asken for and emphasized by the statement that if the territorial governments should ask for protection from the United States the government would be powerless, owing to an error or blunder made in the revision of the statutes.

"It seems to me that, whatever views may prevail as to the policy of recent legislation by which the army has ceased to be a part of the posse comitatus, an exception might well be made for permitting the military to assist the civil territorial authorities in enforcing the laws of the United States. From sparseness of population and other circumstances it is often quite impracticable to summon a civil posse in places where a military force is within easy reach."

THE INDIAN QUESTION.

The President then calls attention to the report of the secretary of the interior with regard to the Indian question. After alluding to the policy which has been adopted toward the Indians, he continues: I refer, of course, to the policy of dealing with the various Indian tribes as separate nationalities, of relegating them by treaty stipulations to the occupancy of immense reservations in the West, and encouraging them to live a savage life undisturbed by any earnest and well-directed efforts to bring them under the influences of civilization. We have to deal with the appalling fact that though thousands of lives have been sacrificed and hundreds of millions of dollars expended in the attempt to solve the Indian problem, it has until within the past few years seemed scarcely nearer a solution than it was half a century ago. The government has proceeded cautiously, and before long it is hoped relief will come; but legislation is necessary.

First, I recommend the passing of an act making the laws of the various States and Territories applicable to the Indian reservations within their borders, and extending the laws of the State of Arkansas to the portion of the Indian Territory not occupied by the five civilized tribes. The Indian should receive the protection of the law. He should be allowed to maintain in court his rights of person and property. He has repeatedly begged this privilege; its exercise would be very valuable to him in his progress toward civilization.

Second, the enactment of a general law permitting the allotment in severalty to such Indians at least as desire it of a reasonable quantity of land secured to them by patent and for their own protection, made inalienable for twenty or twenty-five years. Their tribal days are over, and it is now for their best interests to conform their manner of living to the new order of life.

Third, I advise a liberal appropriation for the support of Indian schools. Among the most uncultivated Indian tribes there is reported to be a general and urgent desire on the part of the chief and older members for the education of their children.

MORMONISM AND OTHER MATTERS.

He then refers to the subject of Mormonism, and says the existing laws for the punishment of this odious crime have been persistently violated, and that its faith is rapidly spreading. It is the duty of Congress and the executive to use all the power they can wield for its destruction. He promises to co-operate with Congress in any lawful and discreet measure which may be proposed to that end.

With regard to the education question he says that all that can be done by local legislation and generosity should be supplemented by such aid as can be constitutionally afforded by the national government.

He then makes a brief allusion to the report of the commissioner of agriculture, and then continues: It appears from the report of the commissioner of pensions that since 1860 789,063 original pension claims have been filed, 450,949 of these have been allowed and inscribed on the pension roll; 72,539 have been reported and abandoned, being 13 plus per cent. of the whole number of claims settled. There are now pending for settlement 265,575 original pension claims, 227,040 of which were filed prior to July 1, 1880. These, when allowed, will involve the payment of arrears from the date of discharge in case of an invalid, and from date of death or termination of a prior right in all other cases. From all the data obtainable it is estimated that 75 per cent. of this number of claims can be settled in six years with the present force. It is stated, however, by the commissioner of pensions that by an addition of 250 clerks—increasing the adjudicating force rather than the mechanical—double the amount of work could be accomplished, so that these cases could be acted upon within three years.

The President advises appropriations for international improvements, and suggests the adoption of some measure for the removal of obstructions which now impede navigation on the Mississippi river.

OF APPOINTMENTS TO OFFICE

he says: Original appointments should be base upon ascertained fitness. "The tenure of office should be stable." Positions of responsibility should so far as practicable be filled by the promotion of worthy and efficient officers. The investigation of all complaints and the punishment of all official misconduct should be prompt and thorough. The views expressed in my letter accepting the vice-presidency are those which will govern my administration of the executive office. They are doubtless shared by intelligent and patriotic citizens. The avowed purpose of the English system is to induce the educated young men of the country to devote their lives to public employment by an assurance that, having once entered upon it, they need never leave it, and that after voluntary retirement they shall be the recipients of an annual pension. A statute which should incorporate all its essential features I should feel bound to give my approval to, but whether it would be for the best interests of the public to fix upon an expedient for immediate and extensive application which embraces certain features of the English system, but excludes or ignores others of equal importance, may be seriously doubted, even by those who are impressed as I am myself with the grave importance of correcting the evils which be set the present methods of appointment. There are very many characteristics which go to make a model civil servant. Prominent among them are probity, industry, good sense, good habits, good temper, patience, order, courtesy, tact, self-reliance, manly deference to superior officers and manly consideration for inferiors. The absence of these traits is not supplied by wide knowledge of books or by promptitude in answering questions. The office under consideration is one of great importance. The evils which it contains cannot be eradicated at once. The work must be gradual. The present English system is a growth of years, and was not created by a single stroke of executive or legislative action. Its beginnings are found in an order in council promulgated in 1855, and it was after patient and cautious scrutiny of its workings that fifteen years later it took its present shape. It may be that before we confine ourselves upon this important question within the stringent bounds of statutory enactment we may profitably await the result of further inquiry and experiment.

FURTHER RECOMMENDATIONS.

The continuing decline of the merchant marine of the United States is to be greatly deplored, in view of the fact that we furnish so large a proportion of the freight of the commercial world, and that our shipments are steadily and rapidly increasing. It is a cause of surprise that not only is our navigation interest diminishing, but is less than when our exports and imports were not half so large as now, either in bulk or value. There must be some peculiar hinderance to the development of this interest, or the enterprise and energy of American mechanics and capitalists would have kept this country at least abreast of our rivals in the friendly contest for ocean supremacy. The substitution of iron for wood and of steam for sail have wrought revolutions in the carrying trade of the world. But these changes would not have been adverse to America if we had given to our navigation interests a portion of the aid in protection which have been so wisely bestowed upon our manufactures. I commend the whole subject to the wisdom of Congress with the suggestion that no question of greater magnitude or farther reaching importance engages its attention.

The President recommends legislation regarding the supervision and transitory care of immigrants at the ports of debarcation.

He says there is immediate necessity for constituting such a form of government in Alaska as will promote the education of the people and the administration of justice

He then passes to the report of the commissioners of the District of Columbia, which urges the importance of legislation for the reclamation and improvement of the marshes, and for the establishment of the harbor lines along the Potomac river front, all of which he endorses. He then continues:

The importance of timely legislation with respect to the ascertainment and declaration of the votes for presidential electors was sharply called to the attention of the people more than four years ago. It is to be hoped that some well defined measure may be devised before another national election, which will render unnecessary a resort to any expedient of a temporary character for the determination of questions upon contested returns.

Questions which concern the very existence of the government and the liberties of the people were suggested by the prolonged illness of the late president, and his consequent incapacity to perform the functions of his office. He then propounds a series of questions on the inability question in regard to the intention of the Constitution on the subject, which he trusts will receive the early and thoughtful consideration of Congress, and concludes as follows:

Deeply impressed with the gravity of the responsibilities which have so unexpectedly devolved upon me, it will be my constant purpose to co-operate with you in such measures as will promote the glory of the country and the prosperity of its people.

The harbors of Prince Edward island were closed by ice on the 28th ult., a week later than last year. The trade between these ports and "the states" has been very large this year.

Wm. Burke, alias Charles H. Page, has been arrested at Buffalo, N. Y., as the thief who stole $117,000 worth of railroad bonds belonging to President D. P. Eels of the Commercial national bank of Cleveland.

The Chicago city authorities are taking measures for checking smallpox in that city. A systematic inspection of the houses on the west side will be made at once, and universal vaccination will be insisted on.

Judging from the statements of Mrs. McMillen (wife of the man who shot Rev. Mr. McCarty of Greenfield, Mass.,) and her father, the killing of Father McCarty was an unprovoked murder. Mrs. McMillen says the priest had nothing to do with preventing her returning to live with her husband, but that she feared to do so, as McMillen was very violent and had repeatedly threatened her life. Her father says McMillen's statement that he opposed his daughter's marriage is false; he further says that he (the father) aided McMillen for some time after the marriage, until forced by the latter's intemperate and violent conduct to abandon him.

A son of the late Rev. Dr. Nehemiah Adams of Boston, a highly orthodox divine, has become a speaker and writer against Christianity. On the other hand, it is said that one of Col. Rob Ingersoll's daughters is a convert to Presbyterianism.

The bodies of two more murdered men have been found twenty-five miles from Galveston, Texas. The supposed perpetrators are the parties who murdered Sheriff Martin a few days since.

A passageway left open while building the new Spring's island bridge at Biddeford gave way on Wednesday of this week, precipitating two little girls into the river. One was rescued at once, but the other, an eleven-years-old daughter of Wm. Smith, was drowned. One of the workmen thinks there was a boy upon the bridge at the time the foot-path fell, but if so he was not seen in the water.

The Biddeford Times of Dec. 6th says: "The business of lobster fishing at the Pool is very lively at present. Over one hundred barrels were taken and shipped to Massachusetts last week. Sixty-three barrels were shipped to-day. The price has gone up to $1.50 a barrel—one dollar on a barrel more than formerly. The biggest catch of the season so far was made last week by Abitha Leavitt and two men. The caught 713 lobsters in one day. The business is good, lobsters plenty, and prices slightly rising."

Resignations of Albert W. Parsons, Edwin Underhill and Michael E. Long, as members of the common council, were received. The board decided that they could not act in the premises.

The mayor reported that the cellar windows in the academy building have been broken open, and that a considerable quantity of fuel has been stolen. Referred.

The north millpond matter was discussed, and the mayor was authorized to see what could be done in the premises. It was that the Eastern railroad would not sell the flowage of the pond.

Balloted for watchman, police-officer and constable; no choice.

Ald. Slater advocated the adoption of the Oxford light in place of the naphtha light, for streets; referred for report.

Adjourned for one week.

The second temperance lecture of the Degree Temple course will be given in the Methodist church Friday evening, Dec. 9th, at 7:30 o'clock, by Rev. A. B. Carter of Raymond.

Mme. Teresa Carreno, the great pianist, at Music hall Monday evening.

The report current on the streets in this city on Thursday last that Rev. Father McCarthy of Greenfield, Mass., recently shot and killed by David McMillen, was formerly a resident of this city, and when a young man learned the baker's trade with the late Joseph Parry, was incorrect. Rev Jere. McCarthy is now settled over a parish in Gardiner, Me.

Major Urch has assigned his patents on the marine bicycle, and the right to manufacture them in the United States, to four gentlemen of this city, who it is understood will lease the Nowell shoe factory building on State street, and immediately fit it up for the manufacture of these novel pleasure crafts.

The steamer Acushnet, from Boston, did not reach her berth at the Gas Co.'s wharf in this city until nine o'clock on Wednesday evening of this week. When a little more than an hour from her wharf in Boston, while aiding in getting up a new foresail from between decks, Capt. Bird leaned over the open forehatch; just as he did this, the heavy sea caused a sudden lurch of the vessel, and the captain went below at short notice, and in the fall dislocated his left shoulder. The steamer was then headed for Gloucester, where the injured shoulder was put in place, after which the captain returned on board, and continued the voyage. Capt. Bird returns to Boston to-day (Friday) in the steamer.

The Kennedy, Miller & Co. stocking manufacturing company, at the west end, are finishing up their manufactured work, and will close their establishment in a few days to make some important alterations in the present building, for facilitating their business. This branch of industry in Portsmouth has always made a quality of goods which has had a good reputation in the market, and the present firm have been successful in introducing to the trade a superior class of hosiery which has met with a constant demand. The weaving is done by both hand and steam power, and as soon as the spring and summer styles are adopted they will commence work on a more extended scale than ever before.

The schooner George W. Raitt has been hauled up for the winter at Call's wharf, inside the Noble's island bridge. The schooner D. K. Ham is laid up for the winter at Boston, her crew having returned home; previous to hauling up she lightered in Boston harbor the schooner Delma C., loaded with wood from Digby, N. S. The schooner Hattie Lewis was on Thursday reported bound home from Boston, to haul up here.

It was said on Thursday that Mr. Wm. F. Fernald had begun preparations at his place on Freeman's point for building a schooner.

Those persons who attended the concert given here some months ago by Mme. Donaldi and her company, will only need to be informed that the Donaldi combination, strengthened by the acquisition of Signor Ferranti, the celebrated buffo, will give an entertainment in Music hall on Monday evening next. Tickets can now be secured at Preston's.

The Knights of Honor of this city and Kittery have accepted an invitation to visit Alpha and Temple lodges of Manchester this evening. They leave this city on the regular Concord train, returning by a special train. Members will procure their tickets at the office of the railroad station.

Old sailors tell a story about a ship, while lying-to in a gale off Cape Cod one night many years ago, being run into by a church which had been swept out to sea by some overflowing river. A similarly incongruous incident took place on Tuesday of this week in Eliot, where the Eastern railroad train from Portland due in this city at three o'clock found a house on the track, and was delayed several hours in consequence. The house was being moved, and the slipping of a roller from beneath it occasioned the trouble. The same train was considerably belated the next day, but whether there was another house on the track or not we have been unable to learn.

Steamers Emerald and James Sampson had a trial of speed on one of their trips across the river on the 7th inst., and the Emerald's special admirers say she shew her speedy rival "a clean pair of heels," and proved herself the boss of the river.

The schooner Clytie, Laughton master, which has for some time been lying at Piscataqua wharf loading apples for Baltimore, sailed on Thursday last, being towed out by the steamer Clara Batemen. The schooner John Bracewell, Stevens master, also with apples on board, sailed the same day for the same destination. The vessels took out about 5000 barrels.

The annual inspection of Storer Post, No. 1, G. A. R., of this city, took place at the post headquarters on Wednesday evening, the 7th inst., the inspecting officer being Assistant General Natt Shackford. After the inspection the members of the post and invited guests, to the number of about seventy-five, partook of a somewhat elaborate banquet, which was followed by toasts and responses, music, songs and anecdotes, and reminiscences of army life and experiences. Vice Commander Marcus M. Collis acting as master of ceremonies. The reunion was a source of pleasure to all who participated, and the party did not break up until nearly midnight.

The piping from the three wells above Frenchman's lane on the line of the Eastern railroad had on Thursday last been laid in as far as the Concord railroad crossing, and a large gang of men was at work digging trenches for the pipe for the rest of the distance. The water in the completed well seems of good quality and the supply copious; the pipe is three and a half inches in diameter, and the flow is such that the wants of the company at this station will be abundantly supplied.

Mr Walter Kimball has resigned the position of clerk on the steamer James Sampson, and is succeeded by Mr. Walker of Kittery.

The reported break-down of the tug Ana in the lower harbor on the 7th inst., necessitating her being towed up by another steamer, was not a break-down at all; a rope got foul of the propeller, and prevented its working. The trouble was soon remedied after her arrival at the wharf.

"I have had St. Jacobs Oil in my family—my wife using it for pains in her back, my children for stiffness of the neck, and myself for my feet, which were frozen—and I must admit that it is the best remedy for bodily ailments I have ever used," writes Mr. Wm. Roberts, Ave. L and 32d street, Galveston, Texas.

Frank Bowman, sixteen years old, only son of the landlord of the Van Ness house in Burlington, Vt., was suffocated on the night of the 7th inst. in his room at the hotel, by a small leak in the gas pipe.

During the past five years I have suffered from catarrh and have used without relief remedies prescribed by various physicians. I was advised to try Ely's Cream Balm; am using it with beneficial results, and feel confident I shall be completely cured of a disease that has seriously affected not only my nostrils but also my eyes and hearing. W. A. Brintzinghoffer, Jr., Wholesale Tobacconist, Newark, N. J., May 29, 1879.

Ely's Cream Balm for the cure of catarrh is having large sales with me. I think it the best article I have sold for the treatment of these diseases, and take great pleasure in recommending it to my patrons, as I am hearing the most favorable reports of its beneficial effects. A. R. Ferguson, druggist, Lockport, N. Y.

Arthur Weatherbee, a ten-years-old boy of Lincoln, Me., while skating on Mattawamkeag lake a few days ago, saw a deer on the ice, and after a hard chase killed the animal with a pistol.

A Woman's Experience.

Mothers and daughters should feel alarmed when weariness constantly oppresses them. "If I am fretful from exhaustion of vital powers and the color is fading from my face, Parker's Ginger Tonic, gives quick relief. It builds me up and drives away pain with wonderful certainty."—Buffalo lady.

Miss Ada Carpenter, of Newport Centre, Vt., having been disappointed in love, on the 6th inst. swallowed pulverized glass to kill herself, and a physician who was called pronounced the case hopeless.

Elegance and Purity.

Ladies who appreciate elegance and purity are using Parker's Hair Balsam. It is the best article sold for restoring gray hair to its original color, beauty and lustre.

Charles E. Lee, a brakeman, had his head cut off by a train in New Haven, Conn., Dec. 5th.

BATTLE CREEK, Mich., Jan. 31, 1879.

Gentlemen—Having been afflicted for a number of years with indigestion and general debility, by the advice of my doctor I used Hop Bitters, and must say they afforded me almost instant relief. I am glad to be able to testify in their behalf. THOS. G. KNOX.

James Smith, having been sentenced to death at Booneville, Ky., for wife murder, hanged himself in his cell an hour after the trial was ended, on the 7th inst.

Judge Men By Their Works.

A man is judged in this life by his works, and in this connection it may not be inopportune to add, that Dr. Swayne has accomplished more good through the medium of his Ointment for skin diseases, than has the school of physicians combined. "It's an ill wind that blows nobody good." What the physicians have lost Dr. Swayne has gained.

Hon Harvey Jewell died in Boston on the 8th inst.

Health and Happiness.

It seems strange that anyone will suffer from the many derangements brought on by an impure condition of the blood, when Scovill's Blood and Liver Syrup will restore perfect health to the physical organization. It has proven itself to be the best blood purifier ever discovered, effectually curing scrofula, syphilitic disorders, weakness of the kidneys, all nervous disorders and debility. It corrects indigestion. It makes the old feel young, and the young feel gay; and will invariably drive out of the system the many ills that the human flesh is heir to. It acts like a charm, especially when the complaint is of an exhaustive nature, having a tendency to lessen the natural vigor of the brain and nervous system.

A COUGH, COLD OR SORE THROAT should be stopped. Neglect frequently result in an Incurable Lung Disease or Consumption. "Brown's Bronc hial Troches" do not disorder the stomach like cough syrups and balsams, but act directly on the inflamed parts, allaying irritation, give relief in Asthma, Bronchitis, Coughs, Catarrh and the throat troubles which Singers and Public Speakers are subject to. For thirty years "Brown's Bronchial Troches" have been recommended by physicians and always give perfect satisfaction. Having been tested by wide and constant use for nearly an entire generation, they have attained well-merited rank among the few staple remedies of the age. Terrible Accident.

Domestic accidents are common to women, and some of them are very serious. Mrs. Warner, of South Rondout, Ulster Co., N. Y., some weeks ago attempted to take from her child a pair of shears with which it was playing. A slight struggle ensued, in which the point of the shears entered Mrs. Warner's left eye, entirely destroying the sight. Her family physician did what he could, but intensely painful inflammation arose, which, by sympathy, threatened the loss of the other eye. Total blindness to a woman having the care of a household is an irretrievable calamity. In this strait Mrs. Warner applied to that the well-known and skillful surgeon Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., who removed the injured eye by a very successful operation, setting aside all danger of further harm to the sight of the other eye. But, owing to pain and mental distress, her system needed a tonic and restorative medicine. To do this work the doctor prescribed "Kennedy's Favorite Remedy," which sustained its reputation and laid a sure foundation of health.

Dr. Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" removes all impurities from the blood, regulates the Liver and Kidneys, Cures Constipation, and all diseases and weaknesses peculiar to females. It is for sale by all our druggists at One Dollar a bottle.

There is nobody who can read it, married or single of either sex can either require or wish to know, but what is fully explained. In short, the book is invaluable to all who wish for good health.—Toronto Globe.

The book for young and middle aged men to read just now is the Science of Life, or Self-Preservation. It is worth many times its weight in gold.—Medical Times.

The author of the Science of Life is a noble benefactor. He renders the very roots and vitals of disease, and is enabled to apply thorough remedies. The book already is read upon both continents by millions.—Le Sou Lancet.

The Gold and Jewelled Medal awarded the author of the Science of Life was fairly won and worthily bestowed.—Massachusetts Ploughman.

Thousands of extracts similar to the above could be taken from the leading journals—literary, political, religious and scientific—throughout the land.

The Book is guaranteed to be a better medical work, in every sense, than can be obtained elsewhere for double the price, or the money will be refunded in every instance.

Thousands of Copies are sold by mail, securely sealed and post paid, to all parts of the world, every month, upon receipt of price, $1.25. Address

Long Service.

Concerning the first appointment to office of Mr. Bassett, now assistant sergeant-at-arms of the United States senate, who completed his 50th year of continuous service in the senate on the 5th inst., the following is told:

One morning Daniel Webster called the young lad to him and asked him how he would like to be a page. He then sent for the sergeant-at-arms and said that he wanted him appointed. The sergeant-at-arms replied that he would consult the other senators and see if they would permit the appointment of another page, as at that time only one was allowed. He spoke to several senators, and some of them thought that one was enough, but Mr. Webster insisted on having his "little boy," as he called him, made a page. The sergeant-at-arms told him he could remain that session, but he could not appoint him until next session. So, on the 5th day of December, 1831, he was appointed, and has remained in the service of the senate ever since. At that time (1831) the senate was composed of forty-eight senators; now it has seventy-six, showing an increase of twenty-eight; then, one page only was allowed; now sixteen are required, which shows a wonderful change in that body during the period named.

Mr. Bassett has served under the administrations of Andrew Jackson, Martin Van Buren, William Henry Harrison, John Tyler, James K. Polk, Zachary Taylor, Millard Fillmore, Franklin Pierce, James Buchanan, Abraham Lincoln, Andrew Johnson, Ulysses S. Grant, Rutherford B. Hayes and James A. Garfield, and begins another term of service under the administration of Chester A. Arthur. He has always been a democrat.

Raymond P. Dennis, sixty-two years old, had the top of his head blown off by three rowdies in Fall River, Mass., on the night of the 7th inst. The murderers are known.

The impossibility of enforcing the civil rights law is shown by the report of Acting Atty. Gen. Phillips. Of ninety-five prosecutions commenced under the law during the fiscal year 1880-81, not one continued to a verdict.

The Times of Los Angeles, Cal., of date Dec. 7th, contains an account of an interview with James W. Scoville of Chicago, cousin to Guiteau's counsel, at present visiting in Los Angeles. Mr. Scoville gave an interesting account of a personal experience of many years with the assassin, and described him as cold-blooded, selfish and thoroughly disreputable, with no other aim in life than to become notorious. He expressed himself very strongly on the subject of Guiteau's insanity, saying he was perfectly sane, and has always been so.

Those who prove anything by experience can speak intelligently; and the unanimous testimony of all who use Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup is that it more than fulfills all that it promises. Price 25 cts.

The Boston Post of the 8th inst. says: "Miss Victoria Woodhull and daughter and Miss Tennie Claflin are at the Parker house."

Mothers Don't Know
How many children are punished for being uncouth, wilful, and indifferent to instructions or rewards, simply because they are out of health! An intelligent lady said of a child of this kind: "Mothers should know that if they would give the little ones moderate doses of Hop Bitters for two or three weeks, their children would be all a parent could desire."

A negro named Alleh was lynched at Warwick Court House, Va., Dec. 5th, for the murder of a white man.

A Word to Mothers.
Mothers should remember it is a most important duty at this season to look after the health of their families and cleanse the malaria and impurities from their systems, and that nothing will tone up the stomach and liver, regulate the bowels and purify the blood so perfectly as Parker's Ginger Tonic, advertised in our columns.—Post: see other columns.

St. Mary's church in St. John, N. B., was destroyed Dec. 6th, and four bodies were taken from the ruins in a few hours.

Always Refreshing.

"Pro Bono Publico."
It is a very remarkable fact, that while thousands of people refuse to read paid puffs of worthless nostrums, none skip over Dr. Swayne's little squib about his Ointment for itching piles that itch so much at night. The people well know that it is published for their benefit, in other words, is pro bono publico. May the far reaching effects be perpetuated to the end of time.

Rheumatism
Neuralgia, Sprains,
Pain in the Back and Side.
There is nothing more painful than these diseases; but the pain can be removed and the disease cured by use of Perry Davis' Pain Killer.

This remedy is not a cheap Benzine or Petroleum product that must be kept away from fire or heat to avoid danger of explosion, nor is it an untried experiment that may do more harm than good.

Pain Killer has been in constant use for forty years, and the universal testimony from all parts of the world is, it never fails. It not only effects a permanent cure, but it relieves pain almost instantaneously. Being a purely vegetable remedy, it is safe in the hands of the most inexperienced.

The record of cures by the use of PAIN KILLER would fill volumes. The following extracts from letters received show what those who have tried it think:

Edgar Cady, Owatonna, Minn., says:
About a year since my wife became subject to severe suffering from rheumatism. Our first resort was to the PAIN KILLER, which speedily relieved her.

I had been afflicted three years with neuralgia and violent spasms of the stomach. The doctors at Westminster Hospital gave up my case in despair. I tried your PAIN KILLER, and it gave me immediate relief. I have regained my strength, and am now able to follow my usual occupation.

G. H. Walworth, Saco, Me., writes:
I experienced immediate relief from pain in the side by the use of your PAIN KILLER.

E. York says:
I have used your PAIN KILLER for rheumatism, and have received great benefit.

Barton Seaman says:
Have used PAIN KILLER for thirty years, and have found it a never-failing remedy for rheumatism and lameness.

Mr. Burditt writes:
Never fails to give relief in cases of rheumatism.

Phil. Gilbert, Somerset, Pa., writes:
From actual use, I know your PAIN KILLER is the best medicine I can get.

All druggists keep PAIN KILLER. Its price is so low that it is within the reach of all, and it will save many times its cost in doctors' bills. 25c., 50c. and $1.00 a bottle.

Shelter Saves Food--Is Profitable.

Every keeper of animals would actually profit by a little study of chemistry and physiology. Here is a short lesson: All kinds of food, as hay, grain, bread, meat, etc., are, like wood, mainly composed of charcoal (carbon) and water, with considerable nitrogen in some of them. To prove this, strongly heat any of the above food materials in a coal pit, or better, under glass. Water, with some nitrogen gas, will be driven off and can be found in the glass receiver, while only charcoal will remain. Let in more air and the charcoal itself will unite with the oxygen of the atmosphere, and also go off as a transparent, invisible carbonic acid gas. This chemical action sets at liberty heat that was before concealed or insensible, the same as when wood or coal is burned rapidly in a stove, producing an active fire; or as when wood decays, but gives off heat so slow as not to be observed. We must have an ever-burning fire in both the animal and human system. If the surrounding atmosph re is cold, and carries off heat rapidly from the surface of the body, we must increase the internal production of heat by putting in more food, or by surrounding the body with a covering that prevents the escape of much heat.

Is it not plain then, that by keeping animals warm, by means of close buildings, or shelter against heat-stealing winds, less food will be needed, and there will be less waste of flesh in making heat? Any arrangement of shelter, cover, stable, shed, blankets—anything that will prevent the natural warmth from passing away from the surface of any animal—will be a great saving of food required to keep up the absolutely necessary internal life-warmth; will prevent loss of flesh; will allow the food to go more to adding to weight of flesh, or the yield of milk, or of wool. Shelter and external warmth in cold weather are most economical and therefore profitable in the keeping of farm stock.—American Agriculturist.

—A pathway only eighteen inches wide is cut into the side of Slate mountain, near Leadville, at a height, over an almost perpendicular chasm, of 1,500 feet. Few men who use it have strong enough nerves to walk upright, but instinctively crouch or "coon it," as the local saying is. The foolhardiness of James Zern in attempting the passage when the ground was a glare of ice may, therefore, be imagined. He slipped, fell, and was dashed to pieces on the frozen ground more than a quarter of a mile below.

—A Scotch gardener was exhibiting his achievements to a baille of the town, and descanting with tenderness on the points of beauty in his peas. The bailie, in whom, unfortunately, æsthetic appreciation had been swamped by a coarse utilitarianism, confined his remarks to the single wish—"Well, mon, after a', I would rather see a guid row o' cabbages." "Sae wad a cow!" was the excusable testy reply of the disgusted enthusiast.

Col. John W. Forney, for many years one of the foremost politicians and newspaper men of the country, was on the 8th inst. reported to be dying, with a prospect that he would not live through the night.

They Have ever Failed!

I have been sick more or less for the last ten years, which has cost me many dollars in doctors' and druggists' bills. The last two years it only cost me three dollars. Why? Because I used Sulphur Bitters instead of employing doctors. They cured me of jaundice.—J. J. Boyd, Hoboken.

Miss Nellie Hazeltine, the "belle of St. Louis," who gained notoriety some years ago by the false report that she was engaged to Samuel J. Tilden, was married in Philadelphia on the 5th inst. to Mr. F. J. Paramore, a St. Louis millionaire. The bride is "a demi-blonde of petite stature, with tresses of the true Titianesque hue. Her face is a pure oval, and her eyes are large, sparkling and expressive."

Nothing Short of Unmistakable Benefits

Conferred upon tens of thousands of sufferers could originate and maintain the reputation which Ayer's Sarsaparilla enjoys. It is a compound of the best vegetable alteratives, with the Iodides of Potassium and Iron,—all powerful, blood-making, blood-cleansing and life-sustaining—and is the most effectual of all remedies for scrofulous, mercurial, or blood disorders. Uniformly successful and certain. It produces rapid and complete cures of Scrofula, Sores, Boils, Humors, Pimples, Eruptions, Skin Diseases and all disorders arising from impurity of the blood. By its invigorating effects it always relieves and often cures Liver Complaints, Female Weaknesses and Irregularities, and is a potent renewer of waning vitality. For purifying the blood it has no equal. It tones up the system, restores and preserves the health, and imparts vigor and energy. For forty years it has been in extensive use, and is to-day the most available medicine for the suffering sick.

Judge Men By Their Works.

A man is judged in this life by his works, and in this connection it may not be inopportune to add, that Dr. Swayne has accomplished more good through the medium of his Ointment for skin diseases, than has the school of physicians combined. Appalling Calamity.

The Ring theatre in Vienna, formerly the Comic Opera house, took fire at seven o'clock in the evening on the 8th inst., just as the performance was about to commence. The fire caught through the falling of a lamp on the stage, and in the confusion the iron partition separating the stage from the audiorium was not lowered. The rapidity with which the flames spread prevented the audience from taking advantage of the ordinary exits, and hundreds were trampled or burned to death, or were killed by jumping from windows. Sixty persons were saved from the third story windows by ladders, or by jumping into cloths held by men on the ground. Thousands of people assembled in the neighboring streets, where they could hear the cries of agony of the people at the windows of the theatre, praying to be saved. The greatest efforts were made to save life. The scene was terrible, the flames shooting up through the roof, and eventually gutting the entire building.

One hundred and forty-five bodies had been recovered before midnight on the 8th, and many more were in the building; the total loss of life was then estimated at over three hundred. The midnight despatch said:

Some of the bodies are fearfully disfigured. Several persons were injured in springing from the windows of the theatre. Among the missing are Herr Fife, court medical director, and Herr Helmersperger. Most of the bodies identified up to the present time are those of tradesmen and minor officers. On the spreading of news of the disaster, the performances at the other theatres were stopped.

It is estimated that the audience in the theatre numbered 2,000. Many persons were trampled to death in the panic which ensued. As soon as the fire was seen there was an explosion of gas, and the audience were plunged in darkness.

It is probable that the death list will be fully four hundred. The latest reports say that the crowds in the galleries pressed in their despair toward the doors, and crushing each other, prevented most of the number from escaping. The smoke and fumes completed the work of death within five minutes after the first alarm had been given. The firemen are still at work with torches in the lower parts of the house. At present it is considered unsafe to enter the uppermost gallery, where the dead lie in great masses. Half of Vienna will be in mourning for their friends and relatives. I believe no Americans are among the dead, though it is possible that some of the medical students who frequent the cheaper places in the Vienna theatres may be among them.

News and Notes.

As a freight train on the Wabash railroad was crossing a bridge over the Missouri river at St. Charles, Mo., on the evening of Dec. 8th, a span of the bridge gave way, and the entire train of thirty-two cars, thirteen of which were laden with live stock, was precipitated into the river about eighty feet below. The engineer is missing, but everybody else on the train was saved, although one or two of the crew were badly wounded. The cause of the accident is unknown.

A terrible boiler explosion occurred at Jones' gin house near Elberton, Ga., Thursday. Two persons were killed, and two others severely injured.

The savings banks in Maine have $24,-000,000 on deposit, an increase of $2,-600,000 over last year's figures. The national bank capital is $10,885,000; individual deposits, $9,325,086.

The lighthouse on Calf rock, on the coast of Ireland, was carried away in one of the great storms during the latter part of November, and the survivors of the disaster remained on the rock until Dec. 7th, the heavy sea preventing their rescue, though strenuous efforts were made.

The old man Dennis, murdered by roughs at Fall River, Mass., on the 7th inst., kept a place of bad repute. The roughs, being refused admission, commenced breaking the windows, and the old man went out with a gun to drive them away; but they wrenched the gun from him, and with it blew off the whole top of his head. Two of the gang were arrested in a short time, but the man who fired the gun had not been caught up to Thursday night.

For another burglary, to which he pleaded guilty, he was sentenced for five years additional. He is believed to have been guilty of several other recent burglaries in that region.

The secret service division of the treasury department has been placed in possession of a counterfeit $5 photographic note which purports to be the issue of the Boylston national bank of Boston, Mass. The face of the note is well calculated to deceive, as the pink seal and figures are excellent imitations of the genuine; but a cursory glance at the green border and ends on the back of the note, which have been engraved and printed in a crude manner, at once attracts attention.

The United States grand jury at Covington, Ky., has reported indictments against forty-five men in various parts of Kentucky, for manufacturing distilled spirits without complying with the requirements of law.

A Leadville, Col., despatch says: "In the county court, on the 7th inst., lawyers Ryan and Sears had an altercation. The latter pounded the former over the head with a chair, fracturing his skull. His recovery is doubtful."

Dr. John B. Wood, in early life connected with the Great Falls Sketcher, but for many years the "lightning condenser" of the New York Sun, with C. S. Benjamin, founder of the Rochester (N. Y.) Herald, and Edwin Fernald, formerly of the Great Falls Journal, now of Minneapolis, Minnesota, will start a daily evening paper in Minneapolis, Dec. 15th. It is a strong team, and there is little doubt of the success of the undertaking. Mr. Fernald is to be business manager, Mr. Wood chief editor, and Mr. Benjamin his associate—an energetic combination of newspaper men.

Jesse Whitten of Farmington was on the 6th inst. arrested for cruelty to animals, and at the close of the hearing was committed to the county jail at Dover for trial at the February term of the supreme court, in default of bonds.

Mrs. Mary E. Noyes, seventy years old, died in Haverhill on the 6th inst. from an overdose of medicine.

The Dover Democrat says that some recent alterations made to one of the chimneys of the Dover city hall have developed the fact that the brick-work of the structure was so wretchedly done originally that it is a wonder the building was not destroyed by fire long ago. The woodwork could be plainly seen through the cracks in the brick work, the bricks having apparently been laid dry, without any mortar!

Camels in Western Texas.

It will be remembered, says the Houston Post, that the government introduced a number of camels into Texas a few years ago, with a view to utilizing them in transportation of military stores across the plains, and in New Mexico and Arizona. A number of these animals were left on Galveston island for a time, but were afterward taken to western Texas and New Mexico. Some of these camels were abandoned in the Gila and Salt river bottoms, where they lived and bred, until now they roam the plains of the lower Gila in great numbers, and it is the belief that they will continue to increase until droves of camels will become as frequent as buffalos were a few years ago.

ODD FELLOWSHIP MATTERS.

Frank A. Rawson, grand master, has issued a communication to the Odd Fellows' lodges of this state in which he says that there never was a time in the history of the organization when corrections in the work was so important a matter as now. He has requested Grand Representatives McKinney and Albin to hold a school of instruction in Concord on Thursday, December 15th. It appears that there are in New Hampshire some 1800 brothers who have not attained to the scarlet degree. Their status in the order, after July 1st, 1882, will be very different from what it now is, unless they avail themselves of the opportunity to take the degrees before that time. After July 1st all business of the lodge will be transacted in the highest degree. The call is attested by Grand Secretary Joseph Kidder.

PROBABLE LOSS OF LIFE.

The Newburyport Herald of Dec. 8th says:

While the schooner Forest Maid, Post, was lying in the bay on Tuesday evening, the 6th inst., one of the crew discovered what he supposed to be a boat adrift, a short distance astern of the vessel, and a number of the crew started out to take possession of it, and on arriving alongside found John Schofield, a Newburyport fisherman, lying asleep in the bottom of the boat. The men knew that if he remained there the chill and exposure that he would subject himself to might result in death, and by a great deal of urging he was finally persuaded to go on board the schooner and remain over night. He started out about five o'clock in the morning, saying that he was going to gather in his traps, and since that time nothing has been seen or heard of him. There was a very heavy sea during the day, and fears are entertained that the boat was swamped and Mr. Schofield drowned, although it is possible that he might have been taken on board of a Portsmouth or Gloucester schooner.

This probably explains where the dory which was picked up on Foss' beach, Rye, on the 7th inst., and the oars and other boat gear which drifted on shore in that vicinity on the same day, came from. Schofield leaves a wife and three children.

The announcement that the Donaldi Concert company is to appear in this city should warrant a large house. The merit of this company is well known, as it visited this city last winter and was greeted by a large audience. At Music hall Monday evening.

Oysters are down in price; see advertisement.

A banquet complimentary to Hon. Frank Jones, tendered by the young men of the city, will come off at the Rockingham house on Thursday evening, Dec. 15th.

The "pink-eye," the new horse distemper, is reported as having arrived in Stratham, two horses owned by George H. Odell having died with it. There have been a number of cases of the disease among horses in this city, but none of them have proved fatal.

The Marine Bicycle Co. of this city sold their first marine bicycle on Friday, to Laighton Bros. & Co. of the Shoals.

The schooner Lucy came in from the Shoals on Friday with two hundred quintals of hake for Pickert De Butts & Co. of Boston, one thousand pounds of dun fish for Plummer & Balch of Newburyport, and one thousand pounds of dun fish for C. E. Laighton & Co. of this city.

The schooner Hattie Lewis, Garland master, arrived on Friday from Boston, via Gloucester. She left the latter port at five o'clock Friday morning, and reached here at three o'clock in the afternoon; and before night she was in winter quarters alongside the wharf at the Raynes shipyard, where she has laid up during the winter months for a number of years past.

The arrivals of fish on Friday were the schooners Bonita, with 3000 lbs.; Flying Eagle, 2500 lbs.; George Ingerbredson's whale-boat, 1200 lbs. Several vessels were reported in the lower harbor, having on board from 1000 lbs. to 3000 lbs. of fish each.

The sad news was received in this city on Friday of the death of Haven L. Scott, superintendent of the county farm at Brentwood,—a loss to the county, as well as to his relatives and immediate friends. Mr. Scott was a member of DeWitt Clinton Commandry of Knights Templar, of this city.

The schooner Mabel Thomas, 335 tons register, McKenzie master, of New Haven, Conn., bound from Blue Hill, Me., to Washington, D. C., with five hundred and ninety tons of paving stones, when ten miles southeast of Thacher's island light on Thursday morning last sprung a leak, the water coming in at the rate of one thousand strokes an hour. The master tried to fetch Cape Ann, but the vessel carried away her spanker gaff and was obliged to keep off, and brought up in Portsmouth lower harbor on Thursday afternoon. She expected to be obliged to come up to the wharf and discharge her cargo, and then go to Gloucester for repairs, (the ways at Kittery not being able to take her up,) before proceeding on her trip. The cargo only is insured.

The arrangements for the reception to Hon. Frank Jones are nearly completed. The committee in charge have invited all the young men they could meet. If any one has not yet received an invitation he can obtain a ticket by applying to the committee. Application must be made before seven this (Saturday) evening.

Speaker Keifer of the national house of representatives was a classmate at Antioch college with Rev. James DeNormandie of this city.

The schooner Albert, of Ellsworth, Me., loaded with lumber and bound for Newburyport, on going out of this harbor on Friday morning ran ashore on the northeast point of Clark's island at about half tide, and though she got off at high water she was badly strained, causing her to leak at the rate of three hundred strokes an hour. A survey was held on her on Friday afternoon to ascertain her condition. She is also reported as having lost an anchor in getting off.

Mr. Nathaniel Wiggin of Greenland has purchased the year's land-dressing of H. R. Stoddard's stable, and is hauling it to his farm, the "Tabor place." Mr. Wiggin is at present in Chicago on business.

During the year ending Dec. 1st, over 90,000 tons of freight has been sent over the Concord railroad from this city. Over 75,000 tons of this amount was coal; the rest was sand, lime, cement, and miscellaneous goods.

Messrs. Critchley & Whalley, the machinists, have removed the chimney, furnace, flasks, etc., of the old iron foundry at the Point of Graves, to their new foundry on Hill street.

"Nihilism in medicine," an address delivered before the New Hampshire Medical Society in Concord on June 21st last, by Dr. Daniel W. Jones of this city, has been reprinted from the transactions of the society, by Evans & Sleeper of Concord. The doctor treats of the "rise, progress and decline of homœopathy," and boldly stands up for the "Old school," whose medicines he says he has often found in the hands of patients of of the physicians of the new dispensation, and taken as if homœopathic, when it was the regular dose of morphine the innocent dupe was swallowing.

The gondola "Paul Jones," with one thousand bushels of oyster-shell lime from the Gas Co.'s wharf, went up to Dover point on Friday. The lime is to be used for top-dressing on grass land. The Paul Jones was built by Andrew Goodwin of South Berwick, Me., on his farm, and was hauled down to the river, a distance of nearly half a mile, on runners, and launched into the stream. Her owners claim for her an age of thirty-seven years, and she now looks staunch enough to last for many years longer.

On the 8th inst., in the evening at 6:30 o'clock, at the Episcopal church, George H. Pearson was united in marriage to Miss Helen M. Chesley, daughter of the late George Chesley of Portsmouth, Rev. Edward L. Drown, rector of St. Paul's, performing the service, and J. Everett Pearson and Miss Edith Chesley acting as groomsman and bridesmaid. The bride was tastefully attired in white satin. After the ceremony a wedding supper followed at their future residence on Strong street. Mr. Pearson is widely known in this community as a successful teacher of music and church chorister, and in his profession has formed many ties of friendship. From hosts of friends he will receive congratulations and the best of wishes in his new relationship.—Newburyport Herald.

The net fishermen are at present meeting with poor success, and say that either the fish have left Ipswich bay, or that the moonlight has the same effect as sunlight, enabling the fish to see the nets and so keep out of the meshes.

The schooner Kingfisher, McClintock master, of Boothbay, Me., recently bought by parties in Boston, came into the lower harbor on Friday.

There is some talk of the schooner Active, of this port, being sold, and a new vessel being built to take her place.

On Thursday evening last the friends of J. Cushing Lydston, to the number of twenty-five, gave him a veritable surprise at the residence of Mr. Washington Remick in Eliot. A collation was served, after discussing which the rest of the evening was passed in social chat, interspersed with vocal and instrumental music. Previous to taking their leave, the visitors presented Mr. Lydston with a silver ice-pitcher, the occasion being the anniversary of his birthday.

The South Berwick manufactories of all sorts are reported in a flourishing condition; cotton, shoe, lumber and woollen mills are running on full time, and find ready markets for their products.

—Silver dollars with holes in them are painfully numerous, but they are not half so painfully numerous as holes without any silver dollars around them.

Terrible Accident.
Domestic accidents are common to women, and some of them are very serious. Mrs. Wagner, of South Rondout, Ulster Co., N.Y., some weeks ago attempted to take from her child a pair of shears with which it was playing. A slight struggle ensued, in which the point of the shears entered Mrs. Warner's left eye, entirely destroying the sight. Her family physician did what he could, but intensely painful inflammation arose, which, by sympathy, threatened the loss of the other eye. Total blindness to a woman having the care of a household is an irretrievable calamity. In this great Mrs. Warner applied to that the well-known and skillful surgeon Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., who removed the injured eye by a very successful operation, setting aside all danger of further harm to the sight of the other eye. But, owing to pain and mental distress, her system needed a tonic and restorative medicine. To do this work the doctor prescribed "Kennedy's Favorite Remedy," which sustained its reputation and laid a sure foundation of health.

No. 9 CONGRESS STREET.

"My Wife and My Wife's Sister," is the title of the last number of the "No-Name Series," issued by Roberts Brothers of Boston.

The plan of the novel is based upon the narrative of an old Bostonian, now among the nineties, who on a stay voyage falls in love with an attractive and noble-born French lady, whose fate is to marry not the man of Athens, but an aged friend of her father's. The young suitor returns to Boston, and exists in single life. He afterward goes to Paris upon a mercantile mission, and meets with exciting adventures, thrillingly related in his book, in which are introduced several characters well known in history. The story in some respects savors of the style of certain favorite French novels, whereon sketches of police maneuvres in Paris are drawn. The book is full of interest, is well written, and cannot fail to attract attention as it takes the reader into a new field of American novel writing. Sold by Myers at $1.

A calendar is one of the indispensable things to be purchased for the new year; but it is not every calendar that is adapted for anything above the ordinary service of ordinary places. One of those especially designed for choicer use, in study, library, or office, is the "George Eliot Calender" published by Hall & Whiting, Boston, and for sale in this city by W. G. Myers, and Mercer Goodrich. The graceful decorations are by Mr. Appleton Brown; and the extracts from the writings of the famous novelist attest a most careful reading and intense enjoyment of the text. It is certainly a pleasure in following the days of the year, to have one of these epigrammatic sentences proffered on every page to be boarded up, perhaps unconsciously, by the memory in some secret cell as the food of future thought or action. Apropos of calendars, nothing in the shape of a calendar for the Christian year has ever appeared comparable with that published by Roper, office 27 Rose street, New York; price fifty cents. The amount of information it contains relative to the feasts, fasts, rules and practices of the church, together with valuable facts and explanations, is surprising. This calendar also is obtainable at Goodrich's.

"Purple and Gold:" by Kate Sanborn; illustrated by Rosina Emmet. Boston; James R. Osgood & Co.

This is a superbly-prepared collection of little poems on the "Golden-rod" from the pens of Edna Dean Proctor, James B. Bennett, W. E. Channing, Whittier, Lucy Larcom, Mrs. Thaxter, Susan Coolidge, Helen Hunt, W. A. C. Bryant, Horace E. Scudder and others, all arranged in exquisite taste, and knotted with a ribbon tie.—A most appropriate holiday gift, with decorative attractions commensurate with the excellence of its selections.

Very many well-meaning people will prescribe for your cough and cold, and you will lose time in taking their medicine; ergo, take Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup and be relieved at once. Price 25 cents.

George F. Dale, supposed to belong in New Bedford, fell overboard at Calais, Me., on the 7th inst., from the schooner Hyena of St. George, and was drowned.

Mrs. R. F. Haskell, No. 43 Boston street, Salem, Mass., writes: I have used St. Jacobs Oil on my daughter for a pain in her left side, and it proved itself a splendid physician. Everybody regards it as a reliable friend.

While Winchester Armstrong of Lamar county, Ga., was absent from home on the 7th inst., a crazy negro entered the house and attempted to carry off Armstrong's baby. The mother resisted, and she and her mother were killed by the negro with axe. Mr. Armstrong at this juncture returned, and was attacked, but shot the negro dead. The babe was unharmed.

When I was Sick!
My room looked like a drug store, I had so many bottles in it. The more I dosed the worse off I was. Finally I paid my doctor and told him he needn't come any more. I was troubled with chronic rheumatism, and couldn't get out of bed alone. Six bottles of Salphur Bitters cured me.—Fireman, Boston.

J. K. Jillson of Springfield, Mass., forty-two years old, shot himself last Thursday afternoon, two bullets entering his brain and killing him immediately. The cause of his action was despondency, heightened by acute rheumatism. He leaves a wife and two little boys.

Bed-Bugs, Roaches,
Rats, mice, ants, flies, vermin, mosquitoes, insects, &c., cleared out by "Rough on Rats." 15c. boxes at druggists.

Brain and Nerve.
Wells' Health Renewer, greatest remedy on earth for impotence, leanness, sexual debility, &c. $1. at druggists. Depot at Thacher's.

The doctors of Bellows Falls, Vt., decided that Peter Goode died of strangulation. He was found dead, with his neck resting on the dashboard of his wagon. But they found a pint of liquor in his stomach, which might account for his neck being on the dashboard.

"Pro Bono Publico."
It is a very remarkable fact, that while thousands of people refuse to read paid puffs of worthless nostrums, none skip over Dr. Swayne's little squib about his Ointment for itching piles that itch so much at night. The people well know that it is published for their benefit, in other words, is pro bono publico. May its far reaching effects be perpetuated to the end of time.

Rheumatism
Neuralgia, Sprains,
Pain in the Back and Side.
There is nothing more painful than these diseases; but the pain can be removed and the disease cured by use of Perry Davis' Pain Killer.
This remedy is not a cheap Benzine or Petroleum product that must be kept away from fire or heat to avoid danger of explosion, nor is it an untried experiment that may do more harm than good.
Pain Killer has been in constant use for forty years, and the universal testimony from all parts of the world is, it never fails. It not only effects a permanent cure, but it relieves pain almost instantaneously. Being a purely vegetable remedy, it is safe in the hands of the most inexperienced.
The record of cures by the use of PAIN KILLER would fill volumes. The following extracts from letters received show what those who have tried it think:
Edgar Cady, Owatonna, Minn., says: About a year since my wife became subject to severe sciatic rheumatism. From this she sought relief in vain. Our family physician recommended your PAIN KILLER, and it proved a speedy cure. It relieved her.
Charles Howell writes from the Sailors' Home, London: I had been afflicted three years with neuralgia and violent spasms of the stomach. The doctors at Westminster Hospital gave up my case as incurable. I tried your PAIN KILLER, and it proved to me immediate relief. I have regained my strength, and am now able to follow my usual avocation.
G. H. Walworth, Saco, Me., writes: I experienced immediate relief from pain in the side by the use of your PAIN KILLER.
E. York says: I have used your PAIN KILLER for rheumatism, and have received great benefit.
Barton Seaman says: Have used PAIN KILLER for thirty years, and have found it a never-failing remedy for rheumatism and lameness.
Mr. Burditt writes: I never fails to give relief in cases of rheumatism.
Phil. Gilbert, Somerset, Pa., writes: From actual use, I know your PAIN KILLER is the best medicine I can get.
All druggists keep PAIN KILLER. Its price is so low that it is within the reach of all, and it will save many times its cost in doctors' bills. 25c., 50c. and $1.00 a bottle.

The Case Against the Concord Railroad.

The supreme court last week seems to have disposed of one of the cases against the Concord railroad in a manner that might have been anticipated. The idea of bringing charges of fraud without evidence, and asking the court to decide as to the former in the absence of any proof, is about equal to the tentative enquiry "How would you swap horses, if you had a horse to swap?" The result shows that it is much easier for lawyers to draft bills in equity, with charges of fraud and wrong doing, than for their clients to supply the proof essential to maintain their case.

It is not difficult to note that while the executive and judicial officers of the state will see that the rights of the people shall not be invaded by corporate bodies, there must be something more tangible than mere newspaper communications, or applications for injunctions unsustained by evidence of the wrong doing complained of, in order to have the courts interfere with the experiment of the railroads in their attempt at reducing the cost of transportation in the state, and preventing business going around instead of through our commonwealth, because of our heretofore cumbersome method of doing the through carriage of freights from the west to the seaboard.

Harvey Jewell.

Harvey Jewell, whose funeral occurred in Boston on Sunday, was prominent among that class of men which New Hampshire has so liberally contributed to her sister states in the Union. Mr. Jewell's father removed many years since to Hartford, where he established a business which has caused the firm of P. Jewell & Sons to be known all over the country, not only as a leading house, but as one whose name has ever been a synonym of honor.

The mother of Judge Jewell, who survives, has always been noted for her zeal in good works, and her prominence in progressive reforms.

Harvey Jewell came of good stock, and whether as teacher or student; as lawyer or statesman; as judge of an important tribunal, requiring an extended knowledge as well as professional lore; or in the practical positions where he so freely served his friends, he was never found wanting. He was a man of acknowledged purity, integrity, and indeed nobility of character, one whom every one respected and the many appreciated.

Mr. Jewell had many friends in this city and Concord; his wife was a daughter of Richard Bradley, formerly a prominent citizen of Concord. The death of Mr. Jewell, while still, as his friends had every reason to suppose, in the vigor of manhood, is a serious loss to the city of Boston, where he was identified with very many prominent business relations; and to the circle of brothers, by whom he was so tenderly and affectionately beloved, the bereavement comes with a most acute sense of personal loss, as it does to all the inmates of his father's home in Hartford.

The Vienna Horror.

The disaster from the burning of the Ring theatre in Vienna increases in magnitude as further details are reported. One despatch, on the evening of the 9th inst., said:

Four hundred corpses have thus far been recovered from the ruins of the burned theatre. Researches show that the upper gallery must have fallen into the pit, where the only remains found are small fragments of bone. Beyond a doubt 900 gallery tickets had been issued. One hundred holders of these are known to have jumped from windows. Competent judges fear that the loss of life will be found to be fully 700. Nothing has been heard of the members of the orchestra. An official of the theatre states that it was absolutely impossible to lower the iron curtain, owing to the frightful rapidity with which the flames spread.

A later telegram of the same date was as follows:

The theatre, which was the property of the state, was insured in the North British and Magyar Francia companies to the amount of 600,000 florins in each office. The lessee's loss is estimated at 100,000 florins. He held insurance for only a small amount. The number of persons actually reported to be missing is 609. In regard to the origin of the fire, the superintendent of machinery states that the scenery became ignited as the lamps were being lit by the electric current.

The London Standard's Vienna special said "All the performers except three of the chorus were saved. Among the missing are three professors and a member of parliament."

A telegram on the 10th said: The extent of the calamity has hitherto been much understated. One thousand one hundred and thirty persons are announced at the police bureau as missing, and assuming that many of these will turn up, it is feared that the total loss will not be much less than 1000 persons. It is now probable that there were 600 in the fourth gallery. All the persons in the third row of the parquet perished. Some persons who entered the theatre a few minutes after the fire was discovered remarked at the time that comparatively few escaped. The theatre held 2500. Every place was occupied, except the parquet and boxes consequently the total loss may be found to be nearly 1000. Three hundred and sixty tickets were issued for the fourth gallery seats for last night's performance. Of these about fifty bodies have been found. They had made their escape from the inside only to find death by suffocation in the passageway, which had no exit. The rest were, up to two o'clock this afternoon, seen lying within the fatal gallery—vast barricades of human bodies. About two o'clock the fourth gallery fell in, and the firemen are carrying out lumps of charred bodies without form and far beyond the possibility of recognition. Who these victims are will not be known until their relations have announced them missing. Mr. Brown, of the firm of Brown Bros. & Co. of New York, who with his wife and entire family visited the Ring theatre on Thursday afternoon at the matinee concert, and therefore left the theatre about an hour before the catastrophe, says that the stairways, narrow and winding, leading from the lobby to the parquet seats, were scarcely wide enough for two persons to pass, and that he had vowed, after arriving in the open air, never to take his family into such a death trap again.

News and Notes.

By a collision at Canonbury, Eng., on the North London railway, Dec. 10th, seven persons were killed and more than sixty severely injured. A train, crowded with passengers for London, had stopped at the tunnel of Canonbury, and the cause of the collision is explained to be that the signal man was unaware of that fact, and permitted three other trains to follow, with the result that all came into collision.

Gertrude Dyker, a German girl twenty years old, was waylaid and outraged at Milltown, N. J., Dec. 10th, by Ellsworth Crenning. The girl's brother soon after met Crenning, shot him dead with a gun, and fled.

Arrangements are pending between the brewers of Milwaukee, Chicago, St. Louis, Cincinnati, Detroit and Louisville with the view of organizing an independent association to be known as "The Western Brewers' Association." The price of beer is to be fixed at $8 per barrel, and $2 per keg.

The alleged great frauds upon the line of the Atchison, Topeka & Sante Fe railroad are not credited at the Boston office. Of course the officers in their easy chairs in the Milk street office cannot be expected to see these kind of operations except at a long range.

New Hampshire Items.

The Monadnock mills, of Claremont, were awarded a silver medal for the best Marseilles quilts, by the Massachusetts Charitable Mechanics' Association, at their recent exhibition in Boston.

Abiam G. Miller, of Laurens, N. Y., a graduate of Madison university, has been appointed principal of the high school in Littleton.

The death, on Friday, Nov. 25th, of Mary French, wife of Col. Whitcomb French, of Peterborough, at the age of eighty-four years and six months, was the first death in a family of eight children. Mr. and Mrs. French were married Nov. 27th, 1817, and if Mrs. French had lived two days longer, her married life would have numbered sixty-four years.

Henry C. Gilpatrick has been elected cashier of the Somersworth national bank of Great Falls. He has been for some years a director of the bank, and has the confidence of the community.

Melvin Kimball, who has been in the employ of Hon. John F. Cloutman of Farmington, was sent on Monday of last week by several fellow-workmen to draw their wages. After receiving the money, some $75, he disappeared. He was found Wednesday afternoon at Great Falls, on the point of leaving for Boston, by a man who was in pursuit of him; he was prevented from stepping on the train, and as soon as a warrant could be procured he was arrested, and delivered to the Farmington officers.

Rochester thinks it unfair for Dover to have the naval office at Boston, and the collectorship of internal revenue for this district, and then to obtain the clerkship of a senate committee, without anything being done for the "White house."

The steamer Lady of the Lake is to be hauled out upon ways 300 feet in length at the Weirs, and extensively repaired during the winter. The "Lady" is pretty old, but will be made to renew her youth.

OUTRAGE IN SEABROOK.

Mrs. Elizabeth Fowler, who says she is sixty-seven years old, and lives alone in her house on the marsh near the South dock in Seabrook, came to this city on Saturday to see Sheriff Kent and Solicitor Harriman, relative to a felonious assault committed upon her on Wednesday night of last week. Her statement to the sheriff was substantially as follows:

About midnight, some time after she had retired, she heard a noise outside of the house; she arose, threw a shawl over her shoulders, and looking out of the window saw by the light of the moon an unknown man, who immediately burst in the door, knocked her down by a blow in the face, and wrapped the shawl around her head, threatening to kill her if she made any outcry. Old and terrified, she was powerless in the grasp of the brute, who subsequently left her in an exhausted condition, when she dragged herself to the house of her nearest neighbor, where she was kindly cared for. She says she complained to the selectmen of the town, who told her they could do nothing in the premises, and she was sent to this city, alone, by some of the prominent men of the town. She has a badly-bruised eye, and her mouth bears prints of finger-nails. The sheriff gave her a dinner, and carried her to the railroad station at three o'clock; he also gave her a note to Rev. Mr. Rand, of South Seabrook, to the effect that Solicitor Harriman would be informed of the affair—the sheriff, however, intimating that he thought the selectmen of Seabrook should investigate the case, and that Mrs. Fowler was too old and infirm a woman to be sent so far alone. He also telegraphed a friend in Seabrook as to the woman's reputation, and received a reply that it was good.

"Don't Tell my Wife."

A well-known judge in one of the southern states, speaking of his younger days, says that some seventy years ago he had become skeptical, and that Mr. H——, a noble, whole-souled man, whom he revered almost as a father, but who was a confirmed deist, though he had a Christian wife, soon found him out and endeavored to instill in his mind his own deistical notions. "But he charged me, says the judge, "not to let his wife know that he was a deist or that I was skeptical I asked him why. To which he replied that if he was to marry a hundred times he would marry only a pious woman. Again I asked why. 'Because,' he said, 'if she is a Christian it makes her a better wife, a better mother, a better mistress, and a better neighbor. If she is poor it enables her to bear adversity with patience and fortitude. If she is rich and prosperous it lessens her desire for mere show. And when she comes to die, if she is in error, she is as well off as you and I; and if we are in error, she is a thousand times better off than we can be.' I asked him if he knew of any other error, or system of error, attended with so many advantages. His reply was evasive. But what he had said led me to examine the subject for myself. And I often look back to that conversation as one of the most important incidents of my life, and to it I trace my determination to study the Bible carefully and to examine the evidences of the Christian religion for myself, the result of which has led me to a full and living faith in the Saviour."

—A young clergyman in Ohio recently married a couple in the following brief manner: "Do you want one another?" Both replied, "yes" "Well, then, have one another."

At the December meeting of the directors of this society the matter of wire fences was discussed, and it was voted "That this society condemns and will oppose the use of the barbed-wire fence."

A vote of thanks was given to D. K. White, of Manchester, for the efficient manner in which he has performed the duties of agent.

A vote of thanks was also passed to Mrs. W. Appleton, of Boston, for the gift to the schools of Portsmouth of illustrated cards, to be used as rewards of merit.

The whole number of cases investigated and remedied during November was reported as eighty-three. Four animals have been humanely killed. Two arrests have been made, and one case has been settled by payment of fine and costs.

Signor Pietro Ferranti, the "king of buffos," at Music hall this evening, with the Carreno-Donaldi concert company.

A wooden building at the western end of one of the brick structures of the Jones brewery was considerably damaged by fire on Saturday afternoon, the fire having caught vapor escaping from the gasoline machine, located in the racking tub room. Josiah H. Morrison, the brewer, Edward Kelsey, the engineer, Daniel Earing, and Michael Quinlan were all more or less burned while fighting the fire before the fire department arrived, the last named two being seriously injured.

It will be seen by a notice elsewhere that the steamer Acushnet will, after one more trip, haul off for a short time, in order to receive a new boiler

Roberto Stantini, late tenor of the Mapleson Opera company, will appear with the Carreno-Donaldi operatic company at Music hall this evening.

Messrs. Wm. H. Goodwin, Wm. H. Hill and Frank Goodwin, well known as former residents of this city, with others, will apply for incorporation as a company authorized to guaranty the fidelity of the bonds of officers in Massachusetts. There is unquestionably a wide field for this business in the Bay state.

"Deacon Crankett" will delight a large audience at Music hall next Wednesday evening.

Mr. John S. Treat on Saturday put in position on the top of his marble-working shop, corner of Vaughan and Deer streets, the statue of Old Father Time, copied from the original and looking just like him; the sculptor was Mr. Woodbury Gerrish, who in times past was so famous for carving figure heads for the famous Piscataqua-built ships. Mr. Treat's father carried on a stone yard at this stand in 1807, and Capt. Sam. Spinney learned his trade there; there is record of the business having been conducted on the same spot one hundred and twenty years ago, so that Mr. Treat's claim that it is the oldest stone-yard in New England may not be ill founded.

The schooner Albert, of Ellsworth, Me., A. J. Wallace master, before reported as having got on the rocks at Clark's island on Friday, got on shore through the breaking of her anchor chain, and remained aground for eight hours. Capt. T. Clarkson and Capt. Amos Rand, of Kittery, were called on the survey, and recommended to Capt. Wallace that he employ a tug to tow the schooner to her destination, (Newburyport,) as it could be done with perfect safety, and at much less expense than would be incurred by discharging the cargo and repairing the vessel at this port. The Albert was accordingly towed to Newburyport on Saturday by the tug Clara Batemen.

Ex-Governor Goodwin has recovered from the illness which has confined him to his home for a few weeks past, and is now about town again apparently as good as new.

The arrivals of fish on Saturday were the schooner Iris, 3000 lbs.; Storm King, 3000 lbs.; Addie & Hattie, 2500 lbs.; Mary E. Smith, 1050 lbs.

One hundred and twenty workmen were at work on Sunday in completing the laying of the water pipes along the track of the eastern railroad, connecting with the reservoirs in the vicinity of the station.

The schooner Lucy, the pirque owned by Mr. Lemuel B. Caswell, while coming in from the Shoals on Friday with a cargo of fish could not reach the wharves owing to the strong ebb tide, and anchored off Clark's island. She soon after sprung aleak, and it was found necessary, to prevent her from sinking, to beach her on Preble island. The cargo consisted of two hundred quintals of hake and two thousand pounds of dun fish, and is probably spoiled.

Mr. Frank A. Wendell, formerly of this city, is meeting with good success in Salem, Mass., at the plumbing business, according to the papers of that city. We are glad to hear of the prosperity of our Portsmouth boys abroad, and as Mr. Wendell is smart and enterprising, and a subscriber to the NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE, we take pleasure in alluding to the flattering encomiums bestowed upon him in the city of his adoption.

The steam tug Naumkeag, which has been in Portland for the last week having a new propeller put in, returned to this city on Friday. Her passage from Portland was made in five hours and a quarter, against a heavy sea and strong wind.

The schooner Gov. Goodwin came into this port on Saturday morning, from Gloucester, with 2500 quintals of fish on board, having been unable to dispose of her cargo at the latter place. In coming into Doane's wharf she missed stays, and the tide and wind took her down against the bridge; the schooner's mainsail was badly torn, and she received some other slight damage, but the brigde was uninjured. It will be remembered that this is the schooner that went against the same bridge some time ago when in charge of a tug, for which the owner of the tug had to pay damages of over $500.

Mr. M. F. Berry has been appointed general agent in New York city for the American Express Co., Jas. C. Fargo president, the duties of the position being the general management and oversight of all matters in connection with the company's local business in that city. Mr. Berry was formerly a resident of Rye.

The townspeople of Rev. William L. Gage, formerly pastor of the North church in this city, now of Hartford, Conn., who nearly choked the life out of a burglar whom he found in his house the other night, regard him as a model of "muscular Christianity," and it has been proposed that he be made chief of police.

The steamer Appledore, of this port, and the yacht Una, of Cincinnati, occupy a dock together as winter quarters in the rear of Jones' building on Market street.

John P. Sweetser, at No. 46 Market street, has a large assortment of useful articles suitable for holiday presents. See the advertisement in another column.

The city fence on the water side of the new Vaughan street has been painted, and looks well. Mrs. Seavey's house has also been painted, the colors being selected with good taste; and the only noticeable blemish on the street, looking from the railroad crossing toward the Raynes shipyard, is the Wilson house, which projects into the highway in a dangerous manner.

The schooner Mabel Thomas, McKenzie master, which put into the lower harbor in distress last Thursday afternoon, having sprung a leak off Thacher's island on her passage from Blue Hill, Me., to Washington, D. C., with a cargo of paving stones, was towed to Boston on Saturday, a tug having come around from that port for the purpose.

The funeral of Daniel McKeone took place from the Church of the Immaculate Conception on Sunday afternoon at three o'clock, and was attended by a large congregation. He was a young man of much promise, about seventeen years of age, an adopted son of the late John Dixon.

The shifting engine Liberty, when running on the rails of the Concord railroad in the rear of Call's stable, Saturday, jumped the track and went about three feet up the Eastern railroad embankment. No damage was done, beyond the trouble of placing the engine on the iron again.

A valuable draft horse belonging to C. E. Walker was nearly dead from colic on Saturday afternoon, but with attention soon recovered—a possible saving to the public, who might have otherwise been obliged to pay more for coal!

Two boys, sons of Jarius Tilton of Exeter, were drowned in that town on Saturday by breaking through the ice while skating.

Some of the heirs in the McDonald property in York, on which the Marshall house is situated, will bring in claims of ownership of the land, they not having been consulted in the selling thereof.

Rear Admiral Cooper celebrated his recent promotion by a reception given at the New York navy yard on Friday of last week, at which Gen. Grant, Admiral Wyman and many prominent personages were present. Admiral Cooper, when a lieutenant, was on duty at this station.

Terrible Accident.
Parents be Careful.
Domestic accidents are common to women, and some of them are very serious. Mrs. Warner, of South Rondout, Ulster Co., N. Y., some weeks ago attempted to take from her child a pair of shears with which it was playing. A slight struggle ensued, in which the point of the shears entered Mrs. Warner's left eye, entirely destroying the sight. Her family physician did what he could, but intensely painful inflammation arose, which, by sympathy, threatened the loss of the other eye. Total blindness to a woman having the care of a household is an irretrievable calamity. In this strait Mrs. Warner applied to that the well-known and skillful surgeon' Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., who removed the injured eye by a very successful operation, setting aside all danger of further harm to the sight of the other eye. But, owing to pain and mental distress, her system needed a tonic and restorative medicine. To do this work the doctor prescribed "Kennedy's Favorite Remedy," which sustained its reputation and laid a sure foundation of health.
Dr. Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" removes all impurities from the blood, regulates the Liver and Kidneys, Cures Constipation, and all diseases and weaknesses peculiar to females. It is for sale by all our druggists at One Dollar a bottle.

The Concord Fight.

In the case of Edmund Burke et al. vs. the Concord railroad, before the supreme court, full bench, Judge Doe on Friday morning read the following decision: "Plaintiffs charge a fraudulent conspiracy and actual damage to their interests as stockholders. They offer no evidence of fraudulent conspiracy or actual damage to them or anybody else; they ask for a temporary injunction, on the ground that the contract is beyond the corporate power of the Concord railroad, and yet there cannot be any possible evidence to show that it is within that power. The defendants claim that on the question whether the contract is within the clause of the charter granting such powers as may be necessary to carry into effect the purposes of the charter, there is material of competent evidence, without which the question of temporary injunction cannot be legally or fairly decided. Whether there can be facts proved by extraneous evidence competent to be considered on the question of incidental power is the question which the plaintiffs desire to argue. We are of opinion that a discussion of the question will not be useful. It will be a discussion of a supposed state of facts, and the decision will be of a hypothetical case. We decline to hear further arguments without the facts which it is claimed are material be known. To go on without them would be to leave the defendants to state what they think they can prove, and to act upon their statement. Whether there are any facts material to be known is a question we cannot decide until we are informed what the facts are. The parties may confer upon the course to be taken to bring the facts to our knowledge."

In the afternoon the chief justice read another order, reciting that since the previous announcement the plaintiffs had moved that arguments go on without the facts, if defendants did not accept service in, and make answer to, the suit of which they had no legal notice and in which they cannot be required to appear in the usual course until next April, unless they consent to its being entered as of last October term. The order closes as follows: "If the parties do not agree, application may be made at any time to the whole court, or any member of it, for an order." The motion was denied.

Another Fatal Fire.

At Rock Cut, seven miles from Pittsburg, Pa., Saturday morning at three o'clock, fire destroyed a boarding house in which nearly fifty workmen employed on the Davis island dam were boarding; nine men were burned to death, and a number of others were fatally injured.

Public speakers and lecturers can use their voice continuously and with safety by taking small or alterative doses of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

Mothers Don't Know

How many children are punished for being uncouth, wilful, and indifferent to instructions or rewards, simply because they are out of health! An intelligent lady said of a child of this kind: "Mothers should know that if they would give the little ones moderate doses of Hop Bitters for two or three weeks, their children would be all a parent could desire."

Frank Hall, colored, was executed at Little Rock, Ark., Friday, for the murder of Paul Saunders two years ago.

A Word to Mothers.

Mothers should remember it is a most important duty at this season to look after the health of their families and cleanse the malaria and impurities from their systems, and that nothing will tone up the stomach and liver, regulate the bowels and purify the blood so perfectly as Parker's Ginger Tonic, advertised in our columns.—Post: see other columns.

An explosion occurred last week in the Cockerell colliery in Belgium, causing the death of sixty-six persons.

Nine years ago a young girl in North Monmouth, Me., lost a breastpin. She is now Mrs. Lord, and one day last week her husband found the pin by the roadside, just where the girl lost it in 1872.

"Pro Bono Publico."

It is a very remarkable fact, that while thousands of people refuse to read paid puff of worthless nostrums, none skip over Dr. Swayne's little squib about his Ointment for itching piles that itch so much at night. The people well know that it is published for their benefit, in other words, is pro bono publico. May its far reaching effects be perpetuated to the end of time.

Rheumatism
Neuralgia, Sprains,
Pain in the Back and Side.
There is nothing more painful than these diseases; but the pain can be removed and the disease cured by use of Perry Davis' Pain Killer.
This remedy is not a cheap Benzine or Petroleum product that must be kept away from fire or heat to avoid danger of explosion, nor is it an untried experiment that may do more harm than good.
Pain Killer has been in constant use for forty years, and the universal testimony from all parts of the world is, it never fails. It not only effects a permanent cure, but it relieves pain almost instantaneously. Being a purely vegetable remedy, it is safe in the hands of the most inexperienced.
The record of cures by the use of PAIN KILLER would fill volumes. The following extracts from letters received show what those who have tried it think:
Edgar Cady, Ovatonna, Minn., says:
About a year since my wife became subject to severe suffering from rheumatism. Our resort was to the PAIN KILLER, which speedily relieved her.
Charles Powell writes from the Sailors' Home, London:
I had been afflicted three years with neuralgia and violent pains of the stomach. The doctors at Westminster Hospital gave up my case in despair. I tried your PAIN KILLER, and it gave me immediate relief. I have resumed my strength, and am now able to follow my usual occupation.
G. H. Walworth, Saco, Me., writes:
I experienced immediate relief from pain in the side by the use of your PAIN KILLER.
E. York says:
I have used your PAIN KILLER for rheumatism, and have received great benefit.
Barton Seaman says:
Have used PAIN KILLER for thirty years, and have found it a never-failing remedy for rheumatism and lameness.
Mr. Burditt writes:
Never fails to give relief in cases of rheumatism.
Paul Gilbert, Somerset, Pa., writes:
From actual use, I know your PAIN KILLER is the best medicine I can get.
All druggists keep PAIN KILLER. Its price 25 so low that it is within the reach of all, and it will save many times its cost in doctors' bills. 25c., 50c. and $1.00 a bottle.

The Pacific Bank.

A settlement has been effected between the Central bank of Boston, the Pacific bank, and Mr. Weeks. The debt of the Pacific to the Central is $815,400, secured by miscellaneous collateral to the amount of $250,000. By the terms of the agreement just made the Pacific is granted one year in which to pay $500,000 of the debt, and the balance of $315,400 is assumed by Mr. Weeks, payable in six months. Mr. Weeks it is said will immediately deposit good security for this sum, and the Central will release to the Pacific $125,000 of the $250,000 collateral now held.

The Vienna Horror.

The Vienna papers on the morning of the 11th inst. published a corrected list of the known victims of the fire, the list containing 580 names. The official list of missing contained 917 names. The press reports of that date further say:

It is feared that as the debris is removed, hundreds of bodies will be found in the blocked-up passages. The captain of the fire brigade states that all inside the theatre is a heap of human bones and charred remains. The American medical students, of whom there are 150 in Vienna, and who usually frequent the moderate-priced places, seem to have kept away altogether on the fatal night, for not one is reported as missing, although six German and Hungarian fellow-students are among the dead. In one passage of the theatre, without an outlet, forty persons lost their way, and being unable to return, were suffocated. Inquiries establish the fact that the persons intrusted with the duties of firemen on the stage ran off affrighted at the first blaze. One even tumbled headlong from the "flies" to the stage floor, and another, who had charge of the gas, thinking that an explosion had occurred, or would occur, turned off the gas at the meter, plunging the theatre into total darkness until it became illuminated with the blaze of the conflagration.

The government has decreed that hereafter two official inspectors shall thoroughly examine every place of public entertainment one hour before the time appointed for the beginning of every performance, and that the doors of none shall be opened to the public until these inspectors have reported that the buildings are thoroughly safe.

Despatches from Vienna to London papers say that of all the employes of the theatre, only one appears to have done his duty when the time for action arrived. This was the man whose business it was to turn off the gas in case of fire. He was the only one who stuck to his post, yet he cut off the escape of many scores, who were forced to grope about in the darkness and were eventually suffocated before they could feel their way out of the death-trap. The management was criminally negligent. There were large doors in every gallery, which were to be opened in case of fire. When the key was applied to one of these it broke from disuse and rust. One other escape door only was burst open. The rest were not opened. All the doors of the galleries opened inward, and when one was broken down by the pressure, the foremost persons fell and were trampled to death by those following, and few passed over this human barricade. Not a single precautionary measure for the safety of the audience had been taken. Immediately after the Nice theatre fire, high officials said that such a thing could not happen in Vienna, for "the theatre police is quite beyond praise." The fact appears to be that the police commissionary who was sent every night to the Ring theatre had generally a good time, receiving tickets for his wife and a few friends, and never thought of doing much more than just showing himself for appearance's sake. The precautions which might have averted this terrible catastrophe are just beginning to be thought of. Doctors say those who were in the auditorium did not live over a minute after the fire broke through the curtain.

News and Notes.

Gen. H. B. Banning, a noted democratic politician, and ex-member of Congress for the first district of Ohio, died at his home in Cincinnati Dec. 10th. He was born in Knox county, Ohio, in 1834, served through the war on the Union side, and was brevetted major general for meritorious service. He was a practising attorney of Cincinnati, and a brother-in-law of Don Piatt.

Mrs. Wm. Kelly was found dead at her home in Roxbury, Mass., Sunday evening, and was laid out in her bed. Later in the evening an officer found two children crying on the street, who said they were afraid to go home, as their mother was dead and their father was drunk. The officer investigated the case, and found the woman as above stated, with her husband, William Kelly, crazy drunk in bed beside her. Kelly was locked up for safe keeping. There are rumors of foul play in connection with the case, which are being investigated.

Smallpox is spreading in Chicago, and the preventive measures taken by the health authorities seem to be utterly inadequate to meet the necessities of the epidemic. Nine new cases were reported Sunday, three of the sufferers having walked into the health office. Sixteen cases are reported at Jefferson, Ill.

Isabel Almes, a noted political magnate living at Chammero, Mexico, has just committed a wholesale butchery. Going to a ranche, he beat the women there savagely, and one Zopati, who interfered, was killed by the infuriated desperado. At the next ranche which he visited Almes shot and wounded no less than seventeen people before his murderous career was checked.

At Chicago Dec. 10th, Benjamin Eyster, for shooting John Shoemaker, a hackman, was sentenced to fourteen years in the penitentiary; and John Slanners, for the murder of Lizzie Cleveland, to twenty years. Eleven convictions of murder have been made in the criminal court at Chicago since September. Three were sent for life one was sentenced to death, and the rest went to prison for various terms.

John Hatch, a young resident of Wrentham, Mass., while riding on the road Friday evening, was surprised by a strange man who dashed from the woods, and seizing the bridle of his horse, yelled "Hold up!" Hatch drew a pistol, and the man fled.

Ten men were burned to death, four fatally burned, and four maimed for life, by the boarding-house fire at Rock Cut, Pa., on the 10th inst.

After a long and bitter contest in the New York courts over the will of Edwin P. Christie, the founder of negro minstrelsy, who died in 1862, and the will of his son, E. Byron Christie, a decision has been rendered by which the heirs of the widow of the former are entitled to about $35,000. Edwin P. Christie left originally an estate of about $200,000, but through litigation the major portion has passed into the hands of the attorneys.

The wife of August Fischer, of Milwaukee, Wis., became jealous of him from seeing an announcement in the papers of a contemplated marriage of a person of the same name as her husband, and after an altercation, seized an axe and struck him three blows, one of which penetrated the skull, inflicting a fatal wound. Mrs. Fischer is thirty-nine years old.

Jerry Ansbrooks, living near Gallatin, Tenn., was shot dead through a window as he was sitting by his fireside one night last week. It is thought the crime was committed by illicit distillers, about whom he had given information.

There is in the national treasury about $10,000,000 remaining for payments on the Geneva award; this money should long since have been distributed to the unfortunate ship owners whose vessels were captured and burned by the rebel cruisers. This matter it is hoped will receive the early attention of Congress.

Seven deaths occurred in Havana last week from yellow fever.

In a quarrel at Belton, Tex., Saturday, Deputy Marshal Sweet was shot and killed by City Marshal Holbert.

Two brothers named Adock, of Little Rock, Ark., were murdered Saturday, and their bodies found on a highway.

Robert Barr is under arrest for the murder of Wm. McMahan in Philadelphia, Friday night. Barr recently completed ten years in prison.

John Randolph, who mysteriously disappeared from his home at Robeline, La., has been found murdered, and Bill Prince is under arrest, charged with the crime.

At the Pratt mines, near Decatur, Ala., Friday night, a disorderly negro resisted arrest, arming himself with a shotgun, and was shot dead by Officer W. A. Brown.

A government balloon in charge of Capt. Templer, accompanied by Mr. Walter Powell, member of parliament for Malmesbury and Mr. Gardner, ascended from Bath, Eng., on Saturday, and descended at Bridport. The balloon struck the ground heavily, and Mr. Gardner and Capt. Templer were thrown out and injured. The balloon then rose with Mr. Powell, and was seen again to descend at sea. Nothing has since been heard of the balloon or Mr. Powell.

The Grand Orange lodge of Ireland has issued a circular condemning the land league, and pointing out that in the United Kingdom and its colonies there are thousands and thousands of Orangemen ready to fight for the constitution.

Assym Pasha, the Turkish minister of foreign affairs, has informed Gen. Wallace, the American minister to Turkey, that Ali, who murdered Mr. Parsons, the American missionary, died over a year ago.

Rev. John F. McKenna of Portland, Me., late pastor of St. Mary's Catholic church in Lancaster, died Dec. 11th. Father McKenna was also stationed at Manchester for some time.

Man's Destructiveness.

Of course it is quite obvious that the influence of man has been generally inimical to the larger beasts and birds. The edible species he has killed off for food; the carnivorous have been killed off as competitors and enemies of his own. In Britain alone we have destroyed or driven away the urus, the reindeer, the bear, the wolf, the beaver, and the wild boar; while we have almost exterminated the bustard, the seal, and the white cattle of Chillingham, and have lately reintroduced by artificial means the long locally extinct capercailzie. The red deer survives only by careful preservation; the fallow deer is doubtedly indigenous; the pheasant is an acclimated alien. So in New Zealand the Maories had destroyed the moa before white men reached the island; in Mauritius the dodo only just lived long enough to be inaccurately described; in Behring's strait, the peculiar marine mammal allied to the manatee was killed off by the earliest European explorers.

The walrus and the seal even now threaten to become extinct; the European seas are getting fished out; the bison and the peccary will soon be driven out of America; the wapiti is even now becoming scarcer every year. In short, man is and has always been exterminating all the larger animals everywhere, and we may even question how considerable a part he may have borne in the destruction of some among the great extinct creatures of the quaternary period. He has almost certainly killed off the reindeer in its wild form; and he may have assisted the glacial epoch in killing off the mammoth, the cave bear and the woolly rhinoceros.

Wherever man appears, the large beasts and large birds disappear. It is only against small creatures that he is helpless, in exact proportion to their smallness. He can do little against the sugar-cane rat or the ordinary mouse; still less against the army worm or the seventeen-year locust; and almost nothing, it would seem, against the phylloxera or the Colorado beetle. And when he comes to deal with the microscopic organisms which invade his very veins as Yellow Jack or typhoid fever, it appears that his best chance lies in actually introducing a small colony of the enemy in attenuated and comparatively innocuous forms into his own system.—Pall Mall Budget.

—A Michigan backwoodsman, young, handsome, but untutored and rude, has married the accomplished daughter of a wealthy tourist, and taken her to his cabin in the forest, where he chops wood for a living. Her father, unable to recover her by law, since she was old enough to legally choose a husband for herself, has sensibly taken board at a Milwaukee hotel, where he is now patiently waiting for the girl to voluntarily return. "I may be delayed three months," he says, "but I don't believe it will be as many weeks. These little incidents of travel are worrisome, yet not very serious."

THE

Mutual Life Insurance Co.

of New York,

F. S. WINSTON, President.

The Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York is THE OLDEST Company, with thirty-seven years of experience.

It is purely Mutual—without Capital or Stockholders to share in profits, and no bonuses allowed to Officers, Trustees, or Employees.

It confines its business to regular Life and Endowment Policies, and the granting of Annuities. No new or experimental plans.

Its premium rates are lower than any other regular Life Insurance Company, and Policy-holders participate in current earnings annually.

No Policy-holder need forfeit his Policy, provided three full annual premiums have been paid, and application is immediately made for a paid-up Policy, when necessity arises to do so.

Assets have more than doubled during the past ten years, notwithstanding the six years of financial panic.

Its Interest and Rent Receipts alone have exceeded its Death Claims TEN MILLIONS of Dollars ($10,000,000.)

It has issued over 220,000 Policies; insured over $700,000,000; received over $276,000,000 in premiums; and returned to Policy-holders over $162,000,000.

It can and does afford the cheapest, safest, and most satisfactory insurance investment of any Company in the world.

Is not this well styled a marvel in Finance? No more beneficent institution exists upon the face of the earth than this greatest of financial organizations, combining the greatest possible good for the greatest number with an expertness in financiering that is paralleled only by the sturdy integrity of its managers and the proud pre-eminence of its commercial, patriotic, and scientific record.

AROUND HOME.

To-morrow evening "Deacon Crankett" will amuse Portsmouth people at Music hall. The play is very comic.

Carrie Abbott, a young girl about fifteen years old, living in the vicinity of the Eastern railroad station, was on Monday reported at the police station as having been absent from her home since the previous Saturday, her friends having no intimation of her whereabouts.

The arrivals of fish on Monday were the schooner Grace Choate, with 10,000 lbs.; the Storm King, 2500 lbs.; Nettie Adams, 5000 lbs.; Flying Cloud, 2500 lbs.; Albert Woodbury, 7000 lbs ; Flying Eagle, 7000 lbs.; Addie & Hattie, 2000 lbs.; Flora Temple, 1500 lbs.; and about 2000 pounds brought in by the small boats.

If you want to have three hours of solid fun, go and see the Deacon at Music hall to-morrow evening.

The schooner Wingaersheek has gone into winter quarters at C. E. Walker's wharf.

The schooner Comet arrived at this port from Newburyport on Monday afternoon, and will fit out for winter fishing.

Mr. Wm. B. Keen, of Malden, Mass., has recently purchased the schooner E. A. Williams, of Swampscott, Mass., and will fit her out for fishing. She registers thirty-four tons, is well built, and has a good record for sailing and as a sea-boat. Mr. Keen has now four vessels engaged in fishing—all sailing from this port, and commanded by Piscataqua-river skippers—the W. B. Keen, E. A. Williams, Julia A., and Norma. Capt. Walter Amee, of Kittery, will go as master of the E. A. Williams, and Capt. Andrew H. White of Newcastle will take charge of the Norma.

The remains of Supt. Haven L. Scott of the county farm will be brought to this city this (Tuesday) morning at quarter past ten o'clock. The obsequies will be held in the North church at half-past ten, and will be attended by members from St. John's and St. Andrew's Lodges of Masons and De Witt Clinton Commandery of Knights Templar. The Masonic and Templar services will each be performed in the meeting house, at the conclusion of the church service, after which the body will be conveyed to its last resting place.

The Carreno-Donaldi Concert Co. had a small audience at Music hall on Monday evening; the entertainment was well received by those who did attend. Mme. Carreno, the pianist, being favored with especial marks of approbation, including several encores.

Otis B. Downing of Newington, ninety-three years of age, is reported as lying at the point of death. About a month ago he broke his right hip by a fall, and has been in a critical condition ever since, his great age precluding any hope of recovery. He is a veteran of the war of 1812.

Preparations are being made for the annual Christmas festival of the Sunday school of St. John's parish, at Franklin hall on Wednesday, Dec. 28th.

The "ghost" troubles Portsmouth no longer, Mr. John S. Treat having caught him and struck him on top of his (Treat's) marble-shop for a sign.

Rev. Wm. A. Rand was last week appointed postmaster at South Seabrook.

Mr. Editor: Our city at the present time is overrun with worthless curs. A gentleman from Hampton was severely bitten on the leg by one of them several days since. If I am not misinformed, the law regarding the licensing of dogs is an absolute dead letter at present, and has been for some time. Now, why do not our police enforce the law relative to unlicensed dogs, and thereby add to the city's revenue—there is need enough of that—and at the same time rid the city of one of its worst nuisances? Is there any particular reason why the mayor, or the city marshal, or any other official, should so palpably ignore a wholesome and useful ordinance? Formerly, unless my memory is very treacherous, City Marshal Johnson used to collect several hundred dollars every year, on dog licenses; how much has been collected this year from the same source? SPOT.

The dory which came ashore on Rye beach Dec. 7th has been identified as the one in which John Scofield of Newburyport left a fishing schooner in the bay on the morning of that day, and there is no longer any doubt that he was swamped and drowned by the heavy sea.

Joshua Blaisdell of South Berwick, a carpenter in the employ of Capt. W. G. Matthews at Wells, last Thursday afternoon fell from the roof a building upon which he was at work, striking upon his head and shoulders and receiving severe injuries.

The Biddeford Times of Dec. 10th says: "A grand wedding took place at the house of Mr. James W. Ridlon, Cape Porpoise, on Monday evening last, conducted by Rev. D. R. Ford. Mr. Frank Tanner and Miss Cora Ridlon were the contracting parties. The marriage ceremony was performed in the presence of fifty invited guests, after which a treat of two kinds of cake, candy and apples, were served to all."

Soft Enough.

"There, Mary Ann," said a gentleman from the interior to his spouse, as they were standing in front of a hardware store, examining the intricacies of a five-gallon ice-cream freezer that works with a crank and ratchet wheel, "there's a churn made on 'zackly the right plan. I swow, I'll bet you could fetch butter in one of them 'ere churns in five minutes. 'Taint big enough, though, for more'n two cows. Say, mister," to a clerk who at that moment came to the door yawning, "hev ye got any bigger churns'n that?"

That clerk had been to a dance the night before, and could have gone to sleep in a quartz mill, but the inquiry made him wide awake in an instant. He turned and winked knowingly to his fellow-salesmen, as if to say, "Here's fun, boys." The boys gathered around and grinned with delight as the clerk placed his thumbs in the arm-holes of his vest, played a tattoo with his fingers upon his manly chest, and in his most grandiloquent and impressive manner replied:

"Your eyes deceive you, sir. That is not a churn. That, sir, is the greatest labor-saving invention of the age. That, sir, is the Snow washing machine; so-called because every article washed in it comes out as white as the driven snow, no matter how soiled it may be. Ran a pair of my dirty blue overalls through it the other day, and they came out white duck. Jim, here, washed his conscience in it night before last, and is to join the church next Sunday. Wash a yellow cur dog in that machine and he will come out a milk-white Spitz, with his license paid and a collar around his neck."

"Sho! How does it work, and how much be they?"

"To a gallon of water you add a teaspoonful of our patent liquid soaporific. It has wonderful penetrative powers; removes every particle of foreign matter instantly, leaving the garments perfectly clean, and remarkably soft to touch."

"Leaves 'em soft, eh?"

"Soft as butter!"

"Then I reckon you must a-washed yourself with some of that 'ere stuff, mister."

And as the other clerks roared with laughter, the funny youth went to the end of the store to hunt up a skate strap for a very small boy, while the granger remarked:

"Come along, Mary Ann; I kinder reckon that 'ere feller changed his mind, and don't want ter sell that 'ere churn, but it does look as if it 'ud bring the butter powerful quick."

Notes on Live Stock in Winter.

The farm animals at this season are directly dependent upon the care and attention of the farmer. To pass the winter with profit they must be well kept. Animals are very complicated engines, and must be run by careful engineers. The food they receive is the fuel, and the daily rubbing, cleaning, etc., may be likened to the inspection, cleaning and oiling of the engine. The fuel must be equal to the demands made of the animal engine, else the machinery will be run at a disadvantage, and therefore with diminished profit. When the water is low and the fire almost out, the engine is a source of loss to the owner. On the other hand the fire may be brisk, and the boiler well supplied, but some screw is loose, or a part rubs another too closely and the friction thus produced neutralizes much of the force. So in the animal machine, all the parts must work harmoniously together, or in other words there must be perfect health to obtain the best results. An animal may have the best of food in sufficient quantity, and still pass a hard winter, and without profit to its owner. Food of the best kinds without shelter, is in the animal economy like fuel in an engine that is rusty and loose and out of order. Both are expensive methods of arriving at desired results. It takes too much force to run the machine in both cases. As it is cheaper to have a good engine kept in good order, so it is to have an animal in health and comfort. The thoughtful farmer will see many other points of likeness between the animal machine and the one constructed by human hands, but this is enough to suggest the importance of keeping farm animals in a healthful and comfortable condition by means of warm stables with clean floors and pure air.—American Agriculturist.

—"Another lie nailed," as the wag remarked when the merchant tacked up a sign, "At cost."

—It is said of Guiteau that he never used liquors or tobacco in any form, never played cards, and never saw a horse race. If to this string of virtues it could only have been added that he died young!

—A Rochester street-car horse shot out both heels, the other day, and hit the driver with one and the cash-box with the other, and an investigation showed that he had kicked six dollars into the driver's overcoat pocket. Such wonderful sagacity on the part of the horse caused the discharge of the driver.

—The best sermon in the world never yet reconciled the proud man, trying to curl his feet up and out of sight under the pew, to the painfully obtrusive and evident fact that the wife of his bosom had used his blacking brush to polish the kitchen stove.

Terrible Accident.

Domestic accidents are common to women, and some of them are very serious. Mrs. Warner, of South Rondout, Ulster Co., N. Y., some weeks ago attempted to take from her child a pair of shears with which it was playing. A slight struggle ensued, in which the point of the shears entered Mrs. Warner's left eye, entirely destroying the sight. Her family physician did what he could, but intensely painful inflammation arose, which, by sympathy, threatened the loss of the other eye. Total blindness to a woman having the care of a household is an irreticvable calamity. In this strait Mrs. Warner applied to that the well-known and skillful surgeon' Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., who removed the injured eye by a very successful operation, setting aside all danger of further harm to the sight of the other eye. But, owing to pain and mental distress, her system needed a tonic and restorative medicine. To do this work the doctor prescribed "Kennedy's Favorite Remedy," which sustained its reputation and laid a sure foundation of health.

Dr. Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" removes all impurities from the blood, regulates the Liver and Kidneys, Cures Constipation, and all diseases and weaknesses peculiar to females. It is for sale by all our druggists at One Dollar a bottle.

"Up the River; or yachting on the Mississippi," is the last of the "Great Western Series" by Oliver Optic, whose writings have always had a charm for young readers. The present volume has eight illustrations, and like its predecessors is full of interest in its descriptive incidents upon the Father of Waters. Boston; Lee & Shepard; price $1.50. Portsmouth, M. Goodrich, Market street.

"Aunt Serena:" by Blanche Willis Howard, author of "One Summer." Boston; James R. Osgood & Co.; price $1.25.

It is a long time since Miss Howard has given us any token that her pen was other than at rest. She has spent several years abroad, residing at Stuttgart in Germany. During this absence from her native land she has found abundant material for "Aunt Serena," which story gives us scenes on either side of the Atlantic. The novel of to-day which does not take its reader across the ocean at least once in its recital is tame indeed The tourist will be pleasantly reminded of many famous European places of interest. Aunt Serena and Rose travelled like sensible persons. "They observed much not mentioned in guide-books, and failed to see much recommended by those necessary evils," and therefore enjoyed Europe not as a programme to be rigidly gone through, but as free and enlightened visitors who had their own ideas of how the old world should be seen and enjoyed.

"The Pocket Rifle" is No. 5 of the "Silver Medal stories" by J. T. Trowbridge, and is published by Lee & Shepard of Boston at $1.25. It is a graphically-told story of two school boys, and is written in the style peculiar to Mr. Trowbridge, whose fame as a writer is of itself a sufficient assurance of the interest which the book possesses. For sale by M. Goodrich.

—It is told about a Las Vegas girl, that while sitting under a tree at Mineral City, waiting for her lover, a cinnamon bear came along, and approaching from behind, began to hug her. She thought it was her king of men, and so leaned back and enjoyed it hugely, murmuring, "tighter." It broke the bear all up, and he retreated to the hill and bid in the forest's three days to get over his mortification.

—Frank E. Marvin, of Chicago, was infatuated with the widow Dowling, in whose boarding house he lived; but she cared nothing for him except as a prompt-pay-paying boarder, and therefore kept him in suspense as to her real sentiments. "I am tired of waiting for your answer," he said the other day at the dinner table; "Say you will marry me, or I'll swallow this poison with my coffee;" and he took the drug from his pocket. The widow laughed at him, thinking it was a joke. "Once for all," he solemnly protested; "say yes, or I'll die right here." She said no, and he was dead in an hour.

No one would willingly disturb the comfort of a public gathering by constant coughing; but we feel that it is the proper thing to call the attention of those afflicted with coughs and colds to Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup which always cures. Price 25 cents.

Chief Engineer T. C. McCallum has been detached from the Pensacola navy yard, and ordered to duty at New London.

"I have given St. Jacobs Oil a trial on sores and fresh wounds of horses, and find it to relieve the soreness in a few hours. I deem it valuable to all owners of horses,"—says Mike Goodwin, Esq., of the Belmont Driving Park, Montgomery Co., Pa.

Chief Engineer Robert Danby has been detached from special duty at New York, and placed on waiting orders.

When I was Sick!

My room looked like a drug store, I had so many bottles in it. The more I dosed the worse off I was. Finally I paid my doctor and told him he needn't come any more. I was troubled with chronic rheumatism, and couldn't get out of bed alone. Six bottles of Sulphur Bitters cured me.—Fireman, Boston.

"Pro Bono Publico."

It is a very remarkable fact, that while thousands of people refuse to read paid puffs of worthless nostrums, none skip over Dr. Swayne's little squib about his Ointment for itching piles that itch so much at night. The people well know that it is published for their benefit, in other words, is pro bono publico. Nay, its far reaching effects be perpetuated to the end of time.

Rheumatism

Neuralgia, Sprains,

Pain in the Back and Side.

There is nothing more painful than these diseases; but the pain can be removed and the disease cured by use of Perry Davis' Pain Killer.

This remedy is not a cheap Benzine or Petroleum product that must be kept away from fire or heat to avoid danger of explosion, nor is it an untried experiment that may do more harm than good.

Pain Killer has been in constant use for forty years, and the universal testimony from all parts of the world is, It never fails. It not only effects a permanent cure, but it relieves pain almost instantaneously. Being a purely vegetable remedy, it is safe in the hands of the most inexperienced.

The record of cures by the use of PAIN KILLER would fill volumes. The following extracts from letters received show what those who have tried it think:

Edgar Cady, Owatonna, Minn., says: About a year since my wife became subject to severe suffering from rheumatism. Our resort was to the PAIN KILLER, which speedily relieved her.

Charles Powell writes from the Sailors' Home, London: I had been afflicted three years with neuralgia and violent spasms of the stomach. The doctors at Westminster Hospital gave up my case in despair. I tried your PAIN KILLER, and it gave me immediate relief. I have regained my strength, and am now able to follow my usual occupation.

G. H. Walworth, Saco, Me., writes: I experienced immediate relief from pain in the side by the use of your PAIN KILLER.

E. York says: I have used your PAIN KILLER for rheumatism, and have received great benefit.

Barton Seaman says: Have used PAIN KILLER for thirty years, and have found it a never-failing remedy for rheumatism and lameness.

Mr. Burditt writes: It never fails to give me relief in cases of rheumatism.

Phil. Gilbert, Somerset, Pa., writes: From actual use, I know your PAIN KILLER is the best medicine I can get.

All druggists keep PAIN KILLER. Its price is so low that it is within the reach of all, and it will save many times its cost in doctors' bills. 25c., 50c. and $1.00 a bottle.

SULPHUR BITTERS

THE BEST AND GREATEST MEDICINE

It will drive the Humor from your system, and make your skin clean and smooth. Those Pimples and Blotches which mar your beauty are caused by impure blood, and can be removed in a short time, if you are wise and use the great blood purifier,

SULPHUR BITTERS.

Why suffer with Boils, Worms and all humors, when SULPHUR BITTERS will make you feel that it is a duty you owe to yourself to use them freely? Why are you troubled with Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Biliousness, Costiveness, Sick Headache? Why lag and languish, and feel miserable? Your nerves are all gone, and you complain of your kidneys and your blood is all out of order. Nature cries out against the injustice, and demands a gentle soothing tonic and invigorant. Sulphur Bitters is not a dram shop beverage, but a medicine, made of the purest and best of Jamaica Ginger, Cinchona Bark, Blood Roots, Stillingia, Queen's Root, Poke Root, Prickly Ash Bark, Yellow Dock, Sassafras, Juniper Berries, Iodide of Potash, Sulphate of Soda, Sulphate of Magnesia, Iron, Manganese, Quinine, Lithia, Glycerine, Alcohol, Water, etc. It is compounded with the utmost care, by the best chemists, and combines the medicinal properties of the vegetable kingdom with the most valuable tonic and invigorating properties of the best and purest of Jamaican Ginger. Sulphur Bitters is not a cheap whiskey drink, to be sold over the bar at 25 cents a glass, like other preparations which claim to be bitters, but is offered to the sick and suffering at a price which will place it within the reach of all who need it, and who will not pay the price of a glass of whiskey for a bottle of bitters. Sulphur Bitters is not a vile, fancy drink, but a medicine, and should be taken by the sick, at all hours, in such quantities and as often as the nature of the case and the sufferer may require. Sulphur Bitters is not a cure-all, but will cure a great many complaints which are caused by impure blood, such as Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Biliousness, Costiveness, Sick Headache, Dizziness, Nervousness, Sleeplessness, Dullness, Loss of Appetite, Loss of Flesh, Lassitude, Low Spirits, Boils, Worms, Humors, Blotches, Pimples, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Scurvy, Erysipelas, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Kidney Complaints, Female Complaints, Fever and Ague, Chills and Fever, Intermittent Fever, Malaria, Diphtheria, Sore Throat, Mercurial Disease, Diseases of the Liver, Stomach and Bowels, Diseases of the Blood, Diseases of the Skin, Diseases of the Kidneys, Diseases of the Urinary Organs, Diseases of the Sexual Organs, Diseases of the Lungs, Diseases of the Nerves, Diseases of the Heart, Diseases of the Bones, Diseases of the Joints, Diseases of the Muscles, Diseases of the Feet, Diseases of the Eyes, Diseases of the Ears, Diseases of the Head, Diseases of the Skin, Diseases of the Hair, Diseases of the Nails, Diseases of the Teeth, Diseases of the Gums, Diseases of the Tongue, Diseases of the Throat, Diseases of the Nose, Diseases of the Mouth, Diseases of the Stomach, Diseases of the Bowels, Diseases of the Liver

Portsmouth Chronicle.

WEDNESDAY, DEC. 14, 1881.

[Entered at the Post-Office at Portsmouth, N.H. as second-class matter.]

The Mormon Blot.

When the house of representatives assembled in the capitol at Washington on the 13th inst., each member found upon his desk a handsomely-engraved folded card, bearing on one fold President Arthur's message on polygamy, printed in letters of gold, and on the other fold, in crimson, the admission, filed by one of the parties in the pending contest for a seat in Congress as delegate from Utah: "I, George Q. Cannon, contestant, protesting that the matter in this paper contained is not relevant to this issue, do admit that I am a member of the church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, commonly called Mormons; that in accordance with the tenets of said church, I have taken plural wives, who now live with me and have so lived with me for a number of years, and borne me children. I also admit that in my public addresses as a teacher of my religion in Utah territory, I have defended said tenet of said church as being, in my belief, a revelation from God." Each card was inscribed: "Respectfully dedicated to the Forty-seventh Congress by the Women's National Anti-Polygamy Society of Salt Lake City, Utah."

The 47th Congress.

Senator Frye introduced the first day of the session two bills providing for the re-establishment of the Court of Commissions of Alabama Claims. These bills look to the distribution of the unexpended balance of the Geneva award, for the benefit of owners of vessels and cargoes and payers of war insurance premiums, as against the claims of marine insurance companies. Mr. Frye has indicated his determination to use every effort to secure the passage of both of these measures. Similar bills introduced by him when he was a member of the house of representatives passed that body, but were killed by the senate.

In the bill introduced by Senator Conger to promote the efficiency of the life-saving service is a provision for the establishment of an additional station on the New Hampshire coast.

Senator Edmunds of Vermont on the 12th inst. introduced a bill in the senate to provide for defraying the extraordinary expenses incurred in consequence of the assault upon the late President Garfield, autaorizing the secretary of the treasury to pay the necessary and reasonable expenses incurred in behalf of the late president, provided the aggregate sum allowed and paid does not exceed $100,000.

The Washington correspondent of the Boston Post is very much afflicted because Mr. Keifer, the new speaker of the house, is as the correspondent says a strong republican partisan. If Keifer is as malignant and unscrupulous a partisan as Sam Randall, the democratic speaker of the last two congresses, it is cause for affliction.

News and Notes.

The past month has been the worst ever known on the Atlantic ocean. Six overdue steamships arrived at New York on the 12th inst., all having suffered more or less; and hardly a steamer has arrived within the past two weeks that was not a week or more behind time, while many of them report men killed on deck or washed overboard by the waves.

Ex-Senator Frelinghuysen of New Jersey was nominated on the 12th inst. for secretary of state, and was promptly and unanimously confirmed.

Postmaster General James on the 12th inst. sent to President Arthur his resignation, to take effect on the 1st of January next. In the letter, Gen. James refers simply to the fact that his personal interests demand this step, and he concludes with the expression of the highest esteem for President Arthur. Mr. James will assume his duties in New York on the 1st of January as president of the Lincoln national bank, which institution will on that date be opened for business. Col. Van Wormer, chief clerk of the postmaster general, will be paying teller of the Lincoln bank.

Smallpox is spreading both in Jersey City and Hoboken. All the children in the public schools have been vaccinated, and the vaccinating corps are hard at work in the tenement house districts. Several cases of smallpox have been discovered at Buffalo, N. Y., and the authorities fear there is imminent danger of an epidemic.

An announcement of considerable interest is authoratively made with regard to the appointment of women to offices. The President has determined to make no such appointments in the future. This rule will apply to such offices as post offices, pension agencies, etc., and will not, of course, have any bearing on positions in the departments. President Arthur's reasons, as given by one of his friends, are that the post-office department has had a great deal of trouble as the result of appointing women to office, and that such appointments have caused a good deal of dissatisfaction in the party. This rule will affect a number of post offices, the pension agency at Chicago, etc.

Mary Means, eighty-three years of age, and Louisa Means, eighty years old, two maiden sisters living in Franklin township, Westmoreland county, Pa., have been murdered, by Mollie Maguires as is supposed. The old ladies were reputed to be wealthy and to keep a large sum of money in their house, which reports probably inspired the crime.

Seneca V. Halloway, paying teller of the Poughkeepsie national bank of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., was arrested on the 12th inst., charged with stealing from $40,000 to $50,000 of the bank's funds. Drunkenness and immorality were what he ruined himself with.

Two brothers named Chapman scour the state of Maine each year small evergreen trees; they ship 20,000 to New York this season for Christmas.

Some curious person having counted the number of notes in a part recently sung by Madame Albani, for which she received $800, finds that she was paid twenty-six cents per note.

Nellie Horton, a child only twelve years old, and yet the wife of a man old enough to be her father, is in jail at Pittsfield, Mass., held as a witness against Job Sweet, who is charged with outraging her. The Springfield Republican says it is a sad commentary on the degeneracy of the hill towns of Berkshire county. As showing how childish the twelve-years-old wife is, it is stated that in dictating a letter to her husband she asked him to bring her a Christmas present, and that a doll. The character of the mother who consented to the marriage of such a child can easily be imagined.

Arthur's silence about the south is the most significant part of his message. He could not do us justice perhaps, and did not want to hurt our feelings.—Augusta (Ga.) Chronicle.

It is unfortunate for the country and the party that Secretary Blaine is not to remain in the cabinet. No predecessor has earned a higher reputation than Secretary Blaine in the management of our foreign affairs.—Union Herald.

New Hampshire Items.

An eight-years-old boy, son of Wm. Walsh of Rochester, was run over by a hand-car with which he and another boy were fooling on Saturday last, and had a leg broken.

I. B. Sargent of Grafton was seriously injured recently by a bull which he was taking to market.

Dr. George H. Noyes, a son of the late Col. L. W. Noyes, died very suddenly at Nashua Dec. 10th, of paralysis of the heart.

W. D. Pattee, a deaf mute living in Alexandria, was recently married to Miss Amelia Richardson of Chittenden, who is also deaf and dumb.

Deacon Daniel Siliman of Easton a few days ago tried to throw down a pig which he wanted to kill, but overexerted himself and dropped dead.

The Stark & Milan Steam Mill company of Concord will put 9,000,000 feet of logs into the head waters of the Ammonusuc river next spring—more than ever before.

The trustees of Dartmouth college have appointed a committee to confer with the Marshfield (Mass.) club, with regard to celebrating the one hundredth anniversary of the birth of Daniel Webster at Hanover in June of 1882.

Edward E. Nowell of Salmon Falls has been held in $2000 to appear for trial on a charge of assaulting George L. Wentworth with a pistol on Thanksgiving day. In addition, Nowell has been brought before the police court in Dover on a charge of assaulting Wentworth with intent to kill, etc., and the case has been continued.

An entertainment will be held on Thursday evening of this week in what is known as the "old Fernald house" on the "new road," Kittery, now occupied by Mr. Thomas Blaisdell, in aid of the pastor of the church at Beech ridge, York; a clam-chowder will be served, and perhaps a guess-cake will be presented. An entertainment with the same end in view was held last week at the residence of Mr. Oliver Hatch in Kittery, and one hundred and sixty persons were present. This house is an ancient one, and still retains the old-style wooden panels and shutters; it was built by Thomas Cutts, the great-grandfather of Mrs. Hatch's mother, who is now seventy-five years of age. Mrs. Hatch contributed to the entertainment a choice cake made by herself, (partly from materials furnished by Mrs. Albert Junkins and Mrs. Charles Spinney,) which was intended as a source of revenue as a "guess-cake;" but Elder Wilson appeared on the scene after the games had been commenced in the upper rooms by the young people, and objected to the disposal of the cake by guessing on its weight, or by auction, as in his judgment both methods were illegal. The cake, which weighed exactly six pounds, has been presented to Elder Paine; but the promoters of the affair estimate that the treasury lost ten dollars through its not being awarded to some one by guess. It is said the boys present proposed to "squeeze out" the elder when he first came in, and were only prevented from doing so by the entreaties of the girls, who of course had their way in the end.

Old Masters.

It is rumored that among the uncleaned pictures in the ducal palace and the Academy Belle Arti in Venice have been found Carpaccios, Tintorettes, Giorgiones, Giovanni, Bellinis, Palma, Giovanes and Vivarinis—all "old masters." The belief that these pictures were painted by the artists named is based on the fact that no one has been able to tell whether they are portraits, marine views or battle pieces. Whenever a painting is found that is so dim that it is impossible to tell whether it is a piece of floor-cloth or a fifteen cent chromo, they call it an "old master," value it at $40,000, and let it go at that.

—"What is the meaning of the word tantalizing?" asked the teacher. "Please, marm," spoke up little Johnny Holcomb, "it means a circus procession passing the school-house and the scholars not allowed to look out."

—Two big slices of bread and a chunk of beef formed the sandwich which a St. Louis servant girl gave a beggar; but he was not satisfied and demanded a cup of coffee. She said that there was no coffee ready, and he commanded her to make some at once, emphasizing the order with a slap. Then she knocked him down, and set a very hot flat iron on his breast. He will bear the brand until his death, which may take place soon, for the burn is probably fatal.

AROUND HOME.

"Railroad day" to-day.

Deacon Crankett at Music hall to-night.

C. V. Dearborn, Esq., examiner of national banks, is in town, engaged in making the customary examination of the condition of the banks in this city.

The city has commenced a suit for trespass against Daniel Mason, which will probably settle the question as to who holds the title to the disputed territory near Short street.

The steamer Kanawha, Greenwood master, arrived at this port on Tuesday from Richmond, V., with 750 tons of coal; she is a new steamer, and this is her first trip here. Her cargo is for J. Albert Walker, to whom also arrived the same day the schooner W. G. R. Mowry, from Hoboken with coal.

At the instance of a Boston creditor, Sheriff Kent has attached the boot and shoe stock of Mr. Wm. B. Hussey, which had been assigned to Mr. Alfred Stavers; the Boston creditor will contend that the stock did not leave the control of the debtor at the assignment.

This evening, at Music hall, the popular comic drama "Deacon Crankett," by John Habberton, author of "Helen's Babies," will be presented. The play is clean and the fun pure; and the Deacon, unlike most stage deacons, is not a whining hypocrite, but a big-hearted, jovial fellow, whose religion is as practical as it is honest.

The Boston papers of Tuesday reported the arrival at Gloucester, Mass., on Saturday, of the schooners Iris and Storm King, with 3000 barrels of fish each, the fact being that they arrived at this port on the day mentioned with that number of pounds each.

Some very valuable white oak timber, of New Hampshire pasture growth, was hauled through this city on Saturday, and taken over Portsmouth bridge to the Kittery side; one of the pieces would have made an excellent fore-foot for a merchantmant of very large size. The timber was reported to be bound for the navy yard, in part fulfillment of the contract of Mr. Hammond of Eliot.

A singular accident occurred near the Eastern railroad station in Beverly, Mass., last Sunday evening. A young man named Herbert Ennis was driving out, with a lady, and for some reason alighted from the carriage, when the horse took fright, threw the lady out, and then ran upon the track just in time to be struck by the Pullman train from Boston to this city. The train knocked the team upon a side track, and a shifting engine going in the opposite direction from the Pullman struck it again, finishing the work of demolition. The lady was not much hurt.

The only arrival of fish on Tuesday was by the schooner Iris, which brought in 1500 pounds.

Rockingham Lodge, I. O. G. T., will have an entertainment and supper in the lodge room this evening.

Rt. Rev. Bishop Niles, of the Episcopal diocese of New Hampshire, will officiate in St. John's church in this city on Sunday next, in place of the rector, Rev. Charles A. Holbrook, who is suffering from a severe attack of nervous prostration, induced by a long-continued course of overwork. We are informed that Mr. Holbrook's physician insists upon his taking at least two months of absolute rest.

The regular semi-annual dividend of the Eastern Railroad in New Hampshire is payable on the 15th inst. Stockholders in this vicinity will be paid at the office of John Sise, Esq.

Miss Annie Ingerbredson, whose body was brought in from the Shoals on Monday last, will be buried from the Episcopal church in this city this afternoon at two o'clock. Rev. J. W. Beard, of Dover, will officiate.

The medical examiner has filed his official report on the inquest into the death of John M. Beckford, Jr., who was killed in the tunnel at Salem, Mass., on Monday, Nov. 28th, by the collision of a shifting engine of the Eastern railroad with an extra train from Rockport. The report charges Conductor Hitchings of the shifting train with censurable haste in accepting the words "all right" from William F. Warner, the night watchman who gave the signal for starting the train, and finds that the carelessness of William F. Warner and Engineer Otis F. Eton "contributed in part, if not wholly, to the death of John M. Beckford, Jr."

A two-story dwelling house in the rear of Critchley & Whalley's foundry on Hill street, and owned by them, has recently been sold to Mrs. Sarah Roberts, who is removing it to a lot on Madison street. This will give room for the extension of their foundry which is in contemplation. On the opposite side of the street, the building recently occupied by Messrs. Barnard & Tripp for a planing mill, etc., has had twenty-six feet added to it, which brings its frontage up to the street, besides which some addition has been made on the rear of it. Messrs. Critchley & Whalley intend to have all the necessary conveniences for the carrying on of their business.

We publish in another column the announcement of a State Teachers' Association to be held in Franklin theatre in this city next week. The programme is promising for ability and interest, and we have no doubt that our citizens, who are never backward in encouraging whatever pertains to the interests of our common schools, will take much pride in the fact that the session is to be held here, and show it by a goodly attendance. The advertisement says that the meetings are free to all.

The gondola Edgar Weston, loaded with thirty cords of wood, was driven on the flats just above Sturgeon creek, Eliot, in the blow and high tide of Thursday last, and has remained there ever since; she will probably have to wait for the next high tide.

Out of a flock of forty-six fine sheep brought down from northern New Hampshire and Vermont by Oliver Jones of Kittery, he has but six left, all the others having been sold to the farmers of the vicinity for breeding purposes.

The new St. Cloud hotel at Old Orchard, which is to be built in place of the one recently destroyed by fire, will contain a hundred rooms, and be furnished with gas, electric bells and other modern conveniences.

—The outlook for one practical joker in Omaha is not a very cheerful one. He was employed in a brewery and fancied that it would be great sport to cut some eyes and a mouth in a cigar box, put a lighted candle therein, and scare his fellow workmen who were going into the cellar. He did so, and one of his "particular friends," seeing the horrible apparition, with a halo of light around its head, was fairly paralyzed with terror, and fainted away on the spot. He was taken home, and has been sick ever since. His wife will bring a lawsuit against the thick-skulled idiot who perpetrated the "joke."

Premature Loss of the Hair

May be entirely prevented by the use of Burnett's Cocoaine. No other compound possesses the peculiar properties which so exactly suit the various conditions of the human hair. It softens the hair when harsh and dry. It soothes the irritated scalp. It affords the richest lustre. It prevents the hair from falling off. It promotes its healthy, vigorous growth. It is not greasy nor sticky. It leaves no disagreeable odor. It kills dandruff.

Burnett's Flavoring Extracts are known as the best.

Mothers! Mothers!! Mothers!!!

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the excruciating pain of cutting teeth? If so, go at once and get a bottle of MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately—depend upon it; there is no mistake about it. There is not a mother on earth who has ever used it, who will not tell you at once that it will regulate the bowels, and give rest to her children, and health to the child, operating like magic. It is perfectly safe to use in all cases, and pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States. Sold everywhere. 25 cents a bottle. m,w & s &x n92

A Suggestion worth Adoption.

At New Orleans, on the 8th day of November, at the 138th Grand Monthly Drawing of the Louisiana State Lottery, $30,000, the first capital prize, was captured by ticket No. 46,333, half of which was held by John T. Garvin, a driver for many years on the Metropolitan Horse Railway, No. 5 Thornton Place, Boston, Mass.; the other half by J. Russell of No. 144 Main street, Norfolk, Va., through the Exchange National Bank there. The second prize, $10,000, by No. 54,372, one-half held by Mr. L. Edwin Motter, of Emmitsburg, Md., and the other half through J. M. Sexton & Co., of New Orleans. $5,000, the third capital prize, went to No. 10,101, held by John Beatty, No. 101 Christopher street, New York city. The fourth capitals, $2,000, two prizes, No. 40,414, won by Frank Wetbel, No. 71 1-2 First street, New Orleans; and No. 15,200 by B. F. Jacobs, Warrensburg, Mo. Next drawing is on Tuesday, Jan. 10th, 1882. Write to M. A. Dauphin, New Orleans, La., or at once send him two dollars.

Delmonico, the celebrated restaurant proprietor in New York, was noted for his sagacity. He at one time had a policy for ten thousand dollars upon his life in the Mutual Life Ins. Co. of New York. He looked into the condition of the company, and with characteristic shrewdness took another policy for the same amount. During the week ending on the 5th inst. this company paid on those policies the sum insured, or $20,000, and in addition dividends upon the first of $5,068, and on the second of $4,893. Delmonico never used his dividends to pay premiums, but allowed them to accumulate and purchase additional insurance. When such a prominent New York man as the late Lorenzo Delmonico, with his means of knowledge, insures liberally in the Mutual Life of New York, it is pretty good evidence of the character of the investment and its home standing.

THE

of New York,

F. S. WINSTON, President.

The Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York is THE OLDEST Company, with thirty-seven years of experience.

It is purely Mutual—without Capital or Stockholders to share in profits, and no bonuses allowed to Officers, Trustees, or Employees.

It confines its business to regular Life and Endowment Policies, and the granting of Annuities. No new or experimental plans.

Its premium rates are lower than any other regular Life Insurance Company, and Policy-holders participate in current earnings annually.

No Policy-holder need forfeit his Policy, provided three full annual premiums have been paid, and application is immediately made for a paid-up Policy, when necessity arises to do so.

Assets have more than doubled during the past ten years, notwithstanding the six years of financial panic.

Its Interest and Rent Receipts alone have exceeded its Death Claims TEN MILLIONS of Dollars ($10,000,000.)

It has issued over 220,000 Policies; insured over $700,000,000; received over $276,000,000 in premiums; and returned to Policy-holders over $162,000,000.

It can and does afford the cheapest, safest, and most satisfactory insurance investment of any Company in the world.

Is not this well styled a marvel in Finance? No more beneficent institution exists upon the face of the earth than this greatest of financial organizations, combining the greatest possible good for the greatest number with an expertness in financiering that is paralleled only by the sturdy integrity of its managers and the proud pre-eminence of its commercial, patriotic, and scientific record.

The Hunted Czar.

Advices from St. Petersburg, Russia, say the czar has found out who it is that has been placing threatening letters and proclamations in his prayer book and pocket handkerchiefs. During the last three weeks he set a watch in his room, and caught a woman who had been in the service of the empress for the last eight years. She was in the act of placing a letter in his prayer book. This letter reminded the emperor that he had only a few weeks of life before him. The woman wept, and declared that she had done this out of gratitude and with the conviction that she was averting a catastrophe to the sovereign whom she loved so well, but nevertheless she refused to give the name of the man who supplied her with the letters and proclamations. All persons going by train to the frontier, and consequently passing by Gatchina, are searched. A man has been placed in every train to watch for letters placed in the mail boxes. All passports are taken from travellers coming into Russia at the frontier, and they are sent directly to the place mentioned as the end of the journey.

Interesting Experiments.

Some experiments were recently made at Salem, Mass., to ascertain the tractive force requisite to move street cars and vehicles on a macadamized road. The apparatus used consisted of an inclined plane, at the upper end of which was an iron wheel, over which passed a rope. A loaded box-car, weighing with its contents, 12,820 pounds, was drawn up the grade by a weight of 970 pounds, suspended at the other end of the rope. The empty car, weighing 4,820 pounds, was drawn up the same grade by a weight of 283 pounds. A smaller box-car, weighing when empty 2,730 pounds, was occupied by fourteen persons and drawn by 339 pounds, and, unoccupied, by 176 pounds. An ordinary load of sand on a macadamized road was started by 514 pounds, and an empty hack, weighing 1,550 pounds, by 197.5 pounds. The same hack with four passengers inside required 230 pounds to move it. On a level road the load of sand was started by 240 pounds, while the large box-car yielded to 56 pounds. The experiments were made by a horse railroad company to prove that their work was not unusually severe to the horses; and the result appears to have been altogether satisfactory.

Mrs. Mary Caughton of Providence, R. I., while drunk last Sunday, attempted to fill a kerosene lamp, and spilled oil on her dress and on the floor; then lighting the lamp with a match, she threw the match on the floor, the oil on which ignited. Her clothes caught fire, and she was probably fatally burned.

At the present time the country is flooded with preparations for coughs and colds, but far ahead of all others is Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup, that old and tried remedy for coughs, colds, consumption, etc.

The Kearsarge arrived at Pensacola on the 10th inst., from Hampton Roads.

Perfection is not of this world, but we feel safe in asserting that, as a neutralizer of pain and exterminator of rheumatism, St. Jacobs Oil approaches the nearest to it, among remedial agents.

Lieut. Edward W. Remey has been ordered to the Tennessee.

Mothers Don't Know

How many children are punished for being uncouth, wilful, and indifferent to instructions or rewards, simply because they are out of health! An intelligent lady said of a child of this kind: "Mothers should know that if they would give the little ones moderate doses of Hop Bitters for two or three weeks, their children would be all a parent could desire."

Acting Boatswain John McLaughlin has been ordered to the navy yard at Washington.

A Word to Mothers.

Mothers should remember it is a most important duty at this season to look after the health of their families and cleanse the malaria and impurities from their systems, and that nothing will tone up the stomach and liver, regulate the bowels and purify the blood so perfectly as Parker's Ginger Tonic, advertised in our columns.—Post: see other columns.

Master William H. Scheutze has been detached from the Tennessee, and placed on waiting orders.

"Facts are stubborn things," and it is a fact that Adamson's Botanic Balsam has performed more genuine and permanent cures than any other cough remedy on this or any other continent. Try it for 10 cents. Regular size, 35 and 75 cents.

Passamaquoddy Indians are shooting large numbers of deer. They report them very plenty in the vicinity of parts of Eel river, Me.

"Pro Bono Publico."

It is a very remarkable fact, that while thousands of people refuse to read paid puffs of worthless nostrums, none skip over Dr. Swayne's little squib about his Ointment for itching piles that itch so much at night. The people well know that it is published for their benefit, in other words, is pro bono publico. May its far reaching effects be perpetuated to the end of time.

Rheumatism

Neuralgia, Sprains,

Pain in the Back and Side.

There is nothing more painful than these diseases; but the pain can be removed and the disease cured by use of Perry Davis' Pain Killer.

This remedy is not a cheap Benzine or Petroleum product that must be kept away from fire or heat to avoid danger of explosion, nor is it an untried experiment that may do more harm than good.

Pain Killer has been in constant use for forty years, and the universal testimony from all parts of the world is, it never fails. It not only effects a permanent cure, but it relieves pain almost instantaneously. Being a purely vegetable remedy, it is safe in the hands of the most inexperienced.

The record of cures by the use of PAIN KILLER would fill volumes. The following extracts from letters received show what those who have tried it think:

Edgar Cady, Owatonna, Minn., says:
About a year since my wife became subject to severe suffering from rheumatism. Our resort was to the PAIN KILLER, which speedily relieved her.

Charles Powell writes from the Sailors' Home, London:
I had been afflicted three years with neuralgia and violent spasms of the stomach. The doctors at Westminster Hospital gave up my case in despair. I tried your PAIN KILLER, and it gave me immediate relief. I have recovered my strength, and am now able to follow my usual occupation.

G. H. Walworth, Saco, Me., writes:
I experienced immediate relief from pain in the side by the use of your PAIN KILLER.

E. York says:
I have used your PAIN KILLER for rheumatism, and have received great benefit.

Barton Seaman says:
Have used PAIN KILLER for thirty years, and have found it a never-failing remedy for rheumatism and lameness.

Mr. Burditt writes:
Never fails to give relief in cases of rheumatism.

Phil. Gilbert, Somerset, Pa., writes:
From actual use, I know your PAIN KILLER is the best medicine I can get.

All druggists keep PAIN KILLER. Its price is so low that it is within the reach of all, and it will save many times its cost in doctors' bills. 25c., 50c. and $1.00 a bottle.

Testimonials.

I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"Inventors cannot employ a person more trustworthy or more capable of securing for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, October 19, 1870.

R. H. EDDY, Esq.,—Dear Sir: You procured for me, in 1840, my first patent. Since then you have acted for and advised me in hundreds of cases, and procured many patents, reissues and extensions. I have occasionally employed the best agencies in New York, Philadelphia and Washington, but I still give you almost the whole of my business, in your line, and advise others to employ you. Yours truly, GEORGE DRAPER.

Boston's Municipal Election.

Boston's municipal election took place on Tuesday. Albert Palmer was the democratic candidate for mayor, and Samuel A. Green, another democrat, and for many years past the city physician of Boston, was the candidate of the republicans and "citizens." Mr. Samuel A. Green was elected by a majority of about five hundred.

The total vote of Boston for mayor was 50,234, of which Green had 20,284, and Palmer 19,936, Green's plurality, 348. The board of aldermen is non-partisan; the common council stands thirty-nine republican to thirty-threes democrats. The majority for licensing liquor shops was 10,032.

The 47th Congress.

Tuesday, Dec. 13th, was the first day for the introduction of bills in the house under the call of states. Seventeen states were called, beginning with Alabama and ending with Massachusetts, and 754 bills and joint resolutions were introduced.

Senator Vest has introduced a bill to aid in the construction of Capt. Eades' ship railway across the Isthmus of Tehauntepec. The bill provides that when $75,000,000 shall have been subscribed by private parties, the government will guarantee the bonds of the company for $100,000,000 more.

Mr. Crapo of Massachusetts introduced an important bill, providing for an international system of fog signals for use at sea. Other nations are ready to adopt such a system, and the passage of Mr. Crapo's bill will pave the way to an agreement among all the leading countries to secure this most desirable result.

The senate committee on finance held their first meeting for the present session on the 13th, and took up the bill introduced by Senator Sherman, which provides for an issue of three per cent bonds to the amount of $300,000,000, payable at the pleasure of the government after Jan. 1, 1887, in exchange for deposits of an equal amount of legal tender notes, which, when so obtained by the treasury, are to be devoted to the retirement of the extended 5s and 6s, commonly known as the 3 1-2 per cent bonds. The bill appeared to meet with the unanimous approval of the committee, but action upon it was postponed in order to hear the views of Secretary Folger on the subject. The bill is substantially the same as the one introduced in the last Congress, but with the important difference that the democratic attack on the national banks is left out of Sherman's bill.

News and Notes.

The wife of Col. Hooker, the new sergeant-at-arms of the national house of representatives, from Brattleboro, Vt., is a half-sister of the late Jim Fisk. Mrs. Hooker is said to be a most elegant, accomplished lady, of the pure blonde type, very handsome in face and person, being tall and well proportioned, with quiet, attractive manners and graceful address.

The famous Scandinavian Arctic explorer spells his name Nordenskiold, not Nordenskjold, as most newspapers have it. There are families of each of these names in Norway. The literal meaning of the former is—for Norden, north pole or north star, skiold, shield of armor; and the whole name is pronounced Nordenshield.

The city of Klingenberg, in Lower Franconia in Germany, not only imposes no municipal tax, but every voter receives an annual dividend from the city treasury of a sum ranging from $22.50 to $25. The city recently celebrated the Sedan anniversary by giving every citizen fifty cents, with fifty cents extra to every soldier of the war with France.

New York city has appropriated $1,000,000 for street cleaning in 1882. Her police will cost $3,360,680, the fire department calls for $1,464,850, the schools will have $3,500,000, the department of charities and correction can be run for $1,312,500, and the department of public works will command $2,589,900.

Daniel Lee, of Dighton, Mass., and George W. Carpenter of Norton, thirteen and fifteen years old respectively, took a dog and two guns a few days ago, and went off on a dime-novel expedition. They got as far as Boston, where they claim to have lost the dog, and then were overhauled in Dighton, where they slept two nights in a school-house.

Hon. Edward Fox, United States district judge of Maine, died on Wednesday morning, it is presumed of heart disease. Judge Fox has held the appointment of judge of the district court since 1866. He was a good lawyer and an upright judge and held a high rank as a citizen of Portland.

New Hampshire Items.

St. Mary's academy at Manchester observed its semi-centennial on Monday, Dec. 12th.

The Monadnock mills at Claremont had thirty-six dozen napkins and fifty-two bed-spreads ruined recently by fire, supposed to have been communicated by a spark from the singeing machine.

By a premature explosion of a gun in Suncook on the 3d inst., Napoleon Lafayette was shot through his right hand, and a considerable portion of it had to be amputated.

At the municipal election in Keene, Dec. 13th, Mayor Ira W. Russell was re-elected, receiving 436 votes—all that were cast. The aldermen and councilmen are all republicans. The democrats made no nominations.

Naval Affairs.

Commodore John W. Easby, chief of the bureau of construction and repair, retired from that position Dec. 14th, by limitation of age, and is now on the retired list.

The Alliance will not be ready to leave this Boston navy yard for two months, considerable repairs being needed to her boilers.

The President on the 13th inst. nominated Pay Director James G. Watmough to be chief of the bureau of provisions and clothing, and paymaster general of the navy. On the same date Paymaster John H. Stevenson was nominated to be a pay inspector.

John Roach, a marine who died in Washington on the 12th inst., served upwards of fifty years as an enlisted man in the marine corps, and was with its band at Boston a few years since as drum major. In 1860 he went to Harper's Ferry as orderly sergeant of the company of marines which, under Gen. Robert E. Lee, afterward the noted rebel general, besieged the engine house which John Brown so bravely defended. When the door was forced Roach was the first man to rush in and seize the wounded old hero. For this act Gov. Wise of Virginia presented him with a handsome uniform coat.

"Perley" predicts that Pay Director Watmough's confirmation as chief of the bureau of provisions, etc., will meet with opposition in the senate.

It is said that logs making over half a million feet of lumber were last year stored in the dock near Mason's sawmill, which dock has been filled by the city in making the Vaughan street extension ordered by the railroad. One hundred and eighteen linear feet of wharfage was destroyed by the filling.

The steamer Kanawha, which arrived at the Concord railroad wharf on the 13th inst. from Richmond, Va., with 750 tons of coal, is built of wood, and is said to be quite fast. She was built by Goss & Sawyer, of Bath, Me.

The brick dwelling on Hill street, in front of the residence of Mr. William Andrews, now seems in a fair way to be completed, a gang of workmen being employed on it; when finished it will be quite an ornament to that neighborhood. The building has been in course of erection for a long time.

We understand that Mr. R. B. Adams, agent of the late Kearsarge Mills, is soon to leave the city, to take charge of a mill in Lowell, Mass.—Times.

Mr. Dennis Shea of this city, the well known cement drain-pipe manufacturer, has a building on Cocheco street, Dover, seventy-eight feet by thirty-six, for the storage of lime, superphosphates and drain pipe. Mr. Shea has been twelve years in the business, and has sold in this city alone 11,800 feet of pipe, much of it of large size.

Charles H. DeRochemont, formerly of this city, was chosen an alderman at the municipal election in Newburyport on the 14th inst.

A beautiful span of black horses, five years old and weighing 2500 lbs., has been put on the streets by the Portsmouth Brewing Co. in place of their old team.

Persons living in the vicinity of the Vaughan street extension say that while the travel through it is quite heavy during the day and on moonlight nights, no one passes through it on nights when there is no moon. At least three gas or naphtha lights are needed on this street, to make it even passably safe for travel on dark nights; and probably the city would find it cheaper to put lights there at once, rather than wait until a big bill for damages is brought by some injured person against the municipality, for culpable neglect.

Mrs. Ann Kennard Hooper, now living in Roxbury, Mass., though now nearly ninety years of age still reads the Portsmouth newspapers without glasses, and with quite as much interest as when a young woman. She was a daughter of the late Capt. Nathaniel Kennard of this city, and was born in a house on Deer street.

The people of Limerick have decided to build a narrow-gauge railroad to connect their town with the Portland & Rochester railroad at Waterborough; and a committee appointed for the purpose report that they have seen nearly all the persons through whose lands the proposed road will pass, in regard to land damages, and received assurances that where any damage was charged it should be only for actual damage, and the amount awarded would be taken in stock of the road.

The youngest son of James M. Lamprey of Hampton received a severe and painful wound in the hand recently by the accidental discharge of a gun.

The telephone wires from Exeter reached Newburyport on Monday of this week.

The Twin Evils Denounced.

The competition among the scholars in the San Francisco schools for some prizes to be given for the best essays on "Twin Evils—Intemperance and Tobacco," brought forth some very queer documents. The following gems of thought are selected from a number of the essays: "Twin evils is a very bad habit." "One time a man came home drunk and took a pen knife from his pocket and began to stab his wife. He was put in prison for life; the lady died and they took him home to see her, and he said he was sorry he didn't do it forty years ago." "Rome founded distillation 750 yrs. B. C. A single drop of alcohole or likertine on a cat's tongue will kill her instantly." "Seven-eighths of the women of the United States are in prison for drunkenness. Intemperance is very injury to the mind." "Many people who drink to success committed crimes. There are over 1,000 of people in prison for crimes." "Liquor gives a false anumtion or stumulation." "Pope Urban conflicted corporal punishment on all who used tobacco. Rome was founded 750 years B. C., and usually drank and smoked. This gave him great pain, so he died."

—The inability of a lawyer to answer a question directly is illustrated by a recent exchange of letters between the Chicago lawyer, Emory A. Storrs, and a friend. The latter asked Storrs if his first name was "Emory," or "Emery," and Storrs began his reply by saying: "My signature here unto appended will settle the "e" and "o" question," and then he wrote three pages about social and political matters, at the end of which were these words: "Yours, truly, E. A. Storrs."

CHRISTMAS IS COMING.

Mr. Willis G. Myers has added to his store in Congress block a room in the rear, sixteen feet deep, to be used as a salesroom for room papers and borders. There is here a neatly-made mantel-piece, the handiwork of Mr. Myers, who is quite an expert with tools, and combines good taste with mechanical skill. A cheerful coal fire burns in an open grate, and the new room is an attractive feature of the store. Mr. Myers has "hung the banner on the outer wall" by inscribing his name on the eastern wall of Congress block, which can be seen from a great distance. The decorations of the windows of the store are attractive to the passers-by, who admire the draping, the chimney-piece and other tasteful displays. The arch for Christmas cards is a new feature, affording buyers an opportunity for selection without handling cards. Mr. Myers has many pretty things on his counters for seasonable gifts, and of books he can supply abundant variety,—and if not in stock will order it promptly. The Congress block book-store is one of the attractive places which it will be a pleasure to visit at this season.

A. P. Preston, at the next door, has furnished his new windows with an attractive variety of goods. Beautiful glass cologne-stands seem to abound here, and the variety of articles in this establishment from which one may select a present seems unlimited.

E. H. Fay, at No. 3 Congress street, the "one price store," carries an immense stock of men's, youths' and children's clothing, boots and shoes, and has every day a fresh "opening" of new goods, never allowing his stock to get low. A serviceable holiday present can easily be selected here.

Christmas, so soon at hand, can be better kept if the good cheer to be partaken of is seasonably selected. For this purpose Messrs. Butler & Laighton have in stock an attractive assortment of articles which go far towards the preparation of a good dinner; their advertisement tells purchasers something of the variety and kind of goods to be had at this season.

Goodrich, at his bookstore corner of Market and Daniel streets, abounds in Christmas cards, and juvenile and other books, with that variety of fancy articles so essential to an assortment of Christmas presents.

Pryor & Matthews have skates and holly saws, and many varieties of cutlery, at their store corner of Market and Ladd streets; and Wendell & Co. evidently believe that the skating season is at hand, judging from their stock of skates, embracing every variety, and at prices to suit any range of means.

John P. Sweetser has a large assortment of parlor lamps as well as table ware, boys' sleds, etc. Mr. Sweetser says that a visit to his store will enable one to select a present combining beauty and utility.

In Franklin block, Congress street, C. D. Hanscom & Co. have a large assortment of crockery, glass and plated ware, with fancy flower pots and ladies' baskets, etc. There is here certainly an opportunity to make a good selection for a Christmas gift.

Montgomery's music and art store is under the office of the CHRONICLE and GAZETTE, and here musical goods, pictures and a first-class stock of like articles is to be found.

Near by is C. E. Laighton & Son's attractive store, noted for the good things it contains. It has choice wines, fragrant cigars, and all the variety of shelf goods seen in the first-class grocery of the present day.

H. F. Gerrish, who for so many years has sold groceries on Market square, has kept his trade by always supplying a good article to his customers. His stock of nicetics for Christmas is inviting, and its character may be relied upon.

For the substantial in gift making the sensible often turn, because they want their gift to do the most good. The store of Ayers & Locke will afford one an opportunity to make a good selection in this respect. The stock is large and the assortment extensive.

Morris C. Foye, on the other side of Market street, has a fine stock of hosiery and underwear, and is a gentlemanly salesman, ready always to politely serve his customers.

Charles E. Myers & Co., at No. 3 Bow street, have an assortment of the celebrat- Sawyer's woolens, made at Dover. The Sawyer goods are tasteful in their designs, are made of the best wool, and have a high rank in the market. No better goods are worn then those made of material from the Sawyer mills.

If one wishes to make other selections, Staples' Nick-Nack store presents a good opportunity, for his assortment is of the most extensive variety.

EASTERN RAILROAD MEETING.

The annual meeting of the stockholders and bondholders of the Eastern railroad was held in Boston on the 14th inst., and directors were elected as follows: For the bondholders, E. B. Phillips, George P. King, Richard Olney and Alfred P. Rockwell of Boston. Jacob C. Rodgers of Peabody, Mass., and George S. Morison of New York; for the stockholders, John Cummings of Woburn, Mass., Samuel C. Lawrence of Medford, Mass., and Charles Houghton of Boston. The directors organized by electing E. B. Phillips as president, and F. I. Amory as clerk.

SINGULAR ACCIDENT.

A colt belonging to Mr. James Ackerman, travelling engineer on the Eastern railroad, and which has of late been driven by Mr. Henry A. Yeaton, met with a singular death on the evening of the 14th inst. A young man named Rand, clerk for Mr. Yeaton, was driving the colt down Middle street when the animal started on the run, and turning into Congress street, struck the iron awning rod in front of Mr. Charlesworth's store, and cleared himself from the buggy, Mr. Rand escaping injury by jumping. The colt kept on up Islington street and road, and on arriving at the Eastern railroad bridge above the Plains saw the headlight of the train due in this city at seven o'clock, which added to his fright, and he jumped from the bridge, breaking some of the rails and displacing several stones from the abutment, rolled down the bank about thirty feet onto the track, and was struck by the engine and instantly killed, if he was not dead before being struck. The front of the engine was spattered all over with blood, on arriving at the station. The engineer saw the horse come tumbling down the bank, but the train was too near to be stopped. The buggy was considerably damaged.

AROUND HOME.

See advertisement of sale by auction this day, at the Rockingham Shoe factory at the Creek, of bankrupt stock of shoes, findings and materials, and machinery. The sale is positive, and the terms cash.

Considerable interest is manifested in the nomination of a successor to Chief Naval Constructor Easby, who went on the retired list of the navy on Tuesday, the 13th inst. Constructor Wilson, now stationed at this navy yard, is acknowledged to be the ablest man in line of promotion for the place.

There was but a moderate-sized audience at Music hall, Wednesday evening of this week, when "Deacon Crankett" was performed; the rain, added to the fact that Wednesday was "railroad day," no doubt partly accounted for this. The play has been rewritten since last year, and is considerably improved. The acting was much above the average, and the interest of the audience was kept up to the close.

The advertisement of the Boylston Star Troupe will be found in another column. The names of Cool Burgess, Maggie Cline and the Wesley Brothers appear on the bills. These, in addition to other well known artists, give a superior entertainment. Popular prices are announced.

The schooner Christie Campbell arrived at this port on the 14th inst. from Boston, having sold at that place 10,000 lbs. of cod and haddock, and 3000 lbs. of hake. The following-named schooners brought in fish on that day: Iris, 1500 lbs.; Bonita, 1500 lbs.; Storm King, 2500 lbs.

The extra (stockholders') train for Boston at 6:45 o'clock A. M. on the 14th inst., "railroad day," consisted of eleven cars; and several extra cars were added to the regular train which followed.

Rev. John F. McKenna, late pastor of St. Mary's (Catholic) church in Lancaster, who died in Portland, Me., on the 11th inst., was a native of this city, having been born here on the 14th of February, 1849, his parents removing to Manchester when he was quite young. His funeral took place at the cathedral in Portland on the 13th, an immense congregation attending. Among the large number of priests present were Rev. D. W. Murphy of Dover, Rev. Jeremiah McCarthy of Gardiner, Me., and Rev. Eugene M. O'Callaghan, pastor of the Church of the Immaculate Conception in this city, the latter officiating as deacon of mass in the funeral ceremonies.

Mother Shipton (who by the way never existed) has but a few more days in which to compass the fulfillment of her famous prophecy (which by the way she never made) that "The world to an end shall come, in 1881," so it may not be out of place for us to remind believers in that prediction that the very worst passport to future happiness which any person can possibly have is an unpaid printer's bill. "A word to the wise is sufficient"—and this notice is intended only for the wise, as we don't care a snap where the foolish may go, they not being subscribers to our paper.

THE

Mutual Life Insurance Co.

of New York,

F. S. WINSTON, President.

The Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York is THE OLDEST Company, with thirty-seven years of experience.

It is purely Mutual—without Capital or Stockholders to share in profits, and no bonuses allowed to Officers, Trustees, or Employees.

It confines its business to regular Life and Endowment Policies, and the granting of Annuities. No new or experimental plans.

Its premium rates are lower than any other regular Life Insurance Company, and Policy-holders participate in current earnings annually.

No Policy-holder need forfeit his Policy, provided three full annual premiums have been paid, and application is immediately made for a paid-up Policy, when necessity arises to do so.

Assets have more than doubled during the past ten years, notwithstanding the six years of financial panic.

Its Interest and Rent Receipts alone have exceeded its Death Claims TEN MILLIONS of Dollars ($10,000,000.)

It has issued over 220,000 Policies; insured over $700,000,000; received over $276,000,000 in premiums; and returned to Policy-holders over $162,000,000.

It can and does afford the cheapest, safest, and most satisfactory insurance investment of any Company in the world.

Is not this well styled a marvel in Finance? No more beneficent institution exists upon the face of the earth than this greatest of financial organizations, combining the greatest possible good for the greatest number with an expertness in financiering that is paralleled only by the sturdy integrity of its managers and the proud pre-eminence of its commercial, patriotic, and scientific record.

Terrible Accident.

Domestic accidents are common to women, and some of them are very serious. Mrs. Warner, of South Rondout, Ulster Co., N. Y., some weeks ago attempted to take from her child a pair of shears with which it was playing. A slight struggle ensued, in which the point of the shears entered Mrs. Warner's left eye, entirely destroying the sight. Her family physician did what he could, but intensely painful inflammation arose, which, by sympathy, threatened the loss of the other eye. Total blindness to a woman having the care of a household is an irretrievable calamity. In this crisis Mrs. Warner applied to that the well-known and skillful surgeon Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., who removed the injured eye by a very successful operation, setting aside all danger of further harm to the sight of the other eye. But, owing to pain and mental distress, her system needed a tonic and restorative medicine. To do this work the doctor prescribed "Kennedy's Favorite Remedy," which quickly restored its reputation and laid a sure foundation of health.

Dr. Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" removes all impurities from the blood, regulates the Liver and Kidneys, Cures Constipation, and all diseases and weaknesses peculiar to females. It is for sale by all our druggists at One Dollar a bottle.

N. B.—The author may be consulted on all diseases requiring skill and experience.

We remember that the late Gov. Andrew, in an address before one of our agricultural societies, referred with eloquent pride to the fact that the soil of Massachusetts was free from malaria. It would grieve him, were he still with us, to be compelled to retract the eulogium upon the old Bay State; but it must be confessed that she has lost her former prestige in that respect. Malaria has lately been showing itself not only in various localities in Massachusetts, but in many other parts of New England. The fact is attracting much attention among physicians and sanitarians, and has been discussed in the Boston Medical & Surgical Journal and other professional periodicals.

Malaria is not a new disease in New England, but has appeared now and then in different localities ever since the settlement of the country. In Dr. Green's centennial address, delivered before the Massachusetts Medical Society last summer, several references to the disease are quoted. Rev. Mr. Danforth of Roxbury, during the winter of 1660, makes the following entry in the church records: "The Lord was pleased to visite us with epidemical colds, coughs, agues and fevers." Later, in 1671, he writes: "This summer many were visited with ye ague and fever;" and again in the same year he records: "Agues and fevers prevailed much among vs about ye Bay, and fluxes and vomiting in Boston." Another writer in 1691 speaks of the "burning and spotted fevers, shaking agues, dry belly aches, plagues of the guts, and divers other sore distempers," which afflicted the plantation.

There are the other records of the existence of malaria in New England at later periods; but for a considerable time this form of disease has shown itself endemically in but few sections. It is, we believe, about five years since it began to travel up the Connecticut river and along the sea-coast. It has now reached some of the river towns in lower Vermont, and has been quite prevalent at several points in western Massachusetts, along the Connecticut river valley. Cases have also occurred at Providence, R. I., and in the vicinity of Boston. According to a report made by the Connecticut state board of health, the "malarial wave" is gradually extending over that state.

The rule which seems to be observed is that it follows up the river valleys, spreading on either side. It also travels along the coast line, extending thence inland. Local causes do not apparently develop the diseases, although marshy ground, newly turned soil, etc., have in some cases increased the amount or modified its character.

What is the cause of this remarkable spread of malaria in a region that had so long been almost entirely exempt from such visitations? The Connecticut board of health is studying the question, and the sanitary authorities in other states will doubtless join in the investigation. Medical men in all parts of New England will do well to collect any facts which are likely to be of service in the examination.—Boston Journal of Chemistry.

Mayor Couch of Newburyport was on the 13th inst. defeated for re-election, Benjamin Hall, who was nominated three days before the election by the independents, having a majority of "329." The city voted for "no license" by twenty-four majority.

Dr. Bliss received 10,000 letters during the last illness of President Garfield, which are now being classified, and some of which will be referred to in his book soon to be published. The doctor makes the particular announcement that of the thousands of newspapers which commented upon his treatment of the president's case, the republican papers by a large majority, were strongest in laish words, while the democratic press more generally approved of his treatment.

We believe it is the style to affect contempt for things that are old. Not so, however, with Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup, which has stood the popular test of 34 years use, and is more thought of than ever before.

Ellen Dodge, a domestic servant, was fatally burned in Lawrence, Mass., Dec. 13th, while lighting a fire.

At No. 411 Market stree, Harrisburg, Pa., lives Miss Mary C. Bener, who was subject to neuralgia. Happily she was induced to try St. Jacobs Oil, and it relieved her immediately.

Judge Fox, of the United States district court, died suddenly in Portland, Me., Dec. 14th, of heart disae.

Rheumatism

Neuralgia, Sprains,

Pain in the Back and Side.

There is nothing more painful than these diseases; but the pain can be removed and the disease cured by use of Perry Davis' Pain Killer.

This remedy is not a cheap Benzine or Petroleum product that must be kept away from fire or heat to avoid danger of explosion, nor is it an untried experiment that may do more harm than good.

Pain Killer has been in constant use for forty years, and the universal testimony from all parts of the world is, It never fails. It not only effects a permanent cure, but it relieves pain almost instantaneously. Being a purely vegetable remedy, it is safe in the hands of the most inexperienced.

The record of cures by the use of PAIN KILLER would fill volumes. The following extracts from letters received show what those who have tried it think:

Edgar Cady, Owatonna, Minn., says:
About a year since my wife became subject to severe suffering from rheumatism. Our resort was to the PAIN KILLER, which speedily relieved her.

Charles Powell writes from the Sailors' Home, London:
I had been afflicted three years with neuralgia and violent pains of the stomach. The doctors at Westminster Hospital gave us my case in despair. I tried your PAIN KILLER, and it gave me immediate relief. I have regained my strength, and am now able to follow my usual occupation.

G. H. Walworth, Saco, Me., writes:
I experienced immediate relief from pain in the side by the use of your PAIN KILLER.

E. York says:
I have used your PAIN KILLER for rheumatism, and have received great benefit.

Barton Seaman says:
Have used PAIN KILLER for thirty years, and have found it a never-failing remedy for rheumatism and lameness.

Mr. Burditt writes:
It never fails to give relief in cases of rheumatism.

Phil. Gilbert, Somerset, Pa., writes:
Even scald out, I know your PAIN KILLER is the best medicine I can get.

All druggists keep PAIN KILLER. Its price is so low that it is within the reach of all, and it will save many times its cost in doctors' bills. 25c., 50c. and $1.00 a bottle.

Newspaper Supplements.

Acting Postmaster General Hatton has authorized the following ruling: "No newspaper supplement containing any advertisements whatever can be allowed in the mails at the second class rates, unless the publisher makes affidavit that the same rates are paid to him for the advertisements contained in the supplement, as for those in the body of the paper itself. But the making of this affidavit will not secure the admittance of hand-bills or posters or advertisements, in a form intended for circulation independent of the paper itself, or without the date issue; nor will it authorize the use of cuts, or illustrations which would not be admitted in the body of the paper The supplement must contain matter which is printed in the supplement for no other reason than for want of room in the body of the paper, and which would have been so published but for this reason; and therefore the advertisements contained therein must be of the class of matter and style of illustration and display common to the entire paper. Postmasters will be held strictly responsible for the mailing of any matter in violation of this ruling, and are required to report all such violations coming under their notice."

New Hampshire Items.

Miss Harriet M. Titus of Keene was found insensible in her room, Wednesday, 14th inst., from inhaling coal gas. Her recovery is doubtful.

The eighth annual meeting of the New Hampshire State Grange, which it had been intended to hold at Warner, was transferred to Mirror hall, Manchester, on account of difficulties connected with hotel accommodations at Warner. The meeting occurs on the 20th inst.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Boston & Maine railroad was holden in Lawrence, Mass., Dec. 14th, and the following board of directors elected:

Nathaniel G. White, George C. Lord, Amos Paul, Nathaniel J. Bradlee, William S. Stevens, James R. Nichols, John F. Osgood, Samuel E. Spring, Nathaniel W. Farwell.

As President White declined a re-election to that position, a resolution of thanks was tendered him for past services. At a subsequent meeting of the directors, George C. Lord was elected president.

News and Notes.

A meeting of the members of the Cumberland county (Me.) bar was held Wednesday afternoon, to take action in regard to the death of Judge Fox. The judge's bench was draped in mourning. A committee was appointed to prepare suitable resolutions, and arrangements were made for the attendance of the bar at the funeral.

The federal authorities at Dallas, Tex., have levied on the property of the bondsmen of the train robbers, William and Henry Collins, members of the "boss" gang of 1878, for $50,000. The Collinses jumped bail, and fled. Afterwards they were shot and killed by officers attempting to arrest them. Their bondsmen consider this released them from the obligation of the bond, and will attempt to stop the sale of their property by an injunction.

Napolen Ferrest, of Spencer, Mass., is under arrest, charged with carelessness in putting up a prescription whereby the death of Ellen Rooney was caused. The prisoner, who is a Frenchman about twenty years of age, has always worked in a boot shop until last September, when he went into a drug store as a clerk. He can neither write or read, and cannot speak English. There is great indignation in Spencer at his being allowed to put up any prescription.

Justin Walden, who married Nellie Horton, twelve years old, and was detained in jail when visiting his baby wife, has been taken to Williamstown, Mass., charged with adultery in not obtaining the consent of the girl's mother to the marriage. Walden, who has another wife it is said, waived examination, pleaded not guilty, and went to jail to await the grand jury, in default of $200 sureties. Walden denies having been married before.

Small-pox is now attacking the better portion of Jersey City, and the health officers are crowded with applicants for vaccination. Four hundred school children were vaccinated in one day recently.

The supreme court of the United States two years since declined to advance the case intended to test the legality of the legal tender law. Now that the case is about to be reached, it is understood that the court will decline to hear it until there is a full bench—a chief justice and eight associates.

Judge Advocate Gen. Swaim on the 14th inst. submitted his review of the Whittaker court martial case to the secretary of war. The verdict of the court will not be made public until the case is acted upon by the president, to whom a report will be made by the secretary of war.

Fifty guineas premium has been paid on the British steamer City of London, from London on November 13th for New York, and sixty guineas premium on the British steamer Bath City, from Bristol, Eng., Nov. 10th, for New York. The latter was spoken about three hundred miles from Newfoundland on the 30th ult., with her foremast gone and rudder disabled, and is supposed to have gone down in a gale immediately afterward.

At Austin, Nevada, on the night of Dec. 13th, a mob broke into the jailor's room in the court house, took out Richard Jennings, who murdered an old and respected citizen named John A. Barrett without provocation the night before, and hanged the ruffian to a balcony over the court house door.

Small pox is still increasing in Chicago, and wholesale vaccinations are of daily occurrence. The entire post-office force, including carriers, have been vaccinated.

James Conroy, of Providence, R. I., who with his wife was thrown from a wagon on Sunday, the 11th inst., died on the 14th. His wife remains in a critical condition.

George Mitchell of Harrington, Me., was lost overboard from the schooner Jane H. Crowley, off Cape Elizabeth, Me., Tuesday night, the 13th inst.

Two brothers, named Kennedy, aged nine and eleven years, respectively, while on their way to school in Brewer, Me., Dec. 14th, fell through the ice into the pond. The elder was rescued, but the other was drowned.

"He Giveth His Beloved Sleep." This beautiful poem, by Elizabeth Barrett Browning, has been published by Lee & Shepard of Boston in an elegant illustrated form, with designs by Miss L. B. Humphrey, engraved by Andrews. The exquisite production is in accordance with the tasteful designs of several previously-issued gems of this kind, and it makes one of the most acceptable gift books to be found at this season on the counters of the bookstores. Price $1.50; sold by Goodrich.

The January "Century," a large edition of which is on the press, will be delayed this month until the 23d. One of its novel features is to be a frontispiece printed in tint,—a portrait of Ex-President Thiers, accompaning an article on Hon. Elihu B. Washburne, our former Minister to France. A full-page portrait of Queen Margaret of Italy is given in connection with an article on the making of Burano lace, for which the Princess Louise of England has made a sketch. The number also has another portrait of President Garfield (from an artotype by Edward Bierstadt, N. Y.,) which will accompany an anecdotal paper by Colonel A. F. Rockwell, entitled "From Mentor to Elberon." The immediate friends of the late President regard this portrait as giving a somewhat different phase of the late President's character from that presented by the engraving by Cole in the December Century, and as revealing his affectionate qualities, while the latter was especially strong on the intellectual side of his nature. The artotype is also interesting as being the portrait Mrs. Garfield selected to send to Queen Victoria. The sale of the November and December "Century" still continues. A new edition of nine thousand of the latter number has just been issued.

"Nuna, the Brahmin Girl," by Harry W. French, author of "Castle Foam," "Ego," "Art and Artists," etc.; illustrated. Boston; Lee & Shepard. The author claims that Nuna is a story of real life and true love, under the palm tree and tamarinds. As a writer Mr. French has already achieved a fame in his previous works, which will be by no means diminished by the production of Nuna. Price $1 25; sold by Mercer Goodrich, Market street.

The regular edition of "St. Nicholas" in England is now eight thousand copies. Ten thousand copies of the Christmas number are being sold there.

"Like a Gentleman" is a story whose author is not announced. The moral is a strong argument against social drinking in high places, and the happy results succeeding the reform of a fallen brother are told with peculiar interest. Boston; Lee & Shepard, publishers. Portsmouth, sold by M. Goodrich.

The last number of the "Young Folks' Heroes of History," is "Raleigh: his exploits and voyages," by Geo. Makepeace Towle, author of several similar books, and is published by Lee & Shepard of Boston. The book gives us accounts of Sir Walter, as a soldier and voyager, and is illustrated, one of the views being the act of the gallant courtier in spreading his cloak for Queen Elizabeth to walk upon in the garden. The accounts given of Raleigh are full of interest, and the book, like its predecessors, cannot fail to please its readers. Price $1.25; sold by M. Goodrich.

"The Portrait of a Lady," by Henry James, Jr., author of "The Europeans," "The Americans," etc. Boston; Houghton, Mifflin & Co.; price $2.00. This is regarded as the most important novel yet written by Mr. James. The story opens at an old English country house on the Thames, which Mr. James places at "some" fifty miles above London. Mr. James' sin in using this word is, as Mr. White would remark, "in good company." The story, which has been familiar to many readers of the Atlantic, comprises over five hundred pages. It shows close study of character and an attractive style in composition, and is one of the books that engage the reader not pour passer le temps, but because of its inherent excellencies. For sale by Myers.

THE
of New York,
F. S. WINSTON, President.

The Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York is THE OLDEST Company, with thirty-seven years of experience.

It is purely Mutual—without Capital or Stockholders to share in profits, and no bonuses allowed to Officers, Trustees, or Employees.

It confines its business to regular Life and Endowment Policies, and the granting of Annuities. No new or experimental plans.

Its premium rates are lower than any other regular Life Insurance Company, and Policy-holders participate in current earnings annually.

No Policy-holder need forfeit his Policy, provided three full annual premiums have been paid, and application is immediately made for a paid-up Policy, when necessity arises to do so.

Assets have more than doubled during the past ten years, notwithstanding the six years of financial panic.

Its Interest and Rent Receipts alone have exceeded its Death Claims TEN MILLIONS of Dollars ($10,000,000.)

It has issued over 220,000 Policies; insured over $700,000,000; received over $276,000,000 in premiums; and returned to Policy-holders over $162,000,000.

It can and does afford the cheapest, safest, and most satisfactory insurance investment of any Company in the world.

Is not this well styled a marvel in Finance? No more beneficent institution exists upon the face of the earth than this greatest of financial organizations, combining the greatest possible good for the greatest number with an expertness in financiering that is paralleled only by the sturdy integrity of its managers and the proud pre-eminence of its commercial, patriotic, and scientific record.

MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

In Board of Mayor and Aldermen, regular meeting, Thursday evening, Dec. 15th, Mayor Sise in the chair:

The records of last meeting were read and approved.

Wm. F. Fernald's petition for improved means of access to new shipyard on Freeman's point was referred to the committee on streets.

There was some talk about the millpond nuisance, but no action was taken.

The mayor made a statement, on behalf of the health committee, concerning the expenses of the small-pox cases.

Street lights for several places were asked for. No action.

Notice was received from the Common Council that the resignations of Edwin Underhill, Michael E. Long and Albert W. Parsons as members of the council had been accepted.

The report of the committee, in favor of the exemption from taxation of the new business premises of Critchley & Whalley was adopted.

Balloted for a police officer; on the second ballot Albert W. Parsons was elected.

Ald. Green said that although he was on committees that had had considerable work to do, he had never been consulted by the majority as to what should be done, or how it should be done, in a single instance.

Adjourned for one week.

AROUND HOME.

This evening, at Music hall, a large variety company give an entertainment. Through the troupe includes Cool Burgess, Miss Maggie Cline, the Seamans, Miss Madge Alston and other favorite performers, prices of tickets are placed very low, and there will probably be a larger audience than has gathered in that place for some time. See advt.

A supper complimentary to Hon. Frank Jones was given at the Rockingham house on Thursday evening, by about seventy of the young men of the city.

The fishing schooner Storm King made the run in to Fort Constitution from Londoner island, Isles of Shoals, in thirty-five minutes, on Wednesday.

Car No. 63 of the Eastern railroad, used as a carpenters' or construction car, took fire from on overheated stove on the morning of the 14th inst., while standing on a track in Boston, and occasioned the sounding of an alarm. The damage was small.

The schooner Lucy, which sprang a leak in the lower harbor a few days ago and was beached on Preble's island, has been caulked. Her cargo of fish, which was thought to be spoiled, has been thoroughly overhauled, and shows but little injury.

Schooners Northern Star and Joseph P. Barrett arrived in the lower harbor on Wednesday evening, 14th inst.; the former sold 8,000 lbs. of fish in Boston; the latter sold 10,000 lbs., and had on board 6000 lbs., caught since leaving that port. The schooner Flying Eagle came up to the wharf on Wednesday evening with 7000 lbs. of cod, and left on Thursday for Boston to dispose of her fare at that place. The schooner Hattie N. Reed arrived on Thursday with 1500 lbs. of fish.

At the adjourned meeting of the New England members of the Hotel Men's Mutual Benefit Association, held at the Tremont house in Boston on the 14th inst., a unanimous vote was passed to present the name Capt. Frank W. Hilton, of the Rockingham house in this city, as a candidate for the next president of the association.

The selections for the "George Eliot Calendar" were made by a lady of literary tastes, until recently a resident of this city.

The New Hampshire club had a meeting at Young's hotel in Boston on the 14th inst., and appointed a committee consisting of Col. Hoyt of Epping, Al. Sulloway, Esq., of Franklin, and Col. Kent of this city, to arrange for a trip to Washington, and report at the next monthly meeting of the club.

Frederick H. Akerman has been appointed ward clerk by the selectmen of ward three, vice Wm. T. Rand, resigned.

A brakeman named Brooks, connected with the Amesbury freight train of the Eastern railroad, had a foot crushed near the Salem lead works on the morning of the 14th inst. The foot was amputated at the ankle.

The schooner J. P. Ames, formerly of this port, which was libelled about a month since by Mattapoisett, Mass., parties, and whose captain afterward attempted to run away with her from the keeper, was sold at New Bedford on the 14th inst. by the United States authorities to H. J. Hewitt of Rockland, Me., for $500. It is understood that she was bought for the parties to whom her Portsmouth owners sold her.

Put it down in your diary—the first snow of the season on Dec. 15th.—Times.

That would be wicked. There was a well-defined snow squall on the 12th of November; and on the night of the 22d or the 23d several inches of snow fell, and pungs were driven about the streets next morning.

The Dover Democrat of the 14th inst. says: "Schooner Nancy J. Day arrived this morning with a cargo of coal for C. H. Trickey & Co., and is being discharged. This is the last cargo of the season for that firm. Their store houses are crammed full with a winter's supply. This schooner would have come up to the wharf last night, but it was so excessively dark down the river that the attempt was deemed hazardous. A darker night was never seen on the river."

Messrs. A. P. Wendell & Co., Market square, have just received a lot of choice singing canaries, which with a full line of brass and painted cages they are offering at moderate prices for the holidays. Step into their well arranged store and hear the birds sing.

Ira G. Ingalls, of Salem, Mass., has been appointed assistant keeper of the light station on Baker's island, at the entrance to Salem harbor. Mr. Ingalls was formerly an engineer on the Eastern railroad, but went west a few years ago and located on the frontier, where he was attacked by Indians, who destroyed his entire property. Mr. Ingalls, with his wife and her mother, escaped with what they wore, everything else being captured by the redskins.

IMPORTANT TO FISHERMEN.

Judge Osgood of Salem refused to issue a warrant for the arrest of a man who was detected in taking lobsters from traps belonging to another party. The judge is reported as saying that there is no law to cover this—that the lobsters are not a person's property until after they have been handled. And that fish on trawls and in nets come under the same head. This seems a little curious, as we have always understood that a heavy fine could be imposed on a person for taking lobsters without leave from a trap belonging to another party, and we have heard of cases in Newburyport where parties have been convicted for robbing traps and trawls.

Judge Osgood admits that similar cases have been tried and the parties convicted, but says that if the defendants had had good lawyers they would have gained the case. If this is as he says, it is for the interest of the fishermen to petition the legislature to pass a law making it a crime to rob their traps or nets, and provide a penalty for the offence. The judge's ground seems fairly well taken, as lawyers who have been consulted promised to get the law, but have as yet been unable to find anything bearing upon the case.—Marblehead Messenger.

We remember that a year or so ago the captain of a Gloucester fishing schooner was convicted in the United States courts in Massachusetts, and severely punished, for stealing the trawls of a Newburyport fishing vessel, set in Ipswich bay; but this was for stealing the trawls, and not for merely robbing them of the fish caught thereon. Had the thief stolen the fish only, and not taken the gear on which the fish were caught, the finding of the court might have been different. If the decision of the Salem magistrate is sound in law, anybody has just as good a right to clean out lobster-pots, as rip trawls or nets, or help themselves to the fish trapped in weirs, as the men who own and set the gear. We should not be surprised to hear of serious trouble among the fishermen yet, for they are a hardy set, and if the law will not protect them in the exercise of their rough and perilous vocation they will be apt to undertake the job themselves.

Mr. Joseph Miller of Lewiston, Me., was thrown from his carriage on Monday afternoon, Dec. 12th, and his skull fractured.

Insurance companies are considerably exercised over the great fires which have occurred among the Minneapolis flouring mills. Several companies put this class of risk on the prohibited list just after the great explosion and fire three years ago, and others will now follow suit. Agents hold that there is but little real difference between the fire hazard of a modern patent flour factory or flouring mill, and a powder mill.

A King's Spirit.

The following story was told me as an instance of Johan XIV.'s spirit: A Russian man-of-war was seen passing the fort of Waxholm en route for Stockholm, without having given the customary salute. The orders of the fort commandant were distinct, that in a case like this two warnings were to be given. The first, that of firing a ball in the rear of the vessel. If this were unheeded, another was to be sent in advance of its bow. In case both warnings were disregarded a ball was to be sent into the most vulnerable part of the ship. In the present instance both warnings had been given without response, and the commandant, a young, beardless lieutenant, though shaking in his boots, cried out to the cannoneer:

"Do you see the wheel-house?"

"Yes."

"Send a ball into it, in God's name!"

This had effect. With wheel-house injured the Russian stopped perforce. A moment later two boats were seen setting out for Stockholm, one of the two boats with the frightened young commandant in it from Waxholm, and one from the disabled man-of-war, each rowing with utmost speed in hope of reaching the royal presence first. The Swede arrived just enough in advance to obtain the first audience. He gasped out his story.

"Well," said the king, "it seems she wouldn't salute, and you fired?"

"Yes."

"Where did you hit her?"

"Oh, your majesty, be gracious!"

"Did you hit the wheel-house?"

"Ye—es."

"Good! You're a major."

The Russian was permitted to rebuild its wheel in Stockholm.—Harper's Magazine.

Sleeping Apart.

More quarrels arise between brothers, between sisters, between hired girls, between clerks in stores, between hired men, between husbands and wives, owing to electrical changes through their systems by lodging together night after night under the same bedclothes, than by any other disturbing cause. There is nothing that will so derange the nervous force, as to lie all night in bed with another person who is sorbent in nervous force. The absorber will go to sleep and rest all night, while the eliminator will be tumbling and tossing, restless and nervous, and wake up in the morning fretful, peevish, fault-finding and discouraged. No two persons, no matter who they are, should habitually sleep together. One will thrive, and the other will lose. This is the law.—Laws of Life.

—An æsthetic writer speaks of a fair young girl "vanishing like the dew before the morning sun." This is shockingly vulgar. In plain language it means that she dried up.

—"Look here, Matilda," said a Galveston lady to the colored cook, "you sleep right close to the chicken house, and you must have heard those thieves stealing the chickens." "Yes, ma'am, I heerd de chickens holler, and heerd de wolves ob de men." "Why didn't you go out, then?" "Case, ma'am, (bursting into tears,) case, ma'am, I knowed my ole fadder was out dar, and I wouldn't hab him know I'se lost confidence in him foah all the de chickens in de world. If I had gone out dar and kotched him, it would hab broke his ole heart, and he would hab made me tote de chickens foah him besides. He done tole me de day before dat he's gwine to pull dem chickens dat night."

Sudden changes of temperature are very productive of coughs and colds, which always yield, however, very promptly to Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

A Word to Mothers.

Mothers should remember it is a most important duty at this season to look after the health of their families and cleanse the malaria and impurities from their systems, and that nothing will tone up the stomach and liver, regulate the bowels and purify the blood so perfectly as Parker's Ginger Tonic, advertised in our columns.—Post: see other columns.

BATTLE CREEK, Mich., Jan. 31, 1879.

A Portuguese died in New Bedford, Mass., Dec. 14th, of confluent small-pox. This dreaded disease seems to be raging worse and to be more widely-spread than at any time for many years past.

"Pro Bono Publico."

It is a very remarkable fact, that while thousands of people refuse to read paid puffs of worthless nostrums, none skip over Dr. Swayne's little squib about his Ointment for itching piles that itch so much at night. The people well know that it is published for their benefit, in other words, is pro bono publico. May its far reaching effects be perpetuated to the end of time.

Rheumatism

Neuralgia, Sprains,
Pain in the Back and Side.

There is nothing more painful than these diseases; but the pain can be removed and the disease cured by use of Perry Davis' Pain Killer.

This remedy is not a cheap Benzine or Petroleum product that must be kept away from fire or heat to avoid danger of explosion, nor is it an untried experiment that may do more harm than good.

Pain Killer has been in constant use for forty years, and the universal testimony from all parts of the world is, it never fails. It not only effects a permanent cure, but it relieves pain almost instantaneously. Being a purely vegetable remedy, it is safe in the hands of the most inexperienced.

The record of cures by the use of PAIN KILLER would fill volumes. The following extracts from letters received show what those who have tried it think:

Edgar Cady, Owatonna, Minn., says:
About a year since my wife became subject to severe suffering from rheumatism. Our recent was to the PAIN KILLER, which speedily relieved her.

Charles Fowsill writes from the Sailors' Home, London:
I had been afflicted three years with neuralgia and violent spasms of the stomach. The doctors at Westminster Hospital gave up my case in despair. I tried your PAIN KILLER, and it gave me immediate relief. I have received my st.ength, and am now able to follow my usual occupation.

G. H. Walworth, Saco, Me., writes:
I experienced immediate relief from pain in the side by the use of your PAIN KILLER.

E. York says:
I have used your PAIN KILLER for rheumatism, and have received great benefit.

Baron Seaman says:
Have used PAIN KILLER for thirty years, and have found it a never-failing remedy for rheumatism and lameness.

Mr. Burditt writes:
It never fails to give relief in cases of rheumatism.

Phil. Gilbert, Somerset, Pa., writes:
From actual use, I know your PAIN KILLER is the best medicine I can get.

All druggists keep PAIN KILLER. Its price is so low that it is within the reach of all, and it will save many times its cost to doctors' bills. 25c., 50c. and $1.00 a bottle.

News and Notes.

A Washington despatch of the 15th inst. said: "President Arthur is about to decide on the appointment to a vacant supreme judgeship. Nomination will go in before holidays, and will either be Judge Gray of Massachusetts or Judge Doe of New Hampshire. The New Hampshire senators, and members, accompanied by Mr. William E. Chandler, called on Mr. Arthur yesterday, and urged the appointment of Judge Doe. The Massachusetts delegation went to the White House this morning, and unitedly requested the selection of Judge Gray. It is understood that the justices of the supreme court have intimated privately to Mr. Arthur their wish that Judge Gray may be appointed."

St. Albans, Vt., is having a fearful time over the liquor question. The temperance people in attempting to suppress the liquor traffic have suppressed every hotel in town, and it is said the ardent still flows. Public meetings are called.

The Parisian prefect of police has, in view of the Vienna catastrophe, instructed the directors of the Paris theatres to take precautionary measures against an outbreak of fire, and to provide adequate means of exit from their theatres.

There were two deaths in Holyoke, Mass., Dec. 14th, from small-pox.

Four government workingmen were drowned at Charleston, W. Va., Dec. 15th, by being carried over a dam in a boat.

The New York yacht club on the 15th inst. resolved that in view of the terms and conditions of the deed of gift under which the club acquired the "America cup" being inadequate, the cup should be returned to the surviving donor, with the understanding that should he return it under new conditions, the club would deem it an honor to retain it against all comers.

A daring but unsuccessful attempt was made Wednesday night, Dec. 14th, by a gang of seven burglars, to crack the safe of the First national bank at St. Clair, Mich. The night watchman was knocked down, choked, handcuffed and gagged, and the thieves then endeavored, by threats of death, to make him produce the keys, but he did not have them. They then went to work on the safe, but did not effect an entrance. All were masked, and their work proves that they are experienced cracksmen; no names were mentioned among them, but each had a number by which he was designated.

Patrick Downey died recently at Castleton, Vt., where he had lived a hermit's life for twenty-five years. After his death a roll of $5,000 in bills on the Castleton Mutual bank was found secreted in his bed. The bank discontinued business in 1859.

Katie Reinacher, an innocent-looking servant in William Alfred Jones' family at Norwich, Conn., has been frightening the family ever since last August by ringing the door-bell and rapping on the windows at unseasonable hours. The family were sure that a ghost was about; and it is only after watching twelve consecutive nights that a detective solves the mystery, and finds, besides, that the girl poisoned the cat and stole from her mistress. That girl is quite too consummately utter.

The Southern Pacific passenger train, bound west from El Paso., Texas, on the morning of the 14th was boarded by highwaymen. Wells, Fargo & Co.'s messenger was knocked down, gagged, and compelled to surrender the keys of the safe, from which $1,500 were abstracted. About $600 were secured from passengers. When the train neared Rogers' station it slowed up for a bridge, and the robbers jumped off and cut across the country into Mexico. There is no prospect of capturing them.

Michael Calden and Dennis Sharkey, accused of complicity in the murder of Raymond P. Dennis, the old man whose head was blown to pieces in Fall River, Mass., on the night of the 7th inst., in presence of his wife and family, have been held for trial.

The governor's council of Maine gave a hearing on the 15th inst. on the matter of appointing four special constables for the better enforcement of the prohibitory law in Cumberland county. A petition signed by about forty citizens of Portland was read, asking for the appointment of the officers. No one appeared for the petitioners, but Hon. C. F. Libby, Sheriff Sawyer and Deputy Sheriff Andrews appeared in remonstrance. After a thorough consideration, the council reported leave to withdraw. Petitions from Penobscot and Somerset counties were tabled for the present.

Gilman Scott, a tin peddler of Holden, Mass., aged sixty-five years, hung himself a few nights ago.

Typhoid fever has broken out in Jersey City in a most virulent form, and several deaths from it have occurred within the last few days. Owing to the prevalence of small-pox, and the hard work entailed on them thereby, the health authorities are almost powerless to face the new outbreak. The board of finance have refused to make the extra appropriation called for to stop the spread of contagious diseases, on the ground that they cannot exceed the appropriation of $15,000 for health purposes, made in the tax levy.

Elias Sampson, aged sixty-five years, committed suicide at the residence of his son in New Bedford, Mass., by shooting himself through the heart with a gun on the 15th inst. Mental depression was the cause.

Isaac Hubbell, a farmer of Huntington, Conn., fatally shot himself on the 13th inst., while in a fit of the blues.

Lorenzo Baker, a prominent citizen of Schagticoke, N. Y., has been sentenced to one year' imprisonment for defrauding Rev. W. H. Meeker of Hoosic Falls out of $10,000, given him to purchase New York Central stock, but which he used for his own purposes. Baker claims he lost the money in speculation, of which Meeker was cognizant.

New Hampshire Items.

Charles L. Cloutman of Farmington, assignee to Lewis R. Wiggin of Farmington and E. F. Couch of Newburyport, has been granted a patent for a car-coupling upon his application filed in the patent office in May last. Thomas B. Hayward, of South Acworth, has received a patent for a sap-bucket to gather sap from trees in sugaring time.

The agricultural lecture course at the New Hampshire College of Agriculture will begin on Jan. 19th, 1882, and will continue four weeks. Among the topics to be treated are stock feeding and breeding, diseases of animals, drainage, irrigation, soils, and soil analysis, plant growth, forestry, dairying, meteorology, sanitary science, ensilage, sheep husbandry, history of agriculture, and general methods of farm management.

"The Tribulations of a Chinaman in China:" from the French of Jules Verne, by Virginia Champlin, with fifty illustrations.. Boston; Lee & Shepard.

Everyone has enjoyed the recounted adventures of Verne's heroes, told with their French regard to veracity. The present volume is full of interest, and in its rapidly changing situations new and rare incidents are portrayed with graphic recital. The account of the operation of the Centenary Life Insurance company at its Chinese branch would induce us, did we not know Mons. Vern'es reputation as a truthful writer, to suppose that he might occasionally indulge in hyperbole, but we believe all in this interesting work, and take it as another illustration of the progress we are making towards becoming informed as to the manners and customs of our Celestial neighbors. Sold by Goodrich; price $1.50.

THE STATE TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION.

The meeting of the teachers of our state in the Franklin theatre next Wednesday, Thursday and Friday promises to be one of more than ordinary interest to the friends of public schools. The order of exercises will consist principally of essays upon important school topics, and discussions of these papers as they are given. A select quartette has generously consented to sing on Wednesday and Friday evenings, Harlow's orchestra, (including the excellent cornetist, Mr. Ralph L. Reinewald of Dover,) with a public spirited liberality for which the managers are noted, will render its services gratuitously on Thursday evening. THE

of New York,

F. S. WINSTON, President.

The Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York is THE OLDEST Company, with thirty-seven years of experience.

It is purely Mutual—without Capital or Stockholders to share in profits, and no bonuses allowed to Officers, Trustees, or Employees.

It confines its business to regular Life and Endowment Policies, and the granting of Annuities. No new or experimental plans.

Its premium rates are lower than any other regular Life Insurance Company, and Policy-holders participate in current earnings annually.

No Policy-holder need forfeit his Policy, provided three full annual premiums have been paid, and application is immediately made for a paid-up Policy, when necessity arises to do so.

Assets have more than doubled during the past ten years, notwithstanding the six years of financial panic.

Its Interest and Rent Receipts alone have exceeded its Death Claims TEN MILLIONS of Dollars ($10,000,000.)

It has issued over 220,000 Policies; insured over $700,000,000; received over $276,000,000 in premiums; and returned to Policy-holders over $162,000,000.

It can and does afford the cheapest, safest, and most satisfactory insurance investment of any Company in the world.

Is not this well styled a marvel in Finance? No more beneficent institution exists upon the face of the earth than this greatest of financial organizations, combining the greatest possible good for the greatest number with an expertness in financiering that is paralleled only by the sturdy integrity of its managers and the proud pre-eminence of its commercial, patriotic, and scientific record.

AROUND HOME.

Alfred Stavers, No. 53 Congress street, (Franklin block,) displays a great variety of seasonable and serviceable goods, his stock of underwear, hosiery and gloves for ladies and gentlemen being especially expensive and complete.

If anybody wants to buy a hat to pay an election bet with, or an umbrella to bestow on the last person from whom one was "hooked," or a pair of gloves or set of furs to present to wife or best girl, Mr. Fred G. Moses will be pleased to accommodate the seeker at No. 13 Congress street.

Buzzell & Son, on Market square, display innumerable choice articles in their line, and their window display is enough to haul right in off the street anybody in search of a present.

If a gold or silver watch or chain, opera glass, diamond ring or ring of any other kind, piece of silver or choice plated ware, or anything else likely to be found in a first-class jewelry store, is wanted for a holiday gift, the place to look for it is at J. H. Hutchinson's, Market square.

M. M. Collis, at the Boston 99-cent store, No. 15 Market street, has a large assortment of holiday goods, serviceable and ornamental, at low prices.

Almost anything desired in the millinery line can be procured at J. M. Tibbetts' two stores on the opposite sides of Market street; hats and bonnets of all styles, from the cart-wheel to the poke—we do not know what the poke is, but we do know about the cart-wheel, for we sat behind one at Music hall the other evening, and slept all through the service, not being able to see the stage—feathers, ribbons, and all the other gear which delighteth the female heart, dazzleth the masculine eye and capsizeth the masculine understanding, and causeth a famine in the masculine pocket-book.

There is one Christmas or New Year's present which has the charm of weekly or daily renewal, to be found at our office. We are ready to receive pay for the CHRONICLE, to be sent post paid to any persons who may be indicated by their friends. One dollar and a half will send the NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE, a paper having more original reading matter in its columns than any other newspaper in the state. It is a nice surprise to have a friend come to the office and order the paper sent to some relative or acquaintance in town or out; the receipt of the paper is a constant reminder of the generosity of the donor, who cannot in any other way expend so small a sum and receive so much in exchange. If there is no one else to be presented with it, there is no objection to giving it to one's self or to one's family, and the experiment is well worth trying.

STREET SCENE, DEC. 15TH.

They were from York, Me. She, blooming and robust as an old-fashioned dahlia; and he, symmetrical and rotund as a Japanese sunflower. Hand in hand they walked down Daniel street, her head gently resting on his—she would have had to stoop to lay it on his shoulder—the dancing eyes and cooing conversation of the pair showing plainly that their matrimonial days had been few and of unalloyed pleasure. Descrying a bunch of brooms on the sidewalk just below the telegraph office, the blushing damsel exclaimed in tones that reverberated through every telephone in town, "Sam, we want a broom! We might just's well git everything we need, now we are over here." The broom was purchased; and Sam, with one hand on the broom and the other interlaced with the fingers of his better three-quarters, retraced his steps, and the happy couple were soon looking at Pran's and Marcus Ward's Christmas cards in Goodrich's window. Market square was at once exploded, and apoplectic merchants turned purple in the face, at the exclamation, "They don't seem to have any comic valentines this year." The couple then continued their perambulations up Congress street, charming y oblivious of the amusement they were causing to the lookers-on, and when last seen by our informant were gazing intently at the miniature parlor in Myers' window, audibly wondering at the shiftlessness of a storekeeper who would "throw such nice books on the floor."

POLICE COURT.

FRIDAY, Dec. 16; Batchelder, J.

Winthrop Manson, a common vagrant, was sent to Brentwood for ninety days; costs taxed at $8.04.

William Mullen, a seaman on board the schooner Thomas J. Martin, a collier which sailed for Philadelphia on the 15th inst., was committed to jail in default of $300 bonds for his appearance at the April term of the supreme court to answer to a charge of aggravated assault on John Sise—not the worthy president of the National Mechanics & Traders' bank, but another seaman on the Thomas J. Martin. The two men got into some kind of a row, and Sise received a blow which will probably cause him to lose his right eye.

In New York, London and other cities great precautions are now taken to have the lobbies of the theatres kept clear, and only a limited number of standing tickets are sold. In Portsmouth there is but little danger from a crowd at the dramatic representations, and in this point we may as well feel secure.

The navigation of the Cocheco river closed Dec. 15th, when the schooner Nancy J. Day, the last vessel in the river, was towed down. The tug Ann it is said will haul up for the winter at one of the Portsmouth wharves.

There was skating on the north and south ponds, on Friday.

The steamer Acushnet sailed from this port for Boston on Friday, on her last trip for the present; before she goes on the route again she is to receive a new boiler, which it is expected will very materially increase her speed.

The Boylston Star troupe gave a big variety show to quite a large audience at Music hall on Friday evening.

What, in the name of common sense, does the CHRONICLE understand by "this season?" The year is divided into four seasons, and winter begins on Dec. 1st. We do not remember any snow storm since then until the one yesterday morning, and we don't believe any one else does.—It was, Dec. 16th.

We stand corrected. We had previously supposed that winter commenced when the sun entered Capricorn, at the solstice about the 21st of December, and ended at the equinox in March.

Master Jere. Cole, (about six feet three inches in height,) son of Assistant Marshal Cole, is quite expert as a huntsman, and may be seen almost daily coming in from the Sheafe swamp, Newington, with a fine string of game; within the past fortnight he has shot nearly three dozen rabbits, for which he finds a ready market among our English citizens.

The Bayside school in Greenland is taught this winter by Miss Ida A. Nutter of Newington, a graduate of the Normal school at Salem, Mass.

Large numbers of pine logs are being hauled to Mason's mill, from a timber lot in Newington recently purchased by C. Hiram Hayes of this city and a Mr. Hussey of South Berwick, Me.

The schooner Clara W. Elwell, with 327 tons of coal for C. E. Walker & Co., sailed from Perth Amboy Nov. 30th, and had not arrived at this port on the 16th inst., having probably sought shelter in some port along the coast from unfavorable weather. The barque Ausable, with 854 tons of broken, egg and stove coal for C. E. Walker & Co., sailed for Perth Amboy on the 14th inst.

The Newburyport Herald of the 16th inst. contained the following: "At the stable of George Lucy there is a valuable stallion belonging to a gentleman of Rye, N. H., sick with the 'Pink-eye,' and it is thought he will die. The horse's legs are badly swollen, in some places cracking, and for the past twenty-four hours he has refused to eat. His head rests on the manger, and it is a sad sight to see this fine looking animal in such a pitiable condition. The owner of the stallion recently refused $1800 for him."

The ladies' benevolent circle connected with the Free Baptist society at Kittery Point held their annual fair on Wednesday and Thursday evenings of this week.

—Stuffing ballot-boxes has lately become a crime in Philadelphia. A few years ago it was considered a great accomplishment. This is unmistakable proof that fashions are constantly changing.

—The Atlanta Constitution sees the time approaching when the demagogue will appear at the front. If the demagogue has been anywhere else than at the front for the last fifty years we'd like to know where the rear of this thing is.

—A gray hair was espied among the raven locks of a young lady. "Oh, pray pull it out," she exclaimed. "If I pull it out ten will come to the funeral," replied the lady who made the unwelcome discovery. "Pluck it out, nevertheless," said the dark-haired damsel; "it is no sort of consequence how many come to the funeral, provided they all come in black."

Premature Loss of the Hair

May be entirely prevented by the use of Burnett's Cocoaine. No other compound possesses the peculiar properties which so exactly suit the various conditions of the human hair. It softens the hair when harsh and dry. It soothes the irritated scalp. It affords the richest lustre. It prevents the hair from falling off. It promotes its healthy, vigorous growth. It is not greasy nor sticky. It leaves no disagreeable odor. It kills dandruff.

Burnett's Flavoring Extracts are known as the best.

Terrible Accident.

Parents be Careful.

Domestic accidents are common to women, and some of them are very serious. Mrs. Wagner, of South Rondout, Ulster Co., N. Y., some weeks ago attempted to take from her child a pair of shears with which it was playing. A slight struggle ensued, in which the point of the shears entered Mrs. Wagner's left eye, entirely destroying the sight. Her family physician did what he could, but intensely painful inflammation arose, which, by sympathy, threatened the loss of the other eye. Total blindness to a woman having the care of a household is an irreparable calamity. In this great Mrs. Warner applied to that the well-known and skillful surgeon Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., who removed the injured eye by a very successful operation, setting aside all danger of further harm to the sight of the other eye. But, owing to pain and mental distress, her system needed a tonic and restorative medicine. To do this work the doctor prescribed "Kennedy's Favorite Remedy," which sustained its reputation and laid a sure foundation of health.

The Legend of Mimir.

It is a beautiful legend of the Norse Land. Amilias was the village blacksmith, and under the spreading chestnut treekin his village smithopken stood. He the hot iron gehammered and shod horses for fifty cents all round please. He made tin hjelmets for the gjodds, and stove-pipe trousers for the hyenes.

Mimir was a rival blacksmith. He didn't go in very much for defensive armor, but he was lightning on two-edged bsjwords and cut and slash svrcutlasses. He made cheeseknives for the other gjodds, and he made the great Bjsvestnen and Arkansaw toothpick that would make a free incision clear into the transverse semi-colon of a cast-iron Ichthyosaurus, and never turn its edge. That was the kind of a Bbjairpin Mimir he said he was.

One day Amilias made an impenetrable suit of armor for a second-class gbj.dd, and put it on himself to test it, and boastfully inserted a card in the "Svensska Norderb jravisk jkanshelpesplvtdenekgurodovusaken," saying that he was wearing a suit of home-made, best chilled Norway merino underwear that would knick unnumbered saw teeth in the potmetal cutlery of the iron-mongery over the way. That, Amelias remarked to his friend Bjohun Bjrobinson, was the kind of a Bdjuck he was.

When Mimir spelled out the card next morning, he said "Bjjjit!" and went to work with a charcoal furnace, a cold anvil, and A. T. Hay's isomorphic process, and in a little while he came down street with a sjvaard that glitteered like a dollar store diamond, and met Amilias down by the new opera house. Amilias buttoned on his new sjarmor and said:

"If you have no hereafter use for your old chyleese-knife, strike."

Mimir spat on his hands, whirled his skjvaard above his head, and fetched Amilias a swipe that seemed to miss everything except the empty air through which it softly whistled. Amilias smiled and said, "Groon," adding that it "seemed to him he felt a general sense of cold iron somewhere in the neighborhood, but he hadn't een hit."

"Shake yourself," said Mimir.

Amilias shook himself, and immediately fell into halves, the most neatly divided man that ever went beside himself.

"That's where the boiler-maker was away off in his diagnosis," said Mimir, as he went back to his shop to put up the price of cutlery sixty-five per cent on all lines, with an unlimited advance on special orders.

Thus do we learn that a good action is never thrown away, and that kind words and patient love will overcome the harshest nature.—Hawkeye.

A Safe Waiter Assured.

A crusty-looking old gentleman, accompanied by the regulation well-fed consort and a couple of well-favored daughters, entered the dining-room of the Del Monte, and as he tucked his napkin beneath his generous chin, turned round and fixed a fierce glance upon the waiter behind his chair: "Look here, my man," said the old party, sharply, "before I give my order I want to ask you a question. Are you an Italian count in disguise?" "Not any," replied the surprised coffee splasher. "Nor an English nobleman, the unaccountable delay of whose remittance has temporarily compelled?" etc. "Naw zur." "Nor a graduate of Harvard, and estranged from your father, a rich Boston banker, whose haughty pride is as unyielding as your own?" etc. "I am not." "All right; here's a dollar, and you can bring in the grub. Now that I know you are not the regular thing in waiters nowadays—that you are not going to run off with one of my daughters, or pick my pocket, I can eat in peace."—San Francisco Post.

No family that has any regard for domestic safety and comfort can afford to be without Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup in the house. Price 25 cents a bottle.

A son of Senator Voorhees will, it is said, appear upon the dramatic stage next year with a company organized by himself.

Mr. C. Fosdick, 52 Hartwell street, Fitchburg, Mass., writes that he used St. Jacobs Oil for rheumatism with a magical result. The men in the works, of which he is superintendent, say there is nothing in the world to equal it as a remedy for neuralgia, sprains, etc.

Mrs. Sarah Savage, a widow lady living alone in Saco, was found dead Dec. 15th, sitting in her chair, having from appearances been dead several days.

Miss Rebecca Bates, who in connection with her cousin Abby were the heroines of the "British scare" at Scituate (Mass.) harbor during the war of 1812, died at her residence on Willow street, Scituate, Dec. 13th, at the age of eighty-eight years. She died in the house where she was born, and has always resided.

When I was Sick!

My room looked like a drug store. I had so many bottles in it. The more I dosed the worse off I was. Finally I paid my doctor and told him he needn't come any more. I was troubled with chronic rheumatism, and couldn't get out of bed alone. Six bottles of Sulphur Bitters cured me.—Fireman, Boston.

Mrs. Mary Coughlin died in the hospital at Providence, R. I., Dec. 13th, having been fatally burned while drunk and attempting to fill a kerosene lamp.

"Pro Bono Publico."

It is a very remarkable fact, that while thousands of people refuse to read paid puffs of worthless nostrums, none skip over Dr. Swayne's little squib about his Ointment for itching piles that itch so much at night. The people well know that it is published for their benefit, in other words, is pro bono publico. May its far reaching effects be perpetuated to the end of time.

Rheumatism

Neuralgia, Sprains,

Pain in the Back and Side.

There is nothing more painful than these diseases; but the pain can be removed and the disease cured by use of Perry Davis' Pain Killer.

This remedy is not a cheap Benzine or Petroleum product that must be kept away from fire or heat to avoid danger of explosion, nor is it an untried experiment that may do more harm than good.

Pain Killer has been in constant use for forty years, and the universal testimony from all parts of the world is, it NEVER fails. It not only effects a permanent cure, but it relieves pain almost instantaneously. Being a purely vegetable remedy, it is safe in the hands of the most inexperienced.

The record of cures by the use of PAIN KILLER would fill volumes. The following extracts from letters received show what those who have tried it think:

Edgar Cady, Owatonna, Minn., says:
About a year since my wife became subject to severe suffering from rheumatism. Our recent visit to the PAIN KILLER, which speedily relieved her.

I had been afflicted three years with neuralgia and violent spasms of the stomach. The doctors at Westminster Hospital gave up my case in despair. I tried your PAIN KILLER, and it gave me immediate relief. I have received my strength, and am now able to follow my usual occupation.

G. H. Walworth, Saco, Me., writes:
I experienced immediate relief from pain in the side by the use of your PAIN KILLER.

E. York says:
I have used your PAIN KILLER for rheumatism, and have received great benefit.

Barton Seaman says:
Have used PAIN KILLER for thirty years, and have found it a sure, safe and speedy remedy for rheumatism and lameness.

Mr. Burditt writes:
It never fails to give me relief in cases of rheumatism.

Phil. Gilbert, Somerset, Pa., writes:
Every actual test I know your PAIN KILLER is the best medicine I can get.

All druggists keep PAIN KILLER. Its price is so low that it is within the reach of all, and it will save many times its cost in doctors' bills. 25c., 50c. and $1.00 a bottle.

Strictly Temperate, Except.

On the sleeper of an L., F. & W. train recently, a traveller noticed an old, white-bearded gentleman trying to get into a linen duster. The young traveller rushed to his assistance, and in helping him with the garment, noticed a good sized whisky-flask protruding from one of the inside packets of his coat. Being of a waggish nature, he appropriated the bottle, got the coat on the stranger, and then pulling out the flask, said:

"Will you take a drink?"

The old man did not recognize the bottle, and drawing himself up, remarked, rather severely:

"No, sir; I never drink."

"It won't hurt you," insisted the wag. "It's the best."

"Young man," said the old gentleman, intending for all the car to hear, "if you persist in drinking whisky you will be a ruined man at forty. It is the curse of the land. When I was a boy my mother died, and the last thing she did was to call me to her bedside and say: 'John, swear to me that you will never touch a drop of liquor. (here the old man clapped his hand on his side pocket, found it empty, and recognizing the bottle in the hands of another, he continued:) except, my dear boy, an occasional snifter while travelling.'"

And reaching for the flask, he pressed it to his lips, amid a howl of laughter which shook the whole car.—Fairplay (Col.) Flume.

"A neighbor of mine," said J. C. Horton, of the Toledo Blade, was severely afflicted with rheumatism for years. He used St. Jacobs Oil, which relieved him immediately, and permanently cured him.

There are twenty one prisoners in the Dover jail, of whom four are females.

"Facts are stubborn things," and it is a fact that Adamson's Botanic Balsam has performed more genuine and permanent cures than any other cough remedy on this or any other continent. Try it for 10 cents. Regular size, 35 and 75 cents.

David Fernald and his son-in-law, Frank Kerby, of Meredith, were drowned by breaking through the ice while fishing in Squam lake on Wednesday of last week.

A Word to Mothers.

Mothers should remember it is a most important duty at this season to look after the health of their families and cleanse the malaria and impurities from their systems, and that nothing will tone up the stomach and liver, regulate the bowels and purify the blood so perfectly as Parker's Ginger Tonic, advertised in our columns.—Post: see other columns.

Postmaster Varney of Dover has been re-appointed by President Arthur for another term.

Always Refreshing.

A delicious odor is imparted by Floreston Cologne, which is always refreshing, no matter how freely used.

Whittier, the Quaker poet, was seventy-four years old on Saturday.

BATTLE CREEK, Mich., Jan. 31, 1879.

Gentlemen—Having been afflicted for a number of years with indigestion and general debility, by the advice of my doctor I used Hop Bitters, and must say they afforded me almost instant relief. I am glad to be able to testify in their behalf. THOS. G. KNOX.

Thomas Davison, a farmer residing in the south part of Peterboro' was found dead in his house on the 14th inst. He was seventy-five years of age, unmarried and lived alone. He was at a neighbor's in the morning apparently in good health.

Judge Men By Their Works.

A man is judged in this life by his works, and in this connection it may not be inopportune to add, that Dr. Swayne has accomplished more good through the medium of his Ointment for skin diseases, than has the school of physicians combined. "It's an ill wind that blows nobody good." What the physicians have lost Dr. Swayne has gained.

The horse barn connected with the Connecticut Lake house in Pittsfield was burned Friday morning with all its contents, including four horses, harnesses, carriages, sleighs, etc. The barn was owned by the Connecticut River Lumber company, and the personal property by Smith Bros. Loss, $2,500; no insurance.

Rescued from Death.

William J. Coughlin, of Somerville, Mass., says: "In the fall of 1876 I was taken with a violent bleeding of the lungs followed by a severe cough. I soon began to lose my appetite and flesh. I was so weak at one time that I could not leave my bed. In the summer of 1877 I was admitted to the city hospital. While there the doctors said I had a hole in my left lung as big as a half a dollar. I was so far gone at one time a report went around that I was dead. I gave up hope, but a friend told me of Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs. I laughed at my friends, thinking that my case was incurable, but I got a bottle to satisfy them, when to my surprise and gratification, I commenced to feel better. My hope, once dead, began to revive, and to-day I feel in better spirits than I have the past three years.

I write this hoping you will publish it, so that every one afflicted with diseased lungs, will be induced to take Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs, and be convinced that consumption can be cured. I have taken two bottles and can positively say that it has done more good than all the other medicines I have taken since my sickness." Sold by all druggists.

The bodies of David Fernald and Frank Kerby of Meredith, drowned while fishing through the ice, were found in Squam lake, Friday. Fernald was forty-five years of age, and Kerby twenty two years; both leave families.

The restoration to health of our child we considered very uncertain. When two weeks old she caught a cold; until eighteen months old she was not able to breathe through her nostrils, became emaciated, was a puny child. Upon using Ely's Cream Balm her difficulty is removed; she breathes freely and naturally. The neighbors consider it a wonderful restoration. MR. & MRS. J. M. SMITH, Owego, N. Y.

I have used Ely's Cream Balm and received great benefit, at present being entirely free from catarrh. Many of my friends have also been much benefitted by the Balm. What is claimed for this remedy I am fully convinced is true. CHAS. GREENE, Conductor N. Y., L. E. & W. R. R., Port Jervis, N. Y.

STARTLING DISCOVERY!

LOST MANHOOD RESTORED.

A victim of youthful imprudence causing Premature Decay, Nervous Debility, Lost Manhood, etc., having tried in vain every known remedy, has discovered a simple self-cure, which he will send FREE to his fellow-sufferers. address J. H. REEVES, 43 Chatham St., N. Y.

Portsmouth Chronicle.

MONDAY, DEC. 19, 1881.

The Massachusetts Ninth.

The case of the reported ill-behavior of members of the Massachusetts ninth regiment at Richmond, Va., when the regiment was on the way to Yorktown to attend the centennial celebration, is finally closed. Col. Strachan transmitted his report to Gov. Long on Friday, naming some twenty members of the regiment who were guilty of minor offences; and the commander-in-chief, after careful consideration, has ordered the men to be discharged, and has also ordered the entire regiment to "stay in the house" for about six months, a measure which prevents the organization from making any complimentary parades during that period. Col. Strachan has not succeeded in finding anybody who committed any serious offence against the peace of the good people of Richmond, and Gov. Long has indicated in his order that in his opinion there are other offenders yet unknown.

The St. Albans War.

The local excitement regarding the hotel closing movement in St. Albans, Vt., is increasing. The St. Albans and Central houses closed Friday, and the American house closed Saturday. The stables also have all been closed. This best classes of citizens regret such action of the hotel and livery men. The prohibitionist people are arranging for the accommodation of strangers. There is talk of removing the butter market elsewhere.

News and Notes.

Benjamin Harris Brewster, of Philadelphia, was on Friday nominated by President Arthur to be attorney general of the United States, vice Wayne MacVeagh, resigned.

John Gillespie, the New York burglar who was captured by Rev. Dr. Gage of Hartford, Conn., and who was sent to state prison for ten years for breaking into Dr. Gage's house, has received an additional sentence of five years for another burglary.

The opera house at Columbus, Ohio, was partially burned Dec. 16th, the fire catching after midnight, after the performance was over. Loss $20,000; insured.

Little Corinne, the child actress, was on Friday restored to the custody of her foster-mother, Jennie Kimball, by Judge Donahoe of New York. The judge decided that even if Mr. Flaherty and Jennie Kimball are living together in defiance of the laws of Massachusetts, as alleged by the prosecution, it was something with which the New York court had nothing to do.

At Shelbyville, Tenn., great excitement prevails over the imprisonment, by order of Judge Cantrell, of C. R. Wallace, a telegraph operator, for refusing to divulge before the grand jury the names of parties dealing in futures by telegraphic orders. Efforts will be made to obtain a writ of habeas corpus from the federal courts for his release.

A convention of chiefs of police of the United States met at Chicago on Thursday of last week, William J. McGaragle of Chicago in the chair, who stated that the object of the convention was to organize a system of interchanging telegraphic information regarding criminals and fugitives from justice, and to increase the activity and efficiency of the police forces of the various cities. Mayor Harrison was elected president of the convention; T. B. Kennett of St. Louis, vice president; Austin Boyle of Chicago secretary. Every large city in the country was represented.

A boat containing fourteen persons left Galway, Ireland, last Thursday evening, for the Arran islands. Midway of the passage a storm was encountered, in which the boat was sunk and all hands perished.

Nearly all the stock of the American Quick Transit company, organized to run ocean steamships built on the new principle of domed decks, has already been taken up. The plan is regarded as thoroughly practical in every respect.

E. D. Hopkins, who has become famous in northern Vermont for three forgery trials and two convictions in transactions as agent for the Fire Association of Philadelphia, has been on trial at the present term of the county court, at St. Johnsbury, Vt., for larceny of funds belonging to the Fire Association. Thursday night the jury brought in a verdict of guilty.

Mrs. Richard Strickles, aged thirty-five years, of Oyster Bay, L. I., eloped from her husband and two children last week with one Newcomb, of Boston, who had been employed on Strickles's farm for about three months as a hired man.

Mrs. Anna Jameson, an old lady living near Lake Butler, Florida, was shot and killed Wednesday evening, Dec. 14th. Her house was set on fire, and as she stepped out of the door she was shot, twenty-one buckshot entering her body. Before dying she charged her son-in-law, Vernon Sapp, a "crank," with the crime. Sapp fled.

The clerical journals in Paris publish the following intelligence from Rome: "The question of the pope's departure from Rome is seriously mooted. It is said that his holiness has consulted the bishops who came to Rome to attend the canonization ceremony, with reference to his quitting the city."

In an Erie, Penn., school, one day recently, a little boy, being locked in an unused room as punishment for some slight fault, was attacked by sewer rats, overpowered and nearly killed before assistance summoned by his cries arrived. The terror and pain have made him a maniac, and it is feared that he will never recover.

The Grand Menan herring fleet from Gloucester, Mass., now numbers about forty sail, but the weather has been unfavorable for freezing fish, and the receipts will not be large before January. Half a dozen first-class vessels have already sailed from Gloucester on Newfoundland herring voyages, and this fleet will be larger this season than for any year since the Fortune bay difficulties in January, 1878.

The 47th Congress.

In the senate, on Friday, Senator Rollins was excused from service on the select committee on the several branches of the civil service. Senator Saunders of Nebraska was substituted.

In the house, Mr. Robeson of New Jersey introduced a bill to reduce letter postage to one cent after July next. Up to the close of the session on Friday 867 bills had been introduced under the call of states, thirteen states having been called.

The joint committee to arrange for the memorial services in honor of the late President invited Mr. Blaine to deliver the eulogy before both branches of Congress,—a most suitable selection.

The Cape Ann Advertiser of the 16th inst. says: "The net codfishing fleet in Ipswich bay numbers twenty-five vessels, which dispose of their catch in Portsmouth, Newburyport and Rockport, no market-fish of consequence being landed here. The total catch of this fleet last week was about 250,000 lbs. The fleet will average about twenty nets of fifty fathoms to a vessel, giving 500 nets, and a wall of 25,000 fathoms netting in a field about fifteen miles long and three miles wide. Some 12,500 glass balls are required to float the nets."

The Ladies' Benevolent Circle of the Free Baptist church at Kittery Point held a fair on Thursday and Friday evenings of last week, in aid of the church. These ladies make up goodly numbers of quilts, knitted goods, aprons, underclothes, and other useful articles, and many of the ornamental knick-knacks known as "ladies' work," and when they get on hand what they consider the proper quantity, they have a fair and sale for the benefit of the church: our informant says "they do more for the church than all the men, all put together." The fair last week was as successful as any of its predecessors, netting a snug sum: a nice supper was served each evening, and the customary attractions of church fairs were provided by the managers, and generously patronized by the large number of persons in attendance.

Mr. William Riley, of Kittery Point, last spring noticed among the beans raised by him the year before, and saved for seed, a bean of peculiar appearance. This bean he planted apart from any other, and the plant which grew from it was tended with special care; and the crop from it, when gathered in the fall, numbered 386 beans, all having the same general appearance as the seed. Mr. Riley will plant the whole lot next spring, and thinks he will develope a new variety of bean, of especial value.

THE

of New York,

F. S. WINSTON, President.

The Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York is THE OLDEST Company, with thirty-seven years of experience.

It is purely Mutual—without Capital or Stockholders to share in profits, and no bonuses allowed to Officers, Trustees, or Employees.

It confines its business to regular Life and Endowment Policies, and the granting of Annuities. No new or experimental plans.

Its premium rates are lower than any other regular Life Insurance Company, and Policy-holders participate in current earnings annually.

No Policy-holder need forfeit his Policy, provided three full annual premiums have been paid, and application is immediately made for a paid-up Policy, when necessity arises to do so.

Assets have more than doubled during the past ten years, notwithstanding the six years of financial panic.

Its Interest and Rent Receipts alone have exceeded its Death Claims TEN MILLIONS of Dollars ($10,000,000.)

It has issued over 220,000 Policies; insured over $700,000,000; received over $276,000,000 in premiums; and returned to Policy-holders over $162,000,000.

It can and does afford the cheapest, safest, and most satisfactory insurance investment of any Company in the world.

Is not this well styled a marvel in Finance? No more beneficent institution exists upon the face of the earth than this greatest of financial organizations, combining the greatest possible good for the greatest number with an expertness in financiering that is paralleled only by the sturdy integrity of its managers and the proud pre-eminence of its commercial, patriotic, and scientific record.

REAPPOINTMENT.

Among the list of nominations sent by the President to the senate for confirmation last week, was that of Alfred F. Howard, Esq., who was re-appointed collector of customs at this port. We are not aware that there appeared any other candidate for this office. Mr. Howard has discharged the duties of collector quite acceptably, is familiar with the existing laws and regulations concerning customs, and has the confidence of the community in this position. The emoluments of the office are not sufficiently large to induce a man to expend the time necessary to become posted in regard to the collection of duties, and the other details of an office requiring of the incumbent as much labor and time in correspondence, etc., as one with far greater remuneration, and all things considered, the treasury department may be regarded as fortunate in having Collector Howard accept a re-appointment.

THE RAILROAD TO YORK BEACH.

Six or eight years since, three routes were surveyed from the Kittery depot, through York, for a railroad,—one diverging from the line of the Portland, Saco & Portsmouth railroad to the northeast, just north of Butler's crossing, crossing Spruce creek below the mill-bridge, following a natural roadbed to York river, crossing the river above Rice's bridge, thence deflecting gradually to the east, running a mile or so to the west of the village, and crossing the highway leading from York Corner to Cape Neddick near the dwelling house of Alexander Thompson. This was considered then, and is now regarded, as a practicable route.

Another, commencing at Kittery depot, ran east through Rice's hollow to the Foreside, thence crossing Spruce creek at a much greater expense than the first-named route, following a course near the Bartlett road, crossing York river between Goodwin's mills and Sewall's bridge, and running near or through the centre of York village.

The third, recently passed over by Eastern railroad officials, crosses York river near the harbor, and developed obstacles almost insurmountable to the practiced eyes of these gentlemen; and we fear the project will fail, if the company is urged to build on this route or none. The cost of the latter line would be very great.

It is to be hoped that the interests of York will be seasonably developed by a railway, but it should be built at a reasonable cost; of course going around by the seashore would bring summer business, but a direct line to Saco, east of the Boston & Maine road, would furnish business at all seasons, and add to the value of property on the seashore all along the route.

THE NEWCASTLE BREAKWATER.

We learn that the citizens of Newcastle, without dissent, are signing petitions to General Thom asking that the unsightly and unfinished breakwater near the third bridge in that town be completed in accordance with the plans and specifications of the engineer's original design. About $8000 have thus far been expended on this work, and good judges estimate that it will not require more than $3000 additional to finish the job. When completed as designed, the breakwater will show a width on top of twelve feet, and a height of two and a half feet above mean high water, instead of the present low, narrow and rickety capstones, here and there sticking above high water mark, and now fast tumbling down the sides of the incline.

It is not to be disputed that the people of Newcastle have a personal object in urging the completion of this long-neglected work. When the promoters of the breakwater project began to urge its necessity, they were met by the arguments of Newcastle people, as well as some of the members of the bridge corporation, that while the great help to the navigation of the harbor and the lessening of the eddies at Goat Island point that would result from the building of the breakwater were indisputable, the fact remained that the damming up of the swift-flowing tide at this point would form a pool of still water on the bridge side of the breakwater, which would certainly freeze in winter; the piles of the bridge would be lifted from the rocky bottom, and the bridge (the longest of the three, and always the worst to keep in repair) be rendered unsafe for travel. This view so impressed itself upon the mind of the president of the Portsmouth Board of Trade, Col. Wm. H. Sise, that at his suggestion Gen Thom moved the lower end of the breakwater-line fifty feet nearer the bridge, so that if that structure should become unfit for travel, a road-bed might be built on the breakwater.

It was found upon examination of the bridge in question, early last spring, that twenty piles had been lifted from their places by the action of the ice, and were only held in position by cross pieces or stringers; the job to repair was difficult and expensive, as it was impossible to get a pile-driver between the bridge and the breakwater. Realizing that this expense must occur every year, and that the bridge must shortly be entirely rebuilt, Major Urch comes forward and offers, in the event that the government will complete the breakwater as originally intended, to build a handsome and smooth road-bed eighteen feet wide on the top, guarded for the entire length on both sides with an ornamental iron railing—this to be done at his own expense; the major estimates that to widen the breakwater and build the road-bed would cost $5000, and as this sum would mainly be expended for labor, it would furnish employment for a large force of men for some weeks.

Every one interested in the pleasant drives about Portsmouth, especially the delightful one over the harbor road to Newcastle, will heartily wish for the success of the project of our Newcastle friends.

P. S. We are gratified to learn, since writing the above, that the Board of Trade is moving in the matter referred to.

COLLISION.

On Friday night, on the Jeffreys, the schooner Paul Revere ran into the Mary S. Hontvet, striking her midway of her main rigging, tearing the chain-plates out and staving in about twelve feet of her railing, breaking several of her stanchions and probably one or two timbers, and some of her planking just above the water line. In the collision two of the crew of the Hontvet jumped aboard the Paul Revere, and after the separation a boat went from the Honvet for them and to ascertain the vessel's name, which was only ootained by rowing under the counter, there being no response to this question from the crew of the other vessel. The Hontvet came up to the wharf on Sunday, morning and will be towed around to Gloucester to-day for the necessary repairs, probably by a tow-boat from that place.

Thomas Salmon, a coal-heaver employed in discharging the steamer Allentown, which arrived at Concord railroad wharf on Saturday morning with 1661 tons of coal to J. Albert Walker, on Saturday afternoon walked overboard from the stage, carrying his shovel with him. The shovel was lost, but Thomas was saved.

Commodore Charles W. Pickering, U. S. N., and family, have gone south for the winter.

Andrew J. Hall, one of the democratic aldermen-elect of Boston, is a native of Strafford in this state, and about thirty years ago resided in this city, where he learned the baker's trade, and followed it for several years

The schooner Albert Woodbury, Downs master, arrived at this port on Saturday from Boston, having sold at that place 12,000 pounds of cod.

It is an old adage that "doctors don't take their own medicine," but our resident chiropodist recently returned from a trip to Boston, whither he went to obtain relief from his own corns, and is now fully prepared, as before, to relieve others who are similarly afflicted. See advertisement.

A slanderous correspondent of the Exeter News-Letter, writing from Greenland, says: "A sagacious book canvasser for the 'Life of Garfield' recently visited one hundred families in this vicinity, and secured a corresponding number of subscribers, simply by declaring that he saw a striking resemblance between the lady of the house and Mrs. Garfield."

A business man of this city whose occupation has taken him over the roads of Rockingham and York counties for a dozen years past, informed us on Saturday evening that he that day drove about ten miles through Eliot and York, and found the roads more "hubbly" than he ever experienced before.

BRIGHTON CATTLE MARKET.

For week ending Wednesday, Dec. 14.

[Reported for the Boston Journal.]

Amount of stock at market—Cattle 1622; Sheep and Lambs 1600; Swine 15,050; Veals 65; number of western cattle 1242; eastern cattle 380; milch cows and northern cattle 10.

Prices of Beef Cattle per 100 lbs, live weight—Extra quality $6 62 1-2 to $7 50; first quality $6 00 to $6 37 1-2; second quality $5 37 1-2 to $5 75; third quality $4 37 1-2 to $5 12 1-2; poorest grades of coarse oxen, bulls, etc., $3 12 1-2 to $4 25.

Brighton Hides 8c per lb.
Brighton Tallow 8c per lb.
Country Hides 7 1-2c per lb.
Country Tallow 5c per lb.
Calf Skins 12 1-2c per lb.
Sheepand Lamb Skins 75c to $1 25 each.

The western cost nearly 1-4c per lb more at the west last week than they did the previous one. There were some very extra beeves from that section, for which 8c per lb live weight was asked for them. The beef trade at Boston has been very dull the past week, and the large supply of western dressed beef which has been brought in has affected the butchers' trade seriously. Trade opened very dull, and the attendance of buyers at market was very light. Sales for most of the cattle ranged at 5 to 6 1-2c per lb live weight.

Working Oxen—We quote sales of 1 pr, girth 7 ft live weight 2900 lbs at $115; 1 pr, girth 7 ft 2 in, live weight 3100 lbs at $140; 1 pr, girth 6 ft 5 in, live weight 2800 lbs at $125; 1 pr, girth 7 ft 10 in, live weight 2800 lbs at $112; 1 pr, girth 6 ft 9 in, live weight 2700 lbs, $116.

Milch Cows and Springers—One milch cow at $30; 1 new milch cow $45; 1 do $40; 4 Jersey cows $30 each; 3 new milch cows at $60 each; 2 do $55; 7 do $35 to $45 each; 3 springers at $50 each; 1 do $35; 1 do $28.

Store Cattle—But few in market. Most of the small cattle and cows that were in a fair condition were bought up for slaughter.

Sheep and Lambs—Those from the west were mostly owned by G W Hollis, and taken direct to the Abattoir to be slaughtered. Eastern sheep were all taken to slaughter at a commission.

Swine—Prices for fat hogs remain unchanged at 6 1-2 to 7c per lb live weight. Store pig trade is light at prices ranging from 7 to 10c per lb live weight.

N. B.—The author may be consulted on all diseases requiring skill and experience.

The "North American Review." The widely read periodical, the North American Review, now in its sixty-seventh year, gives in the January number "The Moral Responsibility of the Insane," a series of papers by five eminent physicians, which will be read at this time with no small degree of interest; "The New Political Machine," which treats of civil service, by Wm. Martin Dickson; "Shall Women Practice Medicine?" by Dr. Mary Putnam Jacobi,—the rights of the fair sex to occupy this field being, of course, sturdily maintained. There then is a timely paper upon the Geneva Award and the Insurance Companies, of especial interest to our former ship-owners in war times, by G. B. Coale; and a fresh chapter of Confederate History, by F. G. Ruffin. The North American is published at No. 30 Lafayette place, New York; yearly subscription price, five dollars; single number, fifty cents. It has for its contributors many of the ablest writers of the country, and its articles are of such character that each number is well worth the price of a yearly subscription.

The "Atlantic Monthly" for the first month of '82 has appeared, containing "Police Reports," by Mr. Howells, who has written very many better things than this; An Echo of Passion, by George P. Lathrop; The Guerdon, by J. J. P.; A Sunday at Poros, by Eunice W. Tilton; "And Joe," "Three Worlds," a poetic contribution by Mr. Trowbridge. Edw. E. Hale writes of John the Baptist at the Jordan; H. H. gives A Midsummer Fete in the Pueblo of San Juan. The reviews of books are extended, and there is a pleasing paper entitled Reminiscences of James T. Fields, with other matter characteristic of this excellent periodical. For the coming year we are promised by the publishers stories by Thomas Hardy, the English novelist, Miss Phelps, W. H. Bishop and G. R. Lathrop; with essays and sketches, poetry and criticism, and the discussion of timely topics of importance; indeed, we are assured of the continuing high standard of the magazine by the publishers, whose promises in this respect have never failed. Terms, $4 00 per year. Remittances may be made by money order, draft, or registered letter, to Houghton, Mifflin & Co., Boston. Persons in this city and vicinity can obtain the "Atlantic" at either of the bookstores. Club rates with the Quart rly and Edinburgh reviews can be had of the publishers, or through their agents. This is the best time of the year to subscribe for the Atlantic, which is a welcomed monthly visitor to so many homes not only in New England but all over the country.

H. B. Plaisted, proprietor of the Plaisted house at Jefferson, died suddenly of heart disease Dec. 16th, at the age of seventy-three years.

A druggist says that he has heard the very highest praise given to Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup in very many instances—some of croup. Price 25 cents.

Levi Richardson's store in Franklin was broken into on the night of Dec., 15th, the safe blown open and robbed of $250, and the store set on fire. The fire was easily put out.

"Rough on Rats."

The thing desired found at last. Ask druggist for Rough on Rats. It clears out rats, mice, roaches, flies, bedbugs; 15 cts. boxes.

Skinny Men.

Montraville Ackert, of Brimfield, Mass., has been convicted of burning his house to get the insurance thereon.

A Woman's Experience.

Mothers and daughters should feel alarmed when weariness constantly oppresses them. "If I am fretful from exhaustion of vital powers and the color is fading from my face, Parker's Ginger Tonic, gives quick relief. It builds me up and drives away pain with wonderful certainty."—Buffalo Lady.

The First Methodist church in Newport, R. I., was considerably damaged last week by an incendiary fire which was started in a pew.

Elegance and Purity.

Ladies who appreciate elegance and purity are using Parker's Hair Balsam. It is the best article sold for restoring gray hair to its original color, beauty and lustre.

Mrs. Henry McVay, of Williamantic, Conn., was bitten by a dog two weeks ago, and is dying of hydrophobia.

Mothers Don't Know

How many children are punished for being unwouth, wilful, and indifferent to instructions or rewards, simply because they are out of health! An intelligent lady said of a child of this kind: "Mothers should know that if they would give the little ones moderate doses of Hop Bitters for two or three weeks, their children would be all a parent could desire."

McMillen, the assassin of Father McCarty at Greenfield, Mass., has been held for trial without bail.

"Pro Bono Publico."

It is a very remarkable fact, that while thousands of people refuse to read paid puffs of worthless nostrums, none skip over Dr. Swayne's little squib about his Ointment for itching piles that itch so much at night. The people well know that it is published for their benefit, in other words, is pro bono publico. May its far reaching effects be perpetuated to the end of time.

Rheumatism

Neuralgia, Sprains,
Pain in the Back and Side.

There is nothing more painful than these diseases; but the pain can be removed and the disease cured by use of Perry Davis' Pain Killer.

This remedy is not a cheap Benzine or Petroleum product that must be kept away from fire or heat to avoid danger of explosion, nor is it an untried experiment that may do more harm than good.

Pain Killer has been in constant use for forty years, and the universal testimony from all parts of the world is, It never fails. It not only effects a permanent cure, but it relieves pain almost instantaneously. Being a purely vegetable remedy, it is safe in the hands of the most inexperienced.

The record of cures by the use of PAIN KILLER would fill volumes. The following extracts from letters received show what those who have tried it think:

Edgar Cady, Owatonna, Minn., says:
About a year since my wife became a subject to severe suffering from rheumatism. Our recent was to the PAIN KILLER, which speedily relieved her.

I had been afflicted three years with neuralgia and violent spasms of the stomach. The doctors at Westminster Hospital gave up my case in despair. I tried your PAIN KILLER, and it gave me immediate relief. I have regained my strength, and am now able to follow my usual occupation.

G. H. Walworth, Saco, Me., writes:
I experienced immediate relief from pain in the side by the use of your PAIN KILLER.

E. York says:
I have used your PAIN KILLER for rheumatism, and have received great benefit.

Barton Seaman says:
Have used PAIN KILLER for thirty years, and have found it a never-failing remedy for rheumatism and lameness.

Mr. Burditt writes:
Never fails to give relief in cases of rheumatism.

Phil. Gilbert, Somerset, Pa., writes:
From actual use, I know your PAIN KILLER is the best medicine I can get.

All druggists keep PAIN KILLER. Its price is so low that it is within the reach of all, and it will save many times its cost in doctors' bills. 25c., 50c. and $1.00 a bottle.

The Six-Days Line to Europe.

The Nautical Gazette, on the strength of statements made by Mr. Joseph Lorillard, the projector of the fast line of steamer from New York to Europe, says the enterprise is already an assured success. All the capital necessary has been subscribed, and applications for large interests in the company's stock are being daily refused. Of the stock which has been taken, Mr. Lorillard says that Mr. Austin Corbin, of the Long Island railroad, has secured a big block. The president of a prominent life insurance company has subscribed $1,500,000 for himself and friends, and another gentleman, well known in Wall street, has taken $500,000. These three subscriptions, with the holding Mr. Lorillard proposes to keep for himself, will cover the entire capital stock. Mr. Lorillard is enthusiastic over the outlook for his enterprise. He declares himself much pleased at the entrance of Mr. Corbin into the project. One suggestion made by Mr. Corbin has been acted upon, whereby the ships will not come into New York harbor, as originally intended, but, instead, will land above Montauk point, on Long Island. The place of landing, it is claimed, is a natural harbor, even as it now is. This harbor is inside of Fort Pond bay, on the sound side of Long Island, ten miles west of Montauk point. The bay averages a mile in width, and Mr. Lorillard says that soundings show that its waters are nowhere less than ten fathoms deep.

News and Notes.

The Guiteau trial was adjourned from Monday morning to Wednesday by Judge Cox, on account of the death of Mrs. Hobbs, wife of one of the jurymen. Mr. Hobbs was accompanied by a bailiff when he went on Saturday to see his dying wife, but the court, with the consent of Guiteau, Mr. Scoville and Dist. Atty. Corkhill, consented to his going unattended to bury his dead.

John W. Lynch, eight years old, was drowned in North Andover, Mass., while skating, on Saturday.

A boy named Tyler, six years old, was drowned in Worcester, Mass., Saturday, while skating.

In Poland, Me., Dec. 17th, a boy named Herricks, nine years old, and one named Auells, thirteen years old, were drowned by the breaking of the ice.

A young man and woman, each about eighteen years of age, were drowned on Sunday near Fond du Lac, Wisconsin, while skating.

Mrs. Michael Finnegan, sixty-two years old, was found drowned in the canal at Woburn, Mass., Dec. 18th. She leaves a husband and ten children.

Dr. Isaac I. Hayes, the well known arctic explorer who accompanied Dr. Kane on his trip toward the north pole, and subsequently organized two similar expeditions of his own, died very suddenly on the night of the 17th inst. in New York, at the house of his friend Major Fossett. He was forty-nine years old.

In the United States district court at Omaha, Neb., Thursday, Judge Dundy declined to sit in a case on account of his life being threatened by August Arndt, who had a case against the Union Pacific railroad. Arndt denied that he had threatened the judge, and the case was heard. Arndt is suspected of being the murderer of Col. W. B. Smith, clerk of the United States court, and as the grand jury is investigating the case, Arndt was arrested Thursday night, on a charge of threatening Judge Dundy, in order that he should not escape.

The Boston Globe, a paper that cannot be accused of an ardent admiration for James G. Blaine, in an article on foreign affairs says: "Mr. Blaine has shown conspicuous ability in dealing with international questions. His dispatches have given evidence of ability and vigor that have rarely been observed in state papers emanating from Washington."

Col. Nicholas Smith, the husband of Ida Greeley, Horace Greeley's daughter, is seeking a government appointment abroad. He is a democrat, but a very handsome man.

Senator David Davis denies that he is to marry a sister of his deceased wife, though one of her sisters is a widow.

The supreme court of Nova Scotia has decided a betting case in favor of the plaintiff, and the press of the province is "going for" that supreme court.

The wife of Benjamin H. Brewster, the new attorney general of the United States, is an accomplished lady, a daughter of the late Robert J. Walker, who was secretary of the treasury under President Polk.

Mr. Winfield W. Smith, of Goodwin's Mills, Lyman, who is now teaching his fourth term of school in district eight of Eliot, is giving to his pupils, besides their regular schooling, two evenings each week for the study of book-keeping, free. On the evening of the 16th inst. he commenced an old-fashioned spelling-school; and after the scholars had finished, the parents (who were visiting the school in large numbers) were asked to take sides for a similar contest, and did so, entering heartily into the spirit of the occasion, and "spelling each other down" with quite as much zeal as was displayed by the youngsters.

The friends of Mr. Oliver Athorn and wife, of Eliot, to the number of about sixty, surprised them with a visit on the evening of the 12th inst. A collation carried by the visitors was partaken of; and a lounge, nice mat, silver cake-basket, and a number of smaller presents, were left with the surprised couple when the party broke up.

George Christenson, of Kennebunkport, has contracted to build a fishing schooner of 120 tons for A. M. Smith of Portland, to be launched next March.

The schooner Ev. Nichols, Charles Mills master, last week laid down in Kittery Point cove a heavy mooring, to hang to when in port during the winter while engaged in winter fishing. The Ev. Nichols has been very successful during the summer and fall, her skipper displaying commendable energy and good judgment.

Francis Chase, for many years superintendent of the Portland, Saco & Portsmouth railroad, is the chief engineer of the Mystic Valley road, now building in Connecticut.

The Times of Monday evening says: "The tug Naumkeag took her last tow to sea this morning. She is to be hauled up at Stover's wharf, in Kittery, for the winter. She is to be repaired and improved during the winter, and will be on the river again early in the spring."

Capt. "Rashe" Trefethen, of the steamer Mystic, on Saturday night for the first time used the new landing-stage at Bartlett's wharf, Kittery. A wide brow loads from the float to the wharf; and a big lantern enables the boat to make her berth, and passengers to get on and off, without risk.

The hall in the new building erected by Brooks Bros. at South Eliot, will be formally opened on Thursday evening, Dec. 22d, with a dance and picnic supper.

Capt. Eaton, late master of the schooner Active of this port, now laid up for the winter, has taken command of the schooner Clara E. Simpson. Capt. Talpey, who has commanded the latter schooner ever since she was built—and a most energetic and successful skipper he has proved to be—will spend a brief vacation at home with his family.

The Secretary's Official Visit.

"And is this a ship?" asked the secretary of the marine at the navy yard. "I have heard of ships from my youth up, and have long desired to see one. Which end goes first? Why not have one stick instead of three sticking out of the decks? Why is not that stick upright like the rest?" asked the secretary of the commandant, pointing to the bowsprit.

"That is the bowsprit," said the commandant. "Bowsprits never stick up. They are meek and lowly in all their ways."

"What are these holes for?" asked the secretary, pointing to the open hatchways. "Why have you made such deep excavations?"

"The ship is built around these holes," said the commandant, "but they extend no farther than the water. If they did the ship would sink."

"Were you ever in a storm at sea?" asked the secretary.

"Only once," replied the commandant. "It was a typhoon in longitude eighty-one, off the equator. We were blown clean out of the water twice, and spun for miles through the air like a balloon. I shall never forget the terrible appearance of the sea as we looked down upon it from the clouds. We got down safely to water at last, and tied the ship to a water spout. It was a terrible time."

"Deary, deary me," said the secretary; "how interesting. And you lived through it all. Tell us some more. But let me enquire first, is the captain of a vessel equal in rank to the capstan?"

"In ordinary times," said the commandant, "the captain outranks the capstan. But the capstan always take command of the ship when the anchor is weighed."

"Indeed," replied the secretary. "But where is your fourth castle? I do not behold any castle on board at all."

"Fourth castle! Fourth castle! What do you mean, Mr. Secretary?" asked the amazed commandant.

"Why, in all sea tales I've read of the fourth castle," said the secretary.

"Oh, you mean the 'fokestle,'" said the commandant.

"The what?" said the mystified secretary.

"Fokestle, fokestle,'—place where the crew live. Down there," said the commandant.

"Why, it's a hole," said the secretary. "Captain, I do not approve of your keeping your men in such dark, damp cellars. They'll catch the rheumatiz. And do the sailors really climb up there," asked the secretary, pointing aloft—"up those little rope ladders? How perilous."

"They do," replied the commandant.

"I must improve on that," said the secretary. "I will introduce a great reform in the service. I will save the life of many a gallant tar. Let all the masts be provided with hydraulic elevators."

"It shall be done," said the commandant.

"Call the officer of the watch," suddenly demanded the secretary; then remarking in an aside: "I'll show him that I know something about ships."

The officer appeared.

"Officer," said the secretary, "show us your watches. I want to see if they're all in good order."

"Sir, the watches were all sent on shore this morning to be cleaned," replied the officer of the watch.

"That's pretty work," growled the secretary. "Why, where's the ship's jeweler? How do you suppose you would have the correct time if you were to keep an engagement with an enemy?"

"We should take the sun previously," replied the officer of the watch.

"I do not wish you to take the Sun," thundered the secretary. "I will not allow the Sun to be taken on this or any other United States vessel. You do not need the Sun. It is a villainous, vicious paper,—bright, and edited with a certain amount of Satanic ability, I admit, but demoralizing to the correct discipline of the navy. If you desire to take anything, take the Philadelphia Ledger. Take a good heavy paper that will serve to ballast both the ship and your minds. Well, sir, if you have no watches on board, show us your clocks. You are officer of the clocks as well as the watches, are you not?"

"Ay, ay, sir!" said the officer of the watch.

"I! I! What in the world makes you so egotistical in expressing yourself? Why don't you say 'yes sir,' like a man?" said the secretary.

"Yes, sir. But I am sorry to say that it was necessary to reef the pendulums of all our clocks during the last gale, and they've not been shaken out."

"And what's all that banging for?" said the secretary. "Is it a naval engagement?"

"We are firing the customary salute of nineteen guns in your honor," said the commandant.

"Oh, you are, are you.. Are there bullets in any of 'em? Are they pointed this way? I don't like it. It makes me nervous. I shall have that practice stopped. Commandant, after this fire anvils or toy pistols, and save powder. Dear me, if Chester would only let me stay in, how cheap I could run our navy. I would abolish the ships altogether. We've got hardly any now, and so far as those are concerned that we have, we might as well have none at all. Good morning, commandant."—N. Y. Graphic.

THE

Mutual Life Insurance Co.

of New York,

F. S. WINSTON, President.

The Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York is THE OLDEST Company, with thirty-seven years of experience.

It is purely Mutual—without Capital or Stockholders to share in profits, and no bonuses allowed to Officers, Trustees, or Employees.

It confines its business to regular Life and Endowment Policies, and the granting of Annuities. No new or experimental plans.

Its premium rates are lower than any other regular Life Insurance Company, and Policy-holders participate in current earnings annually.

No Policy-holder need forfeit his Policy, provided three full annual premiums have been paid, and application is immediately made for a paid-up Policy, when necessity arises to do so.

Assets have more than doubled during the past ten years, notwithstanding the six years of financial panic.

Its Interest and Rent Receipts alone have exceeded its Death Claims TEN MILLIONS of Dollars ($10,000,000.)

It has issued over 220,000 Policies; insured over $700,000,000; received over $276,000,000 in premiums; and returned to Policy-holders over $162,000,000.

It can and does afford the cheapest, safest, and most satisfactory insurance investment of any Company in the world.

Is not this well styled a marvel in Finance? No more beneficent institution exists upon the face of the earth than this greatest of financial organizations, combining the greatest possible good for the greatest number with an expertness in financiering that is paralleled only by the sturdy integrity of its managers and the proud pre-eminence of its commercial, patriotic, and scientific record.

THE PRESIDENCY OF THE H. M. M. B. A.

Many of our readers have heard of the "Hotel Men's Mutual Benefit Association" organized at Chicago a few years since, for the purpose of bringing about a better acquaintance of persons engaged in the hotel business, and upon the death of a member to provide for the payment to the heirs of twice as many dollars as the association has members. The annual meeting of the association occurs next month at Cincinnati. The association being formed for mutual benefit, no salary is paid to any officer.

It is hoped that the meeting of the association in 1883 will be held in Boston; the meeting last year was held in New York, which city now has the honor of the presidency. In case Boston is selected as the place for the association's gathering in 1883, it is quite desirable that the president to be chosen in January next should be a New England man; and for this position there seems to be, in the east, but one voice, and that is for Capt. Frank W. Hilton of the "Rockingham" in this city. Capt. Hilton was among the early members of the association, and is an efficient worker in its interests. He is the choice of very many members, not simply because he is a successful manager of two hotels, and a business man of acknowledged ability, but because he possesses certain executive traits which would make his selection an excellent one for the association.

At the meeting of the association in New York last winter he made a strong impression upon his fellow members. As the Chicago Hotel Reporter remarks, "He has energy, enterprise, good executive ability, and a large acquaintance 'round about the Hub." With no wish save to see the association (composed as it is of over eight hundred managers of the best hotels in the United States, many of the members being men of marked ability, as their career in business has demonstrated) served by an executive who can properly and ably represent the ideas upon which the institution was founded, and with all respect for the claims of other worthy men whose names have been mentioned, we can but believe that the interests of the association can in no way be better promoted than by the election of Capt. Hilton to the position in which his friends in the association are desirous of placing him.

THE OLD YORK CHURCH.

The old Congregational church edifice at York village, Me., which for many years has formed so prominent a landmark in the town, has recently been repaired, and moved around so as to be on a line with the town house. The ancient steeple is a fac simile on a smaller scale of the former steeple of the old North church of Portsmouth, the symmetrical form of which is impressed upon the minds of those who saw it just before it was laid low in the dust of the "Parade" to make room for a modern building. There seems to have been a uniformity in laying out the old towns in this vicinity with a quaint church and a "parade" ground like that of Portsmouth, which in later days has been denominated "Market square," albeit there is not and never was a "square," and has been no market for many a year—a change to be regretted, for the old title "Parade" was a distinctively New England appellation, referring to the military duty universally demanded of all able-bodied males in the early days of the colonies, and meant something, while the term "Market square," as applied to a three-cornered space with no market near it or held upon it, is simply an absurd aping of big-city fashions and names. Why not restore the ancient title of "The Parade" to our three-cornered square?

Three thousand dollars was raised for the repairing of the York church, but the expenses have risen to about five thousand. The committee appointed to carry out the work consisted of Washington Junkins, chairman; E. C. Moody, secretary; John B. Fernald, John E. Staples and Samuel P. Young. The work has been successfully accomplished by Edward Blaisdell of Raynes' neck, with the assistance of Henry Grover of Beech ridge.

In the repairs of the church there have been used, of pine timber, ten inches square and clear of sap, two sticks forty feet long, two sticks thirty-five feet long, and seven sticks fifty feet long. It being desired to save the antique steeple, the question arose as to how its identity could best be preserved; one suggestion was that it be taken down in sections, and afterward re-erected, but it was finally decided to keep it in place, repair it, and move it with the building. For this purpose nine sticks of oak timber were used as posts, upon which the steeple rests; these sticks are each twenty-one feet long and nine inches square, and the whole structure is thoroughly braced. Some of the old timber was proposed to be utilized in repairing the belfry; but Mr. Moody, rather than have any old material used in any part of the building presented the society with two sticks of timber each thirty-five feet long and squaring ten inches.

A proposition to move the building at a low figure, made by Messrs. Moody and Marshall, was accepted, two hundred dollars having been subscribed for this purpose by individuals, and the society paying one hundred and twenty-five dollars; the principal individual contributors were Samuel Sedgley, Deacon Norwood, E. C. Moody and Edward S. Marshall, the latter giving fifty dollars.

The young girl who disappeared from her home in the vicinity of the Eastern railroad station some days ago, of which we made mention at the time, was heard of in Boston on Saturday, and has been brought home by an officer.

The steamer Acushnet having been taken off the route between this port and Boston until spring, the office in this city has been closed. The office and address of R. B. Beaumont, the agent of Acushnet, is at No. 19 Broad street, Boston.

A despatch received in this city on Monday, the 19th inst., from Capt. Sargent of Kittery, commanding the steamship Indiana, reported her arrival at Philadelphia on that day, after a most tempestuous passage from Liverpool, Eng., which port she left on the 3d inst.

The New Hampshire National bank will pay a dividend of three and a half per cent, Jan. 2d.

The heavy timbers of the new coal-pockets are rapidly being placed in position at C. E. Walker & Co.'s wharf. The barque Ausable, which arrived at this wharf on Sunday with coal, is said to be the largest collier that ever came in to that wharf; she is a new vessel, and a beauty.

There could not be made any weather better calculated to cover the ponds with "rotten" and treacherous ice, than such as we have been having—warm one day and cold the next, with once in a while a sharply-frosty night. We have as yet had no drowning accidents to record in this city, but fear we may have, unless more care is taken by parents to keep their boys off the ponds, the ice on which is not safe, however thick and sound-looking it may be. More drowning accidents from breaking ice have been reported this season than ever before within our memory, all over New England. Two boys were drowned in a pond at Exeter not many days ago from this cause; and on Monday, in Dover, a boy named Fred Grant, thirteen years old, and another boy named Jimmy Burns, were drowned while skating on the river. Parents who would dislike to have their boys drowned, had better keep them off the ponds for the present.

The Newburyport Herald of Monday says: "The schooner Fred Gray, of Ipswich, has been delivered to Portsmouth parties, and will proceed to Rockland, where she will load with lime for New York." The Fred Gray is a vessel of 144 tons register.

The schooner Mary S. Hontvet, of this port, which was in collision on Jaffrey's last Friday night with the schooner Paul Revere, of Gloucester, Mass., and sustained considerable damage, started for Gloucester on Monday morning to be repaired, in tow of the tug Samuel B. Jones of the latter port, which came around for the purpose. It is said the tug was unable to procure fresh water here, and had to use salt water in her boilers on the return trip. We should have supposed that a seventy-ton schooner could have been repaired at this port, as promptly and as cheaply as anywhere.

The dory which came on shore at Foss' beach, Rye, some time ago, has been identified by James Hudson of Newburyport as his property, and reclaimed by him. The boat was loaned by Hudson to Schofield, the Newburyport fisherman who was supposed to have been drowned on the morning of the day the dory came ashore, and of whose fate there is no longer any doubt.

Premature Loss of the Hair

May be entirely prevented by the use of Burnett's Cocoaine. No other compound possesses the peculiar properties which so exactly suit the various conditions of the human hair. It softens the hair when harsh and dry. It soothes the irritated scalp. It affords the richest lustre. It prevents the hair from falling off. It promotes its healthy, vigorous growth. It is not greasy nor sticky. It leaves no disagreeable odor. It kills dandruff.

Burnett's Flavoring Extracts are known as the best.

A COUGH, COLD OR SORE THROAT should be stopped. Neglect frequently results in an incurable Lung Disease or Consumption. "Brown's Bronchial Troches" do not disorder the stomach like cough syrups and balsams, but act directly on the inflamed parts, allaying irritation, give relief in Asthma, Bronchitis, Coughs, Catarrh, and the throat troubles which Singers and Public Speakers are subject to. For thirty years "Brown's Bronchial Troches" have been recommended by physicians and always give perfect satisfaction. Having been tested by wide and constant use for nearly an entire generation, they have attained well-merited rank among the few staple remedies of the age. Terrible Accident.

Domestic accidents are common to women, and some of them are very serious. Mrs. Warner, of South Rondout, Ulster Co., N. Y., some weeks ago attempted to take from her child a pair of shears with which it was playing. A slight struggle ensued, in which the point of the shears entered Mrs. Warner's left eye, entirely destroying the sight. Her family physician did what he could, but intensely painful inflammation arose, which, by sympathy, threatened the loss of the other eye. Total blindness to a woman having the care of a household is an irretrievable calamity. In this strait Mrs. Warner applied to that the well-known and skillful surgeon Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., who removed the injured eye by a very successful operation, setting aside all danger of further harm to the sight of the other eye. But, owing to pain and mental distress, her system needed a tonic and restorative medicine. To do this work the doctor prescribed "Kennedy's Favorite Remedy," which sustained its reputation and laid a sure foundation of health.

A Narrow Escape.

It was Saturday night, and Mr. and Mrs. Jones were shutting up the house preparatory to retiring, when there came a loud ring at the front door bell that startled them both, as it was too late for either business or callers. Who could it be? Mrs. Jones declared she would not open the door for the world, and begged Mr. Jones to arm himself with the umbrella stand or the hat rack, for it might be masked robbers or something of that sort. At which Mr. Jones pooh-poohed rather faintly and nervously, and marching valiantly to the door, threw it wide open, and next fell back over Mrs. Jones, who had kept cautiously behind. Then the two reconnoitered the situation. There was no human being in sight, but on the doorstep there was some kind of a a mysterious-looking object. Mrs. Jones looked at it a moment, then she burst into tears.

"It's a-a covered basket. Oh! J-J-Jones, you wretch, how could you? and I-I-I- trusted you so!"

"Mercy on me, Maria, what are crying about? I don't know what it is! Maybe it's an infernal machine, to blow us up," gasped Jones.

"Oh, you know what it is well enough, Mr. Jones! Don't add falsehood to your other baseness. Oh, Jones! how—how could you deceive me so?" and she wiped away another flood of tears.

"I'll throw the thing into the middle of next week," shouted Jones in a fury. I'll ——"

"Stop, stop, wretched man!" cried his wife, grasping his coat tails. "Don't add murder to your other accomplishments; and to think I have trusted—"

"Maria," said Mr. Jones, with the calmness of desperation, "unhand me! I will find out what this means. That's our old market basket," he exclaimed suddenly, and the next moment he had dragged it into the hall. "Why, it's our dinner for to-morrow. I forgot all about it and left it at the butcher's, and he has sent it home then! I hope you're satisfied."

"I never saw such a careless man in my life," said his wife, in a relieved voice. "We might have had to go without our dinner, for all of you."

Jones says it was the narrowest escape ever he had.— Lowell Post.

Europe vs. France.

The recent hobnobbing of the emperors and kings in Europe is said to have resulted in a union against France. The emperors of Russia, Germany and Austria have struck hands with the king of Italy for the purpose of isolating the French republic. The czar is angered because France refuses to surrender suspected nihilists. Germany does not wish the republic to repossess Alsace and Lorraine; while Italy covets Nice and Savoy, which were ceded to France by Victor Emanuel. Then, all these monarchs view with real apprehension the great success of this conservative republic. The people of central and eastern Europe are learning the lesson that nations can live and thrive without kings, nobles and courts. Every year that the republic lasts is a standing argument in favor of the grand republic of the future, which will embrace all Europe. The antagonism may result in war to force France to agree to the dominion of a king or emperor. What a pity it is that the United States is not likely to be in a position to give its moral if not its material support to the nation which helped us so vitally in the world's revolution, and which took so active a part in forcing Cornwallis to surrender at Yorktown. —Exchange.

The tenacity with which a cold clings to the system frequently induces a nervous cough that will remain after the cold departs. Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup will cure all nervous coughs. Price 25 cents.

A negro conjuror, named Dr. Hampton Price, was fatally shot at Franklin, Va., Friday night.

A tonic administered through the stomach is generally excitant, and apt to derange functional action, but Dr. Holman's Pad supplies the tonic by absorption, and is therefore the proper form of remedial application. A trial will prove how important is this form of cure.

Dr. Wm. H. Bowden, of Scituate, Mass., has been held in $600 to answer to a charge of burning his house and barn.

They Have Never Failed!

I have been sick more or less for the last ten years, which has cost me many dollars in doctors' and druggists' bills. The last two years it only cost me three dollars. Why? Because I used Sulphur Bitters instead of employing doctors. They cured me of jaundice.—J. J. Boyd, Hoboken.

John Slattery fell into a tank of boiling grease at New Haven, Conn., last week, and was fatally burned.

From Marblehead, Mass., Mr. George F. Young, of the American house, writes that he was cured of a severe sore throat by the application of St. Jacobs Oil, and nothing else.

"Pro Bono Publico."

It is a very remarkable fact, that while thousands of people refuse to read paid puffs of worthless nostrums, none skip over Dr. Swayne's little squib about his Ointment for itching piles that itch so much at night. The people well know that it is published for their benefit, in other words, is pro bono publico. May its far reaching effects be perpetuated to the end of time.

Rheumatism

Neuralgia, Sprains,

Pain in the Back and Side.

There is nothing more painful than these diseases; but the pain can be removed and the disease cured by use of Perry Davis' Pain Killer.

This remedy is not a cheap Benzine or Petroleum product that must be kept away from fire or heat to avoid danger of explosion, nor is it an untried experiment that may do more harm than good.

Pain Killer has been in constant use for forty years, and the universal testimony from all parts of the world is, It never fails. It not only effects a permanent cure, but it relieves pain almost instantaneously. Being a purely vegetable remedy, it is safe in the hands of the most inexperienced.

The record of cures by the use of PAIN KILLER would fill volumes. The following extracts from letters received show what those who have tried it think:

Edgar Cady, Owatonna, Minn., says:
About a year ago my wife became subject to severe suffering from rheumatism. Our recourse was to the PAIN KILLER, which speedily relieved her.

Charles Powell writes from the Sailors' Home, London:
I had been afflicted three years with neuralgia and violent cramps in the stomach. The doctors at Westminster Hospital gave up my case in despair. I tried your PAIN KILLER, and it gave me immediate relief. I have resumed my strength, and am now able to follow my usual occupation.

G. H. Walworth, Saco, Me., writes:
I experienced much relief from pain in the side by the use of your PAIN KILLER.

E. York says:
I have used your PAIN KILLER for rheumatism, and have received great benefit.

Barton Seaman says:
Have used PAIN KILLER for thirty years, and have found it a very valuable remedy for rheumatism and lameness.

Mr. Burditt writes:
It never fails to give relief in cases of rheumatism.

Phil. Gilbert, Somerset, Pa., writes:
By actual use, I know your PAIN KILLER is the best medicine I can get.

All druggists keep PAIN KILLER. Its price is so low that it is within the reach of all, and it will save many times its cost in doctors' bills. 25c., 50c. and $1.00 a bottle.

Holman's Pad has such complete control over the most persistent Chronic Diseases of the Stomach and Liver, including Indigestion, all forms of Dyspepsia, Bilious and Sick Headache, Nervous Prostration and Sleeplessness, as to amply justify the eminent Professor Loomis' high encomium: "It is nearly a Universal Panacea than anything in medicine!"

Daily Chronicle.

"The Ike Partington Series; The Double-Runner Club, or the Lively Boys of Rivertown." By B. P Shillaber, author of "Cruises with Capt. Bob," etc. Boston: Lee & Shepard; price $1.25.

The account of the "D. R. C." opens at Mason's hill in the coasting season. The names of those who appear in the story are for the most part those of the early Portsmouth friends of the author, and are familiar to us of the manor born. Some of the scenes, too, are from real life, occasionally retouched with the author's graphic pen, which in some instances takes great liberties; as for example when it transfers the story of the goose exchanged for the baked cod to Boston harbor on board some of our old-time coasters, from that time-honored state of facts which occurred at New Orleans on board a good old Portsmouth ship, while tied up to the levee waiting for a rise in freights; or when he recites the salt-fish-dinner incident, so admirably related by the late James Kennard, Jr., scores of years ago. But the stories are good, and will bear reproduction,—although, as a writer in one of our local papers many years ago remarked, when Ben began to reproduce our good Portsmouth stories in the Boston Post, localized for the Boston market, "It was too bad for Boston to take away our best stories, after it had appropriated one of our best story-tellers." The boys, old as well as young, will enjoy the reading of the records of the Double-Runner Club, as well as appreciate the sterling integrity of the treasurer of the "Soldality," whose handling of the funds seems to have been marked by a faithful performance of duty which might well be followed by many older officials in these days of corporate delinquency. Sold by M. Goodrich.

Judge Men By Their Works.

A man is judged in this life by his works, and in this connection it may not be inopportune to add, that Dr. Swayne has accomplished more good through the medium of his Ointment for skin diseases, than has the school of physicians combined. "It's an ill wind that blows nobody good." What the physicians have lost Dr. Swayne has gained.

At Fall River, Mass., Dec. 16th, a ferocious dog attacked Mr. Pratt, whereupon Rufus Bassett, standing on the other side of the street, indulged in unseemly hilarity, whereupon the dog made a charge upon Bassett, and for the next fifteen minutes that gentleman had no time to devote to mirth.

We cannot understand why days of hesitency and delay will be indulged in when a few doses of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup will ease and cure the worst cough or cold. Price only 25 cents a bottle.

Chief Justice Hunter, of Utah, has refused to set aside or modify the order heretofore made by him in Campbell against Cannon, in which he held that the certificate of naturalization held by Cannon was obtained by fraud and had been fraudulently used, and was void on its face. This reaffirms that Cannon is an alien.

Kearney says the Chinese must go, but before they go we wish to inform them and everybody else that Adamson's Botanic Balsam continues to win the day in curing coughs, colds, and all difficult breathing. Price, 35 and 75 cts. Trial bottles, 10 cts.

Eliza Bentley, of Bennington county, Vt., has recovered a verdict of $500 against C. H. Houghton, for breach of promise of marriage.

Henry's Carbolic Salve.

The best salve in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, tetter, chapped hands, chilblains, corns and all kinds of skin eruptions, freckles and pimples. The salve is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction in every case or money refunded. Be sure you get Henry's Carbolic Salve, as all others are but imitations. Price 25 cents For sale by all druggists.

Dr. Green's Oxygenated Bitters

Are a cheap and simple remedy for dyspepsia and billiousness in all their worst forms. It is a well known preparation, and has been known and endorsed by physicians for many years, and has been used by thousands of sufferers in all parts of the world as a standard and reliable remedy.

England was visited by another terrible gale on Saturday and Sun lay.

Always Refreshing.

A list of the victims of the Ring theatre has been issued by the police. It gives the total number of victims as 794; only 144 bodies have been identified.

A Word to Mothers.

Mothers should remember it is a most important duty at this season to look after the health of their families and cleanse the malaria and impurities from their systems, and that nothing will tone up the stomach and liver, regulate the bowels and purify the blood so perfectly as Parker's Ginger Tonic, advertised in our columns.—Post: see other columns.

Susan Morse of Marlboro, Mass., an elderly maiden lady, has died from starvation, having refused to eat food for a number of weeks, her reason being that all food tasted like oil to her.

NEW BLOOMFIELD, Miss., Jan. 2, 1880.

I wish to say to you that I have been suffering for the last five years with a severe itching all over I have heard of Hop Bitters and have tried it. I have used up four bottles, and it has done me more good than all the doctors and medicines that they could use on or with me. I am old and poor but feel to bless you for such a relief by your medicine and from torment of the doctors. I have had fifteen doctors at me. One gave me seven ounces of solution of arsenic; another took four quarts of blood from me. All they could tell was that it was skin sickness. Now, after these four bottles of your medicine, my skin is well, clean and smooth as ever. HENRY KNOCHE.

At Lexington, Ky., Saturday, M. Taylor was sentenced to the penitentiary for stealing a coat. This was his third sentence for grand larceny, and the state law provides that the third sentence must be for life.

The restoration to health of our child we considered very uncertain. When two weeks old she caught a cold; until eighteen months old she was not able to breathe through her nostrils, became emaciated, was a puny child. Upon using Ely's Cream Balm her difficulty is removed; she breathes freely and naturally. The neighbors consider it a wonderful restoration. MR. & MRS. J. M. SMITH, Owego, N. Y.

I have used Ely's Cream Balm and received great benefit, at present being entirely free from catarrh. Many of my friends have also been much benefitted by the Balm. What is claimed for this remedy I am fully convinced is true. CHAS. GREENE, Conductor N. Y., L. E. & W. R. R., Port Jervis, N. Y.

Portsmouth Chronicle.

WEDNESDAY, DEC. 21, 1881.

The "Jeannette" Reported Safe.

A London despatch of Dec. 20th says the governor of Siberia proclaims the safety of the arctic exploring steamer Jeannette, an expedition sent out by him having found her, with all on board well. It is to be hoped the story is not a heartless hoax.

A Cautious "Insane" Man.

Early in Guiteau's trial, that insolent and bullying cur publicly announced that if the government dared to put his former wife, now Mrs. Dunmire, on the stand as a witness against him, he would favor her with the extent of his venomous and abusive tongue. Last week she did appear on the stand, and Guiteau roared as gently as a sucking dove, being especially careful to say nothing insulting, or derogatory to her reputation. A Washington correspondent on Monday wrote that the secret of the blustering cur's decent treatment of his ex-wife had leaked out, and that it was due not to a sense of decency, which he does not possess, but to his utter poltroonery. One of his guards had intimated to him that her present husband was a powerful man, a western miner who had taken desperate chances in Leadville, who would sit near his wife when she was in court, and would not be troubled to keep quiet if she were insulted. Guiteau's reasoning powers were strong enough to take in the situation, and his words and bearing were throughout most respectful.

Life in Kansas.

Six cow-boys made a raid on the town of Caldwell, Kansas, Saturday morning, and shot Michael Meagher, ex-mayor, dead in the street. The citizens turned out, and in chasing the ruffians, shot one of them named Spear. The others, having secured horses, started for the country with citizens in pursuit. The cow-boys were so closely pursued that when they got to Deer creek they had to dismount and take to the brakes, where they concealed themselves. The pursuing party numbered only eight men, but they surrounded the ruffians as well as they could, and kept up firing upon them. About dark one of the pursuers was shot. This distracted the attention of the citizens, and the cow-boys crawled out and escaped. At daylight Sunday morning it was found they were gone. By that time there were fifty men on the ground, all well armed, and details were sent in all directions. If the cow-boys are caught their fun on this earth will be of short duration.

The 47th Congress.

Both houses on the 19th inst. passed a bill providing that when a legal holiday falls on Sunday, the next day shall be a legal holiday, and that bank paper maturing on that day shall be regarded as falling due on the day previous. This bill applies only to the District of Columbia, but in several states similar enactments are in force; and in states where there is no such law custom makes a law which will undoubtedly be observed. Therefore we may announce upon that authority that next Monday will be a holiday all over the United States.

The senate committee on naval affairs have decided to postpone action on the nomination of Pay Director Watmough to be paymaster-general, and on all other contested naval nominations, until after the holidays.

Ex-Senator Howe was on Tuesday nominated for postmaster general, and was unanimously confirmed by the senate without a reference of the nomination to a committee.

News and Notes.

President Arthur has appointed Chief Justice Gray of Massachusetts to the vacancy in the United States supreme court caused by the death of Justice Clifford.

Thirty boys have deserted from the ship New Hampshire of the United States training squadron, at Newport, R. I., during the past few days.

France is increasing her armament to such an extent as to cause alarm in Europe.

The Montreal customs authorities on Sunday seized $10,000 worth of jewelry, belonging to a man named Patterson, of Boston, for violation of the revenue laws.

Everett Woodward was drowned at Sidney, Me., Monday, while skating.

Bertie Atkins, eight years old, and Oswyn Atkins, ten years old, were drowned in a pond at Middletown, Conn., Monday, while skating.

At Mount Union, Pa., Dec. 19th, a miner named John A. Ingraham placed a can of nitro-glycerine on his cook-stove to warm. The can exploded, and the man and his wife, four children, and the house, were blown to atoms; one child escaped.

Mrs. Melvin A. Major of Chicago, wife of Thomas Major, and her new-born infant, died on Friday. The husband announced his intention of being buried with them, and though closely watched managed to procure poison, and died Sunday morning. The three were buried together.

Lieutenant Col. Dalton of the Salem (Mass.) Cadets has resigned, after a service of over twenty years, to accept a commission on Gov. Long's staff as inspector of ordnance, with the rank of colonel.

Senator Brown, of Georgia, was twenty years old before he learned to read. At thirty-three he was elected to a judgeship, and at thirty-seven he became governor. He is now, at sixty-eight, a United States senator.

Four hundred persons were drowned by the bursting of a dam in Algiers a few days ago.

New Hampshire Items.

Asa Davis and wife of Peterboro' celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage on Thursday evening of last week.

A freight conductor named Johnson, while making up a freight train in Ashland, Saturday morning, on the Boston, Concord & Montreal railroad, was badly jammed. No bones were broken, but his injuries are severe.

Fred Grant, one of the two boys drowned in the Cocheco river at Dover on Monday by the breaking of the ice on which he was skating, was a carrier for the Dover Democrat, which paper had repeatedly and earnestly warned skaters of the danger of trusting to the rotten ice formed so far this season. He was twelve years old; and the other boy drowned at the same time, James Burns, was aged eight. The ice broke under the two boys just after dinner, when there were only three or four boys on the river; during the forenoon the ice on the same spot had been crowded with skaters, none of whom had any suspicion of danger. The bodies were shortly recovered.

"The Unseen Hand, or James Renfew and his boy helpers:" by Elijah Kellogg, author of "Elm Island Stories" and other books; illustrated. Boston; Lee & Shepard; price $1.25; sold by M. Goodrich.

The hero in this tale appears as an orphan inmate of a poor house, and thence goes forth to a cold and selfish world. He is blest with a firm conviction of the right and a trust in the Almighty, and despite evil surroundings and the temptations of the wicked he succeeds in his struggle for manhood, and from the beginning we see his growth as, encouraged in well doing, he attains a deserved condition of happiness—all of which is told by Mr. Kellogg in his 328 pages.

"Marvels in Finance," a brief history of the Mutual Life Insurance Co. of New York, by Joseph Howard, Jr., has been published by Ford, Howard & Hulburt of New York.

The little pamphlet gives the history of the growth of this magnificent company from its charter in 1843 down to the present time, when its assets are over ninety millions of dollars. Instances illustrative of the foresight of President Winston are given. These sixty-seven pages are not a collection of dry and uninteresting figures or hackneyed arguments, but a readable sketch of a growth in financial stability unparallelled in the world's history, and a true recital of the workings of one of the most beneficent institutions in the world, which has received the unqualified endorsement of the leading financiers of the country, and which in its progress bids fair to challenge the admiration of the civilized world.

"Harper's Weekly" for last week contains a likeness of the late Gen. Kilpatrick, who spoke in Music hall in this city during the Garfield and Arthur presidential campaign. "Harper's Magazine" for January is a choice number, and can be had of W. G. Myers or Moses Bros.

The gondola Edgar Weston, which was blown on the flats ten or twelve days ago near the steam brick-yard in Eliot, floated off on Monday, and brought her cargo, thirty cords of wood, to this city.

Master Sammy Shapleigh, of Eliot, while chopping wood on the 16th inst., standing on the log, slipped as the axe was descending, and had the sole of his boot cut through and two of his toes badly gashed.

Owing to the mildness of the season there have been many visitors to Nason's swamp at Sturgeon creek, Eliot, in search of evergreen, which grows plentifully in that place; Capt. Wm. Nason, of the gondola Sturgeon, has gathered a cartload of evergreen there for Portsmouth parties, for decorating purposes. Capt. Nason is to have a Christmas tree at The Wigwam on Saturday evening, Dec. 24th, with Mr. Sam. Nason as Santa Claus; after the presents are distributed there will be dancing, the Eliot Quadrille band furnishing the music.

The big wood-preserving tanks of the Eastern railroad, on Noble's island, have been housed in for the winter, the work of treating sleepers, etc., having ceased for the present. Over 600,000 feet of lumber has been treated during the past summer, though only one tank was ready for service for some time after the work began; next year it is expected this quantity will be doubled. If the experiment should only result in making hemlock ties as durable as cedar ones,—and it is confidently believed the record will show much better than this,—the saving to the road will be immense. The stock of wood to practise on next year is now being accumulated on the island, a schooner load of sleepers from Nova Scotia having been landed there last week.

Notice to Mariners.

I would communicate the following for the benefit of mariners: The existence of a ledge lying in the channel way near Watch Hill eastern entrance of Fisher's Island sound. This danger lies about 300 yards southwest by south from the buoy off Watch Hill point, or about two-thirds the distance from this last named buoy to the buoy near the spindle on the end of Watch Hill reef. In September, 1877, at low tide, twelve feet of water was found on this danger, and on some parts there may be less. In passing in or out of the sound vessels should keep to the northward of this ledge. This is probably the (supposed) wreck recently struck by sch R G Wheleen, an account of which was published in the papers a short time since. GEO. ELDREDGE, Hydrographer.

A Boston Car-driver will Remember Thanksgiving.

Our reporter found Mr. John T. Garvin at No. 2 Thornton Place, who said that he was about 55 years old, and has been six years a driver on the Metropolitan Horse R. R. His wife has been an invalid for the past five years, and he had some difficulty in scraping a dollar together to mail to M. A. Dauphin, New Orleans, La., to get a ticket in Nov. 8th drawing of the Louisiana State Lottery; but it was the best investment he ever made. He held one-half of No. 46,333, which won the capital prize of $30,000, and the $15,000 came to him in coin by the Adams Express. He had just returned home from spending Thanksgiving with his friend and resumes work immediately.—Boston Commercial and Shipping List, Nov. 20th.

THE

of New York,

F. S. WINSTON, President.

The Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York is THE OLDEST Company, with thirty-seven years of experience.

It is purely Mutual—without Capital or Stockholders to share in profits, and no bonuses allowed to Officers, Trustees, or Employees.

It confines its business to regular Life and Endowment Policies, and the granting of Annuities. No new or experimental plans.

Its premium rates are lower than any other regular Life Insurance Company, and Policy-holders participate in current earnings annually.

No Policy-holder need forfeit his Policy, provided three full annual premiums have been paid, and application is immediately made for a paid-up Policy, when necessity arises to do so.

Assets have more than doubled during the past ten years, notwithstanding the six years of financial panic.

Its Interest and Rent Receipts alone have exceeded its Death Claims TEN MILLIONS of Dollars ($10,000,000.)

It has issued over 220,000 Policies; insured over $700,000,000; received over $276,000,000 in premiums; and returned to Policyholders over $162,000,000.

It can and does afford the cheapest, safest, and most satisfactory insurance investment of any Company in the world.

Is not this well styled a marvel in Finance? No more beneficent institution exists upon the face of the earth than this greatest of financial organizations, combining the greatest possible good for the greatest number with an expertness in financiering that is paralleled only by the sturdy integrity of its managers and the proud pre-eminence of its commercial, patriotic, and scientific record.

STATE TEACHERS' MEETING,

The meeting of the school teachers of New Hampshire will begin to-day at two o'clock, P. M. The exercises will be particularly entertaining to all who are interested in public schools, and novel to those who are unfamiliar with the text work of teachers, and their methods of instructing. Among the essays and addresses that will be given we observe the names of E. J. Goodwin, Principal of our High School, E. C. Stimson, Master of the Jones School, Charles W. Gardner, of the Board of Instruction, and E. P. Sherburne, a former resident and teacher among us, now of the Franklin Street Grammar School in Manchester, all of whom doubtless reflect credit upon themselves as well as upon their fellow townsmen, in the utterance of their themes.

The talent from abroad is of no mean order, as a glance at the programme will show. Notwithstanding the busy preparations going on everywhere for the Christmas holidays, we believe that an hour or two could be well spared in listening to these educational essays and discussions.

COOKED CELERY.

In this vicinity, as well as all over the northern states, the cold autumn of this year greatly stunted the growth of celery, often entirely ruining the crop. It is scarce and high in the market, and short-stemmed, the stalks being greener and tougher than usual. On this account alone cooking it may well be resorted to, though it is always preferred cooked by a good many people, and if properly done is better thus, especially for all not possessed of effective mastication. As it is a duty to eat celery at Christmas, we consider it seasonable to furnish the following recipe, which is vouched for by the American Agriculturist; by adopting this method more of the unblanched portion of the plants can be used, the extreme upper part being necessarily rejected, because always stringy and bitter.

Chop the celery very fine, as fine as small peas. Put it into a sauce-pan, adding just enough water to cover it, and put on a tight lid. Boil three-quarters of an hour, or until perfectly soft. Leave the water with it, and add an equal bulk of milk, raising it to boiling. For each pint of the minced celery, take a large tablespoonful of butter, more if desired, and thoroughly mix it with two tablespoonfuls of flour. Add this to the celery until thoroughly incorporated with it, and cook a trifle. Salt to taste, and pepper if desired.

James Sanborn, Orator;

BODY FOUND.

It was reported on Tuesday that the body of Patrick Conway, who has been missing from the marine barracks at the navy yard for the last two months, had been found in the river near Eliot. The last seen of him alive was going over Portsmouth bridge between ten and eleven o'clock at night. As he had one hundred and eighty dollars due him at the time of his disappearance, it was not supposed to be a case of desertion. He was a native of Ireland, and about thirty-five years of age. He formerly had a brother living in Concord, but letters sent him have received no answer, and it is supposed he has changed his residence.

THE FISHING BUSINESS.

The business done on our fish wharves this fall, in comparison with that of last season, shows a great falling off. There are several reasons for this, apparent to those who have taken any interest in the matter. Last season there were fifty-five vessels that regularly brought their fares to this market, and in several instances there were thirty or more arrivals of fishing schooners in one day, which landed in the aggregate over two hundred thousand pounds of fresh fish. From seventy-five to one hundred thousand dollars were expended during the season in the purchase of fish, and the employment given to many hands in the dressing and packing of them for transportation to Boston and other markets, made it an important industry, especially so as it was carried on in the winter, when several other branches of river trade were cut off. This fall there are only five vessels which can be said to fish regularly from this port, although there are others that have occasionally brought their fares in from special causes, such as heavy weather, having small quantities of fish, or wanting bait. Two of the heavy buyers (one deceased, and the other gone out of the business) are lost to us this winter. Another cause of the depression is the scarcity of fish. Fishing grounds which in years past yielded a rich harvest now give but a beggarly return, and it has become a necessity to double the length of trawls over those that have been previously used, so as to gather in the stragglers which in other days used to solidify themselves into schools. Whether the use of nets, which has assumed such immense proportions within the last year, has broken up the schools of fish, or to what cause their present scarcity and irregularity of habit can be attributed, is matter of much speculation among the fishermen; but about all that can certainly be said on the subject is that the prospect of a thriving trade in the fish business at this port, this winter, is now very dubious.

"My Wife" at Music hall this evening.

The banks of the river are being well explored by clam diggers during the present low tides. The rocks and ledges along the shores present a very beautiful appearance, being covered with sea-foliage in brilliant colors of brown and green. A trip in the steamer Fearless would amply repay one in glimpses of scenes which are rarely presented at this season of the year.

Mr. Charles S Drown is making a new suit of sails for the schooner E. A. Williams, lately purchased by Mr. Wm. B. Keen.

On Monday, at the corner of Vaughan and Deer streets, there was a collision between the Portsmouth Brewing Co.'s team and a buggy containing Hon. Frank Jones and Mr. Thomas Neil, a forward wheel of the buggy being broken. The gentlemen in the buggy jumped out, and were uninjured.

In Stratham, Monday afternoon soon after the dinner hour, George Kelly committed suicide by cutting his throat in his shoemaker's shop. He was about fifty years old, of a very jovial and companionable disposition, and was well known to the readers of the Exeter News-Letter through his contributions over the name of "Shadow." His mother died not long ago, and it is said her death had a very depressing effect upon him.

This evening, at Music hall, the Grinnell Dramatic Co. will appear in a new sensational drama, "My Wife," the price of tickets being put down to a popular figure. See adv't.

Seven hundred and fifty lobsters caught by parties in Newcastle were bought by fish dealers in this city, and sent to Boston and other markets, Monday.

The Eastern and Mutual Union Telegraph Co. are about to open an office for business in this city This line will have special wires to Portland and Gloucester, and also to Fulton and Washington markets in New York city, for the especial convenience of the fish trade.

The usual semi-annual dividend upon shares in the Concord & Portsmouth railroad will be paid at the office of William H. Hackett in the United States court house, on Friday, the 30th inst.

The schooner W. B. Keen arrived at this port on Sunday with $50,000 frozen herring.

The arrivals of fish on Monday were the schooners Nettie Adams, with 6000 lbs.; Hattie N. Reed, 12,000 lbs.; Grace Choate, 12,000 lbs.; Flying Eagle, 2500 lbs.; Daniel C. Baker, 2500 lbs.; Addie & Hattie, 4500 lbs.; Albert Woodbury, 1500 lbs.; Young Selim, 680 lbs.; and the Storm King, fare not given.

As Daniel McCarty was engineering a load of hay down Daniel street to the Portsmouth Brewing Co.'s stables, Tuesday, the load capsized when opposite the high school building, but help was procured and the hay soon transported to its destination.

At Music hall to-night, Hattie and B. F. Grinnell, in their new drama, "My Wife."

The schooner Lucy, previously reported beached on Preble's island in the lower harbor in consequence of having sprung a leak while on the way in from the shoals with a load of cured fish, came up to the wharf on Monday in good trim for proceeding on her trip to Boston. Capt. Levi D. Locke, master of the schooner, deserves much credit for his good management in the saving of his cargo of fish, he having superintended the whole business; at first it was feared the entire cargo would be spoiled.

Terrible Accident.

Domestic accidents are common to women, and some of them are very serious. Mrs. Warner, of South Rondout, Ulster Co., N. Y., some weeks ago attempted to take from her child a pair of shears with which it was playing. A slight struggle ensued, in which the point of the shears entered Mrs. Warner's left eye, entirely destroying the sight. Her family physician did what he could, but intensely painful inflammation arose, which, by sympathy, threatened the loss of the other eye. Total blindness to a woman having the care of a household is as irreparable calamity. In this strait Mrs. Warner applied to that the well-known and skillful surgeon' Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., who removed the injured eye by a very successful operation, setting aside all danger of further harm to the sight of the other eye. But, owing to pain and mental distress, her system needed a tonic and restorative medicine. To do this work the doctor prescribed "Kennedy's Favorite Remedy," which sustained its reputation and laid a sure foundation of health.

Suggestions for the Season.

The beginning of the year should be a time for the balancing of the farm accounts New books are opened, and with the inventory taken, as suggested last month, the farmer knows how he stands. The first of January usually brings an end to the paper subscriptions, and if not already attended to the renewals should be made at once. It may be that some farm journal or family paper has come to sight that will need to be added to the list of those already counted as necessary. Farmers as a class are yearly reading more and more, and for a number of very good reasons. The improvements of farm machinery allow of more time for mental culture; and not the least of the reasons for an increased reading among farmers is the better quality of the matter provided for them by the agricultural press.

It may be that the insurance policy runs out with the old year, and this important safeguard against distress should be looked to. Only the best companies should be patronized; the rates for ordinary farm buildings should be comparatively low. A co-operative system of insurance has worked admirably in some localities.

It is now midwinter, and much of the farmer's labor is to keep himself and family, and the farm stock, warm and comfortable. For the household there will be a good supply of fuel needed. This does not mean that a sizable pile of green wood just from the living tree, and full of water, is adequate. Dry, well seasoned wood is the only kind that is either pleasant or economical to use, especially in the stove in early morning. The man who, with a large wood lot on his farm, does not provide a good supply of dry wood for the household, is not doing his duty. The slip-shod method of chopping the daily wood on the day it is to be used, though it may give a freshness to the product, is a fruitful source of bad breakfasts and bad tempers, and it may be in extreme cases leads to harsh words and disgraceful actions. All this can be avoided by cutting a year's supply of wood during the winter, and giving it the whole of the following summer to become thoroughly dried. In this way the cutting and splitting of the year's fire wood becomes a part of the regular winter work on the farm. The methods to be observed in harvesting this crop should be as systematic and economical as any other. Unless the land is to be cleared, the trees that are old and dying should be cut first, thus preserving the wood lot in good condition.—American Agriculturist for January.

"Rosemary and Rue" is one of the recently issued "Round-Robin Series" from the publishing house of James R. Osgood & Co. of Boston. The story opens with the account of a peaceful raid of anti-war Quakers coming from Newport to New Bedford in the early days of the revolutionary war, whence they were driven by the loyal citizens, who denounced them as tories, when their mission was simply one of peace. Driven from Massachusetts they go abroad. The tale is told with a continuing interest, among which is seen the manner in which a French officer asked the peaceful Quaker for the hand of his daughter. For sale at the bookstores. Uniform with the "Round-Robin Series;" price $1.00.

The world pays but little honor to promises unless they are clinched by fulfillment; and this is why the world prizes St. Jacobs Oil; it promises to cure rheumatism, and does so in every instance without fail.

A Woman's Experience.

Mothers and daughters should feel alarmed when weariness constantly oppresses them. "If I am fretful from exhaustion of vital powers and the color is fading from my face, Parker's Ginger Tonic, gives quick relief. It builds me up and drives away pain with wonderful certainty."—Buffalo Inquiry.

"Pro Bono Publico."

It is a very remarkable fact, that while thousands of people refuse to read paid puffs of worthless nostrums, some skip over Dr. Swayne's little squib about his Ointment for itching piles that it is so much at night. The people well know that it is published for their benefit, in other words, is pro bono publico. May its far reaching effects be perpetuated to the end of time.

Rheumatism

Neuralgia, Sprains,

Pain in the Back and Side,

There is nothing more painful than these diseases; but the pain can be removed and the disease cured by use of Perry Davis' Pain Killer.

This remedy is not a cheap Benzine or Petroleum product that must be kept away from fire or heat to avoid danger of explosion, nor is it an untried experiment that may do more harm than good.

Pain Killer has been in constant use for forty years, and the universal testimony from all parts of the world is, it never fails. It not only effects a permanent cure, but it relieves pain almost instantaneously. Being a purely vegetable remedy, it is safe in the hands of the most inexperienced.

The record of cures by the use of PAIN KILLER would fill volumes. The following extracts from letters received show what those who have tried it think:

Edgar Cady, Owatonna, Minn., says:
About a year since my wife took the rheumatism to severe suffering from rheumatism. Your record was to the PAIN KILLER, which speedily relieved her.

Charles Fowell writes from the Sailors' Home, London:
I had been afflicted three years with neuralgia and violent rheumatism in my stomach. The doctors at Westminster Hospital gave up my case in despair. I tried your PAIN KILLER, and it gave me immediate relief. I have resumed my situation, and am now able to follow my usual occupation.

G. H. Walworth, Saco, Me., writes:
I experienced immediate relief from pain in the side by the use of your PAIN KILLER.

E. York says:
I have used your PAIN KILLER for rheumatism, and have received great benefit.

Barton Seaman says:
Have used PAIN KILLER for thirty years, and have found it a never-failing remedy for rheumatism and lameness.

Mr. Burditt writes:
It never fails to give relief in cases of rheumatism.

Phil. Gilbert, Somerset, Pa., writes:
For rheumatism, I know your PAIN KILLER is the best medicine I can get.

All druggists keep PAIN KILLER. Its price is so low that it is within the reach of all, and it will save many times its cost in doctors' bills. 25c., 50c. and $1.00 a bottle.

The "Jeannette."

Further advices from St. Petersburg say that part of the crew of the Jeannette have arrived at the mouth of the river Lena, in northern Siberia, in a suffering condition. The steamer was crushed by the ice in latitude seventy-seven north, longitude 157 east, (about 500 miles from the Lena's mouth,) on the 11th of June, and the crew left her in three boats, which afterward became separated by gales and fog One boat, with eleven men, reached the mouth of the Lena on Sept. 19th; another, with Capt. De Long, Dr. Ambler and twelve men, reached the Lena later in a pitiable plight, and all were cared for. The other boat had not been heard from when the courier left the Lena for Irkouts with the news, but it is hoped her crew will be saved.

Miss Annie Tuttle, a school teacher of Barrington, was before the police court in Dover on the 17th inst., on two charges—one for aggravated assault on a son of a man named Calef, of Barrington, a pupil in Miss Tuttle's school, which was dismissed, and one for simple assault on the same boy, in which case each party had to pay their own costs. It is said that Calef will now bring a civil suit against Miss Tuttle, for damages.

Fred Brown, a Dover hackman, has lodged a claim against the city for $500, for injuries sustained to himself and his property through a quantity of lumber being left in the middle of a street at night.

A new society for the prevention of cruelty to animals having been organized in Dover, under the charter granted by the legislature at its last session, the old society of the same name has dissolved, after turning over the funds, amounting to $190.84, to the new organization.

A Great Blessing to Mothers and Nurses.

"Swayne's Teething Cure" for infants. This new theory and infallible remedy has saved the lives of thousands of children. When the child is in pain, or restless with its teeth shooting in its gums, simply rub the gums for two or three minutes with the "Cure." What little it may swallow will relieve colic, pain and flatulence, prevent fever, and avoid that painful operation of lancing the gums, which always makes the next tooth harder to come through and sometimes causes death. Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves and immediate relief and health to your infants. A very able medical writer, who enjoys a large and lucrative practice, says: "Rubbing the gums with a soothing lotion, is the only true method for children teething; poisonous drugs should never be introduced into their delicate stomachs." "Swayne's Teething Cure" is prepared only by Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia, and sold by all leading apothecaries at 25 cents a bottle.

Some anxiety is felt for the safety of the barque N. M. Haven, from Philadelphia for Portland, loaded with coal, now overdue. She was seen off Cape Cod on Friday, Dec. 9th, by the steamer Eleanora, and on Saturday she was spoken by a Boston pilot boat. On Saturday night, Dec. 10th, the schooner Hatfield was run down and sunk off Thacher's island by an unknown barque, and this, together with the report that a chronometer box, with other articles belonging to a large vessel, have been picked up near Thacher's island, would seem to indicate that the Haven was the colliding barque, and that she, as well as the schooner, sank.

Centaur Liniment.

Daniel Hale Haskell, a broken-down, vermin-infested beggar, died in the almshouse at San Francisco on the 17th of December. He was once manager of the banking and express house of Adams & Co., with an income of $70,000 a year. He gave all his means to endavor to save the bank, and retired into poverty. Later he took to drink.

Castoria.

For sour stomach, constipation, and fretfulness of children. Pleasant, safe and cheap. 900 drops; 35 doses, 35 cents.

Salmo Francis, governor of the Passamaquoddy Indians, died at Pleasant Point, Me., recently, aged eighty-six years. The tribe are having a dead-lock over the election of a new governor, and the Indian agent will have to settle it.

Ash-Tonic;

A perfected purifyer of the system in 1-2lb. bottles; 75 cents. For dyspepsia, the many forms of liver complaint, impure and impoverished blood, and functional derangements attendant upon debility. For symptons indicated by indigestion, loss of appetite, nausea, sick headache, sour stomach, furred tongue, drowsiness, blanched lips, sallow complexion, pain in the side or back, eruptions, depression of spirits, nervous irritability and hysteria, and for building up the system, ash-tonic is unquestionably the most prompt and energetic remedy yet devised.

His Ignorance Cost me $150.00.

I was sick abed for three months. The doctor said I had prolapsus uteri, which was untrue. He didn't try to cure me but wanted to make $1.50 every day. My uncle is a druggist, and he told me to turn the doctor off and try Sulphur Bittery. I did so, and five dollars worth of Sulphur Bitters cured me of general weakness and debility.—Mrs. S——, New Haven.

Arthur Orcutt, twelve years old, broke through the ice in Athol, Mass., Dec. 20th, and was drowned.

Judge Men By Their Works.

A man is judged in this life by his works, and in this connection it may not be inopportune to add, that Dr. Swayne has accomplished more good through the medium of his Ointment for skin diseases, than has the school of physicians combined. "It's an ill wind that blows nobody good." What the physicians have lost Dr. Swayne has gained.

THE STATE TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION.

The annual session of the State Teachers' Association opened in Franklin theatre on Wednesday, Dec. 21st, the meeting being called to order by E. B. Powers, principal of the Nashua High school, president of the association, at 2:45 o'clock P. M. Owing to the delay in getting to work, that part of the programme relating to organization was postponed, and the reading of a paper by Miss Ellen M. Reed, of the State Normal school at Plymouth, was at once proceeded with.

Miss Reed's subject was "Number work," and the reading occupied about three-quarters of an hour. It was followed by a class exercise in numbers, conducted by Miss Susie M. Cate, of the Normal school, who was assisted in illustrating the methods and theories referred to in Miss Reed's paper, by a number of pupils from the public schools of this city; many of the ideas advanced were novel, but seemed practical and of positive value.

The attendance of citizens in the afternoon was not large, but the teachers of the city show in full numbers. Among the distinguished educators from other places were Prof. Warren, principal of the State Normal school, Prof Elliot Whipple, principal of the McGaw Normal Institute at Reed's Ferry, Supt. Gilman Fisher, of the Dover schools, A. F. Tuttle, principal of the Farmington high school, J. W. Appleby of Rochester, E. P. Sherburne of Manchester, Hon. James W. Patterson and others.

The evening session was opened about half-past seven o'clock, with an address of welcome by Mr. Charles W. Gardner, of the Board of Education of this city.

The speaker commenced his address by an expression of regret that is probably shared to a certain extent by all our citizens, that the time of holding the meeting had been fixed upon these busy days of preparation for the Christmas season, and at a time too when the winter is certainly quite as full of dreariness as it will ever be. Had your coming been in the springtime, or even in mid-summer or autumn, I feel quite sure that the lovely attractions of Nature for which our city and its suburbs are famed, would have bidden you a heartier welcome than any poor words of mine can express. Let me assure you that I would not consent to stand here to-night as the mere mouthpiece for the utterance of an insincere expression of a formal welcome. I do no such thing From an honest heart, and voicing the feelings of a community that has ever been alive to the interests of education, I welcome your coming, and will add that we consider ourselves as peculiarly favored to be permitted the enjoyment of such a rare feast as this three days' meeting promises. What less could we do than to welcome you with the largest hospitality that we can afford? What less could we say than that you are welcome to our midst and to express the hope that your coming may be attended with no regrets, but rather, that it may prove of mutual benefit to us. This is but our duty, and this you have a right to expect at our hands. Hospitality was then illustrated and defined, after which the speaker proceeded at length to show why the teacher needs words of encouragement, and has claims upon the public that have hitherto been unrecognized. The address throughout was an earnest plea for the rights of teachers, and closed as follows:

The time is coming—when, I will not predict—but the day will some time dawn upon a people who will do all and a great deal more than I have pleaded for in behalf of our teachers—when the "lion and the lamb shall lie down together"—that great lion of selfishness that is fed by avarice and lust and material delving of every kind, and the lamb of sympathy and purity and love. When these shall make common cause with each other, then will the eyes of those now blind to all things save that of the gratifying of selfish ambition, be opened; and they will see that the truest prosperity of communities and individuals is obtained by making the lower nature subservient to the intellectual and spiritual That the true secret of happiness in society lies in the right rearing and training of children in the home and in the public school. I recognize in the gathering here at this time of these friends of education, and in similar conventions from year to year, a scintillation, at least, of the light that betokens the dawn of the day that I predict. Indeed, in many directions, I see what seem to to be the gray streaks of a coming dawn that shall usher in a more glorious light than many of us have ever dreamed of; a day when both preacher and teacher, and men and women of all professions and vocations shall bring to their work such a sincerity of purpose, such a sense of duty and responsibility, that it shall be their religion to do whatever they are called to do in the best possible manner. A day when being less carnally minded and more spiritual, we shall know that we are in the immediate presence of the Infinite One; that His brightness is all about us; and that the discernment and enjoyment of His glory is in proportion to our faithfulness to our daily trusts, whatever they may be. Then shall we indeed be a "law unto ourselves"—yea, kings and priests unto our own souls. Then all present titles and ranks will be but empty sounds. Only the character of our mission will be ranked. And in this rating there will be minister and physician, lawyer, teacher, scientist, mechanic, having their names written upon the tablet of public estimation and regard, in the order of their importance to society's weal; and among the highest on the roll will be seen inscribed in illuminated capitals the name of the public school teacher as the most regarded and the most sacred public benefactor. Cherishing the hope that justice will one day be accorded to this public servant—yea, indulging in the full confidence that it will—I reiterate my former expressions of welcome to you all, and pray that God will speed the coming of this millenium light.

The exercises of the evening closed with an interesting and valuable description of the methods of instruction in the Chandler Scientific department of Dartmouth college, by Prof. E. R. Ruggles of Hanover,—from which the listening teachers no doubt gathered many valuable hints.

At the evening session a volunteer choir consisting of Messrs. Hutchinson, Lafayette S. Butler, Jerome C. Butler, Appleton Tredick, Lafayette V. Newell and Jeff. C. Tilton, rendered some very acceptable music.

The 47th Congress.

In the house, on the 21st, Speaker Keifer announced the standing committees. Kelley of Pennsylvania is chairman of the ways and means committee; Hiscock of New York, appropriations; Reed of Maine, judiciary; Harris of Massachusetts, naval affairs; Crapo of Massachusetts, banking and currency; Briggs of New Hampshire, expenditure in war department.

News and Notes.

The postmaster general on Dec. 20th issued an order directing that on Monday, the 26th, and on Monday the 2nd day of January, the post-offices of the country be closed as on other legal holidays.

In the general assembly of Virginia, Dec. 20th, H. H. Riddleberger, the re-adjuster candidate for United States senator, was elected by a majority of thirty-six over Johnstone, the democratic candidate and present senator.

The steamer Bath City, long overdue at New York from Bristol, Eng., has been heard from, seventeen of her crew having been carried into Liverpool by a vessel that picked them up in a boat off Newfoundland. The steamer was abandoned Dec. 3d; the captain and nine men lost their lives, and the survivors are in a terrible condition.

Only forty persons were killed by the mine explosion at Bolton, Eng., instead of 150, as at first reported.

Adam D. Wilson was shot dead by some person unknown while at supper, surrounded by his family, in Chesterfield county, Ga., Saturday night, Dec. 17th. Wilson had recently been a witness for the government in a revenue case, and frequently expressed fears that he would not be alive when the court met.

About thirty electric lights were shown on the streets of Salem, Mass., Dec. 20th, for the first time.

George Horton, fifty-two years old and married, was found dead in a hogshead of water Monday night, the 19th inst., at the house of his sister in Ipswich, Mass. He had been ill for some time.

Two barns in Newmarket, owned by John J. Hanson, were burned Dec. 20th. One barn was seventy feet long, cost $2000, and contained a large lot of hay; the other barn contained several hundred barrels of flour on storage, but the flour was saved; all else in the buildings was burned. Partially insured. The fire is supposed to have been caused by a boy playing with matches

The schooner Clara W. Elwell, which arrived at Philbrick's wharf on Monday, Dec. 19th, with coal for C. E. Walker & Co., discharged her cargo of three hundred and twenty-seven tons with one hoisting engine and a gang of five men, viz.: Edward Parks, John Parks, John Murphy, Edward Watkins and Peter William Neal, (colored.) in thirteen hours. The time was kept by Patrick Kierly, engineer, and it is said the discharge was made in better time than that given by any record of any one gang of men. The Clara W. Elwell was towed out on Wednesday, the 21st, by the tug Clara Bateman.

On Monday afternoon of this week the little steam launch Bessie, belonging to the dredging company, while towing a scow loaded with mud across the river to Badger's island found the tide was too much for her, and was obliged to call on the tug Clara Bateman to prevent being carried down the river.

The gondola Edgar Weston went up to Sturgeon creek, Elliot, on the 21st inst., to bring down another load of wood before the closing of navigation at that point. The gondola Sturgeon was on the same day engaged in transporting lumber from Mason's sawing and plaining mills to the navy yard.

Miss Mary Randall, of Kittery Point, was given a birthday party by her neighbors on the 17th inst., the occasion being the completion of her 71st year. On departing, at the close of a very pleasantly spent evening, the visitors left behind many substantial tokens of their friendly interest.

Choate Burnham, Esq., of Boston, has had plans prepared for the enlargement of the big barn on his farm on Gerrish's island, Kittery, by the addition to the east end of the building of an extension as large as the original structure. This is rendered necessary by the largely increased production of the farm since it was purchased by Mr. Burnham a few years ago, as a family summer residence. At the time of the purchase the portion of the farm under cultivation had become very hungry from long continued cropping without equivalent manuring, and he at once set to work to feed it; and last year a large amount (two schooner loads) of dressing was brought from Boston, landed in the cove near the buildings, and put where it would do the most good in the estimation of the energetic manager of the farm, Mr. Porter R. Emery. The result of this action is seen in the fact that this fall, after the barn was stored with about forty tons of hay, four and a half tons of fresh hay and all the salt hay cut on the farm had to be stacked out of doors; hence the proposed increase of barn room. This year a schooner load of dressing was landed in the cove just inside of Pocahontas point, and last week was spread over the fields, to still further increase the crops the coming season.

The schooners War Eagle, Leonora, Mystery, Loelia, and H. Prescott, are hauled up at Kittery Point for the winter.

THE

Mutual Life Insurance Co.

of New York,

E. S. WINSTON, President.

The Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York is THE OLDEST Company, with thirty-seven years of experience.

It is purely Mutual—without Capital or Stockholders to share in profits, and no bonuses allowed to Officers, Trustees, or Employees.

It confines its business to regular Life and Endowment Policies, and the granting of Annuities. No new or experimental plans.

Its premium rates are lower than any other regular Life Insurance Company, and Policy-holders participate in current earnings annually.

No Policy-holder need forfeit his Policy, provided three full annual premiums have been paid, and application is immediately made for a paid-up Policy, when necessity arises to do so.

Assets have more than doubled during the past ten years, notwithstanding the six years of financial panic.

Its Interest and Rent Receipts alone have exceeded its Death Claims TEN MILLIONS of Dollars ($10,000,000.)

It has issued over 220,000 Policies; insured over $700,000,000; received over $276,000,000 in premiums; and returned to Policy-holders over $162,000,000.

It can and does afford the cheapest, safest, and most satisfactory insurance investment of any Company in the world.

Is not this well styled a marvel in Finance? No more beneficent institution exists upon the face of the earth than this greatest of financial organizations, combining the greatest possible good for the greatest number with an expertness in financiering that is paralleled only by the sturdy integrity of its managers and the proud pre-eminence of its commercial, patriotic, and scientific record.

THE P. & P FOOT-BRIDGE.

Mr. Editor; It appears that the long-dormant scheme of a foot-bridge from Freeman's point to Noble's island, via the Portsmouth & Dover railroad bridge, has been revived, and the city is asked to go ahead and build it. By all means, if the benefit to accrue to the city is commensurate with the expense, let the work be done; but at a time when the city is running largely "on tick," the appropriations for streets, school-houses, and several other departments having long ago been exhausted, the city councils would do well to carefully consider the questions of cost and prospective benefit, before plunging the city further in debt to secure what is certainly neither a public nor private necessity.

A writer in the Times, who "believes the city government should not hesitate to build this foot path," says "it is estimated that a proper foot walk over this bridge would cost about one thousand dollars." If the city commences the job on any such "estimate" as that, there will be a deficiency at the end which will startle even our Portsmouth municipal managers, accustomed though they are to big deficiencies in all directions. The bridge, as I learn from a railroad man, is about two thousand feet long; and on the western side the timbers project four and a half feet beyond the portion required by the railroad, having been so arranged expressly as a foundation for a foot-walk. Two stringers, at least six inches square, would have to laid the whole length of the bridge; the planking could not with safety be less than three inches in thickness; and the walk would have to be substantially railed on both sides. To do this would require at least 50,000 feet of lumber, which at $20 per thousand would amount to $1000 for lumber alone, exclusive of the posts and stanchions required for the double railing; and when to this is added the cost of the needed fastenings, the labor, and the making of the proper approaches to the bridge at each end, the total would probably be found to considerably exceed $2000, rather than to be "about one thousand."

What resulting benefit is the city to have in return for this large outlay? The Times writer already quoted as an advocate for the bridge answers this question as follows:

People living on Freeman's point and along the river toward Dover would, if a convenient walk was made over this bridge, and, again, when the shipbuilders, who liv on either side of the river, are at work on the schooners which we hope will be built at Fernald's shipyard, they will have time enough, after having eaten their dinners, to come over the bridge to this city and purchase groceries, etc., whereas, if there is no foot walk, there will not be many come, as they would not have the time to walk around the road, over Christian Shore, and the men would leave the matter of purchasing goods to their wives, who would send by some neighbor, going to Dover, or Great Falls, or Berwick, to buy the goods they might need.

Mechanics and other working men, after having eaten their dinner in the hour ordinarily devoted to that purpose, are much more given to smoking their pipes and resting themselves during their remaining minutes, than to rushing around to buy groceries; and probably the gross receipts of all our merchants together would not be increased ten dollars a month from this source, by the building of the asked-for foot bridge.

Before the city authorities decide this question one way or the other they should fully satisfy themselves of two things; first, whether the bridge will benefit the public, or only a few individuals; and second, whether the benefit, to the public or a few individuals, will justify the expense.

"My Wife" did not appear in Music hall on Wednesday evening, and will not this evening. Company hung up.

A full attendance is requested at the meeting of the Woman's Temperance League this (Thursday) afternoon at three o'clock, at Grange hall.

Several of our leading physicians attended the meeting the Strafford County Medical Society, held at Dover on Wednesday.

The body of Patrick Conway, the marine who was found in the river near Eliot on Tuesday of this week, was taken to the navy yard on Wednesday afternoon, and buried there. It was deemed unnecessary to hold an inquest.

On Tuesday, Dec. 20th, Mr. Nehemiah Pickering of Newington while chopping wood made a miss-hit, and buried his axe in his foot, cutting off several bones. A doctor was called, but the worthy gentleman will be laid up several weeks.

A family living on Sagamore road was discovered this week to be in a sadly destitute condition. An infant about two months old was found almost naked, its only covering consisting of a coarse garment of black waterproof; indeed the whole surroundings, interior and exterior, denoted abject poverty. The case was taken up by some philanthropic ladies, and no doubt aid has been extended ere this.

A horse belonging to Mr. Howard C. Russell had a runaway on Wednesday afternoon on Water street, and threw out both of the occupants of the team. It is said that nobody was hurt.

The schooner Flying Eagle arrived on Wednesday, the 21st inst., with 500 lbs. of fish, and the Comet with 2500 lbs. The Flying Eagle will be laid up for a few days, for the repairing of her nets.

On Wednesday evening, Dec. 28th, the Boston Theatre Co. will produce the great spectacular play of "Michael Strogoff" at Music hall, with a force of fifty performers (including eighteen in the ballet) and a special set of scenery painted expressly for the road.

It was pay-day at the navy yard on Wednesday, the 21st inst. It took only twelve thousand dollars to go around, as but a small force is employed at this time.

Mr. Avery Plumer, formerly of this city, has been chosen president of the National Bank of the Republic, of Boston.

Mr. William Hatch, for some time past employed on the day shifting engine at the Eastern railroad station in this city, has resigned that position to take a more lucrative one on the Boston & Maine railroad. Mr. Stephen Jones, who has been employed on the Conway division of the Eastern road, has been transferred to the place left vacant by Mr. Hatch.

Gilbert P. Hoyt of Newington on the 6th inst. sowed rye on his farm, on land plowed a few days previously. The product undoubtedly will be "winter rye."

It was rumored awhile ago that orders had been given for the making of a hawser to be used by the steamer James Sampson in towing the navy yard steamer Emerald across the river; it is now said that the making of this alleged rope has been countermanded, the towing scheme having been definitely abandoned.

The model boat made by Major Urch for the Marine Bicycle company was placed in the store in Franklin block, corner of Congress and Vaughan streets, Wednesday evening of this week, where it will remain for a few days. The boat has been much improved by Major Urch during the summer and autumn months, a new adjustable seat, capable of being raised or lowered six inches, steel shaft, cranks and bearings, and an enlarged sail or awning, being the principal improvements. Much attention has also been paid to the construction of the model boat, to bring about the greatest possible speed, as well as to the beauty and general appearance of the craft. The inventor confidently expects a speed of nine miles per hour for the new boats in ordinary water.

On Wednesday of this week the schooner Golden Gate was loading with mackerel and salt fish at C. Morris Tredick's wharf; she was also to take in two hundred quintals of fish from the schooner Lucy, for the Boston market.

Terrible Accident.

Domestic accidents are common to women, and some of them are very serious. Mrs. Warner, of South Rondout, Ulster Co., N. Y., some weeks ago attempted to take from her child a pair of shears with which it was playing. A slight struggle ensued, in which the point of the shears entered Mrs. Warner's left eye, entirely destroying the sight. Her family physician did what he could, but intensely painful inflammation arose, which, by sympathy, threatened the loss of the other eye. Total blindness to a woman having the care of a household is an inestimable calamity. In this great trouble Mrs. Warner applied to that the well-known and skillful surgeon Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., who removed the injured eye by a very successful operation, setting aside all danger of further harm to the sight of the other eye. But, owing to pain and mental distress, her system needed atonic and restorative medicine. To do this work the doctor prescribed "Kennedy's Favorite Remedy," which sustained its reputation and laid a sure foundation of health.

Dr. Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" removes all impurities from the blood, regulates the Liver and Kidneys, Cures Constipation, and all diseases and weaknesses peculiar to females. It is for sale by all our druggists at One Dollar a bottle.

The eighth annual session of the State Grange, Patrons of Husbandry, opened in Manchester Dec. 20th, forty out of fifty-five granges in the state being represented. The election of officers took place on the 21st.

John Collins and Charles Wentworth, boys of Rochester, broke through the ice on Monday, Dec. 19th, and would have drowned but for the exertions of a man who reached them by the aid of a ladder.

At a meeting in Concord on the 20th inst., of the state board of equdization, to consider notices from several railroads that they are "aggrieved at the decision of the board" in the assessment of their taxes, and stating their intention to apply to the supreme court for an abatement of the same, such notice was given by the Concord & Portsmouth railroad, among others. The roads generally do not complain that their property is overvalued, but that other property in the state is very largely undervalued, the result of which is the same as though the roads were overvalued.

Six French Canadians, five of them named St. Pierre, (father, mother and three sons) and one whose name is not given, were arraigned in the police court at Great Falls, Dec. 17th, for larceny of about six hundred yards of cloth, together with yarn, waste, etc., from the cotton mills there. A plea of not guilty was entered, and after a hearing the whole party were ordered to recognize in $500 each for appearance at the February term of the supreme court for trial.

A lady of Dover, when coming out of the Unitarian church in that city on Sunday, the 18th inst., picked up a robin unable to fly because of the cold. It was taken to the lady's home, and after an hour in the kitchen appeared as well as ever. It will be kept in doors and cared for, at least until winter is over.

Gen. Cyrus Corliss of Plymouth, an old gentleman, fell from the high beams in his barn, Dec. 19th, breaking his shoulder and receiving other injuries that render his recovery doubtful.

Four lumbermen started to slide down the Mt. Washington railway, recently, on the boards which the workmen use in the summer for that purpose, but one of them lost control of his board, was thrown from the track, and received injuries which will probably prove fatal.

The store of Lewis Gray of Bartlett was burglarized recently. A party of French woodchoppers, working near, was suspected. Their shanty was searched, and the stolen goods found beneath the floor. A young fellow by the name of Farrel confessed the crime, and was sent to jail at Ossipee.

The sunshine of many a happy home has been turned into dark despair by the death of loved ones caused by neglected colds. Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup has saved innumerable lives by its timely use.

The Lancaster, flag-ship of the European squadron, was at Villefranche Nov. 26th, and would remain several weeks; the Galena and Quinnebaug were at the same place Dec. 19th; the Nipsic was on her way to Egypt on the 1st.

It is too bad to suffer with the agony inflicted by corns, when so simple a remedy as St. Jacobs Oil will stop it. Mr. George W. Hirman, Lonsdale, Pa., gives special praise to the great German remedy for its efficacy for this ailment and others too.

Passed Assistant Surgeon A. G. Cabell has been ordered to the Palos, Asiatic station, relieving Passed Assistant Surgeon Frank C. Dale, who is ordered home.

You are sick; well, there is just one remedy that will cure you beyond a possibility of doubt. If it's liver or kidney trouble, consumption, dyspepsia, debility. Wells' Health Renewer is your hope. One dollar. Druggists. Depot Thacher's.

How It Was!

At the battle of Gettysburg I was shot through the left leg and was sent to the hospital. The army surgeons relieved me but pronounced my case incurable. It discharged pieces of bone, and for years I have suffered with a running sore. I tried everything which my limited means would allow, and experienced no relief until I tried Sulphur Bitters. I am now almost well, and shall continue their use.—Old Soldier.

The annual report of the Maine Central railroad shows that the gross earnings for the year ending Sept. 30th, 1881, were $215,799.32 more than for the previous year.

"Pro Bono Publico."

It is a very remarkable fact, that while thousands of people refuse to read paid puffs of worthless nostrums, none skip over Dr. Swayne's little squib about his Ointment for itching piles that itch so much at night. The people well know that it is published for their benefit, in other words, is pro bono publico. May its far reaching effects be perpetuated to the end of time.

Rheumatism
Neuralgia, Sprains,
Pain in the Back and Side.

There is nothing more painful than these diseases; but the pain can be removed and the disease cured by use of Perry Davis' Pain Killer.

This remedy is not a cheap Benzine or Petroleum product that must be kept away from fire or heat to avoid danger of explosion, nor is it an untried experiment that may do more harm than good.

Pain Killer has been in constant use for forty years, and the universal testimony from all parts of the world is, it never fails. It not only effects a permanent cure, but it relieves pain almost instantaneously. Being a purely vegetable remedy, it is safe in the hands of the most inexperienced.

The record of cures by the use of PAIN KILLER would fill volumes. The following extracts from letters received show what those who have tried it think:

Edgar Cady, Owatonna, Minn., says:
About a year since my wife became subject to severe sinkening from rheumatism. Our relief was in the PAIN KILLER, which speedily relieved her.

I had been afflicted three years with neuralgia and violent pains of the stomach. The doctors at Westminster Hospital gave me my case in decrepit. I tried your PAIN KILLER, and it gave me immediate relief. I have resumed my strength, and am now able to follow my usual occupation.

G. H. Walworth, Saco, Me., writes:
I experienced incredible relief from pain in the side by the use of your PAIN KILLER.

E. York says:
I have used you PAIN KILLER for rheumatism, and have received great benefit.

Barton Sears says:
I have used PAIN KILLER for thirty years, and have found it a never-failing remedy for rheumatism and lameness.

It never fails to give relief in cases of rheumatism.

Phil. Gilbert, Somerset, Pa., writes:
From actual use, I know your PAIN KILLER is the best medicine I am get.

All druggists keep PAIN KILLER. Its price is so low that it is within the reach of all, and it will save many times its cost in doctors' bills. 25c., 50c. and $1.00 a bottle.

John B. Finch of Nebraska and Gov. St. John of Kansas have been making temperance speeches at Plattsmouth. An evening paper there vilified Mr. Finch, and he thereupon went to the office and thrashed the editor-in-chief and the local editor, and put the rest of the staff to flight.

The general assembly of Virginia is to pass a bill relieving a number of citizens of disability incurred under the anti-duelling law. Over forty names are mentioned in the bill, including the following, nearly all of whom incurred their disabilities during the late political canvass for state officers: H. H. Riddleberger, the newly-elected United States senator; Hon. Geo. D. Wise, member of Congress; Gen. Peyton Wise, Capt. John S. Wise, L. L. Lewis, United States district attorney, William C. Elam, editor of the Richmond Whig, and the prospective secretary of the commonwealth, Richard F. Beirne and Wm. Ryan of the editorial staff of the State, Capt. There is no questioning that animals should be cared for when sick, and Mr. Bard, a "boss" drayman, of Walnut street, Cincinnati, says in his long experience he has never known St. Jacobs Oil to fail in relieving the ailments and accidents to which horses are liable at all seasons of the year.

In Lima, N. Y., at one o'clock in the morning on the 21st inst., a dynamite cartridge was exploded under John Rumsey's hotel, blowing one side of the house to splinters. The explosion was heard four miles. No one was in the building at the time. The perpetrators are unknown.

A Woman's Experience.

NEW BLOOMFIELD, Miss., Jan. 2, 1880. I wish to say to you that I have been suffering for the last five years with a severe itching all over. I have heard of Hop Bitters and have tried it. I have used up four bottles, and it has done me more good than all the doctors and medicines that they could use on or with me. I am old and poor but feel to bless you for such a relief by your medicine and from torment of the doctors. I have had fifteen doctors at me. One gave me seven ounces of solution of arsenic; another took four quarts of blood from me. All they could tell was that it was skin sickness. Now, after these four bottles of your medicine, my skin is well, clean and smooth as ever. HENRY KNOCHE.

Esposito, the Italian brigand who was extradited from this country a short time ago, is on trial at Palermo. He denies all the charges except one.

Judge Men By Their Works.

A man is judged in this life by his works, and in this connection it may not be inopportune to add, that Dr. Swayne has accomplished more good through the medium of his Ointment for skin diseases, than has the school of physicians combined. A Great Blessing to Mothers and Nurses.

"Swayne's Teething Cure" for infants. This new theory and infallible remedy has saved the lives of thousands of children. When the child is in pain, or restless with its teeth shooting in its gums, simply rub the gums for two or three minutes with the "Cure." What little it may swallow will relieve colic, pain and flatulence, prevent fever, and avoid that painful operation of lancing the gums, which always makes the next tooth harder to come through and sometimes causes death. Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves and immediate relief and health to your infants. A very able medical writer, who enjoys a large and lucrative practice, says: "Rubbing the gums with a soothing lotion, is the only true method for children teething; poisonous drugs should never be introduced into their delicate stomachs." "Swayne's Teething Cure" is prepared only by Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia, and sold by all leading apothecaries at 25 cents a bottle.

A Louisiana sugar planter estimates the falling off in the crop at fully sixty per cent from last year.

The restoration to health of our child we considered very uncertain. When two weeks old she caught a cold; until eighteen months old she was not able to breathe through her nostrils, became emaciated, was a puny child. Upon using Ely's Cream Balm her difficulty is removed; she breathes freely and naturally. The neighbors consider it a wonderful restoration. MR. & MRS. J. M. SMITH, Owego, N. Y.

I have used Ely's Cream Balm and received great benefit, at present being entirely free from catarrh. Many of my friends have also been much benefitted by the Balm. What is claimed for this remedy I am fully convinced is true. CHAS. GREENE, Conductor N. Y., L. E. & W. R. R., Port Jervis, N. Y.

Price 50 cents.

Three New York "detectives" are held in $3000 each for trial, for hiring a woman of infamous character to compromise Simon Uhlman, from whom Mrs. Uhlman desires a divorce.

Portsmouth Chronicle.

FRIDAY, DEC. 23, 1881.

PUBLISHED EVERY MORNING (SUNDAYS EXCEPTED) AT PORTSMOUTH, N. H. Entered at the Post Office at Portsmouth, N. H., as second-class matter.

The "Jeannette"

Secretary of State Felinghuysen on the 21st inst. telegraphed to Mr. Hoffman, the United States charge d'affairs at St. Petersburg, to do everything possible in aid of the members of the Jeannette exploring expedition, and directing him to cable for whatever funds were needed.

A special despatch from the New York Herald correspondent at St. Petersburg, dated Dec. 21st, says: "The governor general of East Siberia, who happens to be at present in St. Petersburg, having received information of the arrival of the shipwrecked crew of the Jeannette in the region under his command, immediately proceeded to Gatschina and saw the emperor, who personally ordered that all supplies that were necessary for food, clothing, money and transportation should be placed at their disposal."

IRKUTSK, Dec. 21—2:05 P. M.—Jeannette was crushed by the ice in latitude 77.15 degrees north, longitude 157 degrees east. Boats and sleds made a good retreat to fifty miles northwest of the Lena river, where the three boats were separated in a gale. The whaleboat, in charge of Chief Engineer Melville, entered the east mouth of the Lena river on Sept. 17th. It was stopped by ice in the river. We found a native village, and as soon as the river closed I put myself in communication with the commandant at Boloemga. On Oct. 29th I heard that the first cutter, containing Lieut. DeLong, Dr. Ambler and twelve others, had landed at the north mouth of the Lena. The commandant at Boloemga sent instant relief to the whaleboat party, who are all well. Nindeman and Noras arrived at Boloemga on Oct. 29th for relief for the first cutter, all of whom are in a sad condition and in danger of starvation, and all badly frozen. The commandant at Boloemgh has sent native scouts to look for them, and will urge vigorous and constant search until they are found. The second cutter has not yet been heard from. Telegraph money for instant use to Irkutsk and Jakutsk. The list of people in the boats is as follows:

First cutter (safe) Lieut. DeLong, Dr. Ambler, Jerome J. Collins, William Nindeman, Louis Noras, Hans Erickson, Henry Knock, Adolph Dressler, Carl Gortz, Walter Lee, Nells Ivorson, George Boyd, Alexis, Ah Lorn.

The New York Tribune.

The prospectus of the New York Tribune for 1882 will be found in another column. The Tribune needs no commendation. As an authority in political, commercial and literary matters its reliability cannot be controverted, and it is too well established to require comment. The mantle of Horace Greeley has fallen upon worthy shoulders, and the Tribune's advocacy of the rights of the people in their persons and property is as fearless as in the days of its illustrious founder. Its able discussion of the leading questions of the day, its bright and fearless editorials, and its choice literary contents have combined to render it one of the most popular and valuable of the metropolitan journals, and its European reputation is excelled by no similar periodical on this side of the Atlantic.

News and Notes.

The aldermanic committee on the recount of the votes cast in Boston at the late election have completed the recount of the votes for mayor and aldermen, with the result that Dr. Green has 705 plurality over Palmer for mayor, and Charles V. Whitten is elected alderman in place of William Frost, who was declared elected by the original returns.

The recent seizure of smuggled watches in Montreal has brought to light the fact that officials of railways and the Pullman car company have been engaged in such transactions, and that an organized system of smuggling across the border has existed for some time.

Dr. Francis Guiteau, grandfather of the assassin, was a medical witness for the prosecution in the trial of one Alphous Hitchcock, for the crime of murder. The trial took place in the barn of a farmer, named Sylvanus Smalley, in the town of Sullivan, Madison county, N. Y., on the 4th of July, 1807, and was the first capital case tried in that county. Hitchcock's counsel set up the plea of insanity, and it was upon the testimony of Dr. Guiteau, as a medical expert, that the culprit was convicted and subsequently hanged.

George E. Sickles, aged ninety-two years and reported to be worth $12,000,000, father of Gen. Daniel E Sickles, was married in New York on the 21st inst. to Mrs. Mary S. Sawyer, a widow of forty.

The Vizina Consolidated Mining Co. of Tombstone, Arizona, has declared the usual monthly dividend of $20,000, also an extra dividend of $20,000, after paying these two dividends, amounting to $40,000, the company has as surplus over $100,000, sufficient for five monthly dividends. The product of the mine for November was 618 tons of ore, yielding $59,029 bullion value, or an average of $93.88 per ton. The stock is becoming active on the Mining Exchanges in New York, and at the present selling price its dividends are at the rate of about fifty per cent per annum.

Frederick A. Palmer, auditor of city accounts of Newark, N. J., confesses to stealing $125,000 of the city's money. He "manifests deep humiliation," it is a comfort to know.

Thomas J. Norton, a New York policeman, was murdered on the night of Dec. 18th while in the execution of his duty, by Bernard Fitzpatrick, another policeman, who was off duty, and carousing in a drinking saloon. The murderer is under arrest. His father is a prominent democratic politician, and an alderman-elect.

Two men were drowned in the lake, at East Saginaw, Mich., Dec. 20th. Two boys were drowned at Watertown, Wis., two more in Lake Winnebago at Fond du Lac, Wis., and two more at Pembroke, Ontario, Dec. 21st, all by breaking through the ice.

AROUND HOME.

Barnabee recently administered a merited rebuke to some ill-mannered people who started to leave the hall while he was singing, in Stoneham, Mass. He stopped short, and remarked: "There will be an intermission. I always make it a point never to disturb persons leaving the hall." The occasion for such a neat and pointed rebuke occasionally occurs in our own city, but more rarely than in any other small place we know of. Portsmouth audiences may lack enthusiasm, but they are not boorish.

The bill introduced in the senate by Mr. Rollins to fix the term of office of collectors of internal revenue, provides that hereafter collectors of internal revenue shall be appointed for a term of four years, and that the commissions of all collectors who shall have served four years or more, on the 30th of June, 1881, shall expire on that date. Should this bill pass, the movement to have a new collector of internal revenue in New Hampshire would be quieted for a time, but the question of Mr. Young's successor would be well out of the way when the next legislature considers who shall be chosen senators. The bill will probably not pass without opposition.

The treasurer of the Faith Home for Old Ladies acknowledges donations of five and ten dollars from two friends in this city; also five dollars from a friend in Massachusetts.

At the 74th annual meeting of the Strafford District Medical society, held in Dover on the 21st inst., Dr. Samuel C. Whittier of this city was elected president for the ensuing year; Dr. Charles A. Fairbanks of Dover was chosen secretary, and Dr. Charles H. Tufts of Dover treasurer. A number of interesting papers were read.

The Methodist society are making special efforts for the success of their Christmas festival on Saturday evening. In connection with the Christmas trees, will be performed the cantata of "Santa Claus" by a select corps of young ladies and gentlemen, and judging from the rehearsals we think it will be finely rendered. There will be no charge for admission, though we understand a collection will be taken to defray expenses.

Mr. Harry Lombard of this city recently lost a horse from the "pink-eye" disease. Many other horses are reported as being affected with the same complaint.

The schooner Paul Revere, of Gloucester, Mass., which collided with the schooner Mary S. Hontvet of this port on Jeffrey's, Dec. 16th, had to put into Gloucester for repairs. It was supposed at the time by the Hontvet's crew that the other vessel had only carried away her bobstay, but it appears that she damaged her stem and suffered other injuries in the collision. The two schooners were on the railway at Gloucester on Thursday last, side by side, receiving repairs, and it was said would be ready for sea in a few days.

Mayor Sise on Wednesday of this week stationed a police officer at the south pond, provided with a rope and boat hook, to extricate foolhardy boys in case they should break through the ice, which fortunately did not occur; a man or two with switches or sled-stakes, to keep the young fools off the ice, would be quite as effective. A large number of boys were skating on the north pond, Wednesday, but on Thursday afternoon there were no boys there, as there was no ice remaining. Several men in boats were spearing for eels in the north pond on Thursday.

THE

of New York,

F. S. WINSTON, President.

The Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York is THE OLDEST Company, with thirty-seven years of experience.

It is purely Mutual—without Capital or Stockholders to share in profits, and no bonuses allowed to Officers, Trustees, or Employees.

It confines its business to regular Life and Endowment Policies, and the granting of Annuities. No new or experimental plans.

Its premium rates are lower than any other regular Life Insurance Company, and Policy-holders participate in current earnings annually.

No Policy-holder need forfeit his Policy, provided three full annual premiums have been paid, and application is immediately made for a paid-up Policy, when necessity arises to do so.

Assets have more than doubled during the past ten years, notwithstanding the six years of financial panic.

Its Interest and Rent Receipts alone have exceeded its Death Claims TEN MILLIONS of Dollars ($10,000,000.)

It has issued over 220,000 Policies; insured over $700,000,000; received over $276,000,000 in premiums; and returned to Policy-holders over $162,000,000.

It can and does afford the cheapest, safest, and most satisfactory insurance investment of any Company in the world.

Is not this well styled a marvel in Finance? No more beneficent institution exists upon the face of the earth than this greatest of financial organizations, combining the greatest possible good for the greatest number with an expertness in financiering that is paralleled only by the sturdy integrity of its managers and the proud pre-eminence of its commercial, patriotic, and scientific record.

THE STATE TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION.

On Thursday the attendance was much larger than on the opening day, and the proceedings were watched with great interest. The first paper read was on "How to teach the multiplication table," by George E. Gay, of the English and Classical school at Concord, which was followed by a paper on "History" by H. P. Warren, principal of the State Normal school, and one on "Arithmetic—methods new and old," by G. C. Fisher, superintendent of schools in Dover.

At half-past one o'clock in the afternoon the association convened in business meeting, but adjourned to next day after appointing a committee consisting of Edward P. Sherburne, Mary E. Prescott, M. A. Bailey, Susie M. Cate, and A. E. Tuttle, to report officers for the ensuing year. The first paper read at the afternoon session was by E. C. Stimson, master of the Jones grammar school of Portsmouth, on "Arithmetic in grammar schools"—a most excellent essay, which attracted the closest attention of all present. Following this was a paper on "Notation, numeration, longitude and time, and fractions," by M. A. Bailey, master of the Keene high school. Mr. Bailey is a genius in arithmetic and the mathematical sciences, and gave excellent illustrations upon the blackboard of his method of teaching the subjects above named. Following his talk upon the foregoing topics, Prof. Quimby of Dartmouth college indulged in a little sparring with Mr. Bailey, which proved highly enjoyable to the audience, as both gentlemen were thoroughly booked up in the points under dispute.

At the evening session, the "Methods of teaching physics and chemistry" were discussed in an able manner by Prof. I. J. Osbun, of the Normal school at Salem Mass., his remarks being profusely illustrated by experiments, making this number of the programme one of absorbing interest.

Music—of the first order, of course—was rendered by Harlow's orchestra, the services of which excellent organization were generously volunteered; and Miss Grace Varrell, the "petite soprano," whose singing has always brought down the house on the few occasions in which she has appeared in public in this city, won enthusiastic recognition from the learned assemblage.

Among the prominent educators present on Thursday were Mr. Samuel W. Mason, supervisor of schools in Boston, J. W. Webster, principal of the Hancock school, Boston, D. W. Jones, principal of the Lowell school, Boston, Daniel A. Clifford of Manchester, C. E. Hussey, principal of the Rochester high school, and E. C. Burbeck of Nashua.

MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

In Board of Mayor and Aldermen, regular meeting, Thursday evening, Dec. 22d, Mayor Sise in the chair:

The records of last meeting were read and approved.

Bonds of Albert W. Parsons as police officer, constable and night watchman, were accepted.

An ordinance exempting the new works of Critchley & Whalley from taxation for a term of years, was referred to the committee on bills on second reading.

The Eastern Telegraph Co., chartered by the New Hampshire legislature last August, made application for leave to extend their telegraph wires from their line at or near the Eastern railroad station to some point near Market square. [The company are now operating a line over the Eastern railroad between Boston and Bangor, and desire to open an office conveniently located for business in this city; they are ready to begin business here as soon as their wires can be connected with a local office.] Henry H. Ham asked leave to sublet a portion of the premises occupied by him in the city building, to the company. The company offered to put up poles and paint them, and put on cross-pieces for the use of other lines if required by the city. Referred to the committee on streets, to report in one week.

Calvin Page, as attorney for heirs of Daniel H. Peirce and others, notified the city of damages accruing to the premises of complainants adjoining the south pond, from the overflowing of sewers leading into the pond, and asked prompt attention to the matter. Referred to the committee on sewers and drains, with the mayor added.

The mayor said there were several important suits pending against the city, and the solicitor was empowered to employ any additional counsel required to aid him in the defence.

Two vacancies were reported in the list of supernumerary watchmen.

Ald. Caswell advocated the amending of the ordinance relating to the cleaning out of vaults, so as to provide for the work being done only at night. The mayor strongly supported Mr. Caswell's view, and said the present method of conducting the business is a disgrace to the city—which is an unquestionable fact. A proposition looking to the carrying out of Mr. Caswell's view was rejected. A vote was passed authorizing the city marshal to arrest any person having a night-soil cart which slopped over—a power he possessed before, under the law relating to nuisances.

The mayor stated that a manufacturing company employing four hundred hands, which at one time thought of locating in this city, had given up the project as they could not be assured of a full supply of water, and he hoped the city government would take some action looking to a larger supply; that the president and directors of the Portsmouth Aqueduct Co. were willing to sell all their property and claims for the sum of $100,000, and $50,000 more might be required for improvements. He was authorized to bring this matter up, and now was the time to move, if a movement is to be made. After discussion, the matter was referred to Ald. Stavers, Green and Caswell, with the mayor added.

The question of what shall be done to abate the north pond nuisance was referred to Ald. Vaughan, Hartshorn and Noyes.

Concerning the foot-bridge to Freeman's point, the committee were granted further time to report.

Balloted for two supernumerary watchmen, without choice. Michael E. Long had four votes, John A. Snow one, J. A. Snow one, Thomas Watkins three. Laid over for one week.

Adjourned for one week.

THE NEW LOCAL HISTORY.

We are pleased to announce that the gentlemen who have been consulting with leading citizens of our city and county regarding the compilation and publication of an exhaustive history of Rockingham and Strafford counties, find a genuine and general interest manifested in the work. The matter will be compiled carefully from the very best of sources, and will comprise the geography, geology, aboriginal inhabitants, antiquities, first settlements, pioneers and incidents of pioneer life, organization of towns, (with all changes to 1882,) industrial interests, manufactures, the press, the bench and bar, medical profession, public institutions, and secret and benevolent societies, with special attention to local traditions, statistics, etc. The town histories are designed to be full and complete.

The work will be compiled under the general editorial supervision of Mr. D. Hamilton Hurd, who will be assisted by an able corps of writers. These gentlemen come to us with high recommendations from the press of New York and Connecticut as gentlemen of taste and culture who have had a large experience in this department of literary labor. They will be assisted by the best local talent which can be secured, and all attainable records will be carefully sear hed, all statistics revised, and every pains taken to secure accuracy and therefore permanent value for the work. The work will also embrace a history of the various regiments, companies and organizations enlisted from the county during the late rebellion, with names of officers and enlisted men, and an account of the part taken by each town in the raising of troops, etc.

The publishers are fortunate in having secured the services of Rev. James DeNormandie of this city and Rev. A. H. Quint, D. D. of Dover, and also of Gov. Charles H. Bell, who will contribute his mine of valuable matter concerning the legal profession of Rockingham and Strafford counties. A specimen of the publications of the house which will issue this history shows that their books are of an attractive and superior character, while the testimonials of their value from prominent men are abundant and satisfactory.

THE

New York Tribune.

"The Leading American Newspaper."

During the year 1882 The Tribune hopes to employ with increasing success the work and the methods which have won for it so large a measure of popular approval. It has attained, and means never to lose, the high standard of success which was set at its founder, the largest circulation among the best people. So large a circulation and one so widely distributed over the entire territory of the Nation has never been attained by any other newspaper in the United States. We accept this fact as the verdict of the American people upon the conduct and character of The Tribune. The position it occupies could never have been gained nor retained but by pre-eminent merit as a newspaper, as an organ of sound opinion, and an advocate of just public measures.

In short, The Tribune will, as heretofore, continue to be the medium of the best thought and the voice of the best conscience of the time; will keep abreast of the highest progress, favor the freest discussion, hear all sides, appeal always to the most enlightened intelligence and the purest morality, and refuse peremptorily to cater to the tastes of the prejudices of the ignorant.

The well-known special features of The Tribune will be carefully maintained. Its Agricultural Department will remain as it is, the fullest and best. The Household and Young Folks' Departments, the literary, scientific, and religious features, the standard market reports, will all be kept up and extended as opportunity may serve.

VALUABLE PREMIUMS.—The Tribune has never been equaled by any other paper in the permanent and substantial value of its premiums, and the extraordinary liberality of the terms upon which it has offered them to the public. We take pleasure in calling attention of all intelligent readers to the following offers:

The Library of Universal Knowledge, embracing Chambers' Encyclopædia complete, omitting only some of the cuts, with extensive additions by an able corps of American editors, treating about 15,000 additional topics, Bangsing Americanizing the entire work, adding to it over twenty-five per cent of the latest, freshest, and most valuable matter, the whole making fifteen handsome octavo volumes of six by 9 1-2 inches in size, averaging nearly 800 pages to the volume, printed in large type on good strong calendered paper, and neatly and substantially bound in cloth.

Charles Dickens' Complete Works.

An entirely new edition of the complete works of Charles Dickens, printed from new electrotype plates, large, clear type, on fine calendered paper, in 15 volumes, 5 1-2 by 7 1-2 inches in size, containing over 800 pages each, beautifully bound in cloth, gilt. This is one of the handsomest editions of Dickens' works ever issued. The price of the set of 15 volumes is $22.50. We can send either Dickens' works or the Library of Universal Knowledge, as above described, on the following terms:

FOR $15. { The Library of Universal Knowledge, or Dickens' Complete works, as above described, and the Semi-Weekly Tribune for 5 years to one subscriber.

FOR $20. { The Library of Universal Knowledge, or Dickens' Complete Works, as above described, and the Semi-Weekly Tribune 5 years to one subscriber.

FOR $19. { The Library of Universal Knowledge, or Dickens' Complete Works, as above described, and ten copies of the Weekly Tribune one year.

FOR $28. { The Library of Universal Knowledge or Dickens' Complete Works, as above described, and twenty copies of the Weekly Tribune one year.

The postage on the Library of Universal Knowledge, if sent by mail, will be 21 cents per volume; on Dickens' Works 15 cents per volume, which the subscriber will remit if wishing them thus sent. In packages, by express, they can be had much cheaper.

The Great Bible Concordance.

Analytical Concordance to the Bible, on an entirely new plan, containing every word in alphabetical order, arranged under its Hebrew or Greek original, with the literal meaning of each, and its pronunciation; exhibiting 311,000 references, 148,000 beyond Cruden; marking 30,000 various readings in the New Testament; with the latest information on Biblical Geography and Antiquities, etc. By Robert Young, LL. D., author of a new Literal Translation of the Hebrew and Greek Scriptures; concise critical comments on the same; a grammatical analysis of the minor prophets in Hebrew; biblical notes and queries; Hebrew grammar, etc.

This great work is comprised in one handsome quarto volume, containing 1,100 three-column pages, neatly and substantially bound in cloth.

It is at once a Concordance, a Greek, Hebrew, and English Lexicon of Bible words, and a Scriptural Gazetteer, and will be as valuable to student of the Holy Word as an Unabridged Dictionary is to the general reader. In fact, every home that has a Bible in it ought also to have this great help to Bible reading and study. It is as well adapted to the use of the common reader as to that of the scholarly clergyman.

We offer it, in connection with the Tribune, at the following remarkably low rates:

For $8 the Concordance and one copy of the Weekly Tribune five years, or five copies one year, to different addresses.

For $11 the Concordance and one copy of the Semi-Weekly Tribune five years, or five copies one year, or ten copies of the Weekly Tribune one year, to different addresses.

For $20 the Concordance and twenty copies of the Weekly Tribune one year, to different addresses.

The postage on the Concordance is 40 cts., which the subscriber will remit if wishing it sent by mail. Except for short distances the mail will be cheaper than the express.

UNABRIDGED DICTIONARIES.—We can furnish the new revised and enlarged edition of either Webster's or Worcester's Quarto Unabridged Dictionary and the weekly Tribune five years for $12; or the semi-weekly Tribune for $17. Remember that these are the new and enlarged editions of these great works.

A Beautiful Gift.

There ought to be in every home and every office in the land good portraits of James A. Garfield and his heroic wife. To enable every one to possess them, every subscriber to the Tribune who, with his subscription, will send 10 cents additional to pay for packing and postage, will receive as a present from the Tribune an elegant life-like portrait of the late President Garfield or his wife, whichever may be preferred, or for 20 cents additional we will send them both. These portraits the Tribune has had engraved in the best style, and they are perfect facsimiles of the best crayon likenesses ever taken of the martyr President and his noble wife. They are beautifully printed on fine plate paper, 22 by 28 inches in size, and will be ornaments to any parlor, library, or office.

Terrible Accident.

Domestic accidents are common to women, and some of them are very serious. Mrs. Warner, of South Rondout, Ulster Co., N. Y., some weeks ago attempted to take from her child a pair of shears with which it was playing. A slight struggle ensued, in which the point of the shears entered Mrs. Warner's left eye, entirely destroying the sight. Her family physician did what he could, but intensely painful inflammation arose, which, by sympathy, threatened the loss of the other eye. Total blindness to a woman having the care of a household is an irretrievable calamity. In this great Mrs. Warner applied to that the well known and skillful surgeon Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., who removed the injured eye by a very successful operation, setting aside all danger of further harm to the sight of the other eye. But, owing to pain and mental distress, her system needed a tonic and restorative medicine. To do this work the doctor prescribed "Kennedy's Favorite Remedy," which sustained its reputation and laid a sure foundation of health.

Dr. Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" removes all impurities from the blood, regulates the Liver and Kidneys, Cures Constipation, and all diseases and weaknesses peculiar to females. It is for sale by all our druggists at One Dollar a bottle.

Cabinet Making.

The following sample of cabinet making is from the Washington correspondent of the New York Tribune:

It has been known for some time that the president had under consideration the appointment of William E. Chandler, of New Hampshire, to a place in the cabinet, probably of secretary of the navy. It has been urged upon him by Grant men that it would have a good effect if some representative of the other wing of the party should be invited into the cabinet; that the man selected should be one whose record is so positive and aggressive that he would not be suspected of having surrended his individuality. The nomination of Justice Gray to the vacant place on the supreme bench, over Mr. Boutwell, and Chief Justice Doe of New Hampshire, would apparently leave the field clear, so far as locality is concerned, for Mr. Chandler's appointment as the New England member of the cabinet. But the New Hampshire delegation have made no request for it, as they earnestly supported Judge Doe, and the decision was reached suddenly, it is said.

It is not believed that the president has made up his mind upon the matter. On this hand a number of Grant men urge that the cabinet, as thus far made up, is not, as it is generally called, a third-term cabinet, but that Messrs. Frelinghuysen, Folger and Brewster have been in their various degrees such moderate Grant men that the president, instead of making concessions to the other side, would be justified in filling the remaining places with Grant men of a radical type.

The name of Ex-Senator Sargent is coming up again in the talk for secretary of the interior, but well-informed Californians do not know whether the report that he has started for the east in obedience to a summons is correct or not.

New Hampshire Items.

The officers of the State Grange, elected at Manchester on the 21st inst. for the next two years, are as follows: Master, G. A. Wason; overseer, F. L. Taylor; lecturer, J. D. Lyman; steward, G. C. Wason; Pomona, Mrs. Charles McDaniels; Flora, Mrs. Oscar F. Sargent; lady assistant steward, Mrs. Kimball Webster.

Prentiss Dow, aged twelve years, son of R. K. Dow of Claremont, shot himself recently, and has died from his injuries. It seems to have been a case of premeditated suicide.

The Lancaster National bank, with a capital of $125,000, will commence business Jan. 2d, 1882. George B. Eaton is president, Everett Fletcher vice president, and F. D. Hutchins cashier.

A Word to Mothers.

Mothers should remember it is a most important duty at this season to look after the health of their families and cleanse the malaria and impurities from their systems, and that nothing will tone up the stomach and liver, regulate the bowels and purify the blood so perfectly as Parker's Ginger Tonic, advertised in our columns.—Post: see other columns.

Answer This.

Is there a person living who ever saw a case of ague, biliousness, nervousness, or neuralgia, or any disease of the stomach, liver or kidneys, that Hop Bitters will not cure?

Miss Sophia Chute died in Byfield, Mass., Dec. 18th, at an advanced age. She was the last person of the name in the town, which was settled in 1651 by her ancestor, Capt. Chute.

"Pro Bono Publico."

It is a very remarkable fact, that while thousands of people refuse to read puff puffs of worthless nostrums, none skip over Dr. Swayne's little squib about his Ointment for itching piles that itch so much at night. The people well know that it is published for their benefit, in other words, is pro bono publico. May its far reaching effects be perpetuated to the end of time.

Rheumatism

Neuralgia, Sprains,

Pain in the Back and Side.

There is nothing more painful than these diseases; but the pain can be removed and the disease cured by use of Perry Davis' Pain Killer.

This remedy is not a cheap Benzine or Petroleum product that must be kept away from fire or heat to avoid danger of explosion, nor is it an untried experiment that may do more harm than good.

Pain Killer has been in constant use for forty years, and the universal testimony from all parts of the world is, it never fails. It not only effects a permanent cure, but it relieves pain almost instantaneously. Being a purely vegetable remedy, it is safe in the hands of the most inexperienced.

The record of cures by the use of PAIN KILLER would fill volumes. The following extracts from letters received show what those who have tried it think:

Edgar Cady, Owatonna, Minn., says:
About a year since my wife became subject to severe attacks from rheumatism. Our recent was to the PAIN KILLER, which speedily relieved her.

I had been afflicted three years with neuralgia and violent spasms of the stomach. The doctors at Westminster Hospital gave me any quantity of medicine. I tried your PAIN KILLER, and it gave me immediate relief. I have received my strength and am now able to follow my usual occupation.

G. H. Walworth, Saco, Me., writes:
I experienced immediate relief from pain in the side by the use of your PAIN KILLER.

E. York says:
I have used your PAIN KILLER for rheumatism, and have received great benefit.

Barton Seaman says:
Have used PAIN KILLER for thirty years, and have found it a never failing remedy for rheumatism and lameness.

Mr. Burditt writes:
I never fails to give me relief in cases of rheumatism.

Phil. Gilbert, Somerset, Pa., writes:
From actual use, I know your PAIN KILLER is the best medicine I can get.

All druggists keep PAIN KILLER. Its price is so low that it is within the reach of all, and it will save many times its cost in doctors' bills. 25c., 50c. and $1.00 a bottle.

Capt. A. A. Semmes has been ordered to duty as a member of a board to survey the gun deck of the training ship Portsmouth.

The flag ship Tennessee, while lying at anchor in New York bay on Thursday last, to take in powder, was cut down to the water's edge amidships by a steamship which ran into her during a thick fog. The ship will have to go into dock to make the needed repairs, which will take a month's time.

The "Granite Monthly" for December contains a sketch of Hon. Edw. Ashton Rollins, now of Philadelphia, accompanied by a fine steel engraving. The Bellamy river lawsuit, an ancient controversy, is written by Frank W. Hackett, Esq., of this city. There is also a letter from Mrs. Frances Wentworth, wife of Gov. John Wentworth, written to Mrs. Woodbury Langdon in 1770.

A life-size portrait of Ralph Waldo Emerson, uniform with the "Atlantic" portraits previously published of Longfellow, Bryant, Whittier, Lowell, and Holmes, has just been published. It represents Mr. Emerson not in his old age but in the full vigor of his manhood. To those who used to hear Mr. Emerson lecture twenty years ago or more this portrait will recall the marked features and the personal appearance of one who then was, and who still is, a leader in American thought and letters. It cannot fail to be very heartily welcomed by all those who have ever heard Mr. Emerson lecture, and by those who have read his writings, and must also be acceptable to those who, without personal knowledge of him or intimate acquaintance with his books, yet know that he is an honor to American literature, and sheds lustre upon the American name throughout the world. The portrait was prepared for subscribers to the Atlantic Monthly, to whom it is furnished for one dollar by the publishers, Houghton, Mifflin & Co., Boston.

Two Providence, R. I., boys, sons of George Dequog and Joseph Dooley, aged respectively seven and eight years, were drowned through the ice on Sidlwater pond, Dec. 17th.

How it Was!

At the battle of Gettysburg I was shot through the left leg and was sent to the hospital. The army surgeons relieved me but pronounced my case incurable. It discharged pieces of bone, and for years I have suffered with a running sore. I tried everything which my limited means would allow, and experienced no relief until I tried Sulphur Bitters. I am now almost well, and shall continue their use.—Old Soldier.

Edward Goodrich, fourteen years old, was killed while attempting to board a moving train at Webster, Mass., last Thursday.

By Universal Accord,

AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS are the best of all purgatives for family use. They are the product of long, laborious, and successful chemical investigation, and their extensive use, by physicians in their practice, and by all civilized nations, proves them the best and most effectual purgative Pill that medical science can devise. Being purely vegetable no harm can arise from their use, and being sugar-coated, they are pleasant to take. In intrinsic value and curative powers no other Pills can be compared with them; and every person, knowing their virtues, will employ them, when needed. They keep the system in perfect order, and maintain in healthy action the whole machinery of life. Mild, searching and effectual, they are especially adapted to the needs of the digestive apparatus, derangements of which they prevent and cure, if timely taken. They are the best and safest physic to employ for children and weakened constitutions, where a mild but effectual cathartic is required.

For sale by all druggists.

William H. Cartrell, seven years old, of Carlton, Mass., was drowned while skating, Dec. 21st.

Judge Men By Their Works.

A man is judged in this life by his works, and in this connection it may not be inopportune to add, that Dr. Swayne has accomplished more good through the medium of his Ointment for skin diseases, than has the school of physicians combined. "It's an ill wind that blows nobody good." What the physicians have lost Dr. Swayne has gained.

Immediate Relief to the Feet.

FROM tormenting Corns, Callosities, Ingrowing Nails, Bunions, Enlarged joints and all affections of the pedal extremities by DR. LAMPERT, Mechanics Block, 30 Congress street, up stairs, room 4. d1tocedtf.

A Great Blessing to Mothers and Nurses.

"Swayne's Teething Cure" for infants. This new theory and infallible remedy has saved the lives of thousands of children. When the child is in pain, or restless with its teeth shooting in its gums, simply rub the gums for two or three minutes with the "Cure." What little it may swallow will relieve colic, pain and flatulence, prevent fever, and avoid that painful operation of lancing the gums, which always makes the next tooth harder to come through and sometimes causes death. Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves and immediate relief and health to your infants. A very able medical writer, who enjoys a large and lucrative practice, says: "Rubbing the gums with a soothing lotion, is the only true method for children teething; poisonous drugs should never be in introduced into their delicate stomachs." "Swayne's Teething Cure" is prepared only by Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia, and sold by all leading apothecaries at 25 cents a bottle.

Three masked robbers entered the residence of Mrs. Mather at Norwood Park, near Chicago, on Wednesday morning, the 21st inst., and took from it $90 in money and a quantity of valuable jewelry, including two gold watches, some diamonds, etc. The ruffians brutally maltreated Mrs. Mather, her daughter, Mrs. Abbie, and Mrs. Shaw, a visitor.

"They said that I had the inflammatory rheumatism," observed Mr. Michael Redding, 326 S. Fifth street, Philadelphia, Pa., "and I thought so myself, from the way my foot began to swell and pain me. The suffering was terrible. Finally, after vainly using many so-called specifics, I applied St. Jacobs Oil, and a cure was made wonderfully soon.

Portsmouth Chronicle.

SATURDAY, DEC. 24, 1881.

[illegible] Portsmouth, N. H. [illegible] matter.

Be Careful—A Warning.

The State Board of Health on the 19th inst. issued from the office of the board in Concord the following seasonable warning:

"To the Public: It is evident, from the daily and weekly reports from different sections of the country, that small-pox is increasing in many places. A large proportion of the populous business centres shows from week to week that it is spreading; and within the past week it has been reported as having gained a foothold in our smaller cities, and from time to time cases are reported upon railway trains.

"Although it is not known that there is a single case within the limits of the state, yet it would not be surprising if it should appear at any time, even at several points simultaneously.

"Its appearance within the state would be a great misfortune, for the panic it is sure to cause paralyzes business within a certain radius, and entails large pecuniary loss to all within the municipal limits of its infection. The only safety is in vaccination and re-vaccination as a preventive, and isolation, if unfortunately it gains a foothold.

"It is important, therefore, that railway officials guard closely against the transportation of those having the disease, or who have been in such position as to have their clothing infected with the contagion; for a railway passenger car, once infected, becomes a prolific centre for the infection of others, as well as a difficult and expensive apartment to disinfect and cleanse.

"We would respectfully call the attention of school boards, and teachers, and prudential committees, to the fact that the law provides that all children must show satisfactory evidence that they have been properly vaccinated before entering school; and it behooves all to inquire specially at this time, and if any are found who have neglected to take this precaution, they should be required to do so without delay.

"To local boards of health, and selectmen, and physicians, we would call attention to Chap. 112 of the General Laws.

"We assure the public that in issuing this circular we desire it to be distinctly understood that it is not because we have any knowledge of its liability to break out in any particular locality, but, with its gradual spread in so many different places, it seemed to be a duty to warn the people of the state in order to prevent its invasion, if possible."

News and Notes.

In the new appointment of committees in the national house of representatives Mr. Briggs, who has served on the committee on naval affairs, is now chairman of the committee on expenditures in the war department. Mr. Hall, of this district, is upon the committee on revision of laws; and Mr. Ray, of the third district, is on the committee on invalid pensions. Mr. Reed of Maine is chairman of the committee on the judiciary. Mr. Harris of Massachusetts is chairman of the committee on naval affairs; M. G. M. Robeson of New Jersey, ex-secretary of the navy, is a member of this committee.

Miss Lelia Osgood Vanderbilt was born rich, and Dr. William Seward Webb was born lucky. They were married in New York on the 20th inst., and the bride's father, William H. Vanderbilt, presented his princely Fifth avenue residence to the pair, supplemented with a check for $250,000. And yet the old gentleman did not like the match that his daughter made, and surrendered reluctantly.

The smallpox has now got into the aristocratic quarter of Chicago, where a number of servants are down with the disease. There were 112 patients at the pest house on Thursday last. Deaths from all causes last week were 238, against 189 for same week last year.

Mr. Robeson, of New Jersey, has been appointed by the speaker of the national house of representatives as chairman of the committe on the expenditures in the navy department—a most appropriate selection. Mr. Robeson, unlike one of his successors, Mr. Thompson, always believed that money appropriated for public expenditure should be expended and not hoarded, and his experience in this respect will abundantly permit him to judge what may be needed to enable the navy to recover from the effect of a short system of democratic policy under the Thompsonian practice.

The Russian government has ordered everything possible to be done in aid of the Jeannette's crew, and to discover the missing boat.

Clinton, Ill., has the epizootic.

The flour mills at Deptford, Eng., have been burned. The damage is estimated at £90,000. Many persons are deprived of employment by the fire.

Prof. J. E. Hilgard has been appointed superintendent of the coast survey.

AROUND HOME.

Edgar Richardson, employed in the Swamscot Machine shop at South Newmarket, left the town on the 21st inst., having previously appropriated two suits of clothing belonging to Michael Kennedy and Richard Watterson, and also a watch and chain, jewelry, etc.

The Journal of Dec. 24th says: "Christmas comes on Sunday, but New Year's on Saturday this year." This is a remarkable case, no doubt, but it is as stated.

Mrs. Celia Thaxter is to pass the winter in Boston as the guest of Mrs. Annie Fields. Mrs. Thaxter's presence will be an acquisition that literary circles will prize.—Traveller.

The machinery and material of the shoe factory at the creek, recently sold, were bought by parties in this city, who are manufacturing the stock which was cut, after which work will cease there, at least for the present.

The gondola Edgar Weston came down the river on Thursday evening, and anchored off Peirce's island. On Friday morning she was blown ashore by the high wind, but with the assistance of the steamer James Sampson she reached the wharf with her cargo of twenty-five cords of wood, a part of it being landed without the assistance of the hands.

The steamer James Sampson was called into requisition last Thursday evening for towing the schooners Christie Campbell and Comet up to the wharf, they not being able to stem the strong ebb tide running at the time.

In the window of Mr. Levi Bird's paint shop on Water street is a very handsome model of a steamboat, made by Mr. Warren Keen for Laighton Bros. & Co. of the Shoals, and painted by Mr. Bird. The steamer to be built from this model is to be constructed at once, and will be seventy feet on the keel and seventy-five feet over all, and fifteen feet beam.

In the list of candidates voted for in the board of aldermen, Thursday evening, for supernumerary watchmen, we omitted the name of Wm. Lear, who had three votes.

The dredging company have finished their work around the Concord railroad wharves, and have no further contracts until spring.

The arrivals of fish on Thursday night and Friday were the schooners Hattie N. Reed, with 3000 lbs.; Mary E. Smith, 400 lbs.; Addie & Hattie, 3300 lbs.; Christie Campbell, 9500 lbs.; Northern Star, 4000 lbs.; Julia A, 800 lbs.; Comet, 400 lbs.

Mr. S. C. Shapleigh, of Eliot, recently sold to Moses Morrill of the same town a yoke of three-years-old steers which dressed 1609 lbs.

The schooner Triton, one of the brick-carrying fleet, has gone into winter quarters on the Kittery side of the draw-pier of Portsmouth bridge. The schooner Satellite, Adderton master, another bricker, has not yet given up running, and was on Thursday last lying at the bridge with a load of bricks on board for Boston, "waiting for a slant."

Mrs. Sargent of Kittery, who is the owner of some fine specimens of fowls, received from Liverpool on Tuesday of this week an addition to her collection, consisting of four boxes of an English breed of hens.

On Monday of this week a horse belonging to Lewis & Brooks, of Kittery, started from in front of their store at the foreside, and ran toward the navy yard bridge. When near Chase's meat shop he collided with Harlow Chapman's meat cart, capsizing it and scattering the meat all over the street. Both vehicles were badly smashed, and the two horses then had a spin across the navy yard bridge, Chapman's horse drawing the forward wheels of his team, the other horse having nothing with him but the harness and shafts. No person was hurt.

The military authorities of the state recognize the commendable efforts of the officers and men of Co. C, N. H. N. G., (Portsmouth City Guard.) to raise the efficiency of their organization to the highest attainable standard, and have lately issued to the company fifty knapsacks, fifty waist belts and belt-plates, the plates bearing the letter "C," forty-eight metallic bayonet-scabbards, and forty-eight patent-leather cartridge-boxes. Capt. James E. Ford, commanding the company, has returned to Adjt. Gen. Ayling all the old equipments and other useless material in his custody, so that the books of the company now show nothing but "live" property. The organization is now in better condition than ever before, as to the quality of the men, their attention to drill and discipline, and the condition of the uniforms, arms and accoutrements.

The Cape Ann Advertiser says considerable jealousy is manifested b the trawl fishermen in relation to the use of cod seines in Ipswich bay, and one night recently the schooner Alabama had one of her nets cut in five pieces, and a number of glass buoys cut away.

THE

Mutual Life Insurance Co.

of New York,

F. S. WINSTON, President.

The Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York is THE OLDEST Company, with thirty-seven years of experience.

It is purely Mutual—without Capital or Stockholders to share in profits, and no bonuses allowed to Officers, Trustees, or Employees.

It confines its business to regular Life and Endowment Policies, and the granting of Annuities. No new or experimental plans.

Its premium rates are lower than any other regular Life Insurance Company, and Policy-holders participate in current earnings annually.

No Policy-holder need forfeit his Policy, provided three full annual premiums have been paid, and application is made for a paid-up Policy, when necessity arises to do so.

Assets have more than doubled during the past ten years, notwithstanding the six years of financial panic.

Its Interest and Rent Receipts alone have exceeded its Death Claims TEN MILLIONS of Dollars ($10,000,000.)

It has issued over 220,000 Policies; insured over $700,000,000; received over $276,000,000 in premiums; and returned to Policy-holders over $162,000,000.

It can and does afford the cheapest, safest, and most satisfactory insurance investment of any Company in the world.

Is not this well styled a marvel in Finance? No more beneficent institution exists upon the face of the earth than this greatest of financial organizations, combining the greatest possible good for the greatest number with an expertness in financiering that is paralleled only by the sturdy integrity of its managers and the proud pre-eminence of its commercial, patriotic, and scientific record.

THE STATE TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION.

The session on Friday opened tardily, probably on account of the disagreeable weather, but when the meeting got down to its work, the essays and discussions arising therefrom were rarely instructive. The "Methods of teaching Geometry," by Mr. M. A. Bailey of Keene, provoked a vigorous tilt between Prof. Quimby of Hanover and several promi ent teachers of the convention, which was suddenly brought to a close by the gavel of the president, on account of the expiration of the hour assigned for the topic. "Arithmetic in the High school," by Mr. C. E. Hussey, of the Rochester high school, was an able paper, altho' the reading of it was somewhat faulty.

At the business meeting, which occurred immediately after the morning session, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President, Henry P. Warren, Plymouth;

Vice Presidents, Helen C. Knight, Portsmouth; one vacancy;

Councillors, James W. Patterson, Hanover; J A. N. Mallory, Winchester; M. A. Bailey, Keene; E. C. Burbeck, Nashua;

Secretaries, C. E. Buzzell, Portsmouth; G. E. Gray, Concord;

Treasurer, Elliott Whipple, Reed's Ferry;

State Editor, Daniel A. Clifford, Manchester.

Much talk ensued relative to the time of holding the next annual session, and it was finally voted that "the sense of the meeting is that it be held some time during the month of October."

Following this was presented an able essay upon "Methods of Instruction in the Physical Sciences," by E. G. Goodwin, principal of the Portsmouth high school. Mr. Goodwin briefly reviewed and criticised the text-book method of teaching, as well as the lecture method, and then proceeded to argue at some length for the general practice of the experimental or object method of teaching physics. He was enthusiastically applauded at the close of the reading of the paper, which indicated that he had struck the key-note of the prevailing opinion of the professors and teachers present.

The next subject discussed was that of "Interest, and methods of teaching it in our schools," by E. P. Sherburne of the Franklin street grammar school in Manchester. Mr. Sherburne's paper was well written and earnestly delivered. "Algebra" was next introduced, and a very learned exposition of the mission as well as the definition of the science was given by A. S. Hardy of Dartmouth college, a young professor of great promise in his department of learning. Prof. Quimby, the oracle of mathematics in the convention, followed Prof. Hardy in a learned disquisition upon algebraical terms and formulas.

The meeting closed on Friday evening with an address by Hon. J. W. Patterson, upon "Manhood."

Immediately following the address of Ex-Senator Patterson, Mr. Whipple, the treasurer of the association, arose and introduced a resolution of thanks to the Board of Instruction of this city for their courtesy and hospitality, to Mr. R. H. Perkins for his generous efforts in their behalf, to Harlow's orchestra, Miss Gracie Varrell and the select quartette for their fine music, and to the press of Portsmouth for their liberal advertising and extended reports of the meetings from day to day. The president stated that he could from personal knowledge declare the resolution to be the unanimous expression of the association, and so declared it to be a vote without dissent.

The convention has been presided over with grace and ability by the president of the association, Mr. E. B. Powers of the Nashua high school, by whose retirement from office this year the teachers lose a valued and efficient officer.

CHRISTMAS AND NEW YEAR'S.

The holidays are close at hand,—Christmas, with its good cheer and happy merry-makings, and soon New Year's with good resolutions and bright anticipations. The streets are full of people, evidently intent on keeping Christmas, or at least, observing Christmas customs. The stores where holiday gifts are to be found seem crowded with buyers. Little folks have great expectations. Old folks are full of plans for pleasant surprises, and every one seems glad to welcome this season of general enjoyment, friendly greeting and domestic reunion.

Now and then, there may be found those who reverence Christmas for its holy associations and its original significance, but the world at large scores it as a holiday, just as the iced punch drank on the anniversary of our national independence is imbibed because of a fondness for the ingredients, rather than on account of the historic significance of "the day we celebrate." But from whatever motive we may celebrate Christmas, always provided it is a good one, it is a pleasant return of a day of rest and social recreation to the sons and daughters of toil; a season when the busy world, in some of its vocations, pauses; and the machinery of active life has an off day, when, according to the old lines—

"At Christmas play, and make good cheer,
For Christmas comes but once a year."

The observance of Christmas seems to be much increased of late in this part of the country, as it has come to be not only a legal but an actual holiday, more especially in large places.

Next New Year's will begin on Sunday—a good time to commence regular church going, to leave off dropping punched coin in the boxes, to begin to keep good resolutions, to subscribe and pay for the newspaper—in fine, to do and perform what one resolved to do last January, and has omitted since to recall.

For our kind readers, it seems almost unnecessary to wish "A Merry Christmas,"—the class of people who constantly read our paper can hardly experience other than a happy season this period,—but for them all, including our new patrons for '82, the CHRONICLE AND GAZETTE heartily wishes "A Happy New Year."

POLICE COURT.

FRIDAY, Dec. 23d; Batchelder, J.

Simeon Pickering was up for drunkenness, which was proved against him; but he pleaded to be let off, and was allowed to depart on probation, on signing the pledge.

RAILROAD LITIGATION.

Hon. Wm. E. Chandler has filed in the office of the clerk of the Circuit Court of the United States in this city, the answer of Messrs. Hale and Colony in the suit of Bunce, the Boston & Lowell railroad, and others, against the Manchester & Keene railroad and its late and present trustees, and Messrs. Hale, Senator Frye, and others.

The answer is quite lengthy, and recites in a detailed manner the unfortunate financial predicament of this railway project. It denies the legitimate relations of some of the parties, plaintiff and defendant, whose names, the answer asserts, the counsel for the plaintiff has used as nominal plaintiffs, and that the suit is simply one of the Boston & Lowell and the Nashua & Lowell railroad. The latter road holds $112,000 of bonds procured from F. A Brooks, representing the Nashua & Lowell R. R., by reason of a lease of the N. & L. to the B. & L. R. R

The answer sets out the litigation in the supreme court of this state, and the orders and decrees therein, and contends that that court had, and still has, jurisdiction of the case and of this property, and this is binding upon all bond holders; that Mr. Brooks has appeared and been fully heard in the state court, and that this proceeding is simply an attempt to try over again questions already settled concerning the title to this property; and that the filing of this bill and service of process upon the defendants, requiring them to answer therein, and subjecting them to be harassed thereby, is a gross abuse of the process of the court, which in justice to the defendants and out of regard to the state court should not be tolerated.

The answer concludes with a severe criticism upon Mr. Brooks, for whom Mr Chandler evidently entertains not a very high estimate, judging by his assertions in the paper which has been filed in this case.

The Wilkinsons (Charlie and Lillie) are to appear in Music hall Dec. 31st, in a new comedy drama written especially for them by E. A. Locke, entitled "Priscilla the Cherub," supported by their own company.

The schooner Cocheco, late of this port, is at New York discharging shot and shell taken on board at Washington. She is to be commanded by Capt. Richard H. Seaward of Kittery Point, and will leave New York soon for a southern port.

Mr. E. C. Wood, proprietor of the Hoyt hair-cutting rooms at No. 26 Congress street, over Freeman's oyster house, has secured the services as assistant of Mr. George Hersey, formerly with Mr. S. A. Preble of this city, but for several years past proprietor of a hair-dressing saloon in Gloucester, Mass.

Mr. Edward P. Ricker, of Poland Springs, Me., of the firm of Hiram Ricker & Sons, was in this city on Friday last, on a flying visit to his old friends, of whom there are many in Portsmouth, and all of whom are ever pleased to greet him. He passed the night with the family of the late Mayor Dearborn, who spent so many summers at Mr. Ricker's house at Poland Springs. He was returning from Boston, whether he had been for the purpose of contracting for electric lights, steam elevators, etc., for the hotels at Poland Springs, which will soon vie with the oldest summer resorts for a reputation for supplying all the modern conveniences and improvements. While here Mr. Ricker called on Landlord Hilton, of the Rockingham and Wentworth houses, who is popularly supposed to know all there is to be known about "how to keep a hotel."

The lecture before the Teacher's Institute on Thursday evening by Prof. I. J. Osbun, of the Salem Normal school, upon the "Methods of teaching physics and chemistry," was particularly entertaining and instructive. The lecturer introduced a number of simple experiments to illustrate his points, and elicited frequent applause by the success of his tests with objects that are familiar to everyday life. But we would add here parenthetically, what perhaps few even of the resident part of the audience knew, that similar experiments are being made at our Portsmouth high school almost every day, and have been for some months past. So while we applaud foreign talent, which is well, let us not forget our home ability.

It is reported that Alvah C. Amazeen, the well known hack driver, has purchased of Wm. F. Fernald the stock and interest in the stable of the late Woodbury Locke owned since the latter's decease by Mr. Fernald.

The schooner Adeliza was hauled up at Robinson's wharf on Thursday last, to spend the winter.

Prices of Beef Cattle per 100 lbs. live weight—Extra quality $6 62 1-2 to $7 00; first quality $6 00 to $6 37 1-2; second quality $5 37 1-2 to $5 75; third quality $4 37 1-2 to $5 12 1-2; poorest grades of coarse oxen, bulls, etc., $3 12 1-2 to $4 25.

Country Hides 7 1-2c per lb.
Country Tallow 5c per lb.
Calf Skins 12 1-2c per lb.
Sheep and Lamb Skins 75c to $1 25 each.

There was more activity in this market this week than there was one week ago. The quality of the cattle in market from the west was of full as good grade, and prices realized for them about the same as those of our last quotations. The supply of cattle in market, although light, was full as large as the demand required.

Working Oxen—Workers have been slow of sale for several weeks and the supply brought in although not large, full as much as the demand required. We quote sales 1 pr, girth 6 ft 4 in, live weight 2450 lbs; 1 pr, girth 6 ft 9 in, live weight 2800 lbs, for $220 the two pairs; 1 pr, girth 6 ft 7 in, live weight 2300 lbs, $160; 1 pr, girth 6 ft 10 in, live weight 2800 lbs, $125; 1 pr, girth 6 ft 6 in, live weight 2500 lbs, $160; 1 pr, girth 6 ft 3 in, live weight 2100 lbs, at $85.

Milch Cows—Extra $55 to $75; ordinary $30 to $50; springers $18 to $65; farrow cows $13 to $28 per head. Prices for cows have declined, especially for common grades; extra cows are in fair demand; we quote sales of 22 milch cows at $34 to $42 each; 11 cows and springers at $35 to $50 each; 12 do at $25 to $30 per head; 9 springers for $90; 2 do $70.

Store Cattle—Yearlings $10 to $14; two year olds $15 to $28; three year olds $25 to $47. Prices for small cattle depend much upon their value for beef.

Sheep and Lambs—The supply from the west and Maine has been light. Western sheep and lambs cost landed at Brighton from 5 1-4 to 6 1-2c per lb live weight.

Swine—Prices for fat hogs remain unchanged at 6 1-2 to 7c per lb live weight. Store pig trade is light at prices ranging from 7 to 16c per lb live weight.

Terrible Accident.

Domestic accidents are common to women, and some of them are very serious. Mrs. Warner, of South Rondout, Ulster Co., N. Y., some weeks ago attempted to take from her child a pair of shears with which it was playing. A slight struggle ensued, in which the point of the shears entered Mrs. Warner's left eye, entirely destroying the sight. Her family physician did what he could, but intensely painful inflammation arose, which, by sympathy, threatened the loss of the other eye. Total blindness to a woman having the care of a household is an irretrievable calamity. In this strait Mrs. Warner applied to that the well-known and skillful surgeon Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., who removed the injured eye by a very successful operation, setting aside all danger of further harm to the sight of the other eye. But, owing to pain and mental distress, her system needed a tonic and restorative medicine. To do this work the doctor prescribed "Kennedy's Favorite Remedy," which sustained its reputation and laid a sure foundation of health.

Dr. Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" removes all impurities from the blood, regulates the Liver and Kidneys, Cures Constipation, and all diseases and weaknesses peculiar to females. It is for sale by all our druggists at One Dollar a bottle.

No. 4 Bulfinch Street, Boston, Mass.

N. B.—The author may be consulted on diseases requiring skill and experience.

The "Art Amateur" for January gives thirteen large pages of designs for decorative art work, including a "chrysanthemum" plate and a portrait plaque by Camille Piton; a fine plaque and two tiles of birds and flowers, a charming fan design of cupids and lovers, and a numerous array of embroideries, monograms and church decorations. There are also two pages of Salmagundi club drawings and holiday book illustrations. Messrs. Satterlee and Bricher furnish clever costume sketches; the Philadelphia artists' exhibition is reviewed and illustrated; and "Doulton ware," "The China of our grandmothers," and "The Sgraffiti of the Corsi palace" are also the subjects of text and illustration. Among other valuable articles are those on "Artists' views on woman's dress," "Art-value of photography," "Painted dresses and lace," "Correct principles in furniture," "Hanging and framing pictures," and "Industrial art for women." Price per annum, $4; single copies, thirty-five cents. Montague Marks, publisher, No. 23 Union square, New York city.

"Julia Reid," by "Pansy;" price $1.50; published by D. Lothrop & Co., Boston. This is a continuation of the "Estie Reid" series by "Pansy," who as an author of the best class of Sunday-school library books has no rival. Her Estie Reid and Chautauqua Girls series are models in that important line of literature, and should be placed in every family where there are children.

"Leavitt's Farmer's Almanac," No. 86, for 1882, is published by Edson C. Eastman of Concord. This standard annual publication has, as usual, a reliable statement of the terms of all the courts in New England. The preface is by Dudley Leavitt,—who died long since, but it bears a fac simile of his signature, which is like that of John Phenix, easily recognizable because written by one of his friends." Sold at all the bookstores.

"The Tempter Behind," by John Saunders; D. Lothrop & Co., publishers; price $1.25. A new book by the author of "Abel Drake's Wife" is sure to be in demand, and will be read with no little interest by the many admirers of that popular story.

The "New Hampshire Register" and business directory for 1882 is published by the White River Paper Co. at White River Junction, just across the Connecticut river in Vermont. The Register has a good map of New Hampshire and Vermont, a business directory of every town in New Hampshire, alphabetically arranged, political information, lists of legislative officers, state institutions, railroads, newspapers, societies, congressional, executive and other goverment officers, commissioner of deeds, and many other kinds of information carefully compiled and conveniently arranged, which make this a valuable and convenient book of reference. For sale at all the bookstores in Portsmouth, and by Geo. E. Lane at Exeter.

"Stories for Language Lessons," a reading pastime for little beginners; price 50 cts.; D. Lothrop & Co., publishers. We should think this would be one of the most successful books yet published for the little ones.

It is the fashion for many people to neglect nature's laws and blame Providence for the result. A favorite thing with them is to neglect a cough or cold instead of using that unfailing means of relief, Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup. 25 cents a bottle.

Death-rattle insurance companies have placed $100,000 upon the life of Edwin Quick, aged eighty years, of Crawfordsville, Ind. The latter is indignant, and threatens to prosecute the policy holders.

His Ignorance Cost me $150.00.

I was sick abed for three months. The doctor said I had prolapsus uteri, which was untrue. He didn't try to cure me but wanted to make $1.50 every day. My uncle is a druggist, and he told me to turn the doctor off and try Sulphur Bittery. I did so, and five dollars worth of Sulphur Bitters cured me of general weakness and debility.—Mrs. S——, New Haven.

Dr. Hugh Nelson of Baltimore was arrested at Chicago, Dec. 21st, on a charge of malpractice and murder. The alleged victim is a young lady of high connections from Savannah, Ga., who died in a Baltimore hotel a few weeks ago. Dr Nelson says blackmail is at the bottom of his arrest.

"Pro Bono Publico."

It is a very remarkable fact, that while thousands of people refuse to read paid puff of worthless nostrums, none skip over Dr. Swayne's little squib about his Ointment for itching piles that itch so much at night. The people well know that it is published for their benefit, in other words, is pro bono publico. May its far reaching effects be perpetuated to the end of time.

Rheumatism

Neuralgia, Sprains,

Pain in the Back and Side.

There is nothing more painful than these diseases; but the pain can be removed and the disease cured by use of Perry Davis' Pain Killer.

This remedy is not a cheap Benzine or Petroleum product that must be kept away from fire or heat to avoid danger of explosion, nor is it an untried experiment that may do more harm than good.

Pain Killer has been in constant use for forty years, and the universal testimony from all parts of the world is, it never fails. It not only effects a permanent cure, but it relieves pain almost instantaneously. Being a purely vegetable remedy, it is safe in the hands of the most inexperienced.

The record of cures by the use of PAIN KILLER would fill volumes. The following extracts from letters received show what those who have tried it think:

Edgar Cady, Oratonna, Minn., says:
About a year ago my wife took a chill to severe exposure from rheumatism. One recommended to her PAIN KILLER, which speedily relieved her.

Charles Powell writes from the Sailors' Home, London:
I had been afflicted three years with neuralgia and violent rheumatic cough. The doctors at Westminster Hospital gave me up as incurable. I tried your PAIN KILLER, and it gave me immediate relief. I have persisted my at work, and am now able to follow my usual occupation.

G. H. Walworth, Saco, Me., writes:
I experienced incomparable relief from pain in the side by the use of your PAIN KILLER.

E. York says:
I have used your PAIN KILLER for rheumatism, and have received great benefit.

Barton Seaman says:
Have used PAIN KILLER for thirty years, and have found it a never-failing remedy for rheumatism and lameness.

Mr. Burditt writes:
It never fails to give relief in case of rheumatism.

Phil. Gilbert, Somerset, Pa., writes:
For a serious one, I know your PAIN KILLER is the best medicine I can get.

All druggists keep PAIN KILLER. Its price is so low that it is within the reach of all, and it will save many times its cost in doctors' bills. 25c., 50c. and $1.00 a bottle.

THE UNLOVED WIFE.

By Mrs. E. D. E. N. SOUTH WORTH.

CHAPTER I.

Sir Knight, of the fair mantle,
Tell me who the dark or bright,
Or little loved, or loved aright,
Is the lady of my lady.

E. B. BROWNING.

It was a splendid spectacle, that masquerade ball which was given as the valedictory of the old and the salutary of the new year, at the opening of one of the most brilliant seasons our national capital had ever seen.

A great war had ended.

A renowned military commander was at the head of our government, with a council selected from among the most eminent statesmen of the nation, and a diplomatic corps of the most distinguished ministers from foreign countries.

Certain illustrious personages of royal rank or lineage—a British emperor, a Russian grand duke, and a Bourbon prince—were among the transient and honored guests of the city.

Besides these, there were gathered at the capital the usual winter multitude of noted politicians, financiers, authors, artists, beaux, beauties, leaders of fashion and queens of society.

Conspicuous among these bright lights of the world, were two who were termed the "lion," and the other the "belle" of the season.

They were both young, handsome, gifted and one was wealthy.

The name of the first mentioned was Tudor Hereward. He was an accomplished scholar, an eloquent orator, a rising statesman, and although but twenty-seven years of age, he was already an able party leader in the national House of Representatives. In person he was tall, fair and stately.

His dress was always faultlessly neat, and even fastidiously dainty.

His manners were reserved and cold, except when he was warmed up in debate on the floor of the House of Representatives, when he would often seem to be transfigured, and inspired with a splendid and burning eloquence. Men predicted for him an illustrious future. He was now, as has been said, the "lion" of the season.

The "belle" of the winter was Leda Von Kirschberg, the only child and heiress of Jacob Von Kirschberg, head of the great banking house of that name.

She was a beautiful, stately blonde, with a brilliantly blooming complexion, sparkling, purplish blue eyes, a small aquiline nose, pouting ruby lips, and shining, rippling auburn hair.

Her dresses were the happiest "inspirations" of Worth and of Pingen, and the envy and despair of her rivals. Her manners were at once dignified and gracious.

So much for the social status and personal appearance of the "lion" and the "belle" of that resplendent scene and season.

To say that nearly all the young ladies were more or less infatuated with the "lion," and that quite all the young men were in love with the "belle," would be but a faint statement of the situation.

And that these two were utterly devoted to each other was too apparent to all.

But ah! for "the course of true love"—there was an insurmountable obstacle in the way of its happy termination in marriage.

The belle of the season was a betrothed maiden!

The fact was not generally known, for it had not been ostentatiously announced in the society column of the newspapers, but Miss Von Kirschberg was really engaged to be married to Mr. Nicholas Bruyin, a millionaire, much richer and very much older than her own father.

So you see!

The ancient bridegroom-expectant had not come with the widowed father and mother-less daughter to Washington, so that few in the city knew of the great man's existence, and none knew of his relation to the beauty and heiress.

Least of all did Tudor Hereward, her devoted knight, suspect the truth. For if he had done so, he sure that his fine sense of honor would have forbidden him to trespass on the sacred rights of the betrothed lover by marked attentions to the betrothed maiden.

Nor did Tudor Hereward was ignorant to seeking and succeeding in winning the impassioned heart of Leda Von Kirschberg.

Why she had concealed the fact of her marriage engagement, and why she had encouraged and even invited the exclusive attentions of Mr. Hereward, is perhaps not difficult to understand.

In the first instance it was probably nothing more than vanity prompted her to seek to attract and monopolize the attentions of the most brilliant society man at the capital. Possibly she meant no harm at all, and had an ultimate object in view. But she was playing at "fitting" plays with fire.

Before she was well aware of the truth she had not only captivated the famous statesman, but she had irrevocably lost, to him, her own heart!

But that she had no intention of giving him her hand was soon quite apparent.

The night of the last day in the old year, the night of the masquerade ball, given by Senor S., in his splendid new mansion in the northwest quarter of the city, was destined to decide their fate.

Miss Von Kirschberg and Mr. Tudor Hereward were, of course, among the invited guests.

He took no character. It would not have been in harmony with his proud, fastidious nature to play any part, or, at least, any conspicuous part in such a masquerade.

He merely covered his usual evening dress with an impenetrable black domino of fine cashmere, and his handsome face with a black mask of fine velvet.

She—by some subtle sympathy divining his thoughts and intentions on the subject—also eschewed the queens, gipsies, peasants, nuns, and nights and mornings, into which the ladies would try to transform themselves for one evening only, and over her dress she wore a white silk domino, and over her face a white mask of satin and lace.

Neither had received any intimation of the other's disguise, yet the same subtle sympathy which had directed their costume for the evening brought them together through the immense crowd of maskers that filled all the reception rooms, dancing rooms, supper rooms, and conservatories, and overflowed into the halls, balconies, piazzas, and even into the glass-roofed winter garden on the grounds.

Dazzling light and deafening music were streaming through every window of the crowded mansion when the Black Domino, our hero, passed out of the conservatory, entered the winter garden, and looked about him.

Here were no lighted lamps, for the moonshine pouring in through the glass roof flooded the wonderful, beautiful scene with a soft, bright radiance.

The Black Domino stood peering down the lovely walks, bordered with evergreens and hardy roses in full bloom. His eyes were searching for the "swan" as he mentally called a lovely, white form whom he had been watching all the evening, and whom he had seen glide through the crowded room out of the house and in the direction of the winter garden.

He had followed her slowly and with difficulty, for he could not slip through a "jam" as easily as she had done.

Now, in this freer space and purer air, he hoped to find her.

But she was nowhere to be seen. There seemed to be no one in the garden.

Nevertheless, he walked down between the hedges of blooming roses until he saw, in a corner of the rear hedge, an arbor of climbing roses, in the midst of which his eyes caught a gleam of silvery raiment.

He hastened directly to the spot, and found her there.

She was reclining on the rustic seat, and had taken off her mask for air, revealing the fair, proud face of Leda Von Kirschberg.

He had not expected this revelation of her identity, and he felt that his presence at this moment might be considered an inexcusable intrusion upon the privacy of the lady.

"Leda," he said, deprecatingly, as he stood before her and removed his own mask, "please to pardon my indiscretion, but I have been trying to make an opportunity for speaking with you all the evening—in fact, all the day—but have not succeeded even in seeing you until tonight."

"Tudor, sit down here for a little while. The rooms were so warm and the crowds so dense that I felt like suffocating; I came out here to unmask and inhale a breath of fresh air," she smilingly made room for him beside her.

"I am very glad you did so! I presumed to follow you. Do you forgive me for my presumption?" he inquired, as he bowed and took the offered seat.

"That depends," she answered archly. "How could you know me, to follow me? Or were you, perhaps, personating an average white domino that had caught your flitting fancy?"

"How could I know you?" he repeated, gravely, taking her hand and fixing his eyes on her lovely face—"How could I know you? By the same simple, universal law of nature through which I know myself—for you are my sweeter, purer, higher self! Leda, my queen, do you imagine that any disguise could hide you from my knowledge? My heart would always recognize you, Leda!"

"Oh, Mr. Hereward!" she murmured in a low, distressed tone, whose meaning he could not perceive, for he went on to plead.

"I have been seeking you for many hours, my love, my queen! Not to tell you in set speech that which my whole life in your dear presence has been telling you ever since we first met, and in that meeting recognized each other! Ah, lady mine! Ever since that sacred moment of meeting and mutual recognition, I have been tempted to believe in the old heathen myth, that man and woman were originally one being; but that Jove, in a rage, cleft them in two, leaving the halves to seek each other sorrowing through all the ages! To seek in vain—as we see by all the misassorted couples in this lower world—except in such happy cases as ours; for, sweet lady, I have found my completion in you and you yours in me. And we know it now!"

"Oh, Mr. Hereward!" she moaned, in an almost inaudible tone.

"Thus, dear Leda, I have not followed you here to tell you that which you feel and know so well, but only to ask your permission to speak, at once, to your good father and invoke his blessing on our betrothal. But even this I scarcely need to mention—for surely I know I have your sanction for it!"

"Oh, Mr. Hereward! Pray, pray do not talk to me in this manner!" she moaned, in agitation, as she withdrew her hand from his fond clasp and covered her white face.

He gazed on her in surprise and uneasiness, yet scarcely taking in the full meaning of her words.

"But why? Why may I not speak to you in this way? Why, Leda, Why?" he inquired, trying to take her hand again.

She drew it away as she faltered:

"Oh, Mr. Hereward! Because—because we are only friends! And we can never be more to each other than friends! Though I hope," she added, pleadingly, "that we may always be just such dear friends as we are and have been! Shall we not?" she prayed, dropping her hands and raising her eyes appealingly to his stern, set look.

He met her glance, he gazed on her white cheeks and trembling form, fixedly, incisively, with incredulous amazement and indignation in every feature of his firm, handsome face, for no part of her previous demeanor towards him had prepared his mind for this unexpected repulse.

"Miss VonKirschberg, how is this? It cannot be that I hear you aright!" he said.

"Ah, yes, you do, Mr. Hereward! You hear me aright," she sighed.

"And we can be no more than friends?" he said, drawing in a hard breath. "Is this true?"

"Oh, yes Mr. Hereward! It is true. And it is heart-breaking!" she moaned, in a voice full of tears.

"Leda! In the name of Heaven! What do you mean? Explain yourself, I implore you!" he urged in an agony of sorrow, anxiety, and confusion.

"I mean—I mean—Oh, Tudor! My heart is broken!" And she dropped her head on her bosom and again covered her face with her hands.

"Leda! Leda!" he cried with great anguish.

"Oh, Tudor! Our friendship has been so precious, so delightful to me! And—and—all our communion has been so improving, purifying, elevating to my soul. I am so much less vain, selfish, and frivolous than when you first met me, the spoiled child of fortune. Our precious, delightful friendship has saved and redeemed me! And—and—I pray that I may enjoy it forever. But—but—it must be only friendship," she said, while heavy, sobbing sighs shook her bosom and streams of tears forced themselves through the slender fingers that covered her face.

"Leda!" he exclaimed, in bitter pain, "you know my love! my hopes! my aspirations! And you let me on to the brink of this humiliating overthrow. Ah! how cruelly and bitterly you have deceived me!"

"Oh, do not reproach me! Do not break a bruised and aching heart! If I have deceived you it was because I had first deceived myself. What knew I of my own untried nature? Nothing, or next to nothing—when we first met!"

"Leda! Leda!"

"Let me speak! You have charged me and you must hear me!"

"Speak, then!" The above we publish as a specimen chapter; but the continuation of this story will be found only in the N. Y. Ledger. Ask for the number dated January 7, which can now be had at any news office or book-store. If you are not within reach of a news office, you can have the Ledger mailed to you for one year by sending three dollars to Robert Bonner, publisher, 180 William street, New York.

A Great Blessing to Mothers and Nurses.

"Swayne's Teething Cure" for Infants. This new theory and infallible remedy has saved the lives of thousands of children. When the child is in pain, or restless with its teeth shooting in its gums, simply rub the gums for two or three minutes with the "Cure." What little it may swallow will relieve colic, pain and flatulence, prevent fever, and avoid that painful operation of lancing the gums, which always makes the next tooth harder to come through and sometimes causes death. Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves and immediate relief and health to your infants. A very able medical writer, who enjoys a large and lucrative practice, says: "Rubbing the gums with a soothing lotion, is the only true method for children teething; poisonous drugs should never be introduced into their delicate stomachs." "Swayne's Teething Cure" is prepared only by Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia, and sold by all leading apothecaries at 25 cents a bottle.

W. H. Trescott and Walker Blaine arrived at Panama per steamer Colon from New York, and sailed for Callao on the afternoon of the 15th inst., on board the United States steamer Lackawanna. Intelligence reached them there of the death of Gen. Kilpatrick, minister of the United States in Chili.

Judge Men By Their Works.

A man is judged in this life by his works, and in this connection it may not be inopportune to add, that Dr. Swayne has accomplished more good through the medium of his Ointment for skin diseases, than has the school of physicians combined. "It's an ill wind that blows nobody good." What the physicians have lost Dr. Swayne has gained.

Portsmouth Chronicle.

MONDAY, DEC. 26, 1881.

Benjamin Harris Brewster.

The appointment of Mr. Brewster as attorney general appears to meet with general acceptance. His acquirements and high reputation as a lawyer give promise that the administration of the office in his hands will be faithful and able. Prominent for many years as a leader of the Philadelphia bar, he is to-day one of the greatest advocates that we have in the country

Mr. Brewster was born at Salem, N. J., on the 13th of October, 1816. His father was a lawyer of distinction. In 1834, Mr. Brewster was graduated from Princeton college, and soon after applied himself to the study of the law in the office of Eli K. Price, a practitioner of the old school, noted for his learning in the law of real estate and conveyancing. At the early age of twenty-two he was admitted to the bar, and gradually obtained a large and lucrative practice which he has ever since retained. He won reputation at once as a fascinating and eloquent speaker; and as a jury lawyer he has few superiors anywhere. Fond of his profession, he has devoted himself strictly to legal pursuits, yet he has always evinced the interest of a good citizen in matters of public concern. On public occasions he has been for years called upon for speeches and addresses. During the war his voice was raised often in aid of the government, and it was universally remarked that no one could better stir the people to endeavor by patriotic appeal, than this eminent lawyer.

Down to 1867, the only public office he had held was that of commissioner to adjust the claims of the Cherokee Indians, to which he was appointed when quite young, by President Polk. In the year mentioned Gov. Geary called him to the post of attorney general of Pennsylvania, the duties of which he performed with signal ability. Twice he has come very near being elected United States senator. Mr. Brewster is a man of scholarly tastes, and owns one of the finest private law libraries in the world. Endowed with a retentive memory, and naturally a student, his arguments abound with evidences of his research and sound learning. In private conversation Mr. Brewster is a charming companion, full of animation, a good story-teller, and of genial and courteous address. His voice is musical and flexible to a wonderful degree, and it is a treat to listen to him.

Mr. Brewster has recently come into prominence as the leading counsel for the government in the star route cases—perhaps as fortunate a selection as could be made. Called into the field after the case had been begun, it fell to him to argue to the court of the District of Columbia the legality of the information filed by the district attorney. When it was known that Mr. Brewster was about to make his argument, the court room was crowded with lawyers, and others, eager to hear him. This effort was pronounced on every hand to have been one of the finest addresses to a court ever heard in Washington. It added to the already established reputation of the speaker.

By inviting Mr. Brewster to a seat in the cabinet, President Arthur has signified to the country that he is in earnest in his determination to prosecute these offenders, to the extremity of the law. The people can rest assured that if the alleged perpetrators of these frauds escape punishment, it will not be for any lack of ability or of fidelity to duty on the part of the new attorney general. All that is asked is that the cases be prosecuted with vigor and good judgment The result is with the courts.

THE

Mutual Life Insurance Co.

of New York,

F. S. WINSTON, President.

The Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York is THE OLDEST Company, with thirty-seven years of experience.

It is purely Mutual—without Capital or Stockholders to share in profits, and no bonuses allowed to Officers, Trustees, or Employees.

It confines its business to regular Life and Endowment Policies, and the granting of Annuities. No new or experimental plans.

Its premium rates are lower than any other regular Life Insurance Company, and Policy-holders participate in current earnings annually.

No Policy-holder need forfeit his Policy, provided three full annual premiums have been paid, and application is immediately made for a paid-up Policy, when necessity arises to do so.

Assets have more than doubled during the past ten years, notwithstanding the six years of financial panic.

Its Interest and Rent Receipts alone have exceeded its Death Claims TEN MILLIONS of Dollars ($10,000,000.)

It has issued over 220,000 Policies; insured over $700,000,000; received over $276,000,000 in premiums; and returned to Policyholders over $162,000,000.

It can and does afford the cheapest, safest, and most satisfactory insurance investment of any Company in the world.

Is not this well styled a marvel in Finance? No more beneficent institution exists upon the face of the earth than this greatest of financial organizations, combining the greatest possible good for the greatest number with an expertness in financiering that is paralleled only by the sturdy integrity of its managers and the proud pre-eminence of its commercial, patriotic, and scientific record.

Probabilities for New England:—

Warmer fair weather, followed by increasing cloudiness, possibly by local rain, winds mostly southerly, lower pressure.

The Thermometer at the CHRONICLE Office, at 4:00 o'clock this morning, registered 30 degrees above zero.

Sky clear.

To-day the post-office will be open from 8 to 10:30 o'clock in the forenoon, and from 6:00 to 6:30 in the afternoon. The telegraph office hours will be from 8:00 to 10:00 A. M., and from 4:00 to 6:00 P. M.

Michael Gerry was taken to the police station at noon on Saturday, suffering with delirium tremens, and died in the marshal's office at eleven o'clock Sunday night.

The raffles for turkeys on Saturday evening were largely patronized; about two hundred turkeys were disposed of, and most of them no doubt graced the Christmas dinner table.

Twenty-five young men of this city have organized themselves into a minstrel troupe, and intend to give entertainments during the winter, in the adjacent towns. The first one is to be given at Hampton on Tuesday evening, the 27th.

Saturday was a busy day at the post-office, the quantity of packages evidently despatched on Christmas errands being larger than ever before. The sidewalks of the city were more thronged with people, and the streets with teams, than for a long time, many of the teams being from out of town; and if the number of people in the stores is any criterion, the trade must have been brisk.

The schooner Emily A. Staples, Capt. Frank P. Coleman, was hauled up on Tuesday of last week in Roxbury, Mass., for the winter. She runs principally between New York, Portsmouth and eastern ports, during the season of active coasting.

The patent office has issued to Major David Urch a patent for marine velocipede, on his application filed September 9th last.

It is not often that ploughing to any extent is done at Christmastide, but farmers coming into this city from Greenland, Saturday, were somewhat surprised to see two teams at work ploughing on the Hayes farm at the Plains, with Mr. Charles Hayes, seventy-nine years of age, holding one of the heavy ploughs behind two yoke of oxen, and turning a handsomer furrow than most young farmers could do. Mr. Hayes has all his life been a hard-working man, but never a plodding one, his industry having been directed by shrewd foresight and enterprise; and to-day the farm, stock, etc., of Charles Hayes & Son—"Hi" is about as industrious as the old gentleman, and fully as progressive—are known all over the state as being among the very best.

The Pullman train from Boston, Saturday evening, was very long, and crowded with homeward-bounders to spend Christmas, two locomotives being required to draw it.

On another page we present our readers with a sketch of Atty. General Brewster, who is known among the legal profession of the country as one of its brightest ornaments. Whatever criticism may attach to any of the new members of President Arthur's cabinet, the country regards the selection of the eminent Pennsylvania lawyer as one of the most fitting appointments the president could have made.

In the grand spectacular play of "Michael Strogoff," which is to be produced at Music hall on Wednesday evening, Dec. 28th, under the direction of Messrs. Tompkins & Hill of the Boston theatre, our citizens will have an opportunity of witnessing a performance such as is seldom to be seen this side of Boston. This play, which was first produced in this country at the Boston theatre, about three months ago, and has been witnessed there by upwards of three hundred thousand persons, is this week to be presented in some of the larger cities of New England by over fifty of the principal actors, including the celebrated English actor, William Redmund, Dan Maguinness, Mrs. Thos. Barry, Miss Rachel Noah and a large part of the grand ballet. New scenery has been painted, better adapted to the smaller theatres than that originally used.

The schooner Grace Choate came near meeting with a fire disaster on one day last week, while lying at one of the wharves in this city. A dense smoke was seen issuing from the companion way, and it was some time before the fire could be found; it was finally discovered to some from one of the bunks, in which two spreads, a mattress and some of the wood work were burned. The fire was supposed to have originated from the coals of a pipe, which one of crew, who was the last to come on deck, had been smoking. Fortunately several of the crew were on board at the time, or the fire would have extended and possibly resulted in the total loss of the vessel.

Mr. M. Ryan of this city has a trained mocking bird valued at forty dollars.

Freight train No. 99 was leaving the Eastern railroad station in this city on Saturday evening at seven o'clock, when it was run into by a train that was being switched off on the government turn-off, and three cars were thrown off by the collision, blocking both of the main tracks. The nine o'clock (Pullman) train was delayed half an hour by the accident.

On Saturday one of the crew of the schooner Electric Light, lying at the Gas Co.'s wharf, made an unprovoked assault upon Capt. John Stewart of this city, but the captain was master of the situation, and the only regret of the lookers-on was that he did not give his drunken assailant the punishment he deserved. No arrests were made.

The yacht William H. Russell, owned by Mr. Charles W. Drown, has been lengthened three feet and an elliptic stern put on her. She was launched into the water on Saturday, and is greatly improved by the alterations.

There is in this city a family of five children, all of whom were born in the month of October. Two of them, with a difference of five years in their ages, were born on the same day of the month and the same hour of the day, with a difference of only five minutes in the hour.

The sharks, which ordinarily disappear from the seas in this latitude at a much earlier date than the present, are reported to be now unusually plentiful in the waters in this vicinity, the continued warm weather no doubt deterring them from seeking more southerly feeding grounds. They are an annoyance to the fishermen, as when they are hauling their trawls a shark will not unfrequently pounce upon a fine cod, and make off with it, hook and all. Some of the fishing boats carry a two-pronged fork, and when a shark is seen prowling about he is enticed near the boat by throwing over some small fish, and when near enough is treated to a good jab with the fork, on which he will withdraw, no doubt to annoy somebody else.

The schooner Mary E. Caswell, formerly of this port, but wrecked last spring on a rock off Wells beach, Me., and afterward picked up and taken into Kennebunk, and sold for a small sum to her salvors, is now owned in Portland, and has for some time been engaged in fishing, having been thoroughly repaired and made as good as new.

A dramatic entertainment is to be given in the town hall at York, by local talent, on the evening of Thursday, Dec. 29th, the proceeds of which will be devoted to the purchase of a new carpet for the Congregational church.

It is said that during the past year more than a hundred new buildings have been erected in Biddeford, including several brick buildings which are ornaments to the city.

York has an addition to its business pursuits and local accommodations, in the shape of a harness shop kept by J. O. Barrett, who keeps all kinds of harnesses for sale, and does repairing in all its branches well and at reasonable prices.

At a meeting of the Baptist Circle of York, held at N. B. Freeman's on the evening of the 21st inst., Rev. Mr Phillips, pastor of the church, was presented by C. A. Grant (acting in behalf of the society) with a very fine fur cap and a "beaver" hat.

James Stott, who died in Newmarket on the 19th inst. at the age of ninety-three years, was a native of Canada but had lived in Newmarket about thirty years, and formerly carried on a large business in soap. He fought on the British side in the war of 1812, being at that time a British subject. He was highly esteemed in Newmarket as a consistant Christian, having joined the Methodist church when twenty-two years of age. He was three times married, and had twelve children by his first wife and four by the second. His third wife survives him, as do eight of his children, and a large number of grandchildren and great-grand-children.

Mr. Rufus Varrell, of York harbor, is putting an addition twenty-five feet long to the rear of his store. He is also to make extensive repairs on his wharf, and will keep lumber and coal for sale.

The Christian Baptist church at Kittery Point had a Christmas tree entertainment on Saturday evening, and the Freewill Baptist society have a similar one this evening.

Charles C. Barrell is wintering fifty sheep of fine quality at his farm near Beech ridge, York.

The Improved Cable Shoe Peg Co. has been organized in Kittery, for the purpose of dealing in, licensing, leasing, supplying and manufacturing machines for securing the uppers to the soles of boots and shoes. Capital stock, $9,000; amount paid in, $300.—Biddeford Times.

"SHEW" OR "SHOWED."

Ed Chronicle: I perceive you use "shew" in the past tense, instead of "showed." Which is more the grammatical? A DAILY READER.

"Showed" is the more common. If Webster is accepted as the standard authority, either word is correct. Worcester we think (we have not the dictionary at hand) classes "shew" as obsolete.

A Word to Mothers.

Mothers should remember it is a most important duty at this season to look after the health of their families and cleanse the malaria and impurities from their systems, and that nothing will tone up the stomach and liver, regulate the bowels and purify the blood so perfectly as Parker's Ginger Tonic, advertised in our columns.—Post: see other columns.

C. T. Deacon, customs inspector, bid good-bye to his family in Germantown, Pa., Dec. 10th, and no tidings have since been received of him.

NEW BLOOMFIELD, Miss., Jan. 2, 1880.

I wish to say to you that I have been suffering for the last five years with a severe itching all over. I have heard of Hop Bitters and have tried it. I have used up four bottles, and it has done me more good than all the doctors and medicines that they could use on or with me. I am old and poor but feel to bless you for such a relief by your medicine and from torment of the doctors. I have had fifteen doctors at me. One gave me seven ounces of solution of arsenic; another took four quarts of blood from me. All they could tell was that it was skin sickness. Now, after these four bottles of your medicine, my skin is well, clean and smooth as ever. HENRY KNOCHE.

Black diphtheria is killing many people in Bloomingdale, N. J. The patient's tongue becomes black and swollen and protrudes from the mouth. Death ensues in about forty-eight hours after the attack.

The restoration to health of our child we considered very uncertain. When two weeks old she caught a cold; until eighteen months old she was not able to breathe through her nostrils, became emaciated, was a puny child. Upon using Ely's Cream Balm her difficulty is removed; she breathes freely and naturally. The neighbors consider it a wonderful restoration. MR. & MRS. J. M. SMITH, Owego, N. Y.

I have used Ely's Cream Balm and received great benefit, at present being entirely free from catarrh. Many of my friends have also been much benefitted by the Balm. What is claimed for this remedy I am fully convinced is true. CHAS. GREENE, Conductor N. Y., L. E. & W. R. R., Port Jervis, N. Y.

Herr Von Puttkammer, German minister of the interior, has approved stringent rules for the greater security of theatres against fire, which are to take immediate effect.

Oliver W Masterman, of Weld, Me., was knocked down and robbed of $500 by an unknown highwayman, one evening last week.

Terrible Accident.

Domestic accidents are common to women, and some of them are very serious. Mrs. Warner, of South Rondout, Ulster Co., N. Y., some weeks ago attempted to take from a boy a pair of shears with which it was playing. A slight struggle ensued, in which the point of the shears entered Mrs. Warner's left eye, so freely destroying the sight. Her family physician, did what he could, but intensely painful inflammation arose, which, by sympathy, threatened the loss of the other eye. Total blindness to a woman having the care of a household is an irreparable calamity. In this strait Mrs. Warner applied to that the well-known and skillful surgeon Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., who removed the injured eye by a very successful operation, setting aside all danger of further harm to the sight of the other eye. But, owing to pain and mental distress, her system needed a tonic and restorative medicine. To do this work the doctor prescribed "Kennedy's Favorite Remedy," which sustained its reputation and laid a sure foundation of health.

Dr. Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" removes all impurities from the blood, regulates the Liver and Kidneys, Cures Constipation, and all diseases and weaknesses peculiar to females. It is for sale by all our druggists at One Dollar a bottle.

Naval Affairs.

The Alaska was at Valparaiso, and the Adams at Callao, Nov. 30th; the Pensacola was on a cruise to the northward. The Lackawanna sailed from Panama for Callao Dec. 13th, with W. H. Trescott and Walker Blaine on board.

The steamer which rammed the United States ship Tennessee, and came near sinking her, in New York harbor last week, was the Western Texas.

New Hampshire Items.

At the Nashua junction, at eleven o'clock Saturday forenoon, Harry Manning, the boss shifter of the Worcester & Nashua railroad, got his foot caught in a frog while pulling a pin, and was run over by six cars and a locomotive. The body and head were crushed into an unrecognizable mass. The deceased was an old railroad man, about thirty years of age, and leaves a wife and two small children.

The eleventh annual exhibition of the New Hampshire Poultry Society will be held at Manchester, January 10th, 11th and 12th, and the premium list is issued. The entries will close January 7th. Preparations are making for a fine exhibition, and no pains will be spared by the officers to make it one of the best ever given by the society. Further information can be obtained of the secretary and treasurer, Mr. William G. Garmon of Manchester.

Mrs. Susan Hurd of Farmington on the 20th inst. exhited at Rochester several cakes of maple sugar, which she made from sap caught the previous week.

Michael J. Griffin of Newmarket, who was sentenced to the state prison for five years in October, 1880, for a felonious assault, has been pardoned by the governor and council, and arrived home on Wednesday of last week.

Herring are reported unusually scarce at Eastport and Grand Menan. About 500,000 were shipped week before last.

The razor clam is being made an article of merchandise in the Boston market. In several Cape Ann towns the digging of these bivalves is proving very profitable, as they bring $10 a barrel. They are used by the winter fishermen as bait, when they can be procured, and a trawl baited with razor clams will often yield a good return when trawls set near by, but baited with other bait, are almost bare of fish.

But few vessels are fishing out of Newburyport this winter. The schooners Forest Maid, Mary Jane Starden and Josie Johnson are the only vessels regularly reported as landing their fares at that port.

On a pleasant fall day some persons will thoughtlessly expose themselves as in summer, and take a severe cold. For such, immediate relief offers itself in Dr. Bulls Cough Syrup. 25 cents a bottle.

No further news is expected from the Jeannette expedition for three months.

Kearney says the Chinese must go, but before they go we wish to inform them and everybody else that Adamson's Botanic Balsam continues to win the day in curing coughs, colds, and all difficult breathing. Price, 35 and 75 cts. Trial bottles, 10 cts.

Klahn, the well poisoner of Stanford, Vt., has been sent to state prison for ten years.

"Rough on Rats."

The thing desired found at last. Ask druggist for Rough on Rats. It clears out rats, mice, roaches, flies, bedbugs; 15 cts. boxes.

Skinny Men.

Little Corinne has received permission to sing at matinee performances in New York, but the law prohibits her dancing.

Answer This.

Is there a person living who ever saw a case of ague, biliousness, nervousness, or neuralgia, or any disease of the stomach, liver or kidneys, that Hop Bitters will not cure?

Two boys named Snow, aged six and eight years, were drowned in a pond at Ludlow, Vt., last week.

A Woman's Experience.

Mothers and daughters should feel alarmed when weariness constantly oppresses them. "If I am fretful from exhaustion of vital powers and the color is fading from my face, Parker's Ginger Tonic, gives quick relief. It builds me up and drives away pain with wonderful certainty."—Buffalo Inquiry.

Ida J. Rush, fifteen years old, of Lyme, Vt., has been sent to the reform school during her minority, for placing obstructions on a railway track.

Elegance and Purity.

Ladies who appreciate elegance and purity are using Parker's Hair Balsam. It is the best article sold for restoring gray hair to its original color, beauty and lustre.

Another steamship, the Henry Edye, thirty-five days out from Antwerp, bound for Boston, is missing.

"Pro Bono Publico."

It is a very remarkable fact, that while thousands of people refuse to read paid puffs of worthless nostrums, none skip over Dr. Swayne's little squib about his Ointment for itching piles that itch so much at night. The people well know that it is published for their benefit, in other words, is pro bono publico. May its far reaching effects be perpetuated to the end of time.

Rheumatism.

Neuralgia, Sprains,

Pain in the Back and Side.

There is nothing more painful than these diseases; but the pain can be removed and the disease cured by use of Perry Davis' Pain Killer.

This remedy is not a cheap Benzine or Petroleum product that must be kept away from fire or heat to avoid danger of explosion, nor is it an untried experiment that may do more harm than good.

Pain Killer has been in constant use for forty years, and the universal testimony from all parts of the world is, It never fails. It not only effects a permanent cure, but it relieves pain almost instantaneously. Being a purely vegetable remedy, it is safe in the hands of the most inexperienced.

The record of cures by the use of PAIN KILLER would fill volumes. The following extracts from letters received show what those who have tried it think:

Edgar Cady, Owatonna, Minn., says:
About a year since my wife became subject to severe attacks from rheumatism. Our recourse was to the PAIN KILLER, which speedily relieved her.

Charles Powsil writes from the Sailors' Home, London:
I had been afflicted three years with neuralgia and violent cramps of the stomach. The doctors at Westminster Hospital gave me my cure in one day. I tried your PAIN KILLER, and it gave me immediate relief. I have received my six months, and am now able to follow my usual occupation.

G. H. Walworth, Saco, Me., writes:
I experienced immediate relief from pain in the side by the use of your PAIN KILLER.

E. York says:
I have used your PAIN KILLER for rheumatism, and have received great benefit.

Barton Seaman says:
Have used PAIN KILLER for thirty years, and have found it a sure, fail-ing remedy for rheumatism and lameness.

Mr. Burditt writes:
Never fails to give relief in case of rheumatism.

Phil. Gilbert, Somerset, Pa., writes:
For a sprained ankle, I know your PAIN KILLER is the best medicine I can get.

All druggists keep PAIN KILLER. Its price is so low that it is within the reach of all, and it will save many times its cost in doctors' bills. 25c., 50c. and $1.00 a bottle.

Lieut. J. W. Miller is detached from the naval academy, and ordered to the Enterprise on the 10th of January.

Judge Men By Their Works.

A man is judged in this life by his works, and in this connection it may not be inopportune to add, that Dr. Swayne has accomplished more good through the medium of his Ointment for skin diseases, than has the school of physicians combined. "It's an ill wind that blows nobody good." What the physicians have lost Dr. Swayne has gained.

The Army and Navy Register of last week says: "A very earnest contest, if not a bitter political, is going on for the appointment of chief naval constructor. Mr. Wilson has most of the New England influence, Mr. Pook, New York, and Mr. Much, the Pacific coast. We believe the latter also has the support of the secretary of the navy. The appointment will not be made until after the holidays."

Rescued from Death.

William J. Coughlin, of Somerville, Mass., says: "In the fall of 1876 I was taken with a violent bleeding of the lungs followed by a severe cough. I soon began to lose my appetite and flesh. I was so weak at one time that I could not leave my bed. In the summer of 1877 I was admitted to the city hospital. While there the doctors said I had a hole in my left lung as big as a half a dollar. I was so far gone at one time a report went around that I was dead. I gave up hope, but a friend told me of Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs. I laughed at my friends, thinking that my case was incurable, but I got a bottle to satisfy them, when to my surprise and gratification, I commenced to feel better. My hope, once dead, began to revive, and to-day I feel in better spirits than I have the past three years.

I write this hoping you will publish it, so that every one afflicted with diseased lungs, will be induced to take Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs, and be convinced that consumption can be cured. I have taken two bottles and can positively say that it has done more good than all the other medicines I have taken since my sickness." Sold by all druggists.

Edward Hoppe killed his wife and himself at Flushing, L. I., Dec. 25th, while crazy from intemperance. He was an old and highly respected citizen.

The great talk about bayonets at the polls has nothing to do with the enormous sale of Adamson's Botanic Balsam, the great remedy for curing coughs, colds, and all lung troubles. New size, 10 cts. Larger size, 35 and 75 cts.

John Franklin, a "burnt cork artist," and Lillie DeWitt, a variety actress, were married on the stage of the Theatre Comique, at Richmond, Va., in the presence of the audience, at eleven o'clock Saturday night.

"On behalf of St. Jacobs Oil I must say a word," writes Wm. Stansbury, Lancaster, Pa. "It is a never-failing remedy. I used it for a sweeney horse, and it proved so satisfactory that I would not be without it in my business. I must always have it."

Portsmouth Chronicle.

WEDNESDAY, DEC. 28, 1881.

[Entered at the Post-Office at Portsmouth, N.H. as second-class matter.]

The Small-Pox.

The post office at Walla Walla, Washington territory, has been closed by the government on account of the small-pox.

On Friday night eleven cash-girls in one of the largest retail stores in New York were sent away, suffering with small pox. Eleven new cases and three deaths were reported from the disease in Jersey City, N. J., on the same day.

Fourteen new cases and five deaths were reported at St. Louis, Mo., during the week ending Dec. 24th.

The small-pox continues to increase in Chicago, and has broken out among the patients in the county hospital. Two train loads of immigrants from the steamship Westphalia arrived at Chicago on the 26th; they were stopped outside the city by the health officers, who found no small-pox cases on board, and rushed the emigrants through the city to their western destination.

At Mt. Carmel, Ill., several cases of small-pox having occurred, the mayor ordered the churches closed. One church refused to obey, and held a Christmas festival. The mayor thereupon telegraphed for advice to the state board of health, who instructed him to compel obedience to his order by force, if necessary, and to call for the state militia to aid him in case the ordinary officers were powerless. The mayor was also instructed to have every person who attended the festival vaccinated.

At Jersey City, N. J., Dec. 26th, Joseph McLeary, who was sent to the St. Frances hospital for alcoholism, was sent away by the sisters in charge, his disease having developed into a case of small-pox. His wife prevailed on him to go to a station house, and he was accompanied by a man named Seymour. The police closed the doors by advice of a physician, and McLeary was placed on the sidewalk, where he died in a few minutes, surrounded by a crowd of several hundred children. The health authorities took the body finally, and fumigated the whole block.

News and Notes.

The proprietors of the Providence Journal have contributed the generous sum of five hundred dollars towards the proposed statute to Gen. Burnside, to be erected in Providence, R. I.

Chas. J. Mellen, teacher of the Lindsey high school in Shapleigh, Me., was drowned recently while skating. He was accompanied by a young man who nearly lost his own life in his efforts to rescue Mellen.

Col. Walter H. Chase has been arrested in New York on a charge of bigamy preferred by his wife, whom he married in Springfield, Mich., in 1876. Not long ago he was principal of the high school in Medway, Mass., but was forced to resign on account of reported improper advances to the lady teachers, one of whom, Miss Alice E. McElroy, he married.

At Ashland, Ky., Friday night, during the absence from home of J. W. Gibbons and his wife, a gang of unknown villians entered the house and brutally abused their daughter, fourteen years old, and Miss Fannie Thomas, aged seventeen, afterward murdering the girls and Robert Gibbons, a boy, and setting fire to the house.

Atlanta, Ga., had "rather a quiet Christmas." One man was cut twice in the shoulder with a hatchet; another was stabbed in the shoulder; a third shot in the eye and side; and a fourth was shot in the head, and will probably die. But there "were no serious casualties."

John McClelland, his wife and a Mrs. Berry were terribly cut and burned at Jeffersonville, Ind., Christmas night, by the explosion of a coal-oil lamp, which exploded three ale-bottles filled with powder. One of the women will die, and the other persons are in a precarious condition. The house was burned.

Dr. C. Rosenbaum was killed in his house at Pine Bluff, Ark., on Saturday. He some time ago decoyed from her husband the wife of a Chinese laundryman; the woman recently returned to her husband, and Rosenbaum had been trying to decoy her away again. It is supposed he was killed by the Chinaman.

Saturday night, at Gardner, Mass., Mrs. Thomas T. Greenwood was thrown from a carriage and so badly injured that she died on Sunday. Two other ladies with her were seriously and it is feared fatally injured.

The murder of seven miners by Indians is reported from Sonora, Arizona.

There was a $2,000,000 fire in New York last Saturday night.

W. A. Oliver, forty-five years old, has been arrested in Fredericton, N. B., for bigamy. It is charged that last spring he married L. Gertrude Baker, a girl twenty-three years old, in Fredericton, having at the same time a wife and family living in Lynn, Mass.

During the celebration of high mass in a church at Warsaw, Russia, Dec. 25th, a pickpocket was caught at work, and to escape raised a cry of "fire." In the panic that ensued many persons were fatally crushed, forty dying within a few hours. The thief was terribly beaten by the crowd, but was locked up alive. It having been stated that he was a Jew, a number of stores owned by Hebrews were gutted by the mob. Six hundred arrests of rioters were made.

A destructive fire in the Russian naval port of Cronstadt, last week, destroyed over a quarter of the city. The disaster is charged to the nihilists.

Joseph L. Barbadoes was found dead in the court house at Exeter on Saturday night, having probably died from disease of the heart. He was a colored man, was janitor of the court house, and highly respected by the people of the town. He had been janitor for many years, having been retained in spite of numerous strongly-backed applications of others for his position, as all the officials with whom he was brought in contact regarded him as thoroughly trustworthy, and a man in whom any confidence, however delicate it might be, could be placed without fear of betrayal.

On Saturday afternoon last, in Biddeford, fire broke out in the building occupied by Bond & Smith, brass founders, and E. L. Cowan, loom harness manufacturer. Loss upon building and stock, $1000; insured.

Business is rushing so at Cummings' shoe shop in South Berwick that the operatives are working four nights in the week extra time.

The officers of the steamer Mystic have lately taken up a new line of business—that of submarine diving. It is said that the easy grace with which Capt. "Rashe" takes the water is beautiful to behold; but he doesn't stop down long, which some Kittery people say is owing to the probable existence of a hollow place inside of him somewhere—where, they do not say, merely remarking that his head is the first thing to appear above water. However this may be, it is considered certain that Capt. Rashe will never become so efficient in his new occupation as he has proved himself to be as a pilot and steamboat skipper.

The Biddeford Journal of last week, under the head of "Kittery," says: "A disgraceful fight between a bull dog and a cat occurred in the barracks at the navy yard recently. The dog, which belonged to John Dixon, and the cat, which belonged to the cook at the barracks, were shut into a room together, and allowed to fight for five minutes. At the end of that time the cat was found horribly mutilated, its head being in one corner of the room and its legs in another. Such business as this calls for the interference of the prevention of cruelty to animals."

Samuel Cousens, of Kennebunk Depot, is now engaged in stripping of wood a lot of land on which he hoed corn when a boy.

The York County Evaporating Co., of Limington, closed up business for this year on the 17th inst., having operated a day crew for sixty days, and a night crew for thirty-one days. During this time they purchased and dried 5845 bushels of apples, which made 27,650 pounds of dried apples ready for the market. The largest lot of apples purchased from any one person was 240 bushels.

The marriage at York is announced of Mr. Alvin D. Tuttle and Miss Lizzie Raynes, adopted daughter of Mrs. Joanna (Raynes) Wilson.

CAPE NEDDICK, YORK, Dec. 23d.

There is considerable of a religious sentiment among some families in the eastern part of York, which has increased with the approach of Christmas. Family prayers are maintained in these families every morning. But a whole family was turned out of doors during the incement weather of last winter by a conflagration, and could find a refuge nowhere during the night. Almost two thousand years ago one of the great pioneers of the Christian religion wrote: "And now abideth faith, hope, charity, these three; but the greatest of these is charity."

It is purely Mutual—without Capital or Stockholders to share in profits, and no bonuses allowed to Officers, Trustees, or Employees.

It confines its business to regular Life and Endowment Policies, and the granting of Annuities. No new or experimental plans.

Its premium rates are lower than any other regular Life Insurance Company, and Policy-holders participate in current earnings annually.

No Policy-holder need forfeit his Policy, provided three full annual premiums have been paid, and application is immediately made for a paid-up Policy, when necessity arises to do so.

Assets have more than doubled during the past ten years, notwithstanding the six years of financial panic.

Its Interest and Rent Receipts alone have exceeded its Death Claims TEN MILLIONS of Dollars ($10,000,000.)

It has issued over 220,000 Policies; insured over $700,000,000; received over $276,000,000 in premiums; and returned to Policy-holders over $162,000,000.

It can and does afford the cheapest, safest, and most satisfactory insurance investment of any Company in the world.

Is not this well styled a marvel in Finance? No more beneficent institution exists upon the face of the earth than this greatest of financial organizations, combining the greatest possible good for the greatest number with an expertness in financiering that is paralleled only by the sturdy integrity of its managers and the proud pre-eminence of its commercial, patriotic, and scientific record.

ODD FELLOWS' SOCIABLES.

New Hampshire Lodge, I. O. O. F., on Wednesday evening of last week had one of their popular sociables in the hall of the order. The tables were set with an entirely new fit-out of crockery, etc., and presented a very handsome appearance, which was not wholly destroyed by the onslaught of about two hundred gentlemen and ladies. The evening wound up with dancing, which was kept up until a late hour.

Osgood Lodge, No. 48, will give an old-fashioned farmers' supper, to be followed by one of the entertainments which no organization in the city knows better how to get up, on Thursday evening, the 29th inst. Contributions of viands suitable for the supper may be sent to the hall in the afternoon of that day.

CHRISTMAS FESTIVAL.

The Christmas festival of the Court street Christian church Sunday school was held at the Odd Fellows' banquet hall on Monday evening, Dec. 26th. Five large tables were set, filled with almost everything that is to be found in the way of eatables at Christmas time. At about seven o'clock the Sunday school children, with invited guests, to the number of nearly three hundred, sat down to the tables and partook of the many good things thereon. After supper an entertainment was given, at which a number of little girls and boys belonging to the Sunday school sang, as also did Miss Gracie Varrell, who gave three songs, entitled "When the dew drops fall," "Jack is every inch a sailor," and "Oh, dem golden slippers;" after which games were indulged in, such as "chewing cotton," "copenhagen," etc. After the first tables were cleared away an extra one was set for the members of Piscataqua Lodge of Odd Fellows, who had a meeting below; it is needless to say that the odd fellows did full justice to the inner man. Toward the close of the entertainment an Indian appeared on the scene, and made a few remarks for the good of his tribe. The festival was a rare success, and will be long remembered by those who participated. S.

AROUND HOME.

See advertisement of auction sale of hay, stock, farming tools, etc., this day.

The opportunity of seeing the play of Michael Strogoff, this evening, we trust will be largely improved by our people. The run this play has had at the Boston theatre is a good indication of its attractiveness. Portsmouth people have always delighted to welcome the gifted and refined Mrs. Thomas Barry, whose devoted labors in the care and sustenance of her late husband in his last years are well remembered. Mrs. Barry, in addition to possessing superior dramatic ability, is a lady of remarkably fine personal traits, and is a great favorite in private as well as professional life. Miss Rachel Noah, too, has many friends who will be glad to see her in Music hall, while none will forget the peculiar line of Dan Maguinnes, who always succeeds in his parts, whatever these may be.

A young fellow named Obrey broke through the ice on the north millpond, Monday, and was in the water up to his neck for nearly half an hour before being secured. It was lucky for him that the water was only up to his neck. He will probably be more careful how he ventures on thin ice in the future.

Notwithstanding the storm, the Christmas festival of the South Parish Sunday school was held on Tuesday evening, and greatly enjoyed by old and young. Harlow aided with music.

The Hutchinson Family—the only organization having any right to call itself the legitimate successor of the famous Hutchinsons of forty years ago—will give a concert in Music hall on Monday evening next.

The Christmas festival of St. John's parish will be held in Franklin hall on Saturday evening next, the exercises commencing at six o'clock.

The schooner Storm King brought in 2000 lbs. of fish on Tuesday, and the Comet also brought in a small fare.

The Newmarket Manufacturing Co. pays a dividend of $15 per share, January 2d.

Col. Wm. H. Sise, as chairman of the board of instruction, calls the attention of parents and guardians to the school regulation in relation to vaccination of children before they can be admitted to the public schools. The menacing spread of the dread disease, small-pox, in the middle and western states, renders this notice particularly pertinent at the present time.

Edwin H. Goodwin, otherwise known as "Eppy Doodah," a deserter from the county house of correction, was arrested in Greenland on Saturday by officers from this city.

One of the neatest calendars for 1882 which have reached us, comes from Lafayette S. Foster, stationer, No. 35 Pine street, New York. Mr. Foster began his business career with the late J. Foster Shores, of this city.

The Dover Navigation Co. propose to build another schooner to add to their fleet, and the stock in the same has already been all taken.

The steamer Mystic on Saturday last conveyed across the river between this city and Kittery, from 8:45 o'clock in the morning to nine at night, 527 cash-paying passengers.

Charles and Lillie Wilkinson, who are to appear on the Music hall stage next Saturday evening in "Priscilla, the Cherub," have for three years past been playing in the west and south with marked success, until recently, when they went to Europe, from whence they have lately returned. The play which they will present was written especially for them by E. A. Locke, author of "A Messenger from Jarvis section" and other popular comedy dramas.

The Rockingham national bank pays a dividend of three and one-half per cent, Jan. 2d.

The body of Michael Gerry, the brewery workman who died in the city marshal's office on Sunday night from delirium tremens, was taken to his former home in Beverly, Mass., on Monday, for interment.

Among the transfers of real estate left for record in the office of the Rockingham county registry of deeds during the week ending June 22d, were the following: Portsmouth—Frederick W. Rogers, of Portsmouth, to Daniel B. Cook, of Kittery, Me., wharf property, $1. Newcastle—Alfred A. Meloon to William T. Meloon, land and buildings, $250. North Hampton—Job O. Winkley, et al., of Newburyport, Mass., to Eli G. Bunker, woodland, $175. South Newmarket—Edward Hilton, of Newmarket, to John H. Pike, of Epping, land, $1.

Michael Carrigg and wife, of Newmarket, got gloriously drunk on the night of Sunday before last, and Mike hit his spouse over the head with an axe. They were locked up, and the woman's wounds found to be not serious, though she had lost much blood. The pair were allowed to go without prosecution, on condition of riddling the town of their presence at once. It was at Carrigg's place, Dec. 26th, 1879, that James Behen, a relative of the Carriggs, was found dead, after a drunken carousal the previous day and night; foul play was strongly suspected, but nothing was proved against any person.

The schooner M. E. Eldredge, built at this port and formerly owned here, but sold to Boston men after having burned to the water's edge in a Cape Cod harbor during a great storm several years ago, has been sold again to Roland B. Kelley of Dennis, Mass., for $12,000 cash. After her sale to Boston owners she was thoroughly repaired and made into a two-master, her register after the razeeing being 252.95 tons.

The usual semi-annual dividend upon shares in the Concord & Portsmouth railroad will be paid at the office of William H. Hackett in the United States court house, on Friday, the 30th inst.

Mr. Editor: Your correspondent "Taxpayer," in his communication touching the proposed foot-bridge from Freeman's point to Noble's island, failed to mention one of the considerations which should be taken into account by the city fathers before it is decided to build such a bridge—the cost of keeping it in repair, which would probably entail a permanent expense on the city, after the first few years, of at least $200 a year. And a look at the map of Portsmouth shows that the distance saved in travelling from Freeman's point to Market square by the new route would not be over a quarter of a mile for anybody, and that even that distance would be saved to but a few dwellers on the point. New Hampshire Items.

John F. Torr, of Rochester, recently sold a number of pine trees for shipbuilding to parties at Bath, Me. Seventeen of the trees brought $465 on the stump, and when felled, averaged eighty-five feet in length.

The wife of Canney of Farmington, who killed his son about two years ago, sued John Francis Scruton of Farmington for $10,000 damages because of his selling cider to her husband, who while under its influence committed the murder. The case was referred to Judge Smith of Manchester, and was to have been heard in Dover last Saturday, but the friends of the parties came together, and the result was that Scruton paid Mrs. Canney a sum of money which was to her satisfactory, and thus the case is settled.

Perley Riford, a brakeman on the Northern railroad, was killed Saturday night by falling from the train while it was crossing a bridge at Fisherville.

The necessary money has been pledged for building a Catholic church in Newport.

The Laconia Car company recently received an order from the New York & New England railroad for 200 cars.

Daniel J. Baker has been appointed postmaster at Kingston.

The stables and barn connected with the Newport hotel at Newport were burned Sunday, probably by an incendiary fire. Loss $250; insurance $1500.

There has been no mail transportation over the line between Dover and Rittsfield for more than four weeks. This is a "star route" for which A. A. Boone and associates took the contract at $1,300, and subsequently sublet for $575.

Messrs. Richardson and Warren, of Pembroke, have leased for ten years of William H. Felker, at Gonic, a tract of land lying between the Nashua & Rochester railroad, for the purpose of manufacturing bricks, and have commenced operations by purchasing several lots of wood to be delivered at the yard.

William Hayne Leavett, pastor of the First Baptist church at Manchester, has tendered his resignation, after a pastorate of five years, to take effect the last Sabbath in April. He is regarded as one of the most talented clergymen in the city.

Frank H. Warren, aged thirty years, in the employ of the Concord railroad, while making up a freight train in Manchester, Monday morning, caught his foot in a frog and was run over by the train. He died in a few hours. He leaves a young widow.

A Great Blessing to Mothers and Nurses.

"Swayne's Teething Cure" for infants. This new theory and infallible remedy has saved the lives of thousands of children. When the child is in pain, or restless with its teeth shooting in its gums, simply rub the gums for two or three minutes with the "Cure." What little it may swallow will relieve colic, pain and flatulence, prevent fever, and avoid that painful operation of lancing the gums, which always makes the next tooth harder to come through and sometimes causes death. Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves and immediate relief and health to your infants. A very able medical writer, who enjoys a large and lucrative practice, says: "Rubbing the gums with a soothing lotion, is the only true method for children teething; poisonous drugs should never be in introduced into their delicate stomachs." "Swayne's Teething Cure" is prepared only by Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia, and sold by all leading apothecaries at 25 cents a bottle.

Vandals entered the old cemetery at Hampden, Mass., Sunday, and broke or overturned nearly fifty gravestones. Two young fellows named McMorris and Mahoney have been arrested on suspicion.

How it Was!

At the battle of Gettysburg I was shot through the left leg and was sent to the hospital. The army surgeons relieved me but pronounced my case incurable. It discharged pieces of bone, and for years I have suffered with a running sore. I tried everything which my limited means would allow, and experienced no relief until I tried Sulphur Bitters. I am now almost well, and shall continue their use.—Old Soldier.

Ira E. Goodwin of Enfield, Me., has been fined $45 and costs for the unlawful transportation of partridges during close time.

No discovery since the introduction of vaccination has equalled in importance that of absorption as illustrated in Dr. Holman's Liver Pad. It is the best liver and stomach regulator of this century.

Dr. Holman's Liver Pad courts investigation. It conquers prejudice. All live druggists keep them. Get a Pad. More than 200,000 living witnesses bear testimony to the efficacy of Dr. Holman's Liver Pad.

The Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria has resolved to erect, at his own cost, a memorial chapel on the site of the Ring theatre in Vienna, in which a requiem will be celebrated yearly for the victims of the fire.

"Pro Bono Publico."

It is a very remarkable fact, that while thousands of people refuse to read paid puffs of worthless nostrums, none skip over Dr. Swayne's little squib about his Ointment for itching piles that itch so much at night. The people well know that it is published for their benefit, in other words, is pro bono publico. May its far reaching effects be perpetuated to the end of time.

Rheumatism

Neuralgia, Sprains,

Pain in the Back and Side.

There is nothing more painful than these diseases; but the pain can be removed and the disease cured by use of Perry Davis' Pain Killer.

This remedy is not a cheap Benzine or Petroleum product that must be kept away from fire or heat to avoid danger of explosion, nor is it an untried experiment that may do more harm than good.

Pain Killer has been in constant use for forty years, and the universal testimony from all parts of the world is, it never fails. It not only effects a permanent cure, but it relieves pain almost instantaneously. Being a purely vegetable remedy, it is safe in the hands of the most inexperienced.

The record of cures by the use of PAIN KILLER would fill volumes. The following extracts from letters received show what those who have tried it think:

Edgar Cady, Owatonna, Minn., says:
About a year since my wife became subject to severe suffering from rheumatism. Our resort was to the PAIN KILLER, which speedily relieved her.

Charles Powell writes from the Sailors' Home, London:
I had been afflicted three years with neuralgia and violent vomiting of the stomach. The doctors at Westminster Hospital gave up my case in despair. I tried your PAIN KILLER, and it gave me immediate relief. I have remained in health, and am now able to follow my usual occupation.

G. H. Walworth, Saco, Me., writes:
I experienced incredible relief from pain in the side by the use of your PAIN KILLER.

E. York says:
I have used your PAIN KILLER for rheumatism, and have received great benefit.

Barton Seaman says:
Have used PAIN KILLER for thirty years, and have found it a never-failing remedy for rheumatism and lameness.

Mr. Burditt writes:
It never fails to give relief in cases of rheumatism.

Phil. Gilbert, Somerset, Pa., writes:
From actual use, I know your PAIN KILLER is the best medicine I can get.

All druggists keep PAIN KILLER. Its price is so low that it is within the reach of all, and it will save many times its cost in doctors' bills. 25c., 50c. and $1.00 a bottle.

An Old Swindle Revised and Revived.

The old patent-right swindle, which a few years ago was used with some success in this vicinity, and to quite a large extent in York county, Me., to defraud the substantial farmers of their earnings, has been revised and improved, and again put on the market. A farmer in Pennsylvania was recently swindled as follows:

A stranger offered to sell him the county right for a patent wagon-tongue, for $250, and was entirely willing to take the farmer's note in payment; but the agriculturist declined to invest. In a few days another man came along; he had heard the farmer held the county right for the patent wagon-tongue, and wished to buy it, knowing it to be a good thing; he would pay $400 for it, cash down. Here was a legitimate opportunity to make $150 right off, and the farmer finally sold the county right to his new acquaintance, who insisted on paying ten dollars down to bind the bargain, and would call again in a few days with the balance of the purchase money. As soon as the second man had gone the farmer wrote to swindler No. 1 for the county right, enclosing his note for $250 to pay for it. Of course he has not heard of either of his visitors since, but he has heard from his note, which has come up for collection at a bank in a neighboring town.

A couple of dead-beats have developed a new method of getting a living among the hill town farmers in Franklin county, Mass. They go from one place to another pretending to be cattle buyers, and of course, arrive at a farm house about supper time. The farmer invites them to supper, and then they go out and price the cattle till dark. Finally they stay all night, get their breakfast, agree to come for their purchases with the money in a day or two, and decamp for new fields.

Daniel Webster, a well-known colored man in Philadelphia, has just died at the age of 105 years. He was born in Hartford county, Maryland, in June, 1776, and was for many years the property of Col. Joseph Webster, who was killed in the war of 1812. Daniel leaves eight children, fifty-seven grand-children, and sixty-three great-grandchildren.

The small-pox is reported to have gained a dangerous foothold in Sydney, New South Wales.

The disgusting spectacle of two boys, thirteen years old, insensibly drunk, was witnessed in Pittsfield, Mass., on Christmas eve.

The explosion occurred near the fore hatch, the starboard side of the vessel being blown out, and the flames spreading so rapidly that men at work in the after hold could not escape.

Four engineers on the Texas Central railroad were killed in the Candelovia mountains, Mexico, by the Apaches, Dec. 26th.

Judge Men By Their Works.

A man is judged in this life by his works, and in this connection it may not be inopportune to add, that Dr. Swayne has accomplished more good through the medium of his Ointment for skin diseases, than has the school of physicians combined. "It's an ill wind that blows nobody good." What the physicians have lost Dr. Swayne has gained.

Henry M. McKenzie and wife have been arrested at Bethel, Me., on a charge of burning a boarding house, and committed for trial in March.

A Woman's Experience.

Mothers and daughters should feel alarmed when weariness constantly oppresses them. "If I am fretful from exhaustion of vital powers and the color is fading from my face, Parker's Ginger Tonic gives quick relief. It builds me up and drives away pain with wonderful certainty."—Buffalo Daily.

At Tepeji, Mexico, Dec. 26th, thirty men attacked the house of Ignacio G. Aragon, robbed him of $8,000, and then murdered him. They fled, but were captured the same night.

A Great Blessing to Mothers and Nurses.

"Swayne's Teething Cure" for infants. This new theory and infallible remedy has saved the lives of thousands of children. When the child is in pain, or restless with its teeth shooting in its gums, simply rub the gums for two or three minutes with the "Cure." What little it may swallow will relieve colic, pain and flatulence, prevent fever, and avoid that painful operation of lancing the gums, which always makes the next tooth harder to come through and sometimes causes death. Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves and immediate relief and health to your infants. A very able medical writer, who enjoys a large and lucrative practice, says: "Rubbing the gums with a soothing lotion, is the only true method for children teething; poisonous drugs should never be introduced into their delicate stomachs." "Swayne's Teething Cure" is prepared only by Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia, and sold by all leading apothecaries at 25 cents a bottle.

The scholars of the Rush township school near Bellefontaine, Ohio, who are almost all young men, and are taught by a young lady, rebelled against her authority and attempted to drive her from the building by force. She stood her ground, however, belabored them with a club, and put the whole crowd to flight.

It now turns out that the bump which Clark Mills discovered on the side of Guiteau's head is the bump of "total depravity."

"While playing a star engagement through New England," writes Mr. Wm. Davidge, "I contracted severe rheumatism. St. Jacobs Oil was recommended. I used it as ordered, and was cured in four days, and have had no return of the ailment."

Portsmouth Chronicle.

THURSDAY, DEC. 29, 1881.

[Entered at the Post-Office at Portsmouth, N.H. as second-class matter.]

"Census Bulletin No. 271."

The final official bulletin of the population of the United States has just been issued. The total population is 50,155,783, against 38,558,371 in 1870. The population of the states is 49,371,340, and of the territories 784,443.

Of the total population 25,518,820 are males, and 24,636,963 females; 43,475,840 are native, and 6,679,943 foreign; 43,402,870 white, 6,580,793 colored, 105,465 Chinese, 148 Japanese, and 66,407 Indians.

There are three states which have a larger colored than white population: Louisiana, 454,954 white, 483,655 colored; Mississippi, 479,398 white, 650,291 colored; South Carolina, 391,105 white, 604,332 colored. Alabama has 662,185 white, 600,103 colored; Arkansas, 591,531 white, 210,666 colored; Florida, 142,605 white, 126,690 colored; Georgia, 816,506 white, 725,133 colored; Maryland, 724,693 white, 210,230 colored; North Carolina, 867,242 white, 531,277 colored.

In Tennessee, the colored population is 403,151, Kentucky 217,451, Texas 393,384, Virginia 631,616. West Virginia 25,886, District of Columbia 59,596. The exodus to Kansas succeeded in swelling the colored population of that state to only 43,107, which is 22,000 less than that of New York. In Indiana, in which a political scare was raised a year ago over negro immigration, the colored population is only 39,228.

The United States and territories contain 881,857 more males than females. The males predominate in Arkansas, California, Colorado, Delaware, Florida, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, Missouri, Nebraska, Nevada, Ohio, Oregon, Texas, Vermont, West Virginia, Wisconsin, Arizona, Dakota, Idaho, Montana, New Mexico, Utah, Washington and Wyoming. In Colorado, Nevada, Arizona, Idaho, Montana and Wyoming, the males doubly outnumber the females.

The females predominate in Alabama, Connecticut, Georgia, Louisiana, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, North Carolina, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Carolina, Tennessee, Virginia and District of Columbia. The largest female surplus is in New York, 72,227, and in Massachusetts, 66,205. The New England states contain 93,083 more females than males, while in the eight territories, not including Alaska, the males outnumber the females by 112,427.

New Hampshire has a population of 346,991, a gain of 28,691 since 1870, when the total was 318,300. Of this total 170,526 are males, and 176,465 females; native born 300,697, foreign born 46,294; white 346,229, colored 685, Chinese 14, Indians 63. There are two other states with each a smaller colored population than New Hampshire, viz., Nevada, with 488, and Oregon, with 487; but Nevada has 5416 Chinese and 2803 Indians, and Oregon has 9510 Chinese and 1694 Indians.

Steamship Disasters This Year.

The British steamship City of London, from London for New York; Henry Edye, from Antwerp for Boston; and Lord Byron, from Hamburg for New York, are all long overdue, and it is feared are lost with all on board. They carried no passengers, but all had cargoes of great value. The startling mortality of British steamships this year, and the innumerable minor disasters reported by those that have not been totally lost, are not very reassuring as to the kind of a merchant fleet the United States would have if the British owners of steamers now laid up in British ports as unseaworthy could get them registered as American vessels under a "free-ship" law, for it must not be forgotten that the disasters referred to have all happened to the best-built and most seaworthy of the British merchant fleet.

Maine Central Railroad.

The twentieth annual report of the Maine Central railroad was made up for the year ending Sept. 30th last. The annual meeting is now held in December, instead of in March.

Three thousand tons of steel rails have been laid during the year; and seven new passenger cars, two locomotives, one hundred freight and two postal cars have been added to the rolling stock. The road has 108 miles of steel rails, and it is proposed that all the main line shall be of steel.

The report alludes to the need of increased accommodations for the repair shops, deplores the excessive taxes paid by the company, and expresses a hopeful feeling as to the future business of the state of Maine.

Superintendent Tucker's report of receipts, etc., shows a gain on gross earnings of $159,000.

News and Notes.

The steamer C H. Northam, owned by the New Haven Steamboat Co., went ashore on a ledge that runs out half a mile from the southern extremity of Blackwell's island, an hour after leaving her pier in New York on her regular trip to New Haven, Conn., Dec 27th. Her bow was stove, and she stuck fast in a dangerous position, but no lives were lost. Should the weather continue favorable, it was thought the vessel could be saved. A dense fog prevailed at the time of the disaster.

The steamer Ernestine, which arrived at Brest Dec. 23d, reported that on the 20th she was in company for nine hours with an unknown steamship of 2000 to 3000 tons, the wind at the time blowing a gale, and the unknown steamer showing no canvas. A violent squall came on in the afternoon, and when it was over the strange steamer had disappeared.

The New York Times devotes a large portion of its issue of Dec. 27th to the description of the ways that are dark which J. Gould employed to get possession of the Manhattan railroad, and quotes liberally from the "money articles" in Gould's organ by which the market was "doctored."

Rev. James E. Smith, late pastor of the Universalist church in Abington, Mass., has renounced that faith, and embraced Congregationalism.

Dr. H. Morton, of Louisville, Ky., attempted suicide Dec. 24th by cutting his wrists, and will probably die. He is seventy years old, and the father of fourteen children, who recently drove him from the house for attempting to get a divorce from his wife in order that he might marry an infamous woman whom he had made his mistress.

Charles A. Sheldon, a well known business man of North Adams, Mass, committed suicide by taking Paris green Dec. 27th. He leaves a widow and three children. Business troubles caused the act.

Ruel F. Butler, a grocer, and former chief engineer of the fire department of Lowell, Mass., surrendered himself at the police station Dec. 27th, understanding that a warrant was out for his arrest on the charge of adultery with Mrs. J. M. Pierce. Both the parties were arraigned in court, and pleaded not guilty; each was ordered in $500 for further examination.

The "American Ship," which commenced publication in New York on the 5th of October, 1878, under somewhat discouraging circumstances, we are glad to be informed is now in a prosperous condition, having successfully struggled against all obstacles. We have not always agreed with the "Ship" or the objects it has advocated, but we are in hearty sympathy with its principal aim—the building up of the American merchant marine, by American merchants employing American mechanics; and we cordially admire its sturdy and persistent opposition to the schemes of the British builders of floating coffins, and their "free ship" allies this side of the Atlantic.

Cornelius Sweetser, who died Dec. 20th at his residence in Saco, bequeathed to the town of Wakefield $10,000 for improvement of the new park, on condition that the town will appropriate the same amount to be expended in beautifying the grounds. He also left $10,000, the income of which is to be devoted to the use of the Baptist school of Wakefield.

Mr. Daniel Goodwin, of Cape Neddick, York, has a four-years-old colt brought from Calais, Me., which weighs 900 lbs., and it is asserted can trot a mile in 2:35, untrained though he is. Mr. Goodwin, who is a deputy sheriff for York county, is accounted a good officer, and is credited with having saved the county much expense by exerting his influence toward the settling of petty quarrels among neighbors in the thinly-settled districts of the county.

In the superior court at Boston, Mary E. Parker has recovered $13,000 from the Boston & Albany railroad as damages for personal injuries received by the starting up of a train at Newton, Mass., before she had time to alight therefrom. The railway company defended on the ground that the plaintiff was guilty of negligence in leaving the train while it was in motion. Stillman B. Allen, Esq., who read law in this city, was the advocate who convinced the jury as to the facts and figures in this case

Mutual Life Insurance Co.

of New York,

F. S. WINSTON, President.

The Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York is THE OLDEST Company, with thirty-seven years of experience.

It is the largest Company by many millons of Assets in the World.

It is purely Mutual—without Capital or Stockholders to share in profits, and no bonuses allowed to Officers, Trustees, or Employees.

It confines its business to regular Life and Endowment Policies, and the granting of Annuities. No new or experimental plans.

Its premium rates are lower than any other regular Life Insurance Company, and Policy-holders participate in current earnings annually.

No Policy-holder need forfeit his Policy, provided three full annual premiums have been paid, and application is immediately made for a paid-up Policy, when necessity arises to do so.

Assets have more than doubled during the past ten years, notwithstanding the six years of financial panic.

Its Interest and Rent Receipts alone have exceeded its Death Claims TEN MILLIONS of Dollars ($10,000,000.)

It has issued over 220,000 Policies; insured over $700,000,000; received over $276,000,000 in premiums; and returned to Policy-holders over $162,000,000.

It can and does afford the cheapest, safest, and most satisfactory insurance investment of any Company in the world.

Is not this well styled a marvel in Finance? No more beneficent institution exists upon the face of the earth than this greatest of financial organizations, combining the greatest possible good for the greatest number with an expertness in financiering that is paralleled only by the sturdy integrity of its managers and the proud pre-eminence of its commercial, patriotic, and scientific record.

STATE TEACHERS' MEETING,

The convention of school teachers in this city last week was a success in spite of the weather and the season of the year. It infused a spirit of progress and growth into those who listened to the animated talks upon the various topics before the meeting. It imparted to them much information upon the methods of school-work as now practiced by our best teachers. It was to them an exhibition of improvement over the past, and dissipated the too prevailing notion that "the former days were better than these" in matters of common school instruction. The essays, with hardly an exception, were able in thought and progressive in their tone. The discussions were instructive and entertaining, and showed skill, learning and ability on the part of the disputants. No one could have attended the meetings without gaining the impression that the representative teachers of our state are a credit to our commonwealth. Indeed, we feel proud of them, and congratulate ourselves that New Hampshire can boast of some able instructors.

We were likewise pleased to observe that of our townspeople who attended the first of these meetings, nearly all continued to go until the last session, thus proving that the exercises were sufficiently entertaining to hold their interest to the end.

It was a matter of general regret that the time of holding this convention should have fallen upon such a season, although we can see in it (save in exceptional instances) no good excuse for offering no personal encouragement to the affair. To be sure, the holidays are very important, and contribute greatly to the happiness of our children; but such conventions as that recently held here are so rarely afforded us that we could well make a little sacrifice for the end to be secured. Be that as it may, the coming of these friends of education among us is fraught with an amount of good that cannot be measured. It has awakened the attention of some who have hitherto been inactive and indifferent. These will, let us hope and believe, stir up others, and a new impetus to this vital public interest be kindled, that will be of practical good to our city as well as elsewhere.

It is to be hoped that a similar gathering may meet here again at no distant day. Such meetings, affording as they do, an opportunity for the exchange of thought concerning methods of teaching, and embracing talent from every portion of the state, are profitable and pleasant. The contact of mind with mind is like the contact of the pollen with the stigma, or of the seed with the soil—fructifying and fruitful in its results. In fact, there is hardly any other means whereby so much valuable knowledge can be obtained in such a limited space of time. This habit of meeting and comparing notes with one another is systematically practiced by many branches of interest and industry, but by none less than by the friends of education. Let us atone a little for such remissness by having teachers' meetings oftener. Then they will be better attended, perhaps. X.

CIRCUIT COURT OF THE UNITED STATES--LOWELL, J.

WEDNESDAY, Dec. 28th.

Wm. L. Dudley vs. Peter B. Hayward and others, in equity.

A verbal agreement was made by Mrs. Persis M. Thompson, in the name of the complainant, for purchase of the Mead hotel property in Chesterfield, and a partial payment of $1000 was made; but the deed was never given, because, as the defendants allege, the terms of sale were not complied with. The said Persis entered upon the premises and occupied them, and was subsequently, as is alleged, violently expelled therefrom, the defts. repossessing themselves of the premises, and subsequently conveying them to another person. The defts. contend that they lawfully took possession of the premises; that they did not refuse to carry out their agreement, but that the plaintiff neglected to carry out his part thereof, and that the contract of sale was not in writing. The plff. contended that this point was controlled by the subsequent occupancy by the vendee of the premises. The bill asks the court to order the specific performance of the contract of sale, or in the the event that the court shall deem that request inequitable, that an order shall be made for the payment of a certain sum of money as damages.

D. B. Gove & Sons, of Boston, for complainant; Batchelder & Faulkner, of Keene, for defts.

AROUND HOME.

There was a large audience at Music hall, Wednesday evening, the 28th inst., to witness the performance of Michael Strogoff by the Boston Theatre Co. The special scenery was good, the ballet gorgeous, the music superior, the dancing of M'lle Lepri exquisite, and the acting excellent. 'Twas a good show.

A waiting room is being built near the Kittery landing of the steamer Mystic, and will be kept comfortably warmed during the cold weather—if we ever have any, as we probably shall.

Work on the new coal-pockets on Pier wharf, which had been suspended for some days, was resumed on Wednesday.

The schooner Charles P. Barrett, of 47.89 tons register, recently purchased of Gloucester owners by Capt. Shields of this city, arrived at this port Dec. 27th, and will at once commence winter fishing under command of Capt. Shields.

Mr. Oliver Adams of this city is calking the sloop owned by the contractors for the removal of Gangway rock, which—the sloop, not the rock—is hauled up for the winter at Stover's wharf, Kittery.

There will be a special meeting of Strawberry Bank Encampment, I. O. O. F., at Odd Fellows' hall on Friday evening, Dec. 30th, for work on the third degree; refreshments may be expected.

Another gang of men comes to the front with a good record in the discharging of coal from vessels. Ange Callahan, Daniel Kane, Frank Laflave, Joseph Hutton, Harry Geoghans and Dennis Lynes (engineer) claim to have landed one hundred and eighty-three tons of coal in five hours and three-quarters. This is good work, but does not excel the discharging of three hundred and twenty-seven tons in thirteen hours, from the schooner Clara W. Elwell.

A correspondent in York informs us that "On Sunday night, the 4th inst., the barn of Capt. Joseph Donnell was entered, and an attempt made to hang his horse; but as the rafters were not sufficient to hold the animal, the large rope which confined him was cut, and after the blankets were carefully removed he was led to an adjoining pasture, where he was tied to a tree, and an attempt made to cut his throat, a wound six inches long and reaching within half an inch of the jugular vein being made, the parting of the halter-rope in a weak place being probably all that saved the horse, as a second cut must have proved fatal. This is the second attempt which has been made to kill this horse; about a year ago he was twice fired at by a worthless, drunken scoundrel, who was caught in the act; and suspicion strongly points to the same person as being the author of the last outrage. It is the hope of our law-abiding citizens that the inhuman wretch may speedily be brought to justice."

In Dover, on Christmas eve, the Sabbath school of the Belknap church had a festival, one of the numbers on the programme being the marriage of the superintendent of the school, Mr. George E. Whipp, and Miss Elizabeth F. Bartlett. At the appointed time a wedding march was played, the contracting parties took position, and the nuptial knot was tied by Rev. James DeBuchananne. Both bride and groom received valuable presents, Superintendent Whipp being generously remembered by the Sabbath school.

The burning of the Cape Neddick house has proved the source of considerable loss to the little hamlet of Cape Neddick, York. Since the departure of Stephen Grant and his wife to the Moody house at York beach, which is kept open all winter, no intention is evinced of the building of a new hotel. In consequence, commercial travellers, stock drivers and transient people are obliged to journey six miles further on to find a resting place. The summer boarders at the old Cape Neddick house also aided in keeping up the village, but that branch of business is probably ended at that point.

Josiah Norton, who lives near Chase's pond, York, last fall had nineteen turkeys killed by foxes. Mr. Norton had a flock of seventeen geese, and to save them from the foxes he sold them to Rufus Varrell of York harbor, who shipped them to Gloucester, Mass.

Terrible Accident.

Parents be Careful.

Domestic accidents are common to women, and some of them are very serious. Mrs. Warner, of South Rondout, Ulster Co., N. Y., some weeks ago attempted to take from her child a pair of shears with which it was playing. A slight struggle ensued, in which the point of the shears entered Mrs. Warner's left eye, entirely destroying the sight. Her family physician did what he could, but intensely painful inflammation arose, which, by sympathy, threatened the loss of the other eye. Total blindness to a woman having the care of a household is an irretrievable calamity. In this strait Mrs. Warner applied to that the well-known and skillful surgeon Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., who removed the injured eye by a very successful operation, setting aside all danger of further harm to the sight of the other eye. But, owing to pain and mental distress, her system needed a tonic and restorative medicine. To do this work the doctor prescribed "Kennedy's Favorite Remedy," which sustained its reputation and laid a sure foundation of health.

Dr. Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" removes all impurities from the blood, regulates the Liver and Kidneys, Cures Constipation, and all diseases and weaknesses peculiar to females. It is for sale by all our druggists at One Dollar a bottle.

A Word to Mothers.

Mothers should remember it is a most important duty at this season to look after the health of their families and cleanse the malaria and impurities from their systems, and that nothing will tone up the stomach and liver, regulate the bowels and purify the blood so perfectly as Parker's Ginger Tonic, advertised in our columns.—Post: see other columns.

NEW BLOOMFIELD, Miss., Jan. 2, 1880.
I wish to say to you that I have been suffering for the last five years with a severe itching all over. I have heard of Hop Bitters and have tried it. I have used up four bottles, and it has done me more good than all the doctors and medicines that they could use on or with me. I am old and poor but feel to bless you for such a relief by your medicine and from torment of the doctors. I have had fifteen doctors at me. One gave me seven ounces of solution of arsenic; another took four quarts of blood from me. All they could tell was that it was skin sickness. Now, after these four bottles of your medicine, my skin is well, clean and smooth as ever. HENRY KNOCHE.

Wilson's mill at Gordon, Ark., was blown up Dec. 26th. Two men were killed, three others seriously injured, and the mill is a total loss.

"Pro Bono Publico."

It is a very remarkable fact, that while thousands of people refuse to read paid puffs of worthless nostrums, none skip over Dr. Swayne's little squib about his Ointment for itching piles that itch so much at night. The people well know that it is published for their benefit, in other words, is pro bono publico. May its far reaching effects be perpetuated to the end of time.

Rheumatism

Neuralgia, Sprains,
Pain in the Back and Side.

There is nothing more painful than these diseases; but the pain can be removed and the disease cured by use of Perry Davis' Pain Killer.

This remedy is not a cheap Benzine or Petroleum product that must be kept away from fire or heat to avoid danger of explosion, nor is it an untried experiment that may do more harm than good.

Pain Killer has been in constant use for forty years, and the universal testimony from all parts of the world is, it never fails. It not only effects a permanent cure, but it relieves pain almost instantaneously. Being a purely vegetable remedy, it is safe in the hands of the most inexperienced.

The record of cures by the use of PAIN KILLER would fill volumes. The following extracts from letters received show what those who have tried it think:

Edgar Cady, Owatonna, Minn., says:
About a year ago my wife became subject to severe suffering from rheumatism. Our friend was to the PAIN KILLER, which speedily relieved her.

Charles Powell writes from the Sailors' Home, London:
I had been afflicted three years with neuralgia and violent pressure in the stomach. The doctors at Westminster Hospital gave up my case in despair. I tried your PAIN KILLER, and it gave me immediate relief. I have resumed my st. ntrth, and am now able to follow my usual occupation.

G. H. Walworth, Saco, Me., writes:
I experienced marvelous relief from pain in the side by the use of your PAIN KILLER.

E. York says:
I have used your PAIN KILLER for rheumatism, and have received great benefit.

Barton Seamen says:
Have used PAIN KILLER for thirty years, and have found it a surprising remedy for rheumatism and lameness.

Mr. Burditt writes:
It never fails to give relief in cases of rheumatism.

Phil. Gilbert, Somerset, Pa., writes:
By a recent use, I know your PAIN KILLER is the best medicine I can get.

All druggists keep PAIN KILLER. Its price is so low that it is within the reach of all, and it will save many times its cost in doctors' bills. 25c., 50c. and $1.00 a bottle.

A BRAVE LADY.

She Endures the Pain of a Severe Surgical Operation Without Taking Chloroform.

[From the Courier.]

Mrs. Schoonmaker, of Creek Locks, Ulster Co., N. Y., had the misfortune to entirely lose the sight of one of her eyes, through an accident, and endured painful inflammatory action therein for two long years; the other eye finally becoming sympathetically affected, her general health generously suffering; indeed she was a mere wreck, a walking skeleton. In this terrible strait she consulted Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., who told her at once that the injured eye must be removed. She quietly but firmly said, "All right, Doctor, but don't give me chloroform. Let my husband sit by my side during the operation, and I will neither cry out or stir." The work was done, and the poor woman kept her word. Talk of soldierly courage! This showed greater pluck than it takes to face a hundred guns. To restore her general health and give tone and strength to the system, Dr. Kennedy then gave the "Favorite Remedy," which enriched the blood and imparted new life to the long suffering woman. She rapidly gained health and strength, and is now well. The "Favorite Remedy" is a priceless blessing to women. No family should be without it. Your druggist has it. If not sent to Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, New York. 1j15

Daily Chronicle.

SIR WILLIAM NAPIER AND LITTLE JOAN.

Sir William Napier, one bright day,
Was walking down the glen—
A noble English soldier,
And the handsomest of men.

Through fields and fragrant hedge-rows
He slowly wandered down
To quiet Freshford village,
By pleasant Bradford town.

With look and mien magnificent,
And step so grand, moved he,
And from his stately front outshone
Beauty and majesty.

About his strong white forehead
The rich locks thronged and curled,
Above the splendor of his eyes,
That might command the world.

A sound of bitter weeping
Came up to his quick ear,
He paused that instant, bending
His kingly head to hear.

Among the grass and daises
Sat wretched little Joan,
And near her lay a bowl of delf,
Broken upon a stone.

Her cheeks were red with crying,
And her blue eyes dull and dim,
And she turned her pretty, woeful face,
All tear-stained, up to him.

Scarce six years old, and sobbing
In misery so drear!
"Why, what's the matter, Posey?"
He said,—"Come, tell me, dear."

"It's Father's bowl I've broken;
'Twas for his dinner kept.
I took it safe, but coming back
It fell"—again she wept.

"But you can mend it, can't you?"
Cried the despairing child
With sudden hope, as down on her,
Like some kind god, he smiled.

"Don't cry, poor little Posey!
I can not make it whole,
But I can give you sixpence
To buy another bowl."

He sought in vain for silver
In pocket and pockets, too,
And found but golden guineas.
He pondered what to do.

"This time to-morrow, Posey,"
He said, "again come here,
And I will bring your sixpence.
I promise!" Never fear!"

Away went Joan rejoicing—
A rescued child was she;
And home went good Sir William;
And so him presently.

A footman brings a letter,
And low before him bends:
"Will not Sir William come and dine
To-morrow with his friends?"

The letter read: "And we've secured
The man among all men
You wish to meet. He will be here.
You will not fail us then?"

To-morrow! Could he get to Bath
And dine with dukes and earls,
And back in time? That hour was pledged—
It was the little girl's!

He could not disappoint her,
He must his friends refuse.
So "a previous engagement"
He pleaded as excuse.

Next day when she, all eager,
Came o'er the fields so fair,
As sure as of the sunrise
That she should find him there,

He met her, and the sixpence
Laid in her little hand.
Her woe was ended, and her heart
The lightest in the land.

How would the stately company,
Who had so much desired
His presence at their splendid feast,
Have wondered and admired!

As soldier, scholar, gentleman,
His praises off are heard,—
'Twas not the least of his great deeds
So to have kept his word!

—CELIA THAXTER, in St. Nicholas for January, 1882.

Anybody can catch a cold now. The trouble is to let go, like the man who caught the bear. We advise our readers to keep a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup handy.

At New Orleans, Dec. 27th, Mrs. M. F. Cappege gave her four-years-old son a revolver to amuse himself with. She had been instructing the child how to use the weapon, and sat down on the floor to play with him, when he aimed the pistol at her and fired, the bullet entering her brain. The pistol was supposed to be unloaded, of course.

A miserable effort at economy is practiced when the owner of stock decides that anything is good enough for his horse. His wiser neighbor uses St. Jacobs Oil, and never has anything else but good fortune with his animals and pleasure in their appearance.

The Rev. Arthur A. Waite, an evangelist, closed a revival at Lynn, Mass., by running away without paying his bills.—N. Y. Sun.

His Ignorance Cost me $150.00.

I was sick abed for three months. The doctor said I had prolapsus uteri, which was untrue. He didn't try to cure me but wanted to make $1.50 every day. My uncle is a druggist, and he told me to turn the doctor off and try Sulphur Bitters. I did so, and five dollars worth of Sulphur Bitters cured me of general weakness and debility.—Mrs. S——, New Haven.

Richard H. Leslie, formerly a conductor on the Burlington & Rutland railroad in Vermont, has been arrested at Chattanooga, Tenn., for stealing registered letters from the mail while he was a conductor. He is said to have two wives in Vermont.

Judge Men By Their Works.

A man is judged in this life by his works, and in this connection it may not be inopportune to add, that Dr. Swayne has accomplished more good through the medium of his Ointment for skin diseases, than has the school of physicians combined. "It's an ill wind that blows nobody good." What the physicians have lost Dr. Swayne has gained.

John H. Slavin, of Newport, R. I., the young man who unintentionally poisoned his sister by putting Paris green in the coffee which he supposed would be drank by a woman with whom he suspected his father of maintaining an immoral intimacy, has been released on bail.

Best on Record.

I believe Ely's Cream Balm the best preparation for catarrh now on record. My patrons all speak well of it. I have sold one hundred and forty-four bottles in less than five months. I ordered another gross a week ago, and have sold twenty-one bottles from the second gross. It sells upon its merits. JOHN H. PHELPS, Druggist, Scranton, Pa. Jan. 28, 1880.

There is no doubt in our judgment that Ely's Cream Balm has intrinsic worth. We hear from many who are using it for catarrh, of wonderful cures being effected, and without hesitation offer it to our customers as the best remedy for its purposes in use. DYKEMAN & MORT, Druggists, Auburn, N. Y. Dec. 27, 1880.

Price fifty cents.

Schooner Mystic Tie, bound from Nova Scotia for Portland with cured fish and oil, took fire when twenty miles from Portland on the night of Dec. 24th, and was run ashore, where she burned to the water's edge. She registered about fifty tons, and was owned in the British provinces.

Rescued from Death.

William J. Coughlin, of Somerville, Mass., says: "In the fall of 1876 I was taken with a violent bleeding of the lungs followed by a severe cough. I soon began to lose my appetite and flesh. I was so weak at one time that I could not leave my bed. In the summer of 1877 I was admitted to the city hospital. While there the doctors said I had a hole in my left lung as big as a half a dollar. I was so far gone at one time a report went around that I was dead. I gave up hope, but a friend told me of Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs. I laughed at my friends, thinking that my case was incurable, but I got a bottle to satisfy them, when to my surprise and gratification, I commenced to feel better. My hope, once dead, began to revive, and to-day I feel in better spirits than I have the past three years.

I write this hoping you will publish it, so that every one afflicted with diseased lungs, will be induced to take Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs, and be convinced that consumption can be cured. I have taken two bottles and can positively say that it has done more good than all the other medicines I have taken since my sickness." Sold by all druggists.

J. B. Barnaby & Co., of Providence, R. I., gave away about 350 good warm overcoats on the morning of Dec. 26th, to persons who had received tickets for the same from the overseers of the poor.

The upper Mississippi is open from St. Paul to LaCrosse, Wis. Lake Pepin is also open—something never before known at this time of the year.

Guiteau's Trial.

Wednesday, Dec. 28th, was the thirty-fourth day of the trial of Guiteau. During the day the contemptible thing became so abusive that by order of Judge Cox it was placed in the criminal dock. It now appears that Guiteau would have been "docked" long ago but for the request of Dist. Atty. Corkhill, who wished the experts to have the best opportunity possible for becoming conversant with his characteristics. Dr. Randolph Barksdale, of the Central Lunatic asylum at Richmond, Va., testified at some length, and stated that he believed Guiteau to be feigning insanity. Dr. Callender, of the Tennessee Insane asylum, testified substantially as did Dr. Barksdale.

The Concord Railroad War.

In the supreme court at Concord on Wednesday, Dec. 28th, William E. Chandler, by Bingham & Mitchell, his counsel, for himself and all other citizens in the state who desire to unite with him in the petition, filed an application for a writ of mandamus against the Concord railroad corporation, and the Manchester & Lawrence railroad corporation.

The petition against the Concord railroad corporation is based upon the contract entered into Aug. 19th between the Concord and the Boston & Lowell railroads, and alleges that the contract is unauthorized by its charter, and that the operation of the road under it is in violation of the law. Petitioner asks that a writ of mandamus may be directed to the corporation, its officers and agents, commanding them to operate the road, and manage the affairs and transact the business of the corporation in accordance with the requirements of the charter and laws of New Hampshire, and refrain from further operation under the execution of said contract of Aug. 19th.

The petition against the Manchester & Lawrence road alleges that the road of that corporation is part of a competing line of route from Manchester to Boston, and that that road is now being operated in violation of the law by the Concord road, or by a partnership into which the Concord and the Boston & Lowell roads have entered. The prayer of the petitioner is that a mandamus may be issued to this corporation, its agents and officers, commanding them to operate the road, manage and direct its affairs and transact the business of the corporation, and exercise its powers, privileges and franchises in accordance with its charter and the laws of New Hampshire.

The bill in equity of Burke and others against the Concord railroad and others was served upon some of the defendants on Dec. 28th.

The despatch added: "Some of the victims are said to have died within twenty-four hours after being attacked. It is also said that before death blood gushes from the eyes, ears and noses of the victims. These symptoms suggest that the disease is not simple small-pox, but partakes rather of the nature of a plague."

The town farm of York comprises eighty acres, and has for the last two years been under the superintendence of William Titcomb, an old ship carpenter, and his wife. The almshouse at present supports twenty-two inmates, the most of whom are very aged people, one lady being nearly ninety years old. There are three children to be attended to. One old lady, who was well known on the streets of Portsmouth a few years ago, but who suddenly disappeared, having wandered to Boston and been there placed in a charitable institution of the state, is now at the York almshouse, incurably insane, having been taken from Boston to York by the police of this city, on the request of the authorities of York. Since Mr. Titcomb took charge of the farm he has cleared up twenty acres of waste land, which had been covered with alders, willows, etc.; the house and barn have been thoroughly repaired internally; and the stock on the farm has been very much improved, Mr. Titcomb having made $55 for the his trades of cattle. One yoke of oxen from the farm went to the navy yard, and there is now on the place a yoke girthing seven feet two inches, bought of Elder Paine. Our reporter when in York met a tramp who said he had been housed at the town farm on the previous night; he had no complaint to make of his treatment, but the fare set before him was not quite up to the standard desired by gentlemen of leisure, consisting only of salt fish and hard tack, with coffee.

Saco has a new daily paper, the Post; and it is reported that John Hanscom of the same city proposes to start a democratic paper in Biddeford.

Granville C. Wallingford, Esq., long a prominent and highly esteemed citizen of South Berwick, died recently at the residence of his son-in-law in Osage, Mitchell county, Iowa, at a greatly advanced age. Mr. Wallingford was for many years deputy sheriff of York county under Sheriffs Henick and Chadbourne, in which position he was widely known as an efficient and popular officer.

About three o'clock in the afternoon, Dec. 28th, Leon Moore, a clerk in the office of Bradford & Anthony of Boston, was paying a visit to Miss Belle Cushman of Biddeford, to whom he was engaged to be married. Reports of a pistol being heard in the room which they occupied, parties rushed in and found both dead, Miss Cushman having been shot just back of the ear, apparently while in a chair near the window. Moore was lying near the centre of the room, shot through the head, the ball having entered just below the eye. It is supposed that, actuated by jealousy, he first shot Miss Cushman and then took his own life. The families of both parties are very respectable people, and are nearly distracted by the awful tragedy. The victims were each about twenty-one years of age; Miss Cushman was a teacher in one of the public schools of Biddeford, and a most estimable young lady.

A Queer Case.

Nothing is more likely to hurt the cause of Christianity than the new principle laid down by the Baptist ministers of Chicago, that religion leaves off where business begins. At the weekly meeting of these brethren on Monday December 19th, a layman of their own faith laid a matter of business before them. He had some time ago endorsed a note for $3,000 for the "Baptist Union," of which these ministers were members, and when pay-day came a protest reached him, and he had to pay it, the "Union" being hopelessly bankrupt. He had therefore called to see if the brethren composing the organization would not in Christian charity come to his assistance. The ministers expressed sorrow that he should lose money, but did not know how they could help him. After a little more discussion the point was raised that it was not a religious question but purely a matter of business, and could not therefore be entertained in such a meeting at all. This cut off the poor endorser's last hope, for there was no other occasion at which he could lay his grievance before the men who had robbed him. And this is why he and all who have studied his case begin to ask whether it is orthodox doctrine that religion leaves off where business begins.—King ton (N. Y.) Freeman.

Tackling the Wrong Man.

The commercial traveller of a Philadelphia house, while in Tennessee, approached a stranger as the train was about to start, and said:

"Are you going on this train?"

"I am."

"Have you any baggage?"

"No."

"Well, my friend, you can do me a favor, and it won't cost you anything. You see, I've got two running big trunks, and they always make me pay extra for one of them. You can get one checked on your ticket, and we'll euchre them. See?"

"Yes, I see; but I haven't any ticket."

"But I thought you said you were going on this train?"

"So I am. I'm the conductor."

"Oh!"

He paid extra as usual.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

THE

Mutual Life Insurance Co.

of New York,

F. S. WINSTON, President.

The Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York is THE OLDEST Company, with thirty-seven years of experience.

It is the largest Company by many millons of Assets in the World.

It is purely Mutual—without Capital or Stockholders to share in profits, and no bonuses allowed to Officers, Trustees, or Employees.

It confines its business to regular Life and Endowment Policies, and the granting of Annuities. No new or experimental plans.

Its premium rates are lower than any other regular Life Insurance Company, and Policy-holders participate in current earnings annually.

No Policy-holder need forfeit his Policy, provided three full annual premiums have been paid, and application is immediately made for a paid-up Policy, when necessity arises to do so.

Assets have more than doubled during the past ten years, notwithstanding the six years of financial panic.

Its Interest and Rent Receipts alone have exceeded its Death Claims TEN MILLIONS of Dollars ($10,000,000.)

It has issued over 220,000 Policies; insured over $700,000,000; received over $276,000,000 in premiums; and returned to Policy-holders over $162,000,000.

It can and does afford the cheapest, safest, and most satisfactory insurance investment of any Company in the world.

Is not this well styled a marvel in Finance? No more beneficent institution exists upon the face of the earth than this greatest of financial organizations, combining the greatest possible good for the greatest number with an experiness in financiering that is paralleled only by the sturdy integrity of its managers and the proud pre-eminence of its commercial, patriotic, and scientific record.

MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

In Board of Mayor and Aldermen, regular meeting, Thursday evening, Dec. 29th, Mayor Sise in the chair:

The records of last meeting were read and approved.

Wm. H. Hackett, Esq., appeared before the board in regard to the subletting by Henry H. Ham to the Eastern Telegraph Co. of a part of the premises leased by him from the city. The permission asked for was granted.

In the matter of granting leave to the Eastern Telegraph Co. to run their line from the Eastern railroad station to some central point of the city, there were two reports; the majority report was adverse to granting the request, while the minority report favored it. The majority report was adopted on a yea and nay vote, as follows: Yes, Aldermen Slater, Caswell, Vaughan, Green and Stavers, five; no, Ald. Martin and Hartshorn, two.

The bill exempting Critchley & Whalley's new foundry, etc., from taxation, was passed, and sent to the Common Council, which passed the bill in concurrence.

A petition for the removal of the gas light at the junction of State and Pleasant streets to the corner of Richmond and Pleasant streets was referred to the committee on street lights to report.

The quarterly pay-roll of the fire department, amounting to $1462.50, was ordered paid.

The mayor said the fiscal year would be ended before the next session of the board. To a question as to whether there is not a deficiency, the mayor replied that there was, in some departments. By unanimous vote of the board, the mayor was authorized to hire what money may be required.

An invitation for the city government to attend the celebration on Jan. 2d, by the Austin-Lincoln Association, (colored,) of the anniversary of the emancipation proclamation, was received.

The mayor reported two vacancies in the list of supernumerary watchmen.

Oliver H Locke was granted leave to encumber Manning street for building purposes.

Balloted for two watchmen. [Ald. Caswell said the city marshal had told him he had more officers now than he knew what to do with.] Michael E. Long had two votes, Edwin Underhill two, James A. Snow one, Thomas Watkins three, Charles A. Neal four—and Neal was declared elected. On the second ballot Michael E. Long had one, Edwin Underhill one, James A. Snow four—and Snow was declared elected.

William Hudson was appointed special police without pay, at Franklin block.

Adjourned for one week.

POLICE COURT.

THURSDAY, Dec. 29; Batchelder, J.

James McCabe of Methuen, Mass., was complained of for breaking and entering the house of H. Barber at Salem, N. H., Nov. 3d, 1881, and stealing potatoes, apples, a clock, a butcher knife, table knives, etc. He was bound over to the April term in $500 bonds. Jail in default of sureties.

FIRE IN DOVER.

In Dover, about five o'clock in the morning on the 29th inst., fire broke out in a small wooden building occupied by Frank Cole as a shoe store, and spread to Thurston's shoe factory, a large frame building, which was destroyed. The factory was owned by the Cocheco National bank; loss on building $10,000, insurance $8000; loss on machinery $5000, insurance $3000. Cole lost $1200; insurance $800. John Grimes, grocer, lost $1000; insured $500. The fire caught from a coal stove near a partition.

THE NEW TELEGRAPH LINE.

Shortly decline further orders for the present. This branch of the business is far more profitable than manufacturing for the general market, Mr. Keen being rarely restricted as to price. We are pleased to record his prosperity, not only because he is from this region (he is a native of Kittery, Me.,) and long a subscriber to our paper, but also because he occasionally invests some of his spare cash in a schooner, and sends her to this port of give employment to some of our local seamen, and add her quota to our local business; he now owns either five or six schooners, all of which are commanded by Newcastle or Kittery skippers, and make this port their rendezvous.

There will be a special meeting of Strawberry Bank Encampment, I. O. O. F., at Odd Fellows' hall on Friday evening, Dec. 30th, for work on the third degree; refreshments may be expected.

Terrible Accident.

Necessitating a Surgical Operation--A Loving Mother Attempts to Take a Pair of Shears from Her Child.
Parents be Careful.

Domestic accidents are common to women, and some of them are very serious. Mrs. Warner, of South Rondout, Ulster Co., N. Y., some weeks ago attempted to take from her child a pair of shears with which it was playing. A slight struggle ensued, in which the point of the shears entered Mrs. Warner's left eye, entirely destroying the sight. Her family physician did what he could, but intensely painful inflammation arose, which, by sympathy, threatened the loss of the other eye. Total blindness to a woman having the care of a household is an irretrievable calamity. In this strait Mrs. Warner applied to that the well-known and skillful surgeon Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., who removed the injured eye by a very successful operation, setting aside all danger of further harm to the sight of the other eye. But, owing to pain and mental distress, her system needed a tonic and restorative medicine. To do this work the doctor prescribed "Kennedy's Favorite Remedy," which sustained his reputation and laid a sure foundation of health.

Dr. Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" removes all impurities from the blood, regulates the Liver and Kidneys, Cures Constipation, and all diseases and weaknesses peculiar to females. It is for sale by all our druggists at One Dollar a bottle.

New Hampshire Items.

Prof. Joseph Eastman, for twenty-two years a teacher in the academy at Greenwich, R. I., died Dec. 27th, aged fifty-five years. He was a native of Kingston, N. H., and a graduate of Dartmouth college.

Thomas Mulhern, of the Charlestown district of Boston, was found beside the track of the Nashua & Lowell railroad a mile south of Nashua, on the morning of Dec. 28th, with both legs broken, and in a deplorable condition otherwise. He said that being out of work and money he attempted to reach Manchester by stealing a ride on a freight train, but fell off, and was so badly hurt that he had to remain where he was all night, exposed to the storm. He was kindly cared for, but will probably die.

A Bad Vermont Deacon.

A despatch from Bristol, Vt., to the New York Sun, says that Deacon Benjamin F. Sheldon of the Advent church in that town, and an old resident of there, aged about forty years, has eloped with Miss Jennie Clark, aged seventeen, leaving his wife and family in straitened circumstances. Deacon Sheldon was in the employ of the Bristol Manufacturing company, engaged in the manufacture of coffins. He recently induced his wife to sign a mortgage on their homestead, and he raised about $1,400 by quietly disposing of most of his available effects. About three weeks ago Sheldon's wife went to Brandon, fifty miles south of Bristol, on a visit to relatives. Meanwhile Deacon Sheldon had for his housekeeper Jennie Clark, an adopted daughter of his next door neighbor, Samuel Stewart. Miss Clark was a member of the same church with Sheldon, and a pupil in the Sabbath school class of which Sheldon was the teacher. On Friday, Dec. 23d, on receiving intelligence of the intended return of the wife from her Brandon visit, the couple took the morning train south, with tickets purchased for New York city. The wife of Sheldon is a woman of prepossessing appearance, while Miss Clark is said to be very plain looking. Sheldon has heretofore borne an unblemished reputation, and his conduct has astonished his friends. He had a pleasant home on one of the principal streets. He had managed to sell most of his property, and leaves his wife and children—two daughters, aged nine and eleven years respectively—in straitened circumstances.

At East Dalhousie, N. S., Dec. 26th, a tramp pretending to be a deaf mute called at the house of Mrs. Benjamin Munroe, and fatally shot her son, aged nineteen years, and her daughter, aged twelve. The motive for the crime is not stated.

A Great Blessing to Mothers and Nurses.

"Swayne's Teething Cure" for infants. This new theory and infallible remedy has saved the lives of thousands of children. When the child is in pain, or restless with its teeth shooting in its gums, simply rub the gums for two or three minutes with the "Cure." What little it may swallow will relieve colic, pain and flatulence, prevent fever, and avoid that painful operation of lancing the gums, which always makes the next tooth harder to come through and sometimes causes death. Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves and immediate relief and health to your infants. A very able medical writer, who enjoys a large and lucrative practice, says: "Rubbing the gums with a soothing lotion, is the only true method for children teething; poisonous drugs should never be in introduced into their delicate stomachs." "Swayne's Teething Cure" is prepared only by Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia, and sold by all leading apothecaries at 25 cents a bottle.

Michael Kennedy, an attorney of Greenfield, N. Y., and his son Patrick, are under arrest, the former for holding John Leonard of the same town while the son fatally stabbed him, and the latter for doing the stabbing. The quarrel was the result of a feud between the families.

Terrible Loss of Life.

Catarrh of the Bladder.

W. D. Martin, his son, John Martin, and C. M. Fennel, the only merchants in Bellefonte, Ala., had a pistol fight Dec. 28th, and were all fatally wounded.

How It Was!

At the battle of Gettysburg I was shot through the left leg and was sent to the hospital. The army surgeons relieved me but pronounced my case incurable. It discharged pieces of bone, and for years I have suffered with a running sore. I tried everything which my limited means would allow, and experienced no relief until I tried Sulphur Bitters. I am now almost well, and shall continue their use.—Old Soldier.

John H. Murray, the circus manager, died in New York Dec. 27th, aged fifty-seven years.

"Pro Bono Publico."

It is a very remarkable fact, that while thousands of people refuse to read paid puffs of worthless nostrums, none skip over Dr. Swayne's little squib about his Ointment for itching piles that itch so much at night. The people well know that it is published for their benefit, in other words, is pro bono publico. Nay its far reaching effects be perpetuated to the end of time.

Rheumatism

Neuralgia, Sprains,
Pain in the Back and Side.

There is nothing more painful than these diseases; but the pain can be removed and the disease cured by use of Perry Davis' Pain Killer.

This remedy is not a cheap Benzine or Petroleum product that must be kept away from fire or heat to avoid danger of explosion, nor is it an untried experiment that may do more harm than good.

Pain Killer has been in constant use for forty years, and the universal testimony from all parts of the world is, It never fails. It not only effects a permanent cure, but it relieves pain almost instantaneously. Being a purely vegetable remedy, it is safe in the hands of the most inexperienced.

The record of cures by the use of PAIN KILLER would fill volumes. The following extracts from letters received show what those who have tried it think:

Edgar Cady, Owatonna, Minn., says:
About a year since my wife became subject to severe attacks of Cramp Colic. Our resort was to the PAIN KILLER, which speedily relieved her.

Charles Powell writes from the Sailors' Home, London:
I had been afflicted three years with nervous and violent spasms of the stomach. The doctors at Westminster Hospital gave up my case as desperate. I tried your PAIN KILLER, and it gave me immediate relief. I have received my strength, and am now able to follow my usual occupation.

G. H. Walworth, Saco, Me., writes:
I experienced immediate relief from pain in the side by the use of your PAIN KILLER.

E. York says:
I have used your PAIN KILLER for rheumatism, and have received great benefit.

Barton Seamon says:
Have used PAIN KILLER for thirty years, and have found it a never-failing remedy for rheumatism and bruises.

Mr. Burdits writes:
Never fail to give relief in case of rheumatism.

Phil. Gilbert, Somerset, Pa., writes:
For a social use, I know your PAIN KILLER is the best medicine I can get.

All druggists keep PAIN KILLER. Its price is so low that it is within the reach of all, and it will save many times its cost in doctors' bills. 25c., 50c. and $1.00 a bottle.

A BRAVE LADY.
She Endures the Pain of a Severe Surgical Operation Without Taking Chloroform.

[From the Courier.]

Mrs. Schoonmaker, of Creek Locks, Ulster Co., N. Y., had the misfortune to entirely lose the sight of one of her eyes, through an accident, and endured painful inflammatory action therein for two long years; the other eye finally becoming sympathetically affected, her general health generously suffering; indeed she was a mere wreck, a walking skeleton. In this terrible strait she consulted Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., who told her at once that the injured eye must be removed. She quietly but firmly said, "All right, Doctor, but don't give me chloroform. Let my husband sit by my side during the operation, and I will neither cry out or stir." The work was done, and the poor woman kept her word. Talk of soldierly courage! This showed greater pluck than it takes to face a hundred guns. To restore her general health and give tone and strength to the system, Dr. Kennedy then gave the "Favorite Remedy," which cleansed the blood and imparted new life to the long suffering woman, she rapidly gained health and strength, and is now well. The "Favorite Remedy" is a priceless blessing to women. No family should be without it. Your druggist has it. If not send to Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, New York. 1y23

Strewing Hemp Seeds.

A NEW YEAR'S STORY.

"Coming next week?"

"Yes, Rosie, he'll be here for the New Year if nothing happens."

Rosie tossed her yellow ringlets, and put up her red lips in childish pout.

"I shall hate him, Aunt Eunice. I'm sure I shall. The simple fact that I am bethrothed to him, willy-nilly, would set my heart against him if he were a prince among men."

"He is a prince among men, my dear, and you'll be sure to like him when you have seen him," replied Aunt Eunice, quietly.

"I tell you I'm sure not to like him," insisted Rosie. "Poor papa made a great mistake; he should have left me free."

"It would have been wiser, perhaps, but your father had looked upon Ben as a son-o-many years, and felt so sure of his making a good husband—"

"An old poke, twice my age," pouted Rosie.

"Oh, no, not quite so old as that. But wait until you have seen him. Never cross a bridge until you come t it, Rosie. Ben won't be here for a week yet. When he is here, and you have seen him, if you really dislike him I dare say he'll not compel you to become his wife."

"But I promised poor papa on his death-bed, too, and a promise to the dying is sacred."

Pretty Rosie was no kith or kin to Aunt Eunice, only an adopted child, cherished and loved for her dead father's sake, and Ben was Aunt Eunice's only son, a Calcutta agent, who had not seen his native land for years, and who last parted from his promised bride when she was a little miss in pinafores.

But after his old friend's death, and Rosie's promise to become his wife whenever he saw fit to come home and claim her, Ben had sent home a handsome ring, and Rosie wore it on her pretty finger, and now he is coming in a week.

"Don't fret, Rosie. Wait until Ben is here and you have seen him."

"Seeing him won't make the change my mind," returned the willful girl. "I have him in my mind's eye now—a pesky old fogy, just like Mr. Syker, the parson. Oh, dear!"

"I trust the case will not be quite so bad as that, Rosie. But what are you going to do with all those hemp seeds, my dear—feed the pigeons?"

"Feed the pigeons, indeed!" cried Rosie, transferring the seeds to her pocket. "Why, aunty, I'm going down to Hazel Hollow to try my fortune. All the girls are doing it. Jennie Burr strewed hemp one dark evening, a month or so ago, and the handsomest young man came following her, and now she is engaged to him."

Aunt Eunice laughed, and crossing the room, drew the girl's head to her breast and kissed her tenderly.

"You are a good child, Rose, but a bit wayward, and I trust you may be very happy, dear, whether you ever marry Ben or not. There, run along and strew your hemp seeds, if you must, and hurry back to supper."

Rosie threw on her shawl and scarlet hood, and ran away, like a silly little child, as she was.

The sun was quite down when she reached Hazel Hollow, and the shadows lay dark and thick in the wild glen. Rosie was not the bravest little woman in the world, and her heart gave a throb of fear as she walked on under the whispering willows.

At the edge of the Hollow she felt sorely tempted to turn round and run back to Aunt Eunice's cheery fireside, but a thought of Jennie Burr's success urged her on. She drew out a handful of the magic seed and started across the glen.

"Hemp seeds I strew, hemp seeds I sow;
Let my true love follow me and mow."

She repeated the charmed couplet in a little quivering voice, strewing her seeds right and left. She was half across the gloomy Hollow before she could muster courage to look back.

When she did look over her shoulder, a sharp cry burst from her lips. Not far behind her came a tall, manly figure, with something which looked like a veritable scythe in his hand. Rosie shrieked, stared an instant, and then sank down on the damp ground, scattering her precious seeds as she fell.

She awoke to consciousness some time after, with a full moon shining in her eyes, and a pair of muscular arms supporting her head.

"Oh, where am I? What has happened?" she cried out in dismay, as she struggled to her feet.

"Nothing has happ ned," replied a deep voice; "only you were strewing hemp, and I followed you."

Rosie ventured one wild glance. A handsome, bronzed, bearded face bent above her.

"Let me go home," she faltered, trembling like a frightened bird, "home to Aunt Eunice."

"As soon as you please, my dear Rosie, but don't forget you belong to me now. The fates willed it, you see."

"Oh, let me go home," cried Rosie in sore affright.

"Come along; I will escort you to the gate."

And her strange companion drew her hand within his arm and led her along the moonlit path.

Rosie's heart beat so she could not get her breath. The instant they reached the gate, she broke away from him.

"What! you won't even stop to say good-bye? No matter, we shall soon meet again. You belong to me, remember. No man alive can ever take you from me; and in token of my claim you shall wear this."

A heavy gold chain flashed over her head, and a quaint carved locket hung upon her bosom.

Through the gate, across the lawn, never pausing once to look back, went Rosie, sobbing like a child in her excitement.

Aunt Eunice stood on the steps of the old farmhouse awaiting her.

"Why, my dear, how long you have been! I was just on the point of starting to hunt for you."

"Oh, Aunt Eunice!" cried the girl, rushing into her arms and beginning to sob outright, "I am frightened to death. Some one did follow me and speak to me, and, oh, look at this on my neck!"

Aunt Eunice led her into the old-fashioned sitting-room, and by the light of the blazing wood fire she examined the locket that hung from the heavy chain.

"Well," she said, looking at the pictured face it contained, a merry twinkle lighting in her eyes, "the face is a very nice one! There must be something in your hemp sowing after all Rosie?"

"Oh, there is something, Aunt Eunice," panted Rosie. "Didn't I tell you that Jennie Burr's engaged to the man who followed her?"

"So you did, pet. Well, if it must be it can't be helped. You'll have to marry this handsome stranger, and let poor Ben and your promise go!"

Rosie flushed charmingly as she stole a glance at the pictured face, but the tears rose in her eyes.

"No, I could never do that," she said. "I could never break my promise to poor papa."

"Inventors cannot employ a person more trustworthy or more capable of securing for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, October 19, 1876.

R. H. EDDY, Esq.,—Dear Sir: You procured for me, in 1840, my first patent. Since then you have acted for and advised me, in hundreds of cases, and procured many patents, reissues and extensions. I have occasionally employed the best agencies in New York, Philadelphia and Washington, but I still give you almost the whole of my business, in your line, and advise others to employ you. Yours truly, GEORGE DRAPER.

HALL'S VEGETABLE SICILIAN HAIR RENEWER is a scientific combination of some of the most powerful restorative agents in the vegetable kingdom. It restores gray hair to its original color. It makes the scalp white and clean. It cures dandruff and humors, and falling-out of the hair. It furnishes the nutritive principle by which the hair is nourished and supported. It makes the hair moist, soft and glossy, and is unsurpassed as a hair dressing. It is the most economical preparation ever offered to the public, as its effects remain a long time, making only an occasional application necessary. It is recommended and used by eminent medical men, and officially endorsed by the State Assayer of Massachusetts. The popularity of Hall's Hair Renewer has increased with the test of many years, both in this country and in foreign lands, and it is now known and used in all the civilized countries of the world.

For sale by all dealers.

At Gore, Ohio, on Dec. 28th, an unknown man opened the door of the residence of Mary Terrell, a widow, and shot her through the head with a revolver, killing her instantly. Two daughters in the room at the time failed to recognize the murderer. A vigilance committee was organized and began scouring the country. The murdered woman was the mother of Terrell, now serving a term in the Ohio penitentiary for the murder of the Weldon family near that place four years ago.

ALWAYS REFRESHING.

A delicious odor is imparted by Florestan Cologne, which is always refreshing, no matter how freely used.

A Sulphur Springs (Tex.) despatch says: Two convicts, at work on the Texas & Pacific road, made a dash for liberty on Wednesday, Dec. 28th, and were shot dead by the guards.

A WORD TO MOTHERS.

Mothers should remember it is a most important duty at this season to look after the health of their families and cleanse the malaria and impurities from their systems, and that nothing will tone up the stomach and liver, regulate the bowels and purify the blood so perfectly as Parker's Ginger Tonic, advertised in our columns.—Post: see other columns.

The postmaster general this week issued an order directing that on Monday, Jan. 2d, 1882, the post-offices of the country shall be closed as on any legal holiday.

On Tuesday night, Dec. 27th, several young men were arrested in Washington for dastardly conduct, among then being sons of Senator Bayard, Senator Mahone and Gen. Douglass.

NEW BLOOMFIELD, MISS., Jan. 2, 1880. I wish to say to you that I have been suffering for the last five years with a severe itching all over. I have heard of Hop Bitters and have tried it. I have used up four bottles, and it has done me more good than all the doctors and medicines that they could use on or with me. I am old and poor but feel to bless you for such a relief by your medicine and from torment of the doctors. I have had fifteen doctors at me. One gave me seven ounces of solution of arsenic; another took four quarts of blood from me. All they could tell was that it was skin sickness. Now, after these four bottles of your medicine, my skin is well, clean and smooth as ever. HENRY KNOCHE.

Alexander Rosetti, twenty-one years old, and David Foppiano, aged twenty-five, both Italians, have been arrested for the murder of Remington C. Downing of Lynn, Mass., who was killed in Boston last November.

"My personal knowledge of the effect of St. Jacobs Oil on burns, sprains and bruises leads me to express myself strongly in favor of the great German remedy." writes Mr. Frank S. Brown, North Attleboro', Mass.

The assassin of Mrs. Terrell, at Gove, Ohio, has been arrested. His name is Morgan Richards, and he worked as a farm hand for a Mr Arnold, who lives not far from the Terrell place. He was safely lodged in jail, a party of lynchers being evaded.

News and Notes.

The National Rifle association of Great Britain want a team from the National Guard of the United States to shoot with a team of British volunteers at Wimbledon, Eng., next season, and their secretary has written to this effect to Gen. Hancock.

Suit for $10,000 damages has been entered by Gen. B. F. Butler, on behalf of James Mulcahey, against Lieut. Commanders C. J. Train and Theodoric Porter, attached to the U. S. S. Powhatan, for injuries received by Mulcahey from being hit with a rifle bullet fired by one of the officers named. Mulcahey was lying on a wharf in Charlestown, with a companion named John Shea, waiting the arrival of a vessel which they were to unload, when Shea's arm and Mulcahey's thigh were shattered by a bullet from the Charlestown navy yard, where the officers named were at the time practicing at a target.

William E. Chandler of New Hampshire for secretary of the navy, and Aaron A. Sargent of California for secretary of the interior, is the latest cabinet slate.

Eighty clerks, bookkeepers, salesmen, etc., at A. T. Stewart & Co.'s establishment in Chicago, have left, being dissatisfied with their treatment. Offers of increased compensation to induce them to remain, were rejected.

Col. J. M. Bell, a prominent citizen of Hamburg county, Ark., was hanged by a mob Dec. 29th. He whipped his wife so brutally, Christmas day, that she died; so the neighbors lynched him.

One British coasting steamer, and two steamers engaged in the Mediterranean trade, were on Dec. 30th finally given up in London as lost, with all hands. There were 110 persons on the three vessels.

Serious trouble was reported at Plymouth, N. C., Dec. 29th and 30th, an immense mob of drunken negroes having possession of the town. The governor ordered several militia companies to the place.

Between thirty and forty students in the medical college at Keokuk, Iowa, have got the small-pox, from dissecting a subject which died with that disease at Chicago.

Three freight trains came in collision near Christiana, Penn., Dec. 29th, near midnight. Two engines and thirteen cars were destoyed; one man was killed and his body burned in the wreck, and two others were so badly burned that they will die.

The far-famed Hutchinson Family gave one of their delightful entertainments last evening, at Lincoln Hall, and as a matter of course, drew together a large audience. Sweet voices! Sweet songs! When shall we hear the like again? —Washington Post.

John W. Hutchinson is the actor of the family, and is the only man living who can sing a comic song without losing his dignity. We like Mrs. Lillie Hutchinson better than Miss Cary. Her voice has greater compass, and is more flute-like.—Sunday Mercury.

At Music hall Monday evening.

To-day at twelve o'clock, at noon, will be sold at auction by the administrator of the estate of the late Jonathan Dearborn, one undivided half of a house and lot on Langdon street near the corner of McDonough street. The sale will be positive, without reserve, being made under a license from the Court of Probate.

The schooner Albert Woodbury, Downs master, is fitting out with trawls, which she will use in connection with cod-nets.

Capt. W. F. Shields master of the schooner Charles P. Barrett, will make but one more trip in that vessel, after which he will take charge of the schooner Sylph, of Boston, a vessel of a out thirty tons, and well adapted for bay fishing.

A horse belonging to Butler & Laighton had a runaway on Congress street, Friday evening, breaking one of the hind wheels of the wagon. No person was hurt.

Commodore Wells asked the navy department to bring the old Constitution to this station and make her a receiving ship, but the secretary (who has lost his eyesight to the extent that he can see only the New York navy yard) declined, but sent her to New York to be placed in rotton row.—Journal.

As a contrast between this winter and last, the Exeter Gazette of Dec. 29th mentions that the Swamscot river, "which is now open and entirely clear of ice, was last winter closed for navigation on the 22d of November, and did not open again until spring. Last winter Capt. Fernald's packet was frozen in within thirty feet of the wharf; Capt. Barr was ice-bound at the same wharf; and Capt. Watson, with his cargo of coal for the Exeter Coal company, was entirely blocked in by the ice at the roundabouts."

The Eastern railroad is making improvements in connection with its freight department which must add greatly to its facilities for handling that department. In Charlestown, Mass., a new freight house, 450 feet by sixty, has just been completed; and another one, 600 feet by fifty, for the storage of hay, has been commenced. A new round-house and turn-table, expressly for freight engines, will be constructed at Somerville, Mass., and when completed will accommodate ten locomotives.

On Friday afternoon, as several cars were being drawn from the spur track that leads from the Eastern railroad to Jones' brewery, one of the cars about the middle of the train left the iron, blockading the sidewalk on Islington street for a short time. No damage was done.

On Thursday last Mrs. Frank Eliot of this city, either in an attempt to commit suicide or by accident, took a quantity of laudanum much larger than was necessary to insure death; it acted as an emetic, and with medical aid she will probably recover.

The Lynn correspondent of the Boston Post says: "Elder Waite, whose present address in Savoy, Mass., has informed friends in Lynn that he shall return and pay his bills. The creditors are few." If Elder Waite cannot find in Lynn all the bills he desires to pay, he can be accomodated with a few more by calling on parties we know of in Portsmouth and Newmarket.

A portrait of James Sheafe, a former resident of Portsmouth, a representative in Congress in 1799, and U. S. senator in 1801, is to be added to the collection of portraits in the State House. It will be presented by his son, John Fisher Sheafe of New York. A portrait of Hon. Thomas L. Tullock, secretary of the state from 1858 to 1861, is being painted to be hung in the secretary of the state's office.

On Thursday night last a schooner's deck, and a quantity of other wreck stuff, was washed ashore at Old Orchard beach. Some of the wreckage shew indications of fire.

Two incendiary fires are reported from North Berwick—the barn of E D. Fernald, with hay and farming tools, upon which there was $500 insurance, and a school house, valued at $600.

Premature Loss of the Hair

May be entirely prevented by the use of Burnett's Cocoaine. No other compound possesses the peculiar properties which so exactly suit the various conditions of the human hair. It softens the hair when harsh and dry. It soothes the irritated scalp. It affords the richest lustre. It prevents the hair from falling off. It promotes its healthy, vigorous growth. It is not greasy nor sticky. It leaves no disagreeable odor. It kills dandruff.

Burnett's Flavoring Extracts are known as the best.

THE

Mutual Life Insurance Co.

of New York,

F. S. WINSTON, President.

The Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York is THE OLDEST Company, with thirty-seven years of experience.

It is the largest Company by many millons of Assets in the World.

It is purely Mutual—without Capital or Stockholders to share in profits, and no bonuses allowed to Officers, Trustees, or Employees.

It confines its business to regular Life and Endowment Policies, and the granting of Annuities. No new or experimental plans.

Its premium rates are lower than any other regular Life Insurance Company, and Policy-holders participate in current earnings annually.

No Policy-holder need forfeit his Policy, provided three full annual premiums have been paid, and application is immediately made for a paid-up Policy, when necessity arises to do so.

Assets have more than doubled during the past ten years, notwithstanding the SIX years of financial panic.

Its Interest and Rent Receipts alone have exceeded its Death Claims TEN MILLIONS of Dollars ($10,000,000.)

It has issued over 220,000 Policies; insured over $700,000,000; received over $276,000,000 in premiums; and returned to Policy-holders over $162,000,000.

It can and does afford the cheapest, safest, and most satisfactory insurance investment of any Company in the world.

Is not this well styled a marvel in Finance? No more beneficent institution exists upon the face of the earth than this greatest of financial organizations, combining the greatest possible good for the greatest number with an expertness in financiering that is paralleled only by the sturdy integrity of its managers and the proud pre-eminence of its commercial, patriotic, and scientific record.

Terrible Accident.

Domestic accidents are common to women, and some of them are very serious. Mrs. Warner, of South Rondout, Ulster Co., N. Y., some weeks ago attempted to take from her child a pair of shears with which it was playing. A slight struggle ensued, in which the point of the shears entered Mrs. Warner's left eye, entirely destroying the sight. Her family physician did what he could, but intensely painful inflammation arose, which, by sympathy, threatened the loss of the other eye. Total blindness to a woman having the care of a household is an irretrievable calamity. In this strait Mrs. Warner applied to that the well-known and skillful surgeon Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., who removed the injured eye by a very successful operation, setting aside all danger of further harm to the sight of the other eye. But, owing to pain and mental distress, her system needed a tonic and restorative medicine. To do this work the doctor prescribed "Kennedy's Favorite Remedy," which sustained its reputation and laid a sure foundation of health.

Dr. Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" removes all impurities from the blood, regulates the Liver and Kidneys, Cures Constipation, and all diseases and weaknesses peculiar to females. It is for sale by all our druggists at One Dollar a bottle.

The people of Exeter are considering the proposition of Joseph Davis, president of the Merino Shoe Co., to locate in their town. The conditions are that the townspeople furnish a building costing from $15,000 to $20,000, and give him a lease of it for a term of years free, exempt from taxation, in which case he will put in the machinery and employ from 250 to 300 hands. The company's factory is at present located in Merrimac, Mass., and is running night and day; lack of room to extend the business, causes a removal.

A Great Blessing to Mothers and Nurses.

"Swayne's Teething Cure" for infants. This new theory and infallible remedy has saved the lives of thousands of children. When the child is in pain, or restless with its teeth shooting in its gums, simply rub the gums for two or three minutes with the "Cure." What little it may swallow will relieve colic, pain and flatulence, prevent fever, and avoid that painful operation of lancing the gums, which always makes the next tooth harder to come through and sometimes causes death. Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves and immediate relief and health to your infants. A very able medical writer, who enjoys a large and lucrative practice, says: "Rubbing the gums with a soothing lotion, is the only true method for children teething; poisonous drugs should never be in introduced into their delicate stomachs." "Swayne's Teething Cure" is prepared only by Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia, and sold by all leading apothecaries at 25 cents a bottle.

R. K. Gatley has sued the daily News of Portland, Me., for libel.

Answer This.

Is there a person living who ever saw a case of ague, biliousness, nervousness, or neuralgia, or any disease of the stomach, liver or kidneys, that Hop Bitters will not cure?

On Christmas day Mrs. Mary Kivelen of Rutland, Vt., made her husband three presents, weighing nearly thirty pounds. All girls.

A Woman's Experience.

Mothers and daughters should feel alarmed when weariness constantly oppresses them. "If I am fretful from exhaustion of vital powers and the color is fading from my face, Parker's Ginger Tonic, gives quick relief. It builds me up and drives away pain with wonderful certainty."—Buffalo Inquiry.

It was the British ship County of Selkirk which ran down the Arklow (Ireland) light-ship, and not an American vessel as first reported.

Elegance and Purity.

Ladies who appreciate elegance and purity are using Parker's Hair Balsam. It is the best article sold for restoring gray hair to its original color, beauty and lustre.

Martin Kane, aged seventy years, of Susquehanna, Penn., was found dead, hanging by the neck, at his house, with his feet and hands tied tightly, Dec. 27th.

"Pro Bono Publico."

It is a very remarkable fact, that while thousands of people refuse to read paid puffs of worthless nostrums, none skip over Dr. Swayne's little squib about his Ointment for itching piles that itch so much at night. The people well know that it is published for their benefit, in other words, is pro bono publico. May its far reaching effects be perpetuated to the end of time.

Rheumatism

Neuralgia, Sprains,

Pain in the Back and Side.

There is nothing more painful than these diseases; but the pain can be removed and the disease cured by use of Perry Davis' Pain Killer.

This remedy is not a cheap Benzine or Petroleum product that must be kept away from fire or heat to avoid danger of explosion, nor is it an untried experiment that may do more harm than good.

Pain Killer has been in constant use for forty years, and the universal testimony from all parts of the world is, it never fails. It not only effects a permanent cure, but it relieves pain almost instantaneously. Being a purely vegetable remedy, it is safe in the hands of the most inexperienced.

The record of cures by the use of PAIN KILLER would fill volumes. The following extracts from letters received show what those who have tried it think:

Edgar Cady, Owatonna, Minn., says:
About a year since my wife became subject to severe suffering from rheumatism. A report was to the PAIN KILLER, which speedily relieved her.

Charles Powell writes from the Sailors' Home, London:
I had been afflicted three years with neuralgia and violent pressure of the stomach. The doctors at Westminster Hospital gave me my case in despair. I tried your PAIN KILLER, and it gave me immediate relief. I have resumed my strength, and am now able to follow my usual occupation.

G. H. Walworth, Saco, Me., writes:
I experienced immediate relief from pain in the side by the use of your PAIN KILLER.

E. York says:
I have used your PAIN KILLER for rheumatism, and have received great benefit.

Barton Seamen says:
Have used PAIN KILLER for thirty years, and have found it a never-failing remedy for rheumatism and bruises.

Mr. Burditt writes:
Have full believe it in cases of rheumatism.

Phil. Gilbert, Somerset, Pa., writes:
For a sprained ankle, I know your PAIN KILLER is the best medicine I can get.

All druggists keep PAIN KILLER. Its price is so low that it is within the reach of all, and it will save many times its cost in doctors' bills. 25c., 50c. and $1.00 a bottle.

A BRAVE LADY.

She Endures the Pain of a Severe Surgical Operation Without Taking Chloroform.

[From the Courier.]

Mrs. Schoonmaker, of Creek Locks, Ulster Co., N. Y., had the misfortune to entirely lose the sight of one of her eyes, through an accident, and endured painful inflammatory action therein for two long years; the other eye finally becoming sympathetically affected, her general health generously suffering; indeed she was a mere wreck, a walking skeleton. In this terrible strait she consulted Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., who told her at once that the injured eye must be removed. She quietly but firmly said, "All right, Doctor, but don't give me chloroform. Let my husband sit by my side during the operation, and I will neither cry out or stir." The work was done, and the poor woman kept her word. Talk of soldierly courage! This showed greater pluck than it takes to face a hundred guns. To restore her general health and give tone and strength to the system, Dr. Kennedy then gave the "Favorite Remedy," which thoroughly cleansed the blood and imparted new life to the long suffering woman. She rapidly gained health and strength, and is now well. The "Favorite Remedy" is a priceless blessing to women. No family should be without it. Your druggist has it. If not send to Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, New York. 1y13

TELEGRAPHIC.

A construction gang of the Eastern & Mutual Union Telegraph Co. attracted considerable attention on Friday forenoon, as they stretched two lines of wires through the city, upon the huge poles erected along the lines of the Eastern and Portland, Saco & Portsmouth railroads by a preceding gang. The Mutual Union company may turn out to have been gotten up solely for the purpose of selling out to the Western Union, the same as the Atlantic & Pacific, as was suggested in the board of aldermen on Thursday evening last; but the fact that the Mutual Union is everywhere putting up heavy gear of its own, instead of on most lines merely fighting to get possession of wires previously controlled by the Western Union, as the Atlantic & Pacific company did, lends a color of probability to the assertion of the new company's managers that there is to be a healthy competition in the telegraph business—at least for a time.

A CHANGE ON PLEASANT STREET.

The selling out this forenoon by our friend Samuel W. Moses, of his grocery stock at the store he has occupied for twenty-six years, will cause a change in the building in which he has spent so long a period.

Mr. Moses learned the printers' trade of the late Gideon Beck, who published the NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE, then printed in that building. It was afterwards published by Beck & Greenleaf, and by Abner Greenleaf, Jr. Forty years ago Mr. Moses was foreman in the office, and the paper was then published on Tuesday mornings, being worked off during the preceding night. The late Abner Greenleaf, Sr., was a contributor to as well as proprietor of the GAZETTE; and frequently, late on Monday evenings as the "forms" were about to be "locked up," he would appear at the office with one of his column-in-length articles which "must go in," an edict from which there could be no appeal. This was before gas was in vogue in Portsmouth, and many of these "solid" articles Mr. Moses was obliged to set up by aid of the midnight oil. Mr. Moses subsequently became a proprietor with Geo. Greenleaf, and afterwards with Joel C. Virgin, who came to Portsmouth from Northwood to instruct the democracy of Rockingham in their political faith, and to attempt the practice of law. Mr. Moses soon became tired of doing all the work of the firm, and bought out Virgin; and after a while sold out the paper, and in copartnership with the late Rufus K. Oxford commenced the grocery business in Exchange building, in the store where the Trust & Guarantee company now have their banking room. After a few years this partnership was dissolved, and Mr. Moses went into business on his own account in the store formerly occupied by T. & E. Rand, over which, as apprentice, foreman and proprietor, he had done so much hard work as a printer.

He opened what was not a very common kind of a store in those days,—a grocery where no liquors were sold. He was of the opinion that such a store could thrive, but an experienced grocer told him he would not succeed, and said he would give him six months in which to try it, before he would have to shut up shop. But Mr. Moses has kept store for over a quarter of a century in the same spot, has never sold a drop of ardent spirits, and has always promptly met his business obligations. He has been an agreeable trader, accomodating and obliging to his patrons, and all these years has assiduously devoted himself to his business without interruption. He is the senior merchant of our city in that trade, to-day, and the closing of his store will be regretted by many friends and customers of long standing.

Though it is nearly thirty years since he ceased to work as one of the craft, he has always kept up his interest in our local papers. At his store were left packages of newspapers for many patrons in the neighboring towns of Rye, who received their weekly papers more conveniently there than at the post-office in that town, and some of the oldest subscribers have for a long series of years been in the habit of calling there for their weekly news. Perhaps it was owing to this circumstance that his sons, who are now newsdealers on Congress street, but began in his store as clerks, may have been attracted to enter the branch of business they now so successfully carry on.

As we look from our counting-room window, we shall miss the accustomed sign, "Samuel W. Moses;" and as we pass the door, still more we shall regret to lose the accustomed cordial greeting of our long-time neighbor over the way.

WHY THIS IS THUS.

The CHRONICLE of this morning, speaking of the new telegraph line petitioning the city government to place poles along Market street, says:

The Eastern Telegraph Co. were on Thursday evening refused permission by the board of aldermen to construct a line of telegraph in this city, so as to bring their wires into the business part of the place.

This is a mistaken idea, and why the CHRONICLE should entertain it is a mystery to us, for there were present at the meeting of the board of aldermen, two representatives of that paper. * The board refused to permit the company to place poles at any Market street, but had no objection to an office in the city building, provided the company came into the city as the Western Union does.—Times, Dec. 30th.

We will enlighten the Times as to why the CHRONICLE entertains the idea set forth in the paragraph it quotes from us—it is because the idea is correct, as is shown by the statement of the Times itself! The company asked permission "to construct a line of telegraph" along the streets, which the aldermen refused; had the company desired to "come into the city as the Western Union does," with wires stretched from building to building, they would have asked permission from the real estate owners, and not from the board of aldermen, who would have no more to say in the matter than the king of Ashantee.

RED MEN'S ELECTION.

Newichewannock Tribe, No 4, Improved Order of Red Men, on Friday evening chose the following as the elective chiefs:

John M. Bennett, Sachem;
George A. Silsbee, Senior Sagamore;
Thos. E. Call, Jr., Junior Sagamore;
James H. Crombie, Prophet;
J. C. Lamos, Chief of Records;
W. E. Littlefield, Keeper of Wampum;
J. H. Crombie, Rep. to G. C. N. H.;
Joseph F. Berry, Heman F. Eldredge, Jere. Towle, Trustees.

QUEER HIGHWAY ROBBERY.

A queer highway robbery case was heard in the police court at Exeter on Thursday last. Abel Smith being the accused person, and his wife, Eunice J. Smith, the accuser. The parties have lived apart for some time, Smith working in a mill at North Andover, Mass, and Mrs. Smith living in Haverhill, Mass. They owned a small farm in Hampstead, N. H., which Smith recently sold, and to get his wife's signature to the papers offered her $300 to sign, which she accepted. On Monday, Dec. 26th, the pair drove to Hampstead, completed the sale, and divided the money as agreed. They then started on their return to Haverhill, but when driving through a lonely place in Atkinson the husband drew a revolver, and threatened to blow out his wife's brains unless she gave up the $300, which she did. On Tuesday she procured a warrant for Smith's arrest, and he was taken into custody. He had $1200 in his possession when arrested; he owned up to the facts as related by his wife, and consented to return to New Hamphire without the formality of a requisition from the governor.

AN EARLY RUN-OUT.

In its report of the doings of the board of mayor and aldermen at their last meeting, the Times says:

The appropriations having run out, the mayor was authorized to raise what money is necessary to pay the city draft until such a time as the next year's taxes are collectable. The appropriations have run out rather early in the year, we should say.

So we should say, too; and so we thought some time ago, when it was announced that one of the heaviest appropriations—that for streets—was exhausted before the appropriation bill was passed, and that several other municipal departments commenced to run "on tick" within a very few weeks afterward. But we observe that our democratic contemporary is very anxious to have the city expend a few thousands more, on a project for which no appropriation whatever has been made—a foot-walk across the Portsmouth & Dover railroad bridge; and if it has ever earnestly opposed any large expenditure by the municipal government, the fact has escaped our notice.
